

Through not closely identified with him in this contest.

At this stage the Cameron people were not inclined to conciliation.

The southern delegates were therefore forced to the other side, and it appeared that Baunert now had a majority, though that was not yet sure.

In the meantime the milling was going on in the lobby and the corridors of the Hotel Adams.

It was also made known that Chairman James would tender his resignation to accept the nomination.

Following the resignation of Mr. Baunert as secretary of the state committee and Mr. McDonald of Gila was appointed as acting secretary.

The following committee were appointed:

On credentials—Charles F. Price of Maricopa, E. Ticombo of Santa Cruz, J. W. Lee of Coconino, H. J. Sullivan of Yuma, and Harry A. Clark of Cochise.

On resolutions—A. H. Lyon of Pima, Eugene of the Tucson Citizen, J. P. Edge of Cochise, James of the Maricopa, A. H. Powers of Yavapai, Mr. Blakely of Mohave and F. S. Green of Coconino.

After a recess of an hour the committee on credentials reported, showing 74 delegates present in person and 74 proxies executed in proper form as required by the call.

The resolutions committee reported as follows:

Resolutions Read
The Republican state committee of Arizona assembled in special session at the outset of its consideration is weighed upon with a keen realization of the subtraction from the assets of the state of Arizona, the Republican party, which has been occasioned by the death of Allen B. Jaynes, the Republican national committeeman for the state of Arizona.

The signaling the sense of loss which has come to the state and party in this deplorable occurrence, the state committee commemorates the untimely death of this noble leader, the unselfish co-operation, the courageous leadership and the great victory which was the climax of an unparallel career in the state.

Resolved, that copies of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this body, a copy forwarded to the national committee of the party and that a copy, as prescribed by the rules of this committee, be furnished to the family.

As citizens of Arizona, as well as Republicans, we are proud of the splendid achievements of our governor, Hon. Thomas E. Campbell. We point to the wonderful display of patriotism in which voters of all parties united and in which the hearty approval of the correction of abuses and the cutting away of avoidable expense in the government of the state under his direction.

A. H. LYON, chairman.
A. H. POWERS, secretary.

RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE.
Presents Baunert's Name
The committee then proceeded to the election of a national committeeman. The name of Mr. Baunert was presented by Captain George D. Christy.

Mr. Baunert's name was presented by Captain George D. Christy, who recounted the services of the nominee through three campaigns, all of which had been attended by ever-increasing success.

Mr. Baunert predicted that with continued concert of action on the part of the Republican Arizona might permanently re-establish the country which had so happily ended, he said, was a good thing for the party. It had secured the purpose of bringing together the largest representative number of Republicans ever assembled in the state at a committee meeting.

The nominations were then closed and the action was directed to cast the votes of all the members, shown by the credentials committee report to be entitled to vote, for Mr. Baunert.

Mr. Baunert made known his appreciation in a speech in which he stated that his long co-operation with Mr. Jaynes had to a large extent furnished him with the duties of the office.

Chairman James then announced his resignation and retired from the chair which was taken by Captain Christy. The resignation was accepted and the question of naming a successor was taken up. Several proposals were made, the first being the appointment of a committee of five to make a selection of a candidate for chairman and another for secretary and present them to the executive committee. But it was suggested that the matter be disposed of while so large a number of the committeemen were gathered.

Accordingly that was agreed to. The nominating committee consisted of A. H. Lyon of Pima, P. J. Sullivan of Yuma, F. S. Green of Coconino, E. Ticombo of Santa Cruz and Hugh Dages of Maricopa.

All Ends Served
In the meantime Mr. Ticombo had nominated Frank H. Lyon for chairman. He would have been elected by acclamation but for his own protest that the matter was one of so great importance that time should be given for its consideration. It was then that the committee of five was suggested.

When the committee was named, a recess of 20 minutes was taken. The committee reported the names of Henry A. Clark of Cochise for chairman and E. A. Nathan of Tucson for secretary, nominated by the members of the committee adjourned.

