New Orleans, Aug. 5.—New cases of yellow fever to date, seven; total cases to date, 482; deaths to date, four; total deaths, 96.

TWO SEAMEN ARE SENT TO HOFFMAN ISLAND

New York, Aug. 5.—Two members of the crew of the steamer El Paso from New Orleans were removed from their ship today at quarantine because of high temperatures. They were taken to Hoffman island for observation.

GETS SCARED AND TAKES TO THE WOODS

New Orleans, Aug. 5.—Announcement through the Associated Press in today's papers that President Roosevelt had acted with his usual promptness on request of Governor Blanchard, to have marine hospital service take charge of the yellow fever situation here created general satisfaction, though in some quarters there was dissent from the action of yesterday's meeting on the question that Louisiana ought not to surrender her sovereignty and confess her inability to handle the situation.

The opinion generally is, however, that confidence outside of Louisiana was so completely lacking in the local health authorities that unless the interposition of the government was asked there could be no expectation of relaxation of severe quarantine until the coming of frost.

Moreover, it is believed that the powers, discipline, efficiency and resources of the government are necessary to handle the fever itself, which is still strongly entrenched in downtown sections of the city.

The railroad situation has somewhat improved. Rapido and Chalassieu, parishes which threatened to prevent the passage of any trains across their borders, have made concessions. It is thought that the southern and Texas Pacific will be able to move passengers and some freight during the day.

At Lafayette, the Southern Pacific lost some of its men as a result of a fake dispatch that people were dying by the score in New Orleans.

Assistant Division Superintendent Scarlett resigned and with eight or ten operators and dispatchers took passage for Texas.

FEVER EXTENDING IN CITY BUT NOT BEYOND

New Orleans, Aug. 5.—Yellow fever is gradually extending its grasp, but as this is the third day in which no new cases have been reported outside of Louisiana the spread of the disease to adjoining states is believed to be effectively checked.

In New Orleans the situation is admittedly serious but by no means hopeless and the turning over of the fight to the federal government has inspired the local health authorities with renewed courage and determination.

Up to 1 o'clock today there had been eleven new cases and six deaths in the city.

NEGRO GETS SIXTY DAYS
FOR FLOURISHING A KNIFEWILLIAM K. LEE, PROFESSIONAL TROUBLE HUNTER, TO SPEND TWO MONTHS' VACATION IN COUNTY JAIL.

William K. Lee, a colored porter, who has been giving the police more or less trouble of late, and all because of his love for trouble, was arrested yesterday evening for creating a panic in the Red Light district. It seems that Lee started to run amuck with a dangerous looking knife, but was nabbed by an officer before he succeeded in cutting anybody.

Only recently Lee was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail for fighting in a downtown restaurant, during which fight he cut an artery in his antagonist's arm, which came near resulting fatally. At that time he was not severely dealt with, because of the fact that the assault was provoked.

When he appeared before Judge Crawford in police court this morning, his honor read the prisoner the riot act, after which he gave Lee fighting proclivities a decided setback, when he sentenced him to the county jail for a sixty days' sojourn.

Celebration in Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla., Aug. 5.—The fourth anniversary of the opening of the Kiowa, Caddo and Comanche counties, which falls tomorrow, was celebrated here today on an elaborate scale. Thousands of visitors from all parts of the three counties gathered and took part in an interesting program of speech-making, athletic contests and other outdoor festivities. The city was handsomely decorated in honor of the occasion.

A number of cases are attracting the attention of the medical world of Arizona, where the worm first made its appearance.

SKELETON OF LOST CHILD
IS FOUND BY PARENTSFor Twenty Days the Search Had Been Ineffectual
but Constantly Continued by Agonized
Father and Sympathizing Friends.

Special to The Citizen.

Holbrook, Ariz., Aug. 5.—After a search extending over twenty days, and covering miles of territory, the searching party looking for the remains of little 7-year-old Maude Hatch, her parents long ago having given up hope of ever seeing her alive again, were at last rewarded by finding the skeleton of what had once been Maude Hatch in life, bleaching under the pitiless rays of an Arizona sun.

The remains were discovered about 12:30 yesterday afternoon by her father and other members of a large searching party.

The story of the disappearance of the child is unusually pathetic. On the morning of July 15 she wandered away from the camp where her parents were spending their vacation, several miles from Holbrook. She was not missed for some time, her parents thinking she was playing nearby. As the hours wore on, the parents became uneasy and her father started out to look for her. He searched until darkness came on, but could find no trace of her. He then called assistance of his neighbors, who readily responded, and quite a large searching party was formed.

The Indian scouts and Indian police from Fort Apache also joined the party.

