ENGINEER ED. MANNING HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Hornytoid Division Loses Its Best Engine-Frog Caused Trouble.

Passenger engine No. 461, the best engine on the Hornytoid division, met with an accident at Rincon yesterday morning that will send it to the scrap pile.

No. 461 left Albuquerque Tuesday night pulling train No. 9, and arrived at Rincon on time. The passengers were given breakfast at Rincon and No. 461 was given water and coal. She was pulling out of the Rincon yards with plenty of steam and a clear right of way. It looked like the run to El Paso would be made on time. Then she jumped the track.

At the south end of the Rincon yards there is a frog, and this frog caused all the trouble. It had been croaking for some time at every passing of a train, but the yardmaster thought that it was safe and would last for a while. But it didn't. When 461 hit it, the frog gave way and No. 461 was thrown headlong into the ditch.

Fireman Hohenhaus saw her going over and jumped. Engineer Ed. Manning was on the wrong side to jump and stayed with his engine, climbing out of the wreckage after the engine had reached the bottom of the ditch, safe and sound.

The engine was badly wrecked. The wheels went into the dirt out of sight and the boiler is thought to have been crushed beyond repair. The cars, however, remained on the track. The train was going about five miles an hour when the accident occurred.

MRS. OLDHAM ASSAULTED BY UNKNOWN MAN

The Whiteside house, and the police have thus far been unable to learn of any who is suffering from a gun shot wound.

No Scandal in Case.

When seen this morning Mrs. Oldham said that she was at a loss what the man could have wanted, he was so badly shot. She thinks that he must have been drunk or else he had made a mistake in the house which he thought he was going to. She was very indignant at the story published in the morning paper insinuating that there was a scandal connected with the shooting. She came to New Mexico from Missouri last May, and was married to Mr. Oldham shortly after. She is scarcely on speaking terms with half a dozen men in Albuquerque. She and her husband have never quarreled. Mrs. Oldham says she will demand that the morning paper retract its statement of the shooting.

Police Making Investigation.

Lieutenant Kennedy, of the police department, who was upon the scene of the shooting ten minutes after it occurred, said this morning that when he was first informed of the shooting he was told that a man had been shot at 1101 South Second street and was lying dead in the yard in front of the house at that number. He made a hurried examination of the grounds and talked with Mr. Oldham. There was no man in the yard nor could he find any trace of any one having been shot there. There were footprints in the front yard but they were so numerous that it was hard to distinguish one from the other. There were no marks of blood.

Mr. Oldham seemed cool and not in the least excited at what had occurred, but Mrs. Oldham was on the point of hysterics, so badly was she frightened. She was unable to talk.

The lieutenant examined the gun used by Mr. Oldham and found it to be a .32 calibre, double action pistol, not particularly dangerous. A man might carry away one or more bullets from it for quite a distance should they lodge only in the flesh.

He examined the high board fence across the street, toward the east, which was in line with the shooting, but could find no bullet marks on it. Mr. Oldham told the officer that he fired directly in the man's face 3 or 4 times he thought he did.

The police are conducting a systematic investigation of the case today, and the identity of the mysterious man may yet be uncovered. Mrs. Oldham says that she believes that he was a native.

FIREBUGS START BLAZE AT TUCSON

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 5.—Firebugs that night broke into the Yellow Front store on Congress street and started a blaze which threatened it with destruction. Fortunately the work of the incendiaries was discovered before the fire had spread and it was quickly extinguished. The firebugs managed to escape before their work was discovered. The police are working on the case, but have scant clues.

It is in the form of an obelisk of white marble, 86 feet high, and is situated at the Niagara square intersection of Niagara and Court streets and Delaware avenue.

"YOU CAN'T ALWAYS TELL FROM LOOKS."

It was in a book store on Second street. Slowly a tall, intellectual appearing man entered the store and glanced about him.

"I want a—"

But the clerk thought he had read the man's mind.

"He's another of those book worms," the salesman said to himself as he started to lead the way to where many volumes were stored. But the older man would not be led. "I want a—"

"Nick Carter's 'Clever Crook,'" he blurted out as he reached for a brilliantly covered novel. "You never can tell," the clerk gasped as the man left.

IRRIGATION DAY AT 15TH NATIONAL CONGRESS

Program of Addresses Varied by Addition of Business at Convention.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 5.—Today was forestry, agriculture and irrigation day at the fifteenth annual irrigation congress, and the attendance even eclipsed that of yesterday. The principal address today was delivered by Willett M. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture.

Mr. Hays spoke on "Country Life Education for New Sections." His address was the opening number of the afternoon session, and it was greeted with much interest. An informal discussion followed.

Other Addresses Today.

Other addresses delivered today were as follows:

"Leasing the Public Grazing Lands," Merle D. Vincent, of Colorado, director American National Live Stock association.

"The Relation of Range Products to the Water Supply," A. F. Potter, chief inspector of grazing, United States forest service.

"The Practical Administration of the National Forests," Chas. H. Shinn, supervisor Sierra forest reserve of California.

"State Forestry and Forest Administration," F. Wm. Rame, forester of Massachusetts.

"Relation of Forestry and Irrigation," Francis C. Tuttle, of California, president tri-counties reforestation committee.

"The Bureau of Plant Industry," Albert F. Woods, assistant chief, bureau of plant industry, United States department of agriculture.

