

NEW MEXICO'S MILITARY SCHOOL

Distinctive Features of One of Greatest Institutes in Country.

The territory's military school, which is located in Roswell, the capital city of the great Pecos valley, has now been fully recognized by the United States war department as one of the leading military educational institutions outside of West Point. Within the past eighteen months the institute has been three times inspected by army officers sent to Roswell for that purpose, all of whom made complimentary reports regarding not only the perfect military feature of the school, but of its thorough academic work and comprehensive course of study as well.

One of the officers who visited the school last spring made a thorough investigation of the work in writing to the superintendent, expressed himself in part as follows: "Please permit me to say that your institution is one of the most prosperous, healthiest, well-kept looking military schools that I have ever seen outside of the national academy at West Point."

Such an institution certainly reflects credit on the territory and upon those individuals who have its management in charge.

"The nation needs lots of just such schools that send their graduates into civil and military life imbued with the high qualities of honor, and with plenty of grit to push any good or righteous undertaking to success."

Lieutenant-Colonel Barlow Military Instructor.

The military feature of the institute is under the instruction of lieutenant-colonel W. S. Barlow, who was detailed last year by the war department for that purpose. Col. Barlow was graduated from the national academy in the class of 1887. He served in Cuba through the Spanish-American war, and was soon afterwards promoted to the rank of captain. Although Colonel Barlow is still a young man, he has had much experience in both garrison and field duty, and he, together with the other officers at the institute, have brought the military standard to a high state of proficiency.

Although the military feature is, of necessity, most prominent in the school, it in no manner detracts from the academic work, but, to the contrary, assists that department in securing a greater amount of class work than would otherwise be the case. The military department insures prompt and regular attendance upon classes, perfect discipline, and above all its gives a training to the body which would not be obtained by any other method. The physical condition of the cadets in the New Mexico military institute never failed to attract attention from all who had the opportunity to observe them. They are strong, healthy fellows, and on account of being out of doors to such a great extent, they have the appearance of seasoned soldiers ready for campaign work.

The New Mexico military institute is a high grade training school for young men, offering a thorough academic course of study together with perfect military training to the boys of the west, and it is being loyally supported by all who understand its methods. It has not only met with success in securing recognition by the national government, but it stands in high favor with the citizens of this territory. Every year the demand for admission becomes greater and greater until it is becoming a question of providing quarters and selecting the best material from among the numerous applicants.

Plans Drawn for New Buildings.

Although the institute has authorized bonds to the amount of almost $50,000, it has not been able as yet to dispose of the same. It will probably be another year before new buildings will be started. However, the regents are looking to the future, and will be preparing to erect one of the best plants in the country just as soon as money can be provided. Early last spring the board of regents had a consultation with Hays Brothers, architects, and employed them to make complete plans for grounds and buildings at the military institute. These plans are now in course of preparation, and great care will be taken in the location of all buildings, so that the school may have ample opportunity to grow and to provide larger accommodations whenever same may become necessary.

The next session opens September 24, and the report comes from Roswell that but very few vacant rooms are left. The authorities report that from the present prospects they believe it will be necessary to refuse something like sixty or seventy applicants on account of limited quarters. However, this affords an opportunity for selecting good material. It is hoped that the already high standard of the school will, in this manner, be raised.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Life Insurance. For twenty-five cents you can now insure yourself and family against any bad results from an attack of colic or diarrhoea during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that has never been known to fail. Buy it now, it may save life. For sale by all druggists.

MRS. MARY BAKER EDDY AND HER SIMPLE HOME LIFE

TWO PHOTOGRAPHIC VIEWS OF MRS. EDDY.

Mrs. Eddy taken while she stood on her balcony addressing a party of her followers. Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, from her most recent photograph.

An Intimate Sketch of Mrs. Eddy's Appearance and Home Life Today.

Concord, N. H., August 5.—A large, airy room, comfortably furnished. At one side a desk and close by a comfortable arm chair. Here Mrs. Eddy now spends most of her time each day.

The house is an ordinary frame building, attractive but not pretentious. A veranda extends across the front. About it lie well-kept grounds and at one side a small artificial lake.

In this house, in the parlor on the second floor, where Mrs. Eddy lives, the thoughts of the thousands she was won to her faith center.

Mrs. Eddy is 86 years old now. Her hair is white, and her form slender, almost fragile, as are her slim hands. Kindness and power. These qualities may be read in her eyes, which are blue, and in her face, which is high, full forehead surmounts.

Women who surround Mrs. Eddy in her home life are students of Christian Science who come to Concord to live with her for a month or several months at a time and to assist in the management of the household.

The life she lives is very quiet and very simple. Those about her say that she still spends a little time each day at work at her desk.