Heavy rain set in the day after the child was lost and entirely obliterated her footsteps so that the scouts could not trace her. The mother, in the meantime, was almost frantic with apprehension. The father offered a large reward for the return of the child dead or alive.

A party headed by him had been searching every day since the child was lost, up and down the White river, but did not think the child could have crossed over the river, and on the advice of government scouts, the search was confined to this side of the river. Here, however, is where the fatal mistake was made.

It now transpires that the child had crossed the river, had taken her clothes off when she reached the opposite bank, to dry, and in some manner wandered away and left her clothes on the bank. The clothes of the child were found August 3, but no trace of the child was found then. The party continued to search and at 12:30 yesterday afternoon, found only the skeleton of the child on the prairie.

The little one must have suffered untold agony from hunger and thirst before she became delirious and finally died, alone, on the great Arizona desert.

The remains were found seven miles from the camp from which she wandered. They are being taken home to Taylor, Ariz., for burial. The parents, although half crazed, are thankful to recover even the ghastly remains of their child.

DIAMOND RINGS VALUED
AT $1,000 STOLEN

Mrs. Rita L. Mensch, residing at the residence of J. G. Walker, 1220 West Railroad avenue, reported to the police department at 11 o'clock last night that she had been robbed of three diamond rings, valued at $1,000. According to Mrs. Mensch's story, she had been to the bath room to wash her hands and had taken off her rings and laid them on the wash stand. When she left the bath room she forgot the rings and did not miss them until she returned. Upon going back to the bath room to get the rings, Mrs. Mensch found them missing.

Suspicion at once fell upon two little Mexican girls employed in the Walker home. Search was made for the girls by the police last night, but as they had left the Walker home immediately after their day's work was over in the evening and had failed to show up at their home in Old Albuquerque, they were not located until this morning.

Early this morning one of the Baca girls showed up at the Walker home as usual to enter upon her day's work. The little girl was closely questioned and finally broke down and confessed that her sister, Rosa Baca, had taken the rings. When asked where her sister Rosa was, the told the officer that she was at the home of her aunt on West Copper avenue. The girl accompanied Officer Knapp to her aunt's home, where Rosa was found.

When searched by the officer, the three rings were found strung on a string, which the girl had tied around her neck and which hung under her clothes. When asked why she had stolen the rings, the girl said that she did not steal them but simply took them to keep.

After the rings were recovered and returned to Mrs. Mensch, she stated that she would not prosecute the thief because the girls were quite young and this was probably their first offense.

The rings that were stolen were very valuable consisting of one large cluster ring with seven diamonds; one cluster ring set with a sapphire surrounded by diamonds, and one ring with an emerald setting with three diamonds on each side.

Duke of Argyll's Birthday.

London, Aug. 5.—In view of the youthful appearance and active life of the Duke of Argyll, husband of Princess Louise of Wales, it is difficult for even his intimate acquaintances to realize that he has reached his sixtieth year. Such is the case, however, his grace having been born at Stafford House, on August 6, 1845, and will consequently celebrate his sixtieth birthday tomorrow.

The Duke of Argyll is keeper of the great seal of Scotland and hereditary master of the royal household in the northern kingdom, and is also chief of the clan Campbell. Since the death of his father four years ago, the duke has not occupied the ancestral castle at Inveraray, but spends his time mostly at Windsor castle, of which he has been governor and constable since 1892, and at his London residence, Kensington Palace.

Photographers to Meet.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5.—For the first time in a decade and a half the Photographers' Association of America is to hold its annual convention in Boston this year. Mechanics' building has been engaged for next week, and the meetings will be of unusual interest to the photographers for the reason that they will mark the association's quarter-centennial.

One of the interesting features of the convention will be the big exhibition of the work of the photographers and the display made by manufacturers and dealers in photographic material. Advice received by the local committee in charge of arrangements indicate an unusually large attendance of prominent photographers from almost every section of the United States and Canada.

RAILWAYS DERIDE THE STRIKE

Manila, Aug. 5.—Manila's welcome to Secretary Taft and party exceeded all similar demonstrations in the past, either by American or Spanish officials.

Governor General Wright's address of welcome at the government house expressed the feelings of both Americans and natives at the return of their former governor general, and the arrival of Miss Alice Roosevelt.

Secretary Taft moved with emotion, while replying for himself and party, almost broke down. The scene was impressive.

Saturday afternoon was devoted by the party to sight seeing. Tomorrow will be devoted to rest, and on Monday there will be a grand popular welcome, including a parade.

THIEVES ESCAPE, BUT BYSTANDERS ARE SHOT.

New York, Aug. 5.—Two policemen last night sent a fusillade of shots at two robbers who had stolen goods valued at $2,500 from a baggage car standing in the yards at West Sixth street. The thieves escaped in a buggy with their booty, but three innocent persons were seriously wounded by stray bullets.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS SAY
STRIKE IS INSIGNIFICANT.

