ALBUQUERQUE, — JULY 7, 1908

EVERY member of Capt. Borradaile's company are Americans.

This city gave Capt. Borradaile's volunteers a grand farewell last evening.

It is hoped by the American people that Shafter will do duty elsewhere in Cuba.

GEN. SHAFER's gallant army deserve at least decent hospital facilities for its wounded heroes.

The revenue stamp law imposes an addition of two cents on the fee for each postal money order.

PRESCOTT, ARIZONA, will give our volunteers a grand reception when they arrive there this afternoon.

Of 508 Rough Riders who landed in Cuba, only 350 are fit for service, the rest having been killed or wounded.

SANTIAGO is a city of 70,000 inhabitants, and was a day or two ago, its only manufacturing interest is tobacco.

THOUGH not exactly a part of the United States, New Mexico has responded nobly to the call for volunteers.

The government should investigate the situation at Iloilo. A disloyal sentiment is said to exist there that may cause trouble.

"THERE is a lot of froth about this war revenue," as the bartender said when handing the thirsty applicant a diminutive schooner for his nickel.

WAR is indeed costly. Up to, but not including the present conflict, the cost of war to the United States is an estimated loss of $27,000 men and $5,517,000,000.

Two American fleets will be sent to the Spanish coast. The second will be under the command of Commodore Schley and will include the battleship Massachusetts.

The most heroic picture so far presented by the war with Spain is Col. Roosevelt leading his invincible Rough Riders on foot up the steep heights of San Juan last Friday.

It is reported that the pope is losing his mind. This is probable. His actions since the beginning of the war between the United States and Spain indicate failing mental faculties.

In the present war Spain has captured only eight American sailors, and they became voluntary prisoners in sinking the Merimac. No soldier of the United States is prisoner of Spain.

The governor of Colorado is most too gallant for stany use. He told the women's convention the other day that he was proud that Colorado "dedicated" to the sympathy of human liberty.

THE Socorro Advertiser says that San Marcial has furnished more men for war than has Socorro, but when it comes to protecting patriots for office this fall you can get your money up in Socorro.

SECRETARY WILSON, in his capacity as the head of the weather bureau, has asked for $75,000 to establish a complete weather service for the Caribbean sea, and the money has been promptly granted.

LAST year the output of rubber from Mexico was 1,000,000 pounds. Hundreds of thousands of rubber trees are being planted and in a few years most of our supply of rubber will come from that country.

The Hawaiian islands are virtually a part and parcel of the United States. The resolutions annexing the islands have been adopted by congress, and the president to-day signed the historic document.

The proportion of officers killed and wounded in the siege of Santiago is very large. The same was true of British officers in the recent war with the Afirids in India. Officers who lead their men do not go alone.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, the government minted turned out $4,034,865 in gold coins, $16,482,284 in silver coins and $1,250,484 in minor coins. The number of standard silver dollars coined was 10,002,780.

GOOD ADVICE. The Santa Fe New Mexican takes occasion to say to the people of this territory, born within its confines and of Mexican or Spanish descent, that they are citizens of this great union and have so been for fifty-two years. Taking this into consideration, and remembering that the people of this territory enjoy the great privilege of living under the best, most liberal and most just government the New Mexican has ever known, the New Mexican and other friends of the class of our citizens referred to above are surprised that the number of volunteers in the New Mexico quota from the citizens of this territory above described has been very small and a cause of disappointment and sorrow to New Mexico's patriotic citizens and to friends elsewhere in this country.

From reliable sources, it seems, this state of affairs may partly be ascribed to the machinations and evil counsels of certain malevolent agitators and walking delegates, who, for personal and political ends, have made a propaganda among the Spanish-speaking citizens of the territory, advising them not to volunteer, and spreading all sorts of lies and evil reports, warning them that they would be ill-treated if they enlisted, that they would be put where they would be suffering but food for powder, would be nothing and the like.

These stories are the rottenest and sheerest of fabrications and lies, but it seems that they had some effect all the same. It is none too late to change. A large proportion of the men of the battalion of volunteer infantry to be enlisted during the coming week should consist of Spanish speaking, native born citizens of this territory.