From this room the doors stand open to other rooms above stairs. All these are furnished as unpretentious as Mrs. Eddy's own apartments.

It is the same in the rooms downstairs. In one front room a large illuminated hymnal, presented to Mrs. Eddy by the earl of Dunmore, one of her followers, is the principal ornament. In another a marble bas-relief of Mrs. Eddy hangs on the wall under glass.

There is little else that has attracted the attention of the occasional visitors admitted to the house. The furniture is what might be found in any of the other homes in this quiet neighborhood.

Mrs. Eddy's own apartments open out only a balcony above the veranda. From this balcony she formerly addressed the throngs of Christian Scientists to whom this home was a sort of Mecca, to which, until a few years ago, they made summer pilgrimages.

From this balcony the view is of fields and groves and orchards across a wide valley. Beyond the line of hills on the other side and only a few miles away is the place where this leader of a religion was born.

FUGITIVE MUST FACE MURDER CHARGE

Victim of Assault Dies After Assailant Escapes From Jail.

Phoenix, Ariz., August 5.—Francisco Valenzuela died this morning at the county hospital of injuries inflicted by Jose Romero at Mesa last Friday.

The two men were quarreling, and Valenzuela, who was evidently about half drunk, began to strike at Romero with a club. Romero retaliated with a piece of iron, catching Valenzuela on the bridge of the nose and crushing in the skull.

Saturday night some one on the outside pried the lock off the door of the cell in which Romero was held pending the result of the injuries of Valenzuela. Romero has not since been seen.

Horses Missing.

Henry Davis of Mesa missed two horses Sunday morning after Romero took French leave of his south side friends and suspicion was at once directed against him, but there is no positive evidence that the fugitive took the animals. From the tracks that led away from the stable it appeared that the horses were merely following the team of some passerby. They had turned aside at several places to nibble weeds and roadside grass.

At noon today Under Sheriff Wood received a telephone message from the authorities at Mesa saying that a man had been arrested there who is supposed to be the man who broke the lock on Romero's cell door and allowed his escape. He will be brought to Phoenix this afternoon for safe keeping.

Three Charges.

Valenzuela was brought to the county hospital last night and died this morning without regaining consciousness.

Tomorrow morning the coroner's inquest will be held and a number of witnesses will be brought from Mesa to testify concerning the circumstances surrounding the affair.

There are three possible charges—murder, jail breaking and horse stealing—upon which the fugitive can be prosecuted.

MANDAMUS FOR FLAGSTAFF COUNCIL

Aldermen Refuse to Attend Either Meetings or Business Affairs.

Flagstaff, Ariz., August 5.—Mandamus proceedings have been instituted in the district court in Flagstaff to compel the town council of that place to meet and fix the annual tax levy and perform other official duties which have been neglected during the past month on account of the absence of the mayor and three of the members, constituting a majority, from the regular meetings.

From the statements made here yesterday by a prominent citizen and taxpayer of Coconino county, it appears that a peculiar state of affairs has existed in the municipal affairs of Flagstaff for many months. The council, which consists of six members, is divided into a working majority, and a minority. Alderman George F. Manning, George Black, Sr., Ben Doney, Sr., with A. A. Fisher, who is ill in Douglas, and Mayor Leo F. Vercamp, who is indefinitely absent in the east, constitute what is known as the working majority, and Alderman J. O. Herrington and John Donahue, the working minority.

Minority Helpless.

The minority, while hopelessly outnumbered, has obstructed the tactics of the majority in many ways. It is alleged, and since the departure of Mayor Vercamp and Alderman Fisher from the city, both have failed to attend the council meetings which prevented the transaction of any business, as no quorum could be obtained.

At the regular July meeting the annual tax rate and levy is fixed, according to law, but as only a minority was present the meeting was called and adjourned, and mandamus proceedings were then instituted with a view of compelling the members to attend and take official action in the matter.

Summer Luncheons

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the ideal summer drink. It is cooling, satisfying and refreshing. It makes the enjoyment of the outdoor luncheon complete, for it is a food as well as a drink.

Pabst brews for food qualities as well as for purity and flavor. Pabst found the only way to get all of the food-values out of the barley-grain was to follow Nature in making the malt, by growing it slowly and scientifically, and he therefore perfected the Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process. Pabst Malt is richer in nutriment than other malts.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

The Beer of Quality

is a more healthful, wholesome food than other beers. The Pabst Perfect Brewing Process blends the rich food values of Pabst Eight-Day Malt with the tonic properties of the choicest hops under conditions that insure positive purity, while reducing the percentage of alcohol to the minimum—less than 3 1/2%.

Pabst Blue Ribbon is the ideal family beer, because of its food values, its purity and its remarkably small amount of alcohol, making it a truly temperance drink.

When ordering beer ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.
