STUART WANTS TO SEE GRANT'S LETTER TO DAVIS

Illinois Veteran Does Not Believe That Union Commanders Ever Asked For Confederate Berths.

EDITOR SAYS THAT STATEMENT IS WRONG

He Said That Article Was Published With Misgiving and He Will Retract in Coming Issue—G. A. R. Men Wroth.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Jas. E. Stuart, past commander of the Illinois G. A. R., issued a challenge last night to the Louisiana Historical Association to produce letters alleged to be in its possession in which Gen. U. S. Grant, Gen. G. H. Thomas and Admiral Farragut at one time offered their services to Jefferson Davis in the Confederate army. The challenge followed the statement made in Baltimore, Md., Saturday by Capt. A. L. Derosssett, of Wilmington, N. C., who said that these three distinguished officers applied to Davis for commissions on January 15, 1861, according to the original copies of letters which are in the museum of the Louisiana Historical association.

Contents of Letters Unknown. New Orleans, La., Nov. 11.—In regard to the above dispatch, Col. J. A. Chalson, custodian of Memorial hall in this city, said:

"Mrs. Jefferson Davis consigned several packages of letters to the care of the hall and these are to be opened only when authority is given us to do so. This authority rests with her daughter, Mrs. Hayes, of Colorado Springs. I do not know the contents of these letters."

Thoughts Untrue. Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 11.—S. A. Cunningham, publisher of the Confederate Veteran of this city, the official organ of the United Confederacy, stated today in regard to the publication that Generals Grant and Thomas and Admiral Farragut applies to President Davis for commissions in the Confederate army, that the publication of Capt. Derosssett's communication in the Veteran, he had misgivings as to the correctness of the statement and an investigation convinced him that it was erroneous.

As a result of the December number of the Veteran will contain a correction.

Met Hayes Does Not Know. Colorado Springs, Nov. 11.—In an interview today Mrs. J. A. Hayes, daughter of President Davis of the Southern Confederacy, said: "I do not know anything about the contents of those letters, nor do I know whether Generals Grant and Thomas or Admiral Farragut ever applied to my father for commissions. I never heard my parents make any mention of their having done so."

She added that she was going to New Orleans in February and will take counsel with friends and relatives regarding opening the letters.

RUSSIA WILL HAVE THIRD PARLIAMENT.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Nov. 11.—It was announced today that the third Russia parliament will assemble on Nov. 14 at the Tauride palace.

"BLACK HUNDRED" WOULD KILL NEW YORK EDITOR

Sends Him a Letter Telling of His Approaching Sudden Demise.

New York, Nov. 11.—A death threat letter, said to have been written by Russian nationalists, has been received by Louis Miller, editor of the Jewish newspaper, "Warheit." The editor has been condemned to death by the foreign society, it is said, because of attacks upon the Russian government by his newspaper.

The letter, which was mailed at Geneva, Switzerland, warns Miller known as M. Bander, while a revolutionist, that he has been condemned to death by the "Black Hundred" for aiding the terrorists.

The letter received by the Jewish editor has been turned over to the postal authorities who will aid the local officials in finding and punishing the sender and in protecting the editor. Miller says he does not fear the black hundred which he declares is afraid of a cave man.

ENTOMBED BUT UNHURT MINER WAITS FOR DEATH

Blast Covers Him So Securely That He Cannot be Reached.

WILL REQUIRE A YEAR TO FIND HIS BODY

Mahoney City, Pa., Nov. 11.—Alive and unhurt but in darkness that will never be lifted, Michael McCabe, a miner, is awaiting certain death by starvation eight hundred feet beneath the surface in the Draper colliery near here.

While at work McCabe fired a blast that blew away one of the mine pillars. He fled in the wrong direction and got into a blind shaft. The mine officials say that it may be a year before it will be possible to reach the place where the man is shut up.

Seen by Companions. McCabe was noticed by other miners just before he fired the blast. He retired to a proper distance and stepped behind a projection in the wall. After the explosion he was seen to run away from the falling roof in a direction that took him past all means of egress and before he could return the only opening was filled so full of debris that work must cease before it can be drilled through.

Is Alive. That McCabe is alive is certain for his comrades have been able to communicate with him through cracks in the strata, which enables him, but he is so far removed from all openings in the shaft that no food can be sent down to him. It is believed that McCabe will commit suicide when hunger and thirst begin to affect him severely and he realizes that he cannot be reached in time to save his life. Rescue parties are now working and will continue the work until they reach the body though it may require a year.

