

50 COUNT 'EM 50 BOYS ARE OFF TO GARDEN OF ALLAH

Second Section Leaves for Great Camping Grounds Maintained by Y. M. C. A. On Banks of the Hassa-wampa

Half a hundred happy lads of Phoenix will board the Santa Fe train this morning for the Garden of Allah, Y. M. C. A. boys' summer camp near Wickenburg. At that wonderful spot they will engage in all the sports dear to a boy's heart until the first of July...

The 50 boys who will leave this morning represent the second section of the camp which is being maintained by the Y. M. C. A. with the support of local business men and women. The first contingent returned to this city yesterday, sun-burned and glowing with health derived from the outdoor life...

The following list comprises the townspeople who contributed enough to pay all the expenses for two weeks of one or more boys:

- Those Who Contributed: Chas. O'Malley, Donald Dunbar, Joe Meizer, J. W. Montgomery, Fred Ensign, G. A. Judson, N. A. Lytle, Royal W. Leecher, Dave Goldberg, I. J. Johnson, Benjamin Rice, J. E. PROMINENT MERCHANT STARTS ANOTHER TREMENDOUS DRIVE

L. M. BYRD

The three most dreaded months of the year for merchants, when business is practically at a standstill is the impelling force which finally caused Mr. L. M. Byrd, Phoenix popular manager of the well known Byrd Tailoring Co., to start the greatest sacrificing woolen sale that he has as yet ever undertaken. Whether from a statement issued by him, involves the stupendous sacrifice of a $25,000 stock of high grade woollens. When questioned along the line relative to the sale he has in mind, Mr. Byrd stated, every merchant throughout the Salt River Valley realizes what the next three months is going to mean for them from a business standpoint. It's a well known fact that merchants throughout the valley have on more than one occasion, sustained tremendous losses at this particular time of the year, which I intend to avoid, regardless of the cost to us in time and labor. I'd far rather move this enormous stock of woollens, which will enable me to meet my heavy obligations and at the same time keep my large force of tailors busy during the dull season, than be compelled to sustain an actual loss which would otherwise be an inevitable result. Therefore, I am determined to offer an incentive to the public that will without a doubt tide us over the summer months and the end fully justify the means and the drastic measures I intend to take in an effort to at least break even and to keep my organized force of tailors intact. Here, the inauguration of the greatest woolen sacrifice ever undertaken in the city of Phoenix, that will absolutely Byrd, respectfully requests the public to watch for his startling announcement, the full details of which will appear in tomorrow's issue of The Republican. Owing to the popularity and well known reputation for reliability of this long established firm, this kind is bound to attract the attention of the men of Phoenix who are quick to respond to any advertised sale of a reliable merchant, as it will mean the saving of a tremendous item.

Meat Successful Camp The camp management is directed by E. C. Reeves, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. F. B. Dingman, physical director, and half a dozen of the older lads act as directors. The boys are given plenty of opportunity for amusement and recreation, and camp games and athletics contests of all kinds give them the opportunity of working off their surplus energy.

Judging from the results of the first camp this year, J. O. Sexton, secretary of the Phoenix Y. M. C. A., states that this will be the most successful season in the history of the Garden of Allah.

KIWANIS MEETING IS INTERESTING ONE

A well chosen program marked the meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday at which J. C. Dobbins, chairman of the roads committee for this county, spoke at length on the road problem in Arizona. Donald Dunbar of the Central bank presided at the session. The reading of a telegram from Royal W. Leecher and George A. Judson, who are on their way to attend the national convention of Kiwanis clubs at Portland, was received with much interest.

W. F. Chappel won the attendance prize of 10 shares of mining stock donated by Maurice Clark. A solo by Mrs. Karola Frick was greatly appreciated by the members and added much to the success of the program.

Miss Genevieve Moore held the interest of the club in a five-minute talk on the plan and organization of field work and general character of the work and purpose of the anti-tuberculosis movement. She was followed by Miss Miriam Doudna, who spoke of conditions as she had seen them.

BACK FEES DUE ON MUCH PROJECT LAND

Back assessments are due on about 300 tracts of land under the Salt River project, according to Secretary Hornshaw of the Water Users' association, and unless the fees are paid soon, the lands will be sold at public auction according to the by-laws of the organization. There are from one acre to 160 acres in each tract, so the acreage of land involved amounts to many thousands.

Names of the shareholders of the association whose lands are listed among the 300 will be published in The Republican legal notice department of the classified pages this morning. Every farmer is advised to look for his name in this list as frequently those who believe they already have paid their fees find that in reality part or all of their land has been overlooked during some period of the year.

