

The above Manufacturing Plant is Today the largest and most powerful planing mill in this country

Look way up high to the left for Ohlrau Still, in full operation, and no arrest made yet!

The Still that Stills Stuff that doesn't Kill is the stuff you have been looking for. They come here and load up with the stuff the same way that I used to load up with Budweiser years ago. That was good stuff and cheap, cheap, cheap, and that is why I copped it while I had a chance. Where could you get it now, eh? Times have changed and so have I. That is how I came to build a still that turns out the genuine article and, believe me, I don't have to advertise it to dispose of it. I don't operate this merely for myself—I should say not! You must call in person and merely say: "What kind of stuff is it you got here?" Don't say anything about the still—strictly understand that—as I don't intend to have the whole town folks around me talking still. I sell Lumber, and at prices that will stun you. It will upset your mind—maybe something else, eh! But you will pull through all right when I say: There is the still, 40 feet up in the air with its 20 horsepower motor connected with over 200 feet of piping to supply that still with stuff that you load up with. I should worry; it has passed inspection and so has my Lumber, and the Planing Mill, with 87 horsepower electric motors, and 27 wood-working machines, that I call my saviour in this business. Who can beat my prices, as I make my Lumber move fast and my yard, 300 feet by 600 feet, stocked with very near one million feet of good Lumber that is priced for the rich and poor alike. Yes, that I priced to make quick sales, and I do make quick sales. I don't lose sales because I am higher than others. I lose sales if you don't call, that's all.

Now I am unloading 20 more cars of Lumber. It's no penny ante business with me. I do business on a large scale. I got a system. I patented it myself, in my own noodle, six years ago when I started in business at 719 West Washington Street with $1.65 spot cash to do business with at small profits and do lots of it, and you can bet your mother-in-law's life and be safe, I made it stick, and you can make it stick. Make up your mind to start—talk Lumber and get a home. I can help you. My 30 years' experience in building is at your service. I can give you more for your money than anyone else in the city. I have got the stock, I have got the machinery, I have got the experience. Look at my price list in the daily papers—it means dollars in your pocket, and it means a happy home for you if you tumble. Just because you read this ad it makes the future look brighter—just like taking stuff out of a still. But look here: that stuff out of my Still will shock an elephant—I tried it myself. So leave it alone and don't talk Still around here—say LUMBER!
