

PITTSBURG MILLIONAIRES, MONEY MAD, STARTLE COUNTRY BY THEIR INDULGENCIES

GIBSON D. PACKER.

Gibson D. Packer is the black sheep among the aggregation of Carnegie young millionaires. He made less than the others, and he is known as one of the most miserly men in Pittsburgh. Only the love of a woman, it is said, was sufficient to cause him to spend money unnecessarily. He fitted up a palatial home in the east end for Mrs. Mary I. Vetter, a handsome widow. She lived there for six years, and when Packer's money stopped she sued him for breach of promise to marry, asking $100,000 damages.

HON. WILLIAM FLINN.

William Flinn was a poor contractor, not a friend of Carnegie's. Knowing what was coming, he built a plant at Sharon, Pa., and started the manufacture of steel. He sold to the trust and cleaned up something over $2,000,000. Being middle aged and greatly attached to his family, he cared nothing for the frivolities of the younger men who made their wealth in steel. For six years he has been the republican leader in the city. In three elections he has been whipped, and he admits that each fight has cost him over $100,000.

Afflicted With Rheumatism.

"I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Bayne, editor of the Herald, Addington, Indian Territory, "but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm am able once more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by all druggists.

PITTSBURG MILLIONAIRES IN THE SCHOOL OF SCANDAL

W. Ellis Corey, president U. S. Steel corporation, discarded his wife because she stood in the way of his "social advancement." Lawrence Phipps secured divorce from his wife after sensational proceedings that shocked entire country. Gibson D. Packer, former counsel for Carnegie Steel company, sued for $100,000 damages by Mrs. Mary I. Vetter for alleged breach of promise to marry. H. P. Bope figured in sensational case involving a separation from his wife and a reconciliation later. A. R. Peacock caused a mild social uprising by cursing the performers in a grand opera. Harry Thaw caused big family row by marrying Miss Evelyn Nesbit, an artist's model, against the wishes of his mother. Augustus Hartje, a paper manufacturer, sued by his wife for divorce on grounds of infidelity.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 14.—Since it has become known that a New York woman fleeced several million dollars from the late Henry W. Oliver, it is not surprising that the "quick rich" people of Pittsburgh got their money. They were nearly all friends of Andrew Carnegie and were let into the steel business just before he turned it into a trust. Then every man woke up to find himself a millionaire, and the majority hustled to find ways to spend the cash.

said a certain class of women watch the New York hotel registers every day in search of a name registered from Pittsburgh. Having found one, she seeks an acquaintance, taking it for granted that the Pittsburgher is "dead easy." For this reason a number of millionaires who do not belong to the "mushroom" class register from other cities when they visit Gotham.

There is nothing some of these millionaires want that they will not straightway get, if money can buy it—even other men's wives. And the wants, or rather the whims, of the coldish aristocracy are legion.

One millionaire's wine cellar costs him $50,000 each year. Another one spent $20,000 for a dinner and entertainment for half a dozen of his friends. Stock gambling is a favorite pastime, while betting on the races is carried on in one of the clubs just as in a professional pool room. It is not an uncommon thing for as much as $300,000 to change hands in a single day. In the same club there is a poker game run almost continually and the pile on the table seldom represents less than five figures.

The inclinations of W. Ellis Corey run in a channel with which the public was familiarized during the recent trouble with his wife. He is worth about $5,000,000 and gets a salary greater than the president of the United States, which it is said does not keep him in "spending money" for four months. He started life working for $15 a month on a coal tippie for his uncle. His sudden wealth has so changed him that his relatives have with it. In the wall paper and furnishings in his palatial home there are figures of peacock feathers. He spent a fortune in providing the most elaborate stable owned by any Pittsburgher. Three years ago he stopped a grand opera performance by breaking out with a tirade of curses at the performers. He loves to see his charitable deeds paraded in the newspapers.

practically disowned him. He loves show and many stories are told of his spending immense sums for private dinners.

LAWRENCE PHIPPS.

Lawrence Phipps made the money out of steel that should have been made by Patrick Dillon, one of Carnegie's superintendents. Phipps got a tip and bought Dillon's stock just in time to be in on the merger. He cleared $3,999,999, and Dillon today is working at an $80-a-month job. Phipps has found Pittsburgh too small for him and makes his home in New York or Denver. He is a devotee of horses and automobiles. His friends say that he considers that his divorce from his wife has greatly humiliated him and that this is one of the reasons that he no longer resides here.

How to Fool a Lazy Liver with Artificial Exercise

EVERY serious Sickness has a small beginning. And, in nine cases out of ten that small beginning is made in the Bowels.

Indigestion is the beginning of most diseases. It paves the way for all others. Lack of exercise, hasty eating, improper food, are its first causes.

Laziness, and postponement, permits it to grow into Chronic Constipation, which means life-long Discomfort.

It isn't necessary to be sick-a-bed, you know, in order to be mighty uncomfortable.

Even slight indigestion affects the nerves, dulls the mind, and obscures the merry sunshines of Life.

And, indigestion once started, grows fast, corrodes temperament, and discounts happiness, good cheer, capacity.

It does that long before it puts you on the Sick list.

Every thinking Doctor knows why.

Professor Rand knew it. That's why he framed up for students his famous formula for Happiness, viz.: "Trust in God, and keep your Bowels open."

The Bowels need adjustment from time to time, just like a clock, or a watch.

No "Good time" is humanly possible without this.

And, the time to adjust the watch is not when it has run down, nor when the main spring is broken, but at the very minute adjustment is discovered necessary.

The time to adjust the Bowels is not merely when your Head Aches, when your Liver is Sick, your Stomach in Revolt, and Nature's Food Process retarded for 24 hours or longer.

The proper time to adjust them is the very minute you suspect they need adjustment.

body. Several years ago he became involved in some trouble with a young woman, which led to his wife's leaving him for a time. This affair, it is said, cost him nearly a quarter of a million. Since then he has turned his attention to the boys' brigade, of which he is commander. Each year he takes the entire organization to Canada for an encampment, he paying all the bills.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IN CLARK'S CASE

A hearing was had yesterday before Referee Harry S. Clancy, especially appointed by Judge Edward A. Mann, of the Sixth Judicial district court, for that purpose on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Jap Clark, confined in the penitentiary for safe keeping from Torrance county on the charge of the murder of James Chase last year. George Spence of the firm of Spence & Hoac, of Estancia, and Renshaw and Thompson of Santa Fe, appeared for Clark, while District Attorney E. C. Abbott represented the territory. The following witnesses were examined at the hearing: F. C. Reynolds, W. C. McKean, L. A. Dry of Corona and Deputy Sheriff Sam Phillips of Estancia.

—If your tongue is slightly coated,
—If your breath is under suspicion,
—If your Head feels a trifle heavy or dull,
—If digestion seems even a little slow,
—If Heartburn, Belching, Colic or Restlessness begin to show themselves,
—That's the time to eat a Cascaret.

Don't imagine the Cascaret is ineffective because it is pleasant to eat as Candy. It acts as pleasantly as it tastes. It is as congenial to your Bowels as it is to your Palate.

It is not a "Bile-driver" which floods out your stomach today with fluid juices needed for tomorrow.

But, it acts like Exercise, instead. It stimulates the muscular lining of the Bowels and Intestines, so that they mechanically digest, food and drive out the waste.

The time to use a Cascaret is when you first suspect you need one.

The only way to have them ready to use precisely when you need them is to carry them constantly in your pocket, as you do a Watch or a Lead pencil.

The ten cent box of Cascarets is made thin, flat, round-edged, and small, for this precise purpose.