New York, Aug. 5.—At the offices of the Northern Pacific railway company in this city, advice from the general passenger agent at St. Paul were received today, which stated that passenger trains were being practically operated on time and that no effect of the strike was felt. Good service is assured over the entire line.

TWO BOYS ENGAGE IN BURLARIZING HOUSE

New York, Aug. 5.—Two boys in knickerbockers aged 13 and 15 years, attempted yesterday to loot a house in West Eighth-fourth street. They forced an entrance, but were seen by passer-by who informed the police. The boys were arrested as they were leaving the house with loot valued at $1,000. When their parents were summoned they were astounded at their sons' exploits. Both families are comfortably well off.

Fitzgerald to Meet O'Keefe.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 5.—Jack O'Keefe of Chicago and Willie Fitzgerald, the Brooklyn lightweight, are slated for a fight here tonight before a local athletic organization. The articles call for a fifteen-round go at 135 pounds. As the two are regarded as evenly matched a lively and interesting bout is expected to be the outcome of their meeting.

NEW YORK REALTY IS

New York, Aug. 5.—John T. Cowan, of Dallas, Texas, has arrived in New York for the purpose of putting into motion the claim made some time ago by several heirs of the late Andrew Hartfield for a parcel of valuable real estate. It is declared by these heirs that Hartfield owned a tract of Louisiana, Mo., Aug. 5.—This morning while the Chicago & Alton special train was crossing the Mississippi river bridge, Marion Warner, of Secor, Ill., a passenger on the train, was shot and instantly killed by an unknown man. Warner was asleep when the man woke him up and asked him if he had a gun. On receiving a negative reply, the man shot Warner through the temple.

Afterwards he emptied his revolver in the car, slightly wounding one woman in the arm.

A boiler-maker from Jacksonville went after the man and knocked him senseless with his fist. The man was very drunk and refused to tell his name when turned over to the authorities.

SCREW WORM APPEARS AT SAN MARCIAL

He who stays awake at night and sleeps while the sun is up must lie down with the dread that he will be attacked by the dreaded blow fly, and consequently become the victim of the frequently fatal screw worm.

Dr. E. A. Bessette, of San Marcial, who is on his way to Chicago, and is spending the day in the city, reports two cases which have come under his eye within the past two weeks. From the nose of Leandro Arzuly, of Paraje, Dr. Bessette extracted 140 worms of great size. From the nose of Pasqual Silva, a shop man at San Marcial, the doctor took a large number of worms, but not as large as those from the other patient.

These worms vary in size from the smallest of beans to almost half an inch in length. They are white, with black and brown heads.

Although they are dreadful to anticipate and are sometimes fatal when they become deeply rooted, the germ may easily be eradicated if given early and skilful attention.

Dr. Bessette, in talking of the worm this morning, said that the fly carried the germ from an animal, and that it had been traced in almost every case to where the victim had been sleeping in the open air in the daytime. While the victim is asleep the fly deposits the eggs in the nose. The worms, if not disturbed, will increase with great rapidity, eating away the tissues of the nose, throat and head, and finally resulting in a most terrible death.

A case which has been allowed to reach its worst stage, is now attracting the attention of local physicians at Istea, where an old Indian is at the point of death as the result of a screw worm, which have eaten a great hole in his head at the back of the nostrils. The seriousness of this case is the result of negligence or ignorance, on the part of the old Indian.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR PEACE
CONFERENCE COMPLETEDOyster Bay Awakes From Sleep of Years, and Puts on Holiday Attire For Arrival of Peace Envoys.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 5.—In anticipation of the arrival of the peace envoys, Oyster Bay assumed early today an activity that has not been apparent since the naval display off this harbor two years ago.

Hardly had daylight appeared, when teams with parties were observed coming in from the surrounding towns and the yachtsmen along the shores boarded their boats early today and began preparations for taking out friends or parties.

A heavy mist hung over the bay, but this disappeared under the bright sun, and the harbor was soon filled with yachts and pleasure craft of all descriptions.

On shore, every available point of vantage was occupied early, and as noon approached hundreds of persons were on watch for the vessels bearing the peace envoys.

BOTH SETS OF ENVOYS
LEAVE NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Aug. 5.—Baron Kamimura and Minister Takahira, the two Japanese peace envoys, together with their suites, embarked for Oyster Bay early today for the official presentation to President Roosevelt and their introduction by him to Secretary Witte and Baron Rosen, Russian peace envoys. Envoys Witte and Rosen proceeded to Oyster Bay on the United States cruiser Chattanooga, while the peace envoys went on the United States cruiser Tacoma.