The New Mexican hopes and trusts, for the good name of the territory, for the sake of its future welfare and advancement and in order to show that our citizens of native extraction and of Spanish descent are loyal and true to this the greatest republic on earth and to the glorious flag that floats over them and under which they enjoy the utmost liberty, freedom and prosperity, that a suitable proportion of the volunteers to form the infantry battalion now being recruited, will be of the young men of the class referred to, and that they will take part in the war that this country is now waging for humanity, for liberty and justice to down-trodden people.

MILITARY experts say that the charge of the New Mexico and Arizona Rough Riders up San Juan heights last Friday is not matched in history for dash and bravery. A superior force at the summit was driven from the fortress. The Spaniards raised shot and shell upon the advancing Rough Riders, who never faltered till our flag floated in victory over what seemed an impregnable Spanish position. The gallant charge cost many lives, and mourning will come to many homes in these territories when the full list of the dead and wounded is made known.

This city has sent 20 per cent of its voters to the war with Spain.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Catcher Gilpatrick Injured.

In the baseball game fourth of July afternoon at Pittsburgh, between the St. Louis and Pittsburgh teams, Gilpatrick, well-known here, was injured. The dispatch says:

The victory caused St. Louis, who was doing fine work in the box, was hit on the hand by a swift ball from Rowerman's bat. The accident occurred in the fourth inning. Gilpatrick's hand was split open, and he may not be able to pitch again this season. The plucky left-hander was knocked out of the box by the hit, but he scrambled after the ball. He was cheered lustily by the crowd.

A. H. Potter, with C. E. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of going without food as a bottle of this remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so."

Hon. Solomon Luna, the collector, and Hon. Jacobo Chavez, the probate court clerk, both popular republican officials of Valencia county, are in the city to-day, arriving from Los Lunas last night and putting up at Sturges' European. These gentlemen give the glad news that the stock of Valencia county are in good condition, and that the ranges were visited by some excellent downpours of rain the past ten days.

Chas. P. Jones and Thos. S. Kline, two well-known citizens of Bland, came in from the Cochiti mining district last night, and will enjoy metropolitan life for a few days. They state that the patriotic citizens of Bland was all abuzz with enthusiasm on hearing the good news from Cuba, and the celebrated great naval victory in a royal manner on the evening of the Fourth of July.

Juan C. Jaramillo, a well-known citizen of Turron, Valencia county, is in the city to-day, registered at Sturges' European. He reports his section of New Mexico in fine condition, the several good rains the past week bringing up the grass and leaving the water holes full of good water.

Mrs. M. K. Kitchen and Mrs. W. R. Register, of Nashville, Tenn., came in from the south last night, and have rooms at the Hotel Highland. They spent the winter in El Paso, and after a few days' sojourn in this city they will continue on to their homes at Nashville.

Hon. T. R. Catron, the brilliant attorney of the territorial capital, came in from the north last night, and has his signature on the Sturges' European register. He is here on legal matters.

Joseph Hiba, a big merchant of Bernalillo, is in the city to-day, coming in from the north last night in time to join the crowd at the depot in honor of the volunteers.

The San Juan Times says: "Bert Hubbard has returned from Gallup, where he took a load of cherries and gooseberries which he disposed of at a fair price."

P. W. Ross and wife, registering from Los Angeles, came in from the west last night and are at Sturges' European.

ROYAL RECEPTION.

The Patriotic People of Albuquerque Honored the Volunteer Soldiers.

THE HEARTY GREETING LAST NIGHT.

Albuquerque's people beheld a demonstration last night that will not be repeated until the gallant young soldiers of Company A, will "Come marching home again." God speed the day, that will see the consummation of this wish.

It is not indulging in sentimental thought to say that our people to-day, each and everyone of them feel that they have individually, and good bye to someone they hold dear. Not alone the mothers of the boys, who sent brave sons to the front with Company A, showing courageous true hearts at the parting, which would deny the impeachment of a woman being the weaker vessel, not the father, who feels but craves down the evidence of it. Not alone are the wife, brother, sister or sweetheart in their mourning for the departed loved one. The sons of the city of Albuquerque will camp at Fort Huachuca to-night, and until they return, safe and sound, will our sorrow be wholly put aside. The ovation tendered the boys on the occasion of their leave-taking last evening was simply grand.