HARRIMAN WILL AGAIN TAKE WITNESS STAND

New York, Nov. 11.—Efforts to compel E. H. Harriman to answer the questions propounded to him last spring by the Interstate Commerce commission concerning the Chicago and Alton railroad will be renewed next Wednesday.

C. A. Severance of counsel for the commission has arrived here. He will appear next week before Judge Hough in the United States circuit court, where he will argue in behalf of the petition which asks that the financier be compelled to answer the inquiries.

Mr. Harriman refused to answer when asked whether he owned any stock in the Alton stock sold to the Union Pacific on the ground that it was not within the province of the inquisitors.

EMPEROR ARRIVES IN ENGLAND DURING DENSE FOG

Party Was Delayed Several Hours Off Portsmouth by Bad Weather Conditions in the Bay.

FORMALLY GREETED BY PRINCE OF WALES

Sarcastic English Admiral Reprimanded by His Superior For Issuing Orders Alleged to Have Been Insulting to Kaiser.

Portsmouth, Eng., Nov. 11.—Owing to an impenetrable fog, the imperial yacht, having on board Emperor William, the empress and other members of the imperial party, who are to visit King Edward and Queen Alexandra, was unable to cross the harbor bar here on the early tide and did not reach the jetty until three hours after the appointed time this afternoon.

The Prince of Wales, delegated by King Edward to welcome the German emperor and empress, accompanied by Field Marshal Roberts, boarded a torpedo boat, which went out in the darkness, and succeeded in getting on board the imperial yacht despite the lateness of the hour, to enable the Hohenzollern to proceed to Portsmouth.

Will Go to Palace. The party will proceed at once to Windsor and the king will formally greet his German relative here. The Prince of Wales and Field Marshal Roberts will act as escorts during the trip to the palace. The German party, despite the lateness of their arrival in this city, was met with a tremendous demonstration.

An extraordinary incident has come to light in connection with the visit of Emperor William. It is related that at the conclusion of recent maneuvers the channel fleet and the first cruiser squadron were ordered by the admiralty to repaint, etc. in honor of the imperial monarch. Upon receipt of this order Sir Percy Scott, commander of the cruiser squadron, sent the following signal to two of his vessels:

"Paint work appears to be more in demand than gunnery, so you had better come in in time to look pretty by the 8th inst."

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, in a general order to the fleet repeating the instructions to repaint, refers to the signal sent out by Sir Percy Scott as "contemptuous in tone and insubordinate in character," and orders Sir Percy to have it stricken from the signal log.

Sir Percy Scott and the members of his staff were summoned aboard Admiral Beresford's flagship last Friday and the admiral's reprimand was read to them. This affair has created consternation in the fleet and there is a probability that it will lead to the resignation of Sir Percy.

Rear Admiral Sir Percy Scott is probably the best versed officer on gunnery in the British navy, and is well known as the man who saved Ladysmith in 1899, because he devised a special carriage for the 6-inch and 4.7-inch guns from the cruiser Murchison whereby these pieces were carried by rail into Ladysmith just before its investment by the Boers.

NEW MEXICO PHYSICIAN WINS ST. LOUIS BRIDE

Went to Attend Sister's Wedding and Fell Victim to Cupid.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 11.—A St. Louis society girl has promised to become mistress of a New Mexican hacienda, and at a reception to be given this afternoon the engagement will be proclaimed by Miss Mabel Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sanders, of 4233 West Pine boulevard, to Dr. Percy J. Farmer of New Mexico. Two weeks ago Dr. Farmer came to St. Louis to attend the wedding of his sister, Miss Eva Marguerite Farmer, and Thos. Deadrick Chicago.

Something about the environment gave Dr. Farmer a dread of going back to his big estate and the man who owns alone. In St. Louis he had a beautiful former patient in Miss Sanders, and he exercised his professional prerogative of calling on the lady to assure himself that she had completely recovered from a "brain trouble" that had sent her to his care in New Mexico last spring. He found the lady dangerously well.

Since his sojourn in St. Louis he has renewed his suit, with more success, and the young lady has yielded to his efforts to take her back to the perpetual spring of the foot hills. The reception this afternoon, at which the announcement is to be made, is at the home of Miss Helen Dillon, daughter of Judge Daniel Dillon. Miss Dillon is an intimate friend of Miss Sanders, and has closely guarded the secret of the engagement during the very short time that it has existed.

RUMOR OF ANNA GOULD'S MARRIAGE WILL NOT DOWN

American Relatives Deny That Former Countess Has Wed a Prince.

