is a remedy. It is a scientific arch support cushion that supports the muscles and tendons and gives them strength to carry the weight of the body at the foot arch.

Makes walking or standing absolutely comfortable. Keeps shoes in shape and gives the longest graceful arch.
The Scholl "Foot-Eazer" is made of two German Silver Springs, leather covering, and is springy, flexible and self-adjusting to all feet. You can be easily slipped into any shoe.
They do not need tacking or pasting but are easily changed from one pair to another.
If you have no trouble whatsoever the Scholl "Foot-Eazer" will give you instant relief as well as rest and comfort.
All sizes for men and women, $2.50 per pair.

IS IT FANATICISM?
Say Old Pal, I'm up against it again; the "pure in heart" are getting the ascendancy, and you know from our hard experience what that means to him "who walks not in the ways of the godly," i. e.: who doth not lengthen his face, lighten his waistcoat collar, look contemptuously on the ladies, and pad his knee joints.—Bill! have you forgotten when we opened up in that flourishing California city where prosperity reigned until the church fastened its tentacles firmly? Old boy, how long did we last after that, and today where is that city? That grand old poem, "The Deserted Village," don't half describe it; moss-covered roofs, shuttered windows, tottering, wind-swaying, skeleton house frames with old untrimmed trees swaying, then dried, twisted limbs as the agonizing moans of the lightest breeze start those mournful notes that terrorize the staunchest heart.—Bill, those emissaries are on the job here, and woe to Phoenix if they win the day; every known method is now employed to squeeze through bills in the legislature, now in session, and as their representatives have a strong hold, and we busy citizens look to each other to combat, or trust to our M. & M. association, (whom I cannot credit with a superabundance of vitality,—) to counteract, the results are disastrous.—They demand no more dancing; no more "terbac"; no more festivities; no more Sunday business; no toying with your wife's frills; no cooking; and above all no smiles on the Sabbath. Bill! We all voted for prohibition, knowing the open saloons as a menace to peaceable livelihood,—what has followed? No country dare port a ship that holds "Paruna," or a lower per cent of you, know!—No man dare place a drop of refreshment to a dying man's lips; no man dare (save under the portals of a holy tabernacle) "look upon the wine when red," and if, if, if, my old pal, you should send me a jug I would sure be landed for life in the Florence Pen for accepting. Another measure now agitating the pessimist, is prostitution; they now say, "it must and shall be stopped." "Kill the coward, crucify the ungodly! and murder the fallen!"—What then? Simply the old law of supply and demand; there are fifty to fill every vacancy. Bill, you are a mighty fatherly and good man, won't you please advise some of these screeching parents who look entirely to law enforcement for the rearing of offspring, that were they to spend more time at home, more influential examples (I mean a parental example), and as their governing enforced methods, their sons or daughters would not be found in a half intoxicated state, roving and rollicking and riding around during hours when darkness aids the Devil in his work, and dissipation runs rank: Tell them this, Bill, and I will back your every word, as I witness these things often. Bill, old boy, never did you dream when we paved the way in the early 80s, or when coming to Arizona in the 90s, where so long and tediously we helped to open mines and roads and build shacks, and dove for water holes—that in 40 years we were to be manacled? Did we old Pal? I should say nay! Well, you dear old soul, your race is about run anyway, but how I do groan to see any of the trifling pleasures of life denied you when in all sincerity, you should be treated as a lord, with the "milk and honey" of the land in profusion at your door.
Fraternally,
GEO. O. FORD.