The parade started from the Armory shortly after 7 o'clock, marching west on Gold avenue to Fourth street, on Fourth to Railroad avenue, thence to Gross, Blackwell & Co.'s block, where a speaker's stand had been arranged. Fire Chief R. Koppe acted as marshal. Following the First Regiment band were gallantly decorated carriages containing women's leases, a half dozen little girls in each carriage, wearing white gowns with red, white and blue adornments and each waving an American flag. The little prizes of No. 1 hose company were championed by Miss Edith Renner; those of No. 2 hose company by Mrs. W. C. Montfort, and Miss Clara Cramer for the Santa Fe Pacific shops hose company.

Attached to the carriages were the hose carts that were actually things of beauty so handsomely they were decorated with flags, the large wheels representing the appearance of having been made of hunting in the national colors. The hook and ladder truck was also beautifully decorated.

Following the fire-fighting apparatus came the members of the volunteer fire department. The firemen turned out in large numbers, for many of their former comrades were members of Company A.

The city officials came next, and then there were a number of private citizens in line.

A feature of the parade that was not distinguished generally was the presence of several ex-confederate soldiers, invited to participate by the gallant old heroes of G. K. Warren Post, G. A. R. It was a public demonstration that the words "forgetfulness" and "forgiveness" on both sides now so frequently uttered in this connection were no misnomers. The grand old fighters of the North and the South now happily cemented in a true bond of friendship and love were acting as an escort to the boys who were going to fight the enemies of a united nation. The veterans had at their head, Senior Vice Commander Armstrong.

Company A, brought up the rear, the young faces of the volunteers contrasting with the countenances of the veterans, which looked saddened because they knew what war meant and were aware that perhaps this leave-taking meant a last farewell to the darling boys who were now departing. The battle-scarred Kit Carson Regimental flag carried by the veterans and the neat little emblem of Company A repeated the contrast between the old soldier and the new, the hero of the past and the hero of the present.

When the procession had reached the speakers stand, Mayor Clancy delivered a brief but very patriotic address and impressed again upon the minds of the youthful volunteers that the hearts of Albuquerque beat for them and the thoughts of its people went with the company wherever the fortunes of war might lead. Though absent, they would still be in the minds of those who hoped and prayed for their welfare until they returned to fond friends again. Marshal Koppe then proposed three cheers for Company A, which were given with a will. Volunteer Wycoff was then called for and no speaker ever showed a more sincere appreciation of the occasion before him than did this young attorney. He was not prepared for a speech, but the words that broke from his lips were made eloquent because of his sincerity.

The jam at the station was tremendous and the best part of an hour was consumed in hand-shaking before the boys were permitted to tear themselves away and board the train.

ing the war of the rebellion and heard the news of American success before Santiago de Cuba and in Manila were great gratification. Age alone prevented the colonel from volunteering during the present war. He has 55 years of this life to his credit.

A very important personage went to Tucson Monday morning. As he would not divulge his name it is impossible to determine at this writing whether his name is Carlos Emory Smith. It is supposed that his trip to Tucson is in connection with the trial of F. Maeston, charged with carrying concealed weapons and assault, who waived examination at his trial before Justice J. M. Garcia and will be brought over to appear before the next grand jury this morning in bonds in the sum of $250.

GALLUP.

From the Citizen.

George Nell, an employee of the Caldonian Coal company, while at work at the Otero on Monday was kicked by a mule and the calf of the shoe pierced the knee-cap of the unfortunate man, leaving a nasty wound that will probably remain by him for life.

While coming from his place in the mine Nell was caught without light in a narrow place on one of the roads by loaded cars and crushed between them and the wall, and he was killed by about the hips and legs and Dr. Edmundson reports him in a serious condition.

Johnson and family left for the Jemez springs country and southern Colorado. Mr. Johnson who has been in business here for two years and has a lot of friends is regret to see his family depart. He will probably return to his old St. Paul home and take up his old position there. He was accompanied on the trip by John Wilds and Marcus T. Byrne.

Mrs. Osborne, the aged mother of John and Thomas Osborne, was very seriously injured in an accident which happened the other night between ten and eleven. She was returning with her son from the Catholic church, when on crossing the street between the houses she became frightened and balked and she was thrown out and badly injured about the head and body, several ribs being broken. It is feared that the old lady will die.

A marriage was quietly celebrated on Thursday evening last by Judge Maxwell when he joined in the hands of well-known Robert Jordan and Mrs. McSparron. A few friends were present at the ceremony and the evening was spent in social intercourse, an agreeable interval of refreshments helping to make the evening a pleasant one. They received a royal chivalry Friday night.