ALL ABOUT THE MEET AT PORTSMOUTH MONDAY.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 5.—This sleepy old seaport town shows signs of unworldly animation in anticipation of the arrival of the Russian and Japanese peace envoys and the opening of their conference next Monday. Hotels and boarding houses are filling with visitors, some of them attracted by mere idle curiosity, but the majority consisting of journalists and photographers, whose official duties bring them hither. These latter are keenly desirous of learning what, if any news of the conference proceedings will be furnished them during the progress of the negotiations.

There has been talk that the strictest secrecy would be maintained, but in this matter, as in all that concerns the convenience of the commission, they will be asked to decide for themselves how far to hold their conference from the public and what facilities shall be given to the newspaper men to get the news of the daily sessions. Among the newspaper men already on the field are representatives not only of the press associations and leading newspapers of the United States and Canada, but representatives also of many of the leading journals of European countries and of Japan.

The people of Portsmouth and the adjacent villages of Kittery, Me., where the navy yard is, and New Castle, N. H., near which the plenipotentiaries will have quarters at the hotel Wentworth, are on edge in anticipation of the arrival of the commission. Plans for their reception are practically complete.

The program provides that the plenipotentiaries shall land at the navy yard upon their arrival Monday morning on the Mayflower and Dolphin, and go immediately to the office of Rear Admiral Mead, commandant of the yard, officially to pay their respects. The arrival of the two commissions will be marked by the firing of an ambassador's salute for each party. The marine guard will render the prescribed salutes, and will escort the party from the navy yard through the town of Portsmouth to their quarters at the Wentworth, a distance of about five miles. As the navy yard is on the Maine side of the Piscataqua river, the Governor of New Hampshire will probably receive the plenipotentiaries in Portsmouth, and formally welcome them to the state. He will at the same time extend to them an invitation to be the guests of the state on a trip across the New Hampshire mountains to the conclusion of the negotiations.

The sessions of the conference will be held in the navy general store, a building of brick and steel construction, which has just been completed. The whole building, which has never been occupied, will be at the disposal of the plenipotentiaries. Every arrangement has been made for the comfort and convenience of the commissioners, their secretaries and suites. Plain, but rich furniture, including mahogany desks, chairs and settees, Persian rugs and other accessories, have been brought from Washington for the furnishing and decoration of the interior of the building. Rooms have been partitioned off for the private use of the commissioners and their secretaries. Telegraph and telephone instruments have been installed and accommodations will be furnished to the press in case such an arrangement meets with the views of the commissioners.

In the arrangements at the Wentworth, care has been taken that each party may have the privilege of absolute seclusion at all times. Although practically identical in furnishings and general desirability, the quarters for the Russian and Japanese envoys are in opposite wings of the hotel. Each suite has its private dining room and reception rooms, and each its private entrance.

The envoys will be taken to the navy yard when the weather is fair, in launches belonging to the navy. Automobiles and carriages will take them through Portsmouth when the weather is not propitious, or when they prefer this trip to the ride by water. It is not expected that the sessions will begin much before 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

These details, however, and the number of sessions each day, will, of course, be left entirely to the plenipotentiaries, the arrangements made by Assistant Secretary Pierce on behalf of the Washington government, being confined entirely to fitting up comfortable and suitable quarters, and providing adequate protection from intrusion and every possible facility for the personal comfort of the envoys.

PRESIDENT PRESENTS TOAST, WHICH IS SILENTLY DRUNK.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 5.—The representatives of Japan and Russia who have come to this country to enter into a conference looking to negotiation of a peace treaty, were formally introduced to each other today by President Roosevelt, on board the Mayflower. When both sets of envoys had been received and formally presented to each other, they were entertained with luncheon on the Mayflower. At the luncheon, the president proposed the following toast:

"Gentlemen: I propose a toast to which there will be no response, and to which I ask you to drink in silence, standing. I drink to the welfare and prosperity of sovereigns and people of two great nations whose representatives have met one another on this ship. It is my earnest hope and prayer, in interest of not only these two great powers, but of all mankind, that just and lasting peace may speedily be concluded between them."

PRESCOTT HERALD
SUSPENDS PUBLICATION

The Prescott, Ariz., Herald, one of the leading evening papers of that city, suspended publication with its issue of August 3. The management offered no explanation for the suspension of the paper, otherwise than that the proprietor had decided that it was to his interest to quit. The weekly Herald will be continued.

Reunion of Baer Family.
Reading, Pa., Aug. 5.—The sixth annual reunion of the Baer family was held today at Kutztown Park, and was largely attended. Addresses were delivered by Dr. S. A. Baer, of Harrisburg, and J. W. Mayne, of Allentown.
