Dr. and Mrs. W. W. McCormick, of San Francisco, are in the city, and the doctor will locate here for the special practice of the mind and nervous system. The doctor was a victim of the San Francisco fire and earthquake. They came here from New York.

Conductor and Mrs. George H. Frost will leave in a few days for Danville, Ill., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. John Muir. They will be absent several weeks. Conductor Frost is entitled to a vacation, the forthcoming lay-off being the first in seven years.

George L. Brooks, president of the Commercial club, has said that he will call a special meeting of that body, next week, to take up the question of freight discrimination against Albuquerque in favor of El Paso and Colorado points. Not only Albuquerque, but the whole of New Mexico is alive on this issue.

A topic of peculiar interest to every one will be presented at the Congregational church tomorrow morning by the pastor. It is the last address of a series of lectures given during the past few weeks on social and other timely topics—"The Rich Man and the Poor Man in this World and the Next." Special music will be rendered.

Undertaker Borders has received a letter from J. C. Glaze, of Azusa, Cal., to the effect that he knows nothing of the antecedents or relatives of C. A. Caldwell, recently found dead at Algodones. Mr. Borders still hopes for some clue and will persevere in his investigations, probably with the aid of the Santa Fe officials.

Some person, who has no regard for other people's property, threw a rock through the plate glass window of Otto Dieckmann's office on West Gold avenue sometime last night. When Mr. Dieckmann opened up his office this morning the rock was found on the floor on the inside, and the glass broken. It is a mean individual who would be guilty of such a trick.

Y. Andrews, the tailor who ran amuck yesterday afternoon at 209 South Second street, where he menaced A. J. Kluytberg with a pair of heavy scissors, was given ten days in which to consider the error of his ways by Judge Crawford this morning. A charge of being drunk and disturbing the peace was preferred against Andrews, whose name occurs before on the records of police court.

Gov. E. S. Stover, one of the elected delegates to the constitutional convention, is not strongly in favor of holding a convention either in December or January, as he thinks congress will pay no attention to statehood at the short session. He believes later in 1907 a constitutional convention should be held—not at the expense of the territorial government, or at the expense of the delegates, as was the case when a constitutional convention was held some years ago, and then go before congress with the proposed constitution, asking that statehood be granted New Mexico.

A rumor reached Albuquerque late yesterday afternoon that an Indian buck at the Santa Domingo Indian pueblo, insidiously jealous of his squaw, whom he caught in the society of another, killed her. The Indian school here had received news that there had been trouble at the Santa Domingo pueblo, but since there is no means of quick communication with Santa Domingo, the rumor is unconfirmed.

Mrs. Emma G. Miller and son, seven years old, arrived last night on the No. 5 passenger train from Chicago. Mrs. Miller is a trained nurse and a graduate of the Jewish hospital of Cincinnati, Ohio, with high honors. Therefore the lady comes to Albuquerque highly recommended. Mrs. Miller's husband died some time ago, and she now expects to make her permanent home in this city, stopping at 215 West Silver avenue. Automatic phone 506.

Hon. Elsworth Ingalls, who has friends all over the territory who desire to keep tab on his movements, will leave tonight on the limited for St. Louis on business and pleasure, and he expects to be absent ten days or two weeks. The judge carries with him several new southwestern jokes, very laughable, which he intends to spring on a few of his intimate friends back in St. Louis. He has also been requested by local friends to bring back with him some new jokes.

Expense vs. Income

One Way to Make Both Ends Meet

WE HAVE solved the problem of clothes buying for a great many; and have shown how a limited clothes allowance can be made to do wonders when spent sensibly. There are mighty few tailors who can equal the style or quality in our H. S. & M. suits and overcoats; and when you can get both at half what you pay a tailor, then you either save half, or get twice as much just as you may decide. Quality is a big thing; and in H. S. & M. clothes you get garments that hold their style without frequent pressing.

We will show you the way to make that income stretch out, and do better service.

Suits $10 to $30—Overcoats $12 to $28
