... of Mrs. John Page greeted by Society Folk.

The continued absence of Mrs. John Page is regretfully noted by her friends, who have missed her party the past few months. Mrs. Page summered at Santa Monica and will remain there pending the completion of her new home which will be one of the particularly handsome residences in the new Country club district.

... J. Garnet Holmes to Return from New Mexican Art Colony. Mrs. J. Garnet Holmes is expected to return from her interesting and instructive summer with the fascinating colony established in the New Mexico village. She gave much of her time to serious study and will devote a great many days this winter to work in the studio which is a feature of her beautiful home on North Central avenue.

... Carrie Epstein to Visit Her Mother. As usual the early autumn season has been chosen as the time to announce scores of engagements which will have the effect of making the best of the holiday months gay with visits. A bride-elect who will be much missed is Miss Carrie Epstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Epstein whose engagement to Herman Lewkowitz, assistant county attorney, is announced.

... Phoenix from Pennsylvania just a year ago has made many friends by her unusually charming personality. Mrs. Lewkowitz is a graduate of the Kansas State university and later attended the Kansas School of Law where she received her degree. He has lived in Arizona six years and served

There are big tasks lying before women—tasks that need such wisdom as we get from combined study, tasks that need the altruism we get from working together, tasks that need the energy we get from combination of effort. We want homes where the big things are made big and the little things are made unimportant, where children can be well brought up and grow up to noble citizenship, where the family income is made to serve the highest family interests, where there are vigorous American bodies and minds. We want communities that are extensions of the home, where we shall be friends with each other, we people of all races and creeds, where good schools, high standards of public health, recreation, beauty shall tempt the finest type of people to come and live with us and bring up their children. We can not get these things unless we all work together. We must put them into daily intercourse and into politics.

ALICE AMES WINTER, President General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. E. J. Flannigan of Bisbee, president of the Arizona Federation of Women's Clubs, was in Phoenix early in the week when she announced that she planned to visit practically all the clubs in the state during the year. Mrs. Flannigan is urging the clubs to send a full delegation to the national convention which will be held in Miami early in the spring.

Mrs. H. A. Guild, auditor of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and past president of the State Federation, has returned from Washington where she attended a three days' session of the general board. Americanism, citizenship training and the social and industrial welfare of women and children were the chief topics discussed while the budget was arranged for the year. The following editorial appeared in the Washington Herald during the session:

Women in Council
The meeting of the directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, now being held here, is one of planning for action. Nonpartisan in their character, and for from wholly civic in their functions, these clubs are being drawn farther and farther within the circle of practical affairs and of "independent" influence on the course of social evolution. The very large number of adherents, have been trained to concentrate social influence on settlement of local and state issues; and now with the extension of the franchise to meet a demand for national rights, the federation's carefully organized machinery will soon be in operation.

The character of the 2,500,000 members' constituency of the federation is such that it will have weight quite out of proportion to its size, large as that seems to be. From it naturally will be drawn many of the political for a time as assistant United States attorney, and is at present attached to the county attorney's office while in private practice he is associated with Thalheimer and Hart. He is past president of the B'nai B'rith and is a popular member of a number of clubs and lodges.

Mrs. Joseph H. Kibbey improving in Health.

The many friends of Mrs. Joseph H. Kibbey who were greatly concerned over her serious illness will be relieved to know of her improvement in health. Judge and Mrs. Kibbey returned on Tuesday from Berkeley, where Mrs. Kibbey was far from well following the summer spent in Australia. Since coming home she has gained strength daily.

New York Folk Interesting Visitors During Short Stay

Interesting visitors here for a few days early in the season were Mr. and Mrs. William M. Seabury who stopped over on their way to their home in New York from Los Angeles, where legal business called Mr. Seabury. Unfortunately their time was limited and a number of affairs planned in their honor were necessarily cancelled.

candidates and party leaders that equal success might be necessary.