The booth for Mr. Clark had been started in the forenoon by James S. Lewis of the Douglas Dispatch.

Mr. Clark, the new chairman, first became identified prominently with Arizona politics in the Roosevelt campaign in 1912. He is the superintendent of the C. and A. smelter at Douglas. Mr. Nathan, the new secretary, was for a long time connected with the C. and A. smelter and is now a business man of Tucson and was a member of the board of supervisors of Pima county.

ADDED ATTACKS AT COURTHOUSE

Board of Supervisors Republican For First Time In History Of Arizona—Many Appointees Named

With the installation of two Republican supervisors, the majority vote in the body became Republican for the first time in the history of Maricopa county. Following the administering of the oath of office to Guy L. Vernon and C. S. Stewart, supervisors-elect on the Republican ticket, the board, composed of these men and J. R. Bradshaw, the hold-over member and the only Democrat on the board, went into session.

They elected Mr. Vernon as chairman and Mr. Stewart as secretary. Following this the board approved the bonds of the county officers, both those re-elected and the new officers, and administered the oath of office to the newly appointed officers with the exception of those whose office terms had not expired.

The remainder of the morning was spent in approving the appointments made by the officers for the coming year.

In the afternoon the supervisors went over the bills accumulated through December and cleared them for payment. Next Monday the board will officially canvass the election returns on the bond election for the $4,500,000 issue of bonds for road improvements in the county.

Two Non-Partisan Papers Suspend In North Dakota

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)
GRAND FORKS, N. D., Jan. 3.—The Grand Forks American and the North Dakota Tidelite, Non-partisan league newspapers, have suspended publication, it was announced today.

Inability to collect outstanding indebtedness or to obtain funds from notes issued by stockholders, is given as the reason by John B. Brown, general manager. He asserted that the company was solvent with assets exceeding liabilities by several thousand dollars.

The American began publication here September 30, 1918, as a daily and was incorporated for $100,000. The Tidelite, a weekly printed in Norwegian, made its appearance 18 months ago and had a circulation of 550,000.

First Presbyterian C. E. Society Elects
The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church held a very interesting and helpful meeting last Sunday evening. The outstanding feature was the installation service held for the new officers and committee members of the society for the coming year and conducted by the pastor, Dr. Arthur Lee Odell.

A few of the thoughts brought out by Dr. Odell in his talk to the officers were: "The church is the only place in which we can find a true democracy. In making their leaders for the year, he placed an honor as well as a great responsibility on them, and that they must strive to be true to the trust placed in them, and again, as leaders, they must stand together, must cooperate in their work if they wished success; must use tact and sympathy as they worked with others, and stand with the society as a whole."

"Stand behind your leaders; give them all the support possible. There is plenty of hope for the church today. And don't think when you have got the organization up in good shape and everything is running smoothly that you can take a rest. You can't. Everybody has to keep up their feet and all the time if you wish to keep your society up to its high standard of efficiency."

Then for his last thought Dr. Odell expressed the hope that his young people would be loyal to the church slogan: "Nobody quits." That they would apply it in the society and their individual lives, that they would catch the spirit of this wonderful motto. And in looking over the room at the earnest and thoughtful faces, there was a doubt as to whether the speakers were answering in their hearts "Nobody Quits."

Following are the officers for the year and keep it before the going were dark tonight and it was reported by the household that he was sleeping peacefully. In his heart, priests of his official family said, was a feeling of great gladness to be a part of the "cardinals' physicians" who were pleased at the way in which he withstood the journey.

Cardinal Gibbons Removed to Home
BALTIMORE, Jan. 3.—For the first time since December 12, when he was stricken, Cardinal Gibbons slept tonight in the plain little room in his residence where he has lived and worked for many years.

He was removed today by automobile from the Robert T. Shriver home, in Union Mills. Apparently he suffered slightly from the journey.

The window of his room were dark tonight and it was reported by the household that he was sleeping peacefully. In his heart, priests of his official family said, was a feeling of great gladness to be a part of the "cardinals' physicians" who were pleased at the way in which he withstood the journey.