"Federal Aid and Control of Irrigation and Drainage," A. J. Gronna, member of congress, North Dakota.

"Irrigation and Sugar Beet Culture," Truman G. Palmer, secretary American Beet Sugar association.

"Irrigation and World Development," E. T. Allen, of Oregon.

Business Transacted.

At a meeting of the California delegation B. F. Lynde introduced a resolution which called for criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, owing to his stand on the matter of sulphur used in the drying of fruit.

It was the sense of the delegates, however, that it was not advisable for them to pass criticism, in view of the fact that California representatives at Washington had not taken any action.

A resolution adopted by the women delegates was read. It provided for the endorsement of the efforts being made to create forest reserves in the Appalachian and White mountains.

The statement of Clifford Pinchot, head of the government forest reserve, that the supply of lumber in the United States will be exhausted in twenty years precipitated a lively debate.

Judge G. E. Baker of California presented a resolution that it be the sense of the convention in order that lumber be repealed in order to protect the supply in this country.

John Fairweather of Fresno brought matters to an issue by asking Pinchot: "Are you in favor of admitting lumber free into this country?"

In reply Pinchot said: "You have smoked me out." He said he had declined to take a public stand on the question for the reason that "if the forest service had declared itself in favor of the admission of lumber free into the United States it would have secured the united opposition of the lumber interests instead of what has now, the united support of these interests, who own four-fifths of the forests of the country."

While Smith declared that the government officers are evidently afraid of the lumber interests. He criticized President Roosevelt severely for his action regarding the Crocus valley water project.

Election of Officers Saturday.

The selection of officers and the next place of meeting will take place at a session to be held Saturday morning, when reports of officers will be made and all business will be concluded, followed by adjournment of the congress.

High officials who have attended this congress are greatly pleased with the program and the excellence of all arrangements made by the people of Sacramento and vicinity. Most of the visitors now in the city will remain for the big exposition which opens Monday.

TICKETS HAVE BEEN SENT TO TRINIDAD TEAM

Some Good Sport in Store For Fans-Saturday Game Called at 4 O'clock.

A game of baseball at Traction park between Trinidad and Albuquerque can only be avoided now by the interference of the elements. Rain is all that can stop such a conflict. The rain yesterday did more good than harm. It was a hard rain while it lasted and beat the diamond down hard and smooth. Manager Matson today wired Trinidad railroad fare and Pullman tickets and they will arrive here on train No. 1 tomorrow evening. Twelve are coming, and, according to the swath they have been cutting in baseball circles in Colorado they are all good ones.

The Browns are practicing hard every afternoon and there is a marked improvement over the form displayed in the games with Clifton. Some real blooded sports have had the temerity, however, to want to bet that Trinidad will win both games, offering even money. Albuquerque sports will be chumps for not taking all that money they can get. It will be easy money. Albuquerque will win one game if not both. There are strong arguments in favor of the Browns. They have had their off days and it is time for some of the old side staff they delivered in the good old days. Albuquerque gave Trinidad a run for the money on the Trinidad grounds with the crowd and the umpire against them. They should win on the home grounds with a square deal, and the crowd behind them. Trinidad has been playing lucky ball, but it seems that their rabbit's foot has never followed them away from home.

The first game will start at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. This late hour is set so that many people of the city can finish their week's business so as to see the sport.

BROWNS TO PLAY DARK HORSE AT SOCORRO COUNTY FAIR

$500 For Amateur Base Ball. An Excursion From Albuquerque.

W. E. Martin, secretary of the Socorro county fair, which will take place at the Gen. City on the 23rd, and 24th of September, in order to make city making arrangements with Manager Matson of the Albuquerque Browns for a game to be played at Socorro the big day of the fair.

The Browns will go to Socorro for a stipulated amount of money and are to play a dark horse so to speak. This is a part of the agreement which Manager Matson has entered into with the Socorro county fair association. It was the intention of the fair association at first to give a purse of $600 to baseball, $300 to be divided between amateur teams and $300 to be given for a game between the Albuquerque Browns and El Paso or some other southern organization that would be a drawing card for the fair. No other team could be found that would go to Socorro and play the Browns without a guarantee, so this proposition had to be given up. The association's management then hit on the clever plan of getting the Browns to play for a stipulated amount against a team to be furnished by the association.

The Browns' management is game and has accepted the challenge, but what the association has up its sleeve is a mystery. It may be a lemon. Socorro has decided to send a base ball team to the Albuquerque tournament, so maybe the Gen. City sports are going to dig down in their pockets and raise the price of a first class base ball aggregation.

The game which the Browns will play will be pulled off on Sunday and an effort will be made to run an excursion from this city to the Socorro county fair on that day. It is only 75 miles from Albuquerque to Socorro and an excursion there with pleasant weather would make a great hit with Albuquerqueans. The distance is so short that the round trip could be made in a day with comfort.

Regarding the tournament of amateur teams, Secretary Martin said that fully half a dozen teams would take part. The Baretels and Gerontino teams of Albuquerque were expected and teams were expected from Deming, San Marcial, Carthage and Magdalena. Two prizes will be given for this tournament. The first money will be $300 and the second will be $200.

Other features of the fair will be trap shooting, horse racing, broncho busting, cook fighting, jubilee singers, balloon ascension, miners' drilling contest, Indian sports and exhibits and agricultural and mining exhibits.
