MAUDE ADAMS HEADS THE LIST

New York, Oct. 23.—The week opens witnessing the strange spectacle of New York theatergoers turning their eyes to a distant city to note the reception that Maude Adams would receive on her reappearance as the first production in America of a play that has delighted London for a whole season and jammed night after night the theater in which it was played. That this was due to the unbounded popularity that the frail and winsome actress possesses with the American public and the desire of the latter to see her succeed in Barrie's latest play is unquestioned. Outside of the wonderful hit she made in Nostand's "L'Aiglon," her greatest hold upon the public favor has been gained in the winsome, playful characters created and brought out in Barrie's "The Little Minister" and "Quality Street." In Washington, Tuesday evening, Miss Adams presented a new character and scored a triumph that is only the forerunner of a splendid succession throughout the country. The play is the story of "Peter Pan, or the Boy Who Wouldn't Grow Up." To teach that it is something to have been a child, that there is not so much in being a grown up as we come to learn afterward, is the lesson of the play. It first, and above all things, is a play that beyond its entertaining qualities, is an appeal to the child heart to look back upon itself. Its idea is fantastic, and tells of Peter Pan (Maude Adams) the boy who wouldn't grow up, and who lived in the "Never-Never Land," with the other lost children. Through the window of his nursery he comes flying in pursuit of his shadow, and makes the acquaintance of some delightful "earth children." Whom he likes and finally teaches to fly with him to the "Never-Never Land," where they dwell in a land of fairy wonders. After a while, however, they long to return to their nursery and home. While being escorted on their journey they are captured by pirates led by Hook, the arch enemy of Peter's, and carried aboard the pirate sloop, Peter comes to the rescue and with his hand defeats the pirates. Then the children start for home and find the window just as they had left it when they flew away. Their parents are overjoyed and the children beg Peter to stay, but so strong is the old desire to never grow up and to always be a boy, that he goes back to his childhood in the top of the trees, where he is visited by his old friends once a year. This is briefly given the synopsis of a play so full of poetic imagination that in these times when children's heads are crammed with hard commonplace facts the revival of the fairies and elf comes in time to preserve the day dreams of pure, un sullied childhood.

Country Club Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Country Club will be held at the club house Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The meeting was set for a week ago last Saturday but no quorum was present at that time.

Civil Service Exams.
Nineteen applicants for employment in the civil service, are being written up in musical comedies and knockabout farces. In the combination of Sothorn and Julia Marlowe in Shakespearean productions, the high favor in which the Bard of Avon is held, is evidenced by the numbers that nightly crowd the Katerbocker in the "Taming of the Shrew." New Yorkers have had the opportunity, long awaited, for comparing Miss Marlowe with that great favorite, Ada Rehan, whose Katherine has been adjudged by every critic to be one of the incomparable performances of a Shakespearean heroine on the American stage. Since comparisons are odious, it is enough to say that Miss Marlowe has given us the most delightful shrew seen on the stage for some time. From a scenic standpoint the production is truly magnificent, the mountings complete, beautiful and accurate.

Mrs. Leslie Carter's hold on the public remains so strong that upon her revival of the characters made famous some seasons past, her greetings have been so tremendous as to inspire confidence in the belief that she will need no new plays to attract her audiences. Though her beautiful hair is of a bronze hue, she is a veritable gold mine to Mr. Belasco, to whom she owes her position today as Fanny Davenport's successor to the title of America's greatest actress.

After being closed for a week in preparation for the new production the Manhattan opened with the introduction of Mrs. Kalleh in "Monna Vanna." Her strong portrayal of the German princess is truly magnificent, and justifies the belief that she is bound to stand amongst the best actresses on the American stage. Her rise is truly marvelous. Brought up in Roumania, she came to this country ten years ago, and became the leading actress in an East Side Yiddish theater, and thrilled her audiences in roles that brought out her genius and led to her being called the "Duse of the Ghetto." It only remained for her to master the English language, and on her first appearance in an English speaking part, at the close of last season, received unflinching praise at the hands of every critic.

Among the new recruits to vaudeville are Joseph Hart and Carrie De Mar, who has been personified "Foxy Grandpa" of comic supplement fame for some seasons past, and who now appear at Proctor's in the roving sketch entitled "The Other Fellow."

Jimmy Powers, though long known for the pretty maidens in short skirts and scant attire, manages to be a very funny in "I'm Dreaming," at the Alhambra.

Divorce After 20 Years.
Suit for divorce was filed in the district court this morning by Julia A. German against Ralph German. The complaint alleges that the defendant willfully and without cause deserted her and has failed to support her since. Three children, result of the union, are living, and the custody of these is asked by the plaintiff. The couple were married in 1881 and lived together 20 years, when he left her at Del Rio, Texas, in 1901.

Mills-Irwin.
Charles E. Mills and Mrs. Mary E. Irwin were married last night at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Lapsley A. McAfee, at the home of the couple, 620 North Third street. The wedding was attended by relatives and the nearest friends of the contracting parties. The bride is a daughter of Supervisor T. N. Canton and is also the treasurer of the Mills-Clanton Co. Mr. Mills is a member of the firm also and the manager while the bride's father is the third member. Both young people have many friends in the city.

We Get Ours Again.
The El Paso fall team put the business on the Phoenix team for the second time, yesterday. The boys from Texas were ungenerously enough to run the number of their scores into double figures too, and in that way "show up" the locals. The final score was 15 to 7. However, it must not be imagined because of the one-sided score that the game was lacking in interest. The plays were numerous on both sides and because of the free hitting there was plenty of action from beginning to end. The same teams play again today.

Judge Burnett's Troubles.
Diego Abril was in Judge Burnett's court this morning for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $7. This was not the first time he had ever appeared in Judge Burnett's court by many scores of times but it was the first time he has ever given time to pay. It will be remembered that Pasqual Grijalde was up on a similar offense recently and was released on promise to pay. He was the chief contractor in the digging of a well. He has since paid his fine. Abril is the assistant superintendent in the contract for the same well and as it is

HOW IT STICKS.
Albuquerque Has Found It Hard to Shake Off.

Hard to bear, harder to get rid of, is any itching skin complaint, Eczema or itching piles. Doan's Ointment relieves and cures All itches of the skin. Albuquerque people endorse this statement:

A. M. Whitcomb, nurseryman, corner Eighth and Tjerner streets, says: "In my estimation there is no ointment for the purpose that can equal Doan's. There was one spot below my knee which annoyed me for ten years. Unlike eczema it did not spread out, but at times it itched so exasperatingly, particularly after I went to bed or sat by the stove, that I scratched it until it smarted before relief came. I tried every salve and ointment I came across; when one did not help I bought another and applied it. Reading about Doan's Ointment induced me to go to the Alvarado Pharmacy for a box. In a few days the itches ceased, and the life of the part affected was killed, for up to date, and it is now over six months since I stopped the use of the salve there has not been a symptom of its appearance."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 65 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backache, and frequent dizzy spells. The doctor prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bleed after sitting and frequently become nauseated. I had an abort discharge and pain down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, when other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or absorption of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.