According to the laws of the Salt River Valley Users' association, lands for which the taxes are unpaid may be sold by the association upon the expiration of a three weeks' period of public advertising.

UNDAUNTED BY FIRE MERCHANTS WILL HAVE NEW STORE AND STOCK

MESA, June 16.—Undaunted by the total loss which they suffered last Saturday, when their store building and contents, located on the Clemens ranch, six miles southwest of Mesa, was completely destroyed by fire, Wilkinson & Kinney, the proprietors, yesterday announced that they would be ready for business again by the latter part of this week. New stocks of merchandise have been ordered and a temporary structure will be improvised to serve as a store building in which they will open for business by Friday, it is planned.

The country store which Wilkinson & Kinney have operated served employees on the cotton ranches for miles around and for the small concern that it was the store enjoyed a large business. Fire of unknown origin which broke out in the establishment last Saturday, during the course of a heavy windstorm, completely destroyed both the building and its stock of groceries and other merchandise.

Work will be started today on the erection of a new building and it is the intention of the proprietors to have business running full swing again by the end of the week.

Remodel Orange Blossom The large plate glass window in the front of the Orange Blossom in the Chandler court was removed yesterday afternoon to give way for front doors which are to be installed.

Joins Old Firm Elijah Allen, who returned to Mesa last week, will be associated with the Kelly-Dieh-Hibbert Realty company through the summer, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Allen was one of the original members of the firm, it being a partnership between Kelly, Dieh and Allen, but for the last few years he has been attending the University of Utah in Salt Lake City. He will again be connected with the company until the opening of school in the fall.

Death of Father The news of the death of A. P. Spitz-bury, a former Mesa man, was conveyed in a message received here yesterday by his wife and daughter, the latter Mrs. Isaac Dana. Details of his death were not given, though it is understood that an accident occurred while he was driving a team near Colonia Juarez, in Chihuahua, Old Mexico.

LEAVES FOR FRISCO—Fred Rowen will leave this morning for San Francisco in the interests of vocational training for former service men, with which department of the government he is connected. Rowen is the local agent with headquarters in the office of the adjutant general.

Prescott for Summer Mrs. B. H. Van Spanckens, who lives on the Alma road west of Mesa, left the fore part of the week for Prescott, where the summer will be passed.

Returns to Job William H. Passes, who was the first of the employees of the First National bank to take his summer vacation, will return to his place as teller at the bank this morning following his two weeks off.

Jennings Johnson expects to commence his vacation within the next few days.

Carlson to Head Club In the absence of Guy E. Rice, who leaves tomorrow with other lodge men to attend the Shrine festival in Portland, Ore., next week, Ephraim Carlson will head the Mesa baseball team as temporary manager. It was expected that arrangements would be made last night with a Phoenix club for a game tomorrow afternoon in observance of the Thursday weekly holiday.

Crosses Fire Hose A small fire in the rear of the home of Mayor Dan Kinman yesterday afternoon alarmed neighbors and caused them to call out the fire department. The truck made a quick response, but after laying its line of hose found it unnecessary to play any water on the blaze. F. W. Pleisch, who is alleged to have run across the hose while it was across the street, was arrested for the offense and fined $5 in the local precinct court.

Convicts in Prison Film Convicts in the Arizona state penitentiary at Florence will be seen in Frank Keenan's feature film, "Brothers Divided," which is to be shown today only at the Majestic theater in Mesa. When Governor Campbell learned the character of Gertrude Andrews' story, "Brothers Divided," and the influence the story would have upon the sum total of human happiness, he not only offered the use of the prison, but told Mr. Keenan that he could use as characters in the play all of the convicts who wished to take part. Even some of the prison officials took part in the picture, including Curtis G. Powell, the prison warden, and G. W. Ely, captain of the prison guards.

BUDGET FOR STATE IS BEING PREPARED

Initial steps in preparing the state budget are being taken by Charles W. Fairfield, executive secretary to Gov. Thomas B. Campbell, who yesterday forwarded blanks to the different departments of state, the state institutions, to be prepared by the heads of departments that the record of expenditures and requests for appropriation may be placed on file.

Before the legislature convenes, Mr. Fairfield will compile the data furnished him from which will be drafted a tentative appropriation bill which, after the recommendation of the governor, will be submitted to the legislature for its guidance.

Mr. Fairfield has made a study of the budget system, having only recently returned from the east where he spent several weeks in Wisconsin and Ohio, consulting with officials of the states where it has been worked out with telling success. He is at present acting in an advisory capacity to any of the institutions or departments who request his co-operation.