Only the ordinary reaction of slight fatigue occurred as a result of the 30-mile trip. The physicians believe that the easing of the cardinal's anxiety to be back in the home that has grown dear to him will have a beneficial effect. His desire has been expressed by the cardinal several times.

The cardinal, in a low voice, expressed his joy at the fulfillment of his wishes as he was being carried into his residence.

The trip, was started after a consultation of the physicians. In the limousine of Mr. Shriver were the cardinal and two nursing sisters, while a number of mobiles were members of the cardinal's household and others.

According to Josephine's story, these male friends of hers—Josephine is a widow—told her that widows were exempt from revenue laws governing the operation of stills and that officers wouldn't disturb an orderly, well-conducted still.

Acting upon their advice, she declared, she went in debt for enough raisins to make two barrels of mash. When the first run of white mule was being made the county officers swooped down on her still and she fled to Turkey Shoot canyon, which action put it completely out of business—Tombstone Prospector.

Soldier Laid to Rest
FLAGSTAFF, Jan. 3.—A soldier, whose name was laid in his last earthly resting place yesterday; transported from the soil of France in which he died, to that of his native land, for which he died.

Albert's body arrived in Hohoken, N. J., a week ago yesterday on the U. S. transport Wheaton, with the bodies of 2,473 of his comrades, the largest cargo of the nation's dead yet to arrive. It was met in New York by his brother, Harvey Pitts of Ash Park, now a student at the University of Michigan, and his uncle, United States Senator Ashurst. Harvey arrived in Flagstaff with the remains Wednesday night on No. 3. Legion members met them at the train, conveying the casket to the Flagstaff undertaking parlors.

Yesterday morning the funeral cortege, led by Francis A. Chiscolm commanding, formed over. At the Federated church the services began at 10 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Zook delivered the oration. Special music was furnished by a choir of the ex-serviced men.

The casket was again strapped to the caisson, and the funeral party marched again in military formation, to the Masonic cemetery, where, after the firing of three volleys in salute of the dead, and the sounding of taps the casket was lowered into the grave.—Cocoon Star.

Alleged Slayer Is Arraigned
PRESCOTT—Charged with murder in the first degree, John Lohlein, alleged slayer of Charles Summers, yesterday was arraigned in the justice court before Judge Charles H. McLane. He was held without bond to await preliminary hearing, set for 9 o'clock this morning.

The details of the arrest of Lohlein last Thursday night and the finding of the body of Charles Summers, former city inspector, seven miles out on the Ash Park road, has been the subject of considerable discussion at the time of his publication.

It was admitted to Sheriff Warren of Cochise County, Attorney Neil G. Davis, that Lohlein, a 30-year-old man, was killed in a gun fight following Summers' refusal to retract insulting remarks he was alleged to have made toward the slayer. Lohlein denied remembering having gone through Summers' pockets after the slaying, though the body was found with every pocket rifled.—Journal-Miner.

Escaped on Christmas Eve
TUCSON—Even the thought of a bountiful Christmas dinner failed to deter the piece of resistance failed to deter Tom Hurst and Harry Boyd, two trustees at the county jail, from their determination to make a dash for liberty. Consequently, when the jailers had the utmost confidence, and to whom were entrusted various duties before dark Christmas eve, they slipped out the basement door and disappeared. When they failed to return with the coal, a hurried investigation was made by Sheriff Isaacs, who gave an alarm. All the deputies from the sheriff's office were sent out to look for the two escaped trustees. In vain.

Subsequently learned that the two men, both of whom are negroes, were seen at a negro restaurant shortly after midnight. They were supplied with money by their friends to help them get away from town.—Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—In addition to three killed and seven wounded, 25 physicians were arrested in Guatemala City Saturday as a result of efforts of a mob to seize an armory, the state department was informed today by the American legation. The attacking party was said to have numbered nearly 200 and included many reported sympathizers with Estrada Cabrera, imprisoned president.