Next month the city will be host of another representative group of women, one that has had much to do with forcing the equal suffrage issue to the front and getting the Nineteenth amendment adopted. This group has worked within a more restricted field than the federation, and it has concentrated its militant power on a very definite object. Now, in the mood of victory, it will meet to map out a future policy, and if the rank and file support the plan seemingly approved at the recent conference of the leaders held in the vicinity of New York, the group will continue to use its methods of "direct action" to secure from state and national lawmakers action on issues directly concerning women.

Observers, who come back from travel up and down the country and from mixing with the voters, tell of "apathy." This may be true of men citizens, but not of women voters. They are very much awake and quite militant; and they return next November with the vote of thousands. The testimony of most of the men politicians, are proving very difficult to corral and hitch up. Even when caught they do not stand tied. The collar of partisanship does not look alluring, nor the bribe of bossdom.

Because this is so, persons who bet on elections are placing their money in ways to reduce losses to a minimum whoever wins. Sage old politicians are not running risks on prestige as prophets. It is the veridant neophytes now running the campaign committees who talk confidently now as to how the electoral college will be divided, and who will control the senate.

The Central Arizona District Federation of clubs will hold its autumn session on October 25, the Peoria Woman's club acting as hostess. The program which will be presented during the all-day meeting has not yet been announced but it is understood the speakers' list will be of interest sufficient to attract club women from all over the county and the Peoria gathering place. The federation which holds semi-annual sessions has as its president Mrs. H. C. Lockett, one of the leading club women in the state and vice-president of the state federation; Mrs. C. A. Peoria is first vice-president; Mrs. James S. Griffin of Phoenix second vice-president; Mrs. W. M. Beach of Mesa, treasurer; Mrs. George C. Barnum of Phoenix recording secretary; Mrs. Gregg Scott of Phoenix, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. A. M. Harner of Chandler, auditor.

The Woman's club, of which Mrs. Joseph S. Stark is president, will inaugurate its season Tuesday, October 13, the initial program being featured by the president's address. In addition to the talk given by Mrs. Stark the department chairmen will outline the work for the year and the year books will be distributed to the members. Mrs. Ralph Cameron, chairman of the civics department will discuss the study and practical work her department will undertake for the winter while Mrs. W. C. Hart, chairman of the art and literature section will present her program; Mrs. J. P. Ivy that outlined for the home economics department and Miss Frances Elliott the music section's calendar. The club held an executive board meeting on Tuesday when routine business was transacted.

The Harmony club will hold its initial meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club. Mrs. E. Baswitz, club president, in announcing the opening meeting stated that the session would be devoted to business.

President's day with a reception to the new members who will take part in the program will feature the initial meeting of the Musicians' club which is scheduled for Monday afternoon, October 18. Mrs. H. M. Fenimore, president of the club, calls attention to the fact that October 11 is given in the year book as the opening date which is a mistake, a later date having been chosen. The club has outlined a most interesting series of programs while the musical events section of the club has booked a number of brilliant artists to appear here during the season.

A conundrum tea at the home of Mrs. E. E. Jack is announced for the Alhambra Neighborhood club on Wednesday afternoon. The proceeds will be used for community betterment work.

The Madison Woman's club has outlined an interesting program for the year. Following a reception to the members, the actual working season will begin on Friday afternoon with "Legislation" as the subject matter. On October 22 an art exhibition by the Miller-Sterling company has been arranged with a musical to supplement the program. On November 12 President's day will be observed while two weeks later has been set for the date of bazaar day with the bazaar on December 3. A week later the club will present a child welfare program and on the twenty-third of the month a number of entertainment for which elaborate plans will be made. The new year will formally open on January 7 with the annual business meeting and election of officers. January 11 has been set for "Legislation Day." The February calendar includes: a children's valentine party on the eleventh and a school exhibit on the twenty-fifth and in March will be another child-welfare session coming on the eleventh. The program of the twenty-fifth of that month will be devoted to art. April 8 will feature music and on the twenty-second a rose exhibit will be held in connection with the observance of library day. May 6 a home economics program will be presented, the meeting of the twenty-seventh which closes the season will be marked by a special program. The officers for the 1920-1921 season include Mrs. Aubrey V. Smith, president; Mrs. Ray W. Nichols, vice-president; Mrs. Leslie Smith, secretary, and Mrs. R. B. Chultz, treasurer. Mrs. Luther A. Creed is chairman of the hospitality committee; Miss Stella Morden of the music committee; Mrs. Albert Small,