HE HAS BEEN FREQUENT VISITOR AT HER HOME

New York, Nov. 11.—Members of the Gould family here deny that they know anything of the alleged marriage of Anna Gould Castellane, who secured a divorce from Count Boni Castellane a few weeks since, to Prince Helie de Sagan. They declare that such a marriage would not have taken place without their knowledge, though they admit that the prince and Mme. Gould are very good friends and that such a marriage might not be disliked by all her relatives, though they do not believe she would wed so soon after securing a separation from Castellane.

Mme. Gould is now at her country home, the Chateau de Marais, near St. Cheron, France, but she reports from there that she refuses to see interviewers and will not talk of the reported marriage.

She is entertaining a party of friends and at a recent hunt, Prince Sagan, who is a frequent visitor at her home, was an honored guest.

WILL TREAT NEW MEXICO LIKE OTHERS

Washington, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—In reply to a query by a Citizen correspondent as to whether the land cases now before the United States court in New Mexico are to be prosecuted, the assistant attorney general for the interior department, Mr. Woodruff, said today:

"Suits, both civil and criminal, which have been, or may be, instituted in the territory of New Mexico, are exactly in the same position as though they had been begun in any other state or territory. They will be conducted on the same principle. If there is any sufficient valid reason for dismissing a suit when once instituted, it will avail in New Mexico, if it would have been effective in Montana. On the contrary, if any suit should have been vigorously prosecuted in Montana under the same circumstances it will, as far as the department of the interior can bring it about, be vigorously prosecuted in New Mexico, in other words, I can say for the secretary of the interior, at least, that New Mexico is not considered in any different light than any other public land state or territory."

MYSTERIOUS POISON CAUSED BAKER'S DEATH

Autopsy on Remains of Rich Clubman Points to Little Known South American Drug.

A CHEMIST FINDS CURARE IN STOMACH

Would Ordinarily Have Resulted in Instant Dissolution but to a Man Accustomed to Drink Would Act Much More Slowly.

Boston, Nov. 11.—That Walter Farnsworth Baker, the rich clubman who died mysteriously at the home of Frank H. Hurd, at Bogota, N. J., two weeks ago, was killed by a subtle and little known poison, the detection of which puzzles the great chemist who is analyzing the contents of his stomach, it is believed by the attorneys and officers who are investigating the strange case.

From what has so far resulted from the chemical analysis that is being made by Dr. William F. Boos, the expert chemist of the Massachusetts general hospital, it is declared that this mysterious poison was curare, a drug about which next to nothing is known in this country, but which is familiar to South American Indians.

A fact which gives color to the suspicion that the deadly South American drug was used in the killing of Baker is that a man who is today under police investigation in this city has spent years of his life in South America and was well acquainted with the natives and many of their habits and customs.

Curare Very Deadly. "Curare is one of the deadliest poisons known, and from what I know of Walter Baker's death it is possible that this deadly drug might have been the cause," declared Dr. Francis A. Donoghue.

Curare, while it usually acts almost instantly, is so deadly that it would, when introduced into a stomach blunted and weakened by the prolonged use of alcohol, as was that of Baker, act more slowly, and it might not produce death until two hours after it was administered, declare chemists who know something about the insidious drug. Curare is a vegetable alkaloid, coming from a tree which grows in the same general family as that from which strychnine is obtained, but its action is opposite to that of strychnine. Strychnine is used as an antidote for it.

Ever since the investigation of the contents of Baker's stomach has pointed to the use of this insidious drug the detectives and police have been working on a clue that leads to a somewhat different direction, than that at first taken, and the surveillance of a certain person has been more strict than before.

About to Leave Hurd Home. "I have reason to know that Walter F. Baker was making preparations to leave the Hurd home forever," said a friend of Mrs. Charlotte Baker, mother of the dead man. "Walter loved his mother very much and her death came as a great shock to him. He always asked his brother, Edward F. Baker of this city, and he was usually governed by his advice."

"Not more than five weeks ago Walter paid his last visit to Boston, and to his relative here said, 'Ed, you may expect me back with you, I can no longer remain in a house where fighting is the chief pastime.'"

$15,000,000 WORTH OF COPPER BOUGHT IN LONDON

Pool of Largest Consumers of Europe Buys 50,000 Pounds of Metal.

New York, Nov. 11.—A pool in which the largest copper consumers of Europe are represented, says the Times today, was recently formed in London and purchased fifty thousand tons of copper at a price slightly above the market. The amount involved is approximately fifteen million dollars which is to be paid in London on delivery in November and December.

The deal was kept secret at the time it was made and no more stir in the market was noticed than a slightly increased price would ordinarily make. The pool is said to be worth hundreds of millions and will be in the market in the near future for an even larger amount than it first purchased.

It is believed that this enormous purchase of metal will stimulate other buyers and that the copper market will arise to its full strength in a few weeks.