ABOUT THE STATE

Slayer Tells His Story

PRESCOTT—Remarks about a woman's reputation, heard by her lover through the red haze of intoxication, are alleged to have caused the killing of Charles Summers by John Lohlein on the Ash Park road some seven miles north of Prescott.

"He said things about my girl I couldn't stand," said Lohlein after the shooting, according to the testimony of Frank J. Oizer at the coroner's inquest, "and so I shot him."

Lohlein came to the Hoffman grill, according to Oizer, plainly intoxicated, and with his face and clothes stained with blood. Having washed his blood from his face at Oizer's request, he sat down and told his story of the killing. Summers and Lohlein, it seems, were motoring in the direction of Jerome Junction, and were about seven miles north of Prescott when the conversation concerning Lohlein's friend took a dangerous turn.

"Lohlein told me that Summers repeated remark he had heard about affecting her reputation," said Oizer, "upon which Lohlein asked Summers if he had his gun with him. When Summers replied in the affirmative, he opened fire."

"Lohlein admitted to me," added Oizer, "that he had killed the wrong man. He said he was really after a plumber who he said was the original cause of the trouble. Summers repeated remark that Sheriff Warren G. Davis, when asked if Lohlein had made any statement to him concerning the killing when arrested, testified that the slayer, who Oizer had made no admission to him.

ASSURE FARMERS OF CO-OPERATION IN RAISING 1921 CROP

Pledges of co-operation to ranchers in sowing and harvesting their 1921 crops, election of officers and directors for the ensuing year and an expression of confidence in the future of the Salt River valley were the features of the annual meeting of the Maricopa County Real Estate board at the Adams hotel last evening.

Officers elected last night were: Hal S. Prince, president; J. R. Loftus, vice president; and Clarence P. Woodbury, secretary. Woodbury was re-elected without opposition. The eight directors chosen were: Dwight B. Heard, J. S. Griffin, E. J. Bennett, E. E. Lane, A. W. Flicknam, all of Phoenix, and C. O. Austin of Tempe, F. T. Pomeroy of Mesa and T. L. Paul of Glendale.

The board unanimously voted its support to the proposed new legislation of real estate agents. This bill has for its purpose the protection of the public, it was explained, and requires that every real estate agent must pay an annual license of $25 to do business in this state, and each salesman take out an annual license of $10. The bill will be introduced at the coming session of the legislature, it was said.

Conditions in the valley were discussed. It was the unanimous expression of those present that credit extensions would be necessary in hundreds of cases to carry the rancher over for another year, this, it was said, was the wisest possible course. Present conditions, the realtors declared, are not of long duration. It is now merely a question of financing the 1921 crop, which is rapidly being accomplished.

"Bankers of Southern California are more impressed with our valley now than ever before," declared J. R. Loftus. "During the past few months, many of the leading financial experts of Los Angeles have been in Phoenix to look into the situation, and to finance the rancher," he declared.

"A market price of 50 cents the pound for cotton will bring $16,000,000 into the valley. The bill, if enacted, would not be in such a terrible financial condition. It won't take much of a market to fix the price at that figure either. On a recent visit of an appraiser from a Los Angeles bank, I took him about the valley," Mr. Griffin continued. "While we were riding over the Maricopa valley, always, some paved and some unpaved, he remarked, 'You know, when I ride past a piece of land which has a paved road past it, I don't just $100 an acre to the value of the farm.' That's no reason why we should be so strag for good roads in this country."

More than $2,000,000 has been loaned in the valley by Southern California banks within the past few months, it was pointed out, and indications are that additional loans will be forthcoming within a few weeks, one of the speakers declared.

Before adjourning, retiring President A. A. Carriek of Glendale appointed a committee of three to make a study of the resolution favoring action by officials.

It was agreed that should the cleanup be made, continued efforts on the part of the authorities would be necessary to maintain the standard.

The meeting yesterday was held at the residence of Mrs. M. T. Phelps, president of the Council of Parent-Teacher associations, presiding.