MISS PATRICIA DAVIDSON

Miss Patricia Davidson, a well known local girl, is sailing from New York on Tuesday for Buenos Aires, where she will be stationed the next six months as a Young Women's Christian association secretary. Miss Davidson left Phoenix three years ago to prepare for a foreign secretaryship, studying for some time in New York and later serving as a "Y" secretary in Wilmington, S. C. She was afterward sent to the California Business Women's camp at Hippas in the Imperial valley. Miss Davidson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davidson of 27 West McDowell road, then returned home for a brief vacation leaving recently for the east. Perhaps no member of the "Y" is more dearly loved than "Pat" as she is familiarly called by the girls with whom she was associated in the local "Y" for a number of years. Her cleverness, but above all, her sweet personality has made her a general favorite. She was one of the organizers and first president of the Business Girls' club of this city.

legislative; Mrs. Ray W. Nichols, child welfare; Mrs. W. A. Wilson, home economics; Mrs. S. E. Ketchie, art, and Mrs. A. G. Bailey, literature.

The Madison Improvement club will hold an important business meeting Thursday afternoon, to which all members are asked to be present. Besides an interesting number of club programs the club will give a series of social functions this winter featured by neighborhood dances.

The College club's season will open on Wednesday afternoon, the place of meeting having been changed from the high school to 507 North Seventh street where the session will be called to order at 3:30 o'clock. The club in announcing its initial meeting extends an invitation to any eligible woman who might care to become a member. anyone is eligible to membership in the club who has had two years of full academic work in a college conferring the degree of A. B. Miss Elizabeth Campbell will be chairman for the Wednesday program which follows: Development of Spanish-American Nationality.

Founding of the Latin-American Republics. Mrs. Kimball Bannister. Simon de Bolivar. Miss Campbell. Fusion of Races. Mrs. Harry B. Pryor.

The officers for the year include: Mrs. W. W. Watkins, president; Dr. Marian Williams, first vice-president; Miss Glendale Griffiths, second vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Ray Craig, secretary; Miss Beatrice M. Summers, treasurer, and Mrs. L. M. Fitzhugh, auditor.

The program committee comprises Miss Summers as chairman, Miss Beulah Wingfield, Mrs. C. P. Hart, Mrs. Charles M. Morgan, Mrs. Franklin McCluskey and Miss Ida McDaniel.

Mrs. Alice Monette, a stenographer in the governor's office and one of the leading members of the Business and Professional Woman's club which she represented at the national convention which met in St. Paul in July. Mrs. Monette will make a report to the club at its October meeting. There are 28 clubs with a membership of 25,441 in all but two states of the union according to the figures presented at the convention.

Why Have Grey Hair and Look Older Than You Really Are?

The new dye (Inecto Rapid) a strictly vegetable dye will restore the hair to its natural color and leave it full of lustre and life. It is not necessary to shampoo the hair before using it and it will take effect at once so you can shampoo the hair within 10 minutes after application, does not wear off or harm the hair in the slightest degree. It comes in any shade of Blond, Auburn, Drab, Brown or Black.

It is just revolutionizing the hair dyeing business.

We use it in our Parlor Work or sell it for the same price as the New York manufacturers charge for it. A case of 5 small bottles for $5.00

We also have the new Hair Stain remover. It will restore faded, streaky hair or hair dye stains and leave the hair perfectly natural. Price per bottle $2.00

We also handle and use Henna D'Oreal, Neo Henna, Hanna L'Exo, and Liquid Dyes for $1.50 per box, Henna and $1.15 per bottle Godefroy's Dye. But Inecto Rapid Hair Restorer and the Hair Stain Remover are the two big discoveries during the past 12 months that will change the hair dyeing art from an experimental uncertainty to an exact science.
