NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

Jews Have Raised Million.

New York, Dec. 9.—The unanimity with which the entire community has turned toward the Jews in this hour of their calamity, when they are sharing the sorrows of their brethren in Russia, has been most gratifying, as well as most remarkable. The outpouring of contributions has swelled the fund to a million of dollars, while on every hand Jews have been made to feel that they are closer to the hearts of Christians than they have ever been before.

Even Morgan Got Bit.

Much sympathy is expressed that our good friend, J. P. Morgan, has been done by that expert railroader, in his swift automobile, he could, with Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati, or an American, a mere pilot of a railroad man, who was able to buy at bargain counter rates, a duke for his daughter, might easily have been expected to have palmed off a railroad not worth as much as the bank-chaser paid for it, by a long shot, upon such a confiding man as the banker of Broad and Wall streets.

Remedies Carried to Extreme.

The agitation as to tuberculosis is taking such vigorous strides and the subject is brought before the public in some many ways and forms and so constantly, that it is not at all surprising that the city has appropriated $800,000 for immediate work upon a tuberculosis hospital. It will be erected upon Staten Island, and the total cost will be fully $2,000,000. It would seem that the ravages of consumption would meet with a decided check soon with all these efforts in operation and this constant iteration and reiteration that is now being made.

Why the Tars Mourned.

Since the British fleet sailed, leaving some of its crew behind, but not so many as was reported at first, stories of the sadness that overcame the Jackies as they came to know New York, afforded superabundant opportunities for spending money for

HAILED AS THE PRETTIEST WOMAN IN ALL GEORGIA

Miss Adelaide Allen

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 8.—Because the president, while on his southern trip, said, "Wait a moment, I just must shake hands with the prettiest girl I have seen in Georgia," Miss Adelaide Allen, a pretty 19-year-old Atlanta girl, has sprung into fame as a beauty and is quite the social sensation of the moment.

"He didn't mean it—of course, he didn't mean it"—the girl had protested. She was standing in the midst of a dozen college boys at the time, and her "rah-rah" for Harvard in a rich contralto voice had been clearly heard above the deeper din made by her companions.

The president thinks the world of his alma mater, and the enthusiasm of this strenuous little person, wearing a dainty costume, her radiant face lit with joy, and her ash blond hair, may have made an unusual impression.

Maybe he didn't mean it, but the college boys took it for granted that he did, and as their cheers rang out her reputation as a beauty was established.

Miss Allen is pretty. By right of heritage she should be beautiful, for her mother, Mrs. Geo. P. Allen, of Atlanta, is very handsome, and her aunt, Mrs. Frank Siler, of North Carolina, is noted for her exquisite primrose face, but just now she is merely a pretty, jolly girl, who loves boys and base ball only second to foot ball. She has the spirit of the huntsman entrapped into woman's form, and submits to the entangling customs of society with a sort of rebellious wonder at the ways of Providence.

It is only her large dreamy gray eyes and long tapering fingers that denote the musician. And this is the talent that she will continue to cultivate. She is already master of the organ and piano and has, besides, a beautiful contralto voice.

Personally she is well fitted to become an interesting member of society, but her heart is not in pink teas nor euchre parties, and at present she is doing her utmost to escape the penalty of social duties resulting from the admiration expressed by the nation's chief executive.

COSTLY ADDITION TO THE SOUTHWESTERN BREWERY

Some extensive improvements are shortly to be made in the plant of the Southwestern Brewery and Ice company, at the corner of Fruit avenue and the Santa Fe tracks. Bids for the work were opened a few days ago, but has been postponed by Architect J. L. Ladriere until next Monday.

The buildings which will enlarge the plant will be one, two and three stories in height, respectively, and built of Santa Fe brick and cement and steel.

MAHARA'S MINSTRELS HERE SATURDAY, DECEMBER 16

The famous Mahara's Operatic Minstrels announced for Saturday, December 16, is a superb combination of all the best and most popular of opera, travesty, vaudeville music, snappy specialties, beautiful costumes, funny comedians, novel dances, special scenery, brilliant electrical effects, pretty girls, picturesque ensembles, bewildering drills, and all the latest show hits and many new and original stage novelties. The entire performance is presented by a metropolitan organization of the foremost colored singers, comedians and specialty artists of their race in America. More brightly, music, entertainingly, vaudeville numbers and hearty laughing are crowded into two and one-half hours of Mahara's minstrel show than would supply half a dozen of the average musical farce comedies.
