MOVEMENT OF GOLD FROM EUROPE CONTINUES

$56,000,000 In Coin Engaged to Date by Banks of This Country From London.

STOCK BROKERS ARE AGAIN BUSY

Orders For Solid Industrial Shares From All Sources--Chicago Financiers Pleased With Prospects For Prosperity.

New York, Nov. 12.—The movement of gold from the vaults of European banks to the United States, which has been in progress for several weeks, still continues. The total, which passed the fifty-five million mark yesterday, was increased today when the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago completed negotiations for the importation of a million dollars, bringing the total to date up to $56,000,000.

Brokers Very Busy. The brokerage houses, which make a specialty of dealing in small lots of standard industrial and railroad shares, continue to be swamped with work, and houses with foreign connections report a lull in buying orders from Europe that is unprecedented. Probably the most striking feature of the financial situation at present is the big scale on which this investment buying by persons of small means is going on.

Stock Market Easy. The stock markets of the country, which have showed strongly the effects of the panic, are easier and there is every reason to believe that they will regain their normal tone within a few days, though some highly "watered" stocks may be thrown clear of the market in the process of regeneration.

Money in Sight. The fact that millions of gold coin have already arrived from Europe and that millions more are coming has eased the situation wonderfully, and the horde of gold and silver money, which were drawn from the banks and trust companies during the runs, are being rapidly returned to circulation.

Chicago Has Gold. Chicago banks richer today by nearly $2,500,000 in gold, it is confidently predicted that the clearing of the money securely will not be prolonged beyond a few weeks.

While the banks continue to engage in the clearing of the clearing house is rushing the work of getting out cashiers' checks in small denominations, which will be used locally in lieu of currency.

There is a demand in Chicago and vicinity for small size cashier's checks, the demand coming from many sources. The checks are freely accepted and pass as money without comment throughout the vicinity. The fact, however, that currency is expected in large amounts within a few days is causing the bankers to restrict the numbers of these checks as much as possible.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 12.—With Dan Patch, the champion pacer of the world as the star attraction, and with a larger line of racing entries and more exhibits in all the departments than ever before, the territorial fair opened in this city yesterday. Phoenix is gay with banners and hunting and the streets are already thronged with visitors who came here two days in advance of the opening in order to get choice accommodations.

According to the announcement made by the fair committee, arrangements have been made for taking care of visitors and seeing that they get comfortable accommodations. Giant Steamship Lusitania Ready to Start For Europe For Great Sum of Gold

On Her Return from This Trip the Big Vessel May Carry $20,000,000.

LUSITANIA WILL BRING ANOTHER CARGO OF GOLD

Steamship Will Probably Carry $20,000,000 on Her Return to America.

LAST SHIPMENT HANDLED VERY EASILY

New York, Nov. 12.—The steamship Lusitania, queen of the seas, when she leaves for Europe this week, will start on a trip from which she will return probably carrying $20,000,000 in gold from London for Uncle Sam's bankers. While a portion of the gold bought abroad has been shipped already, the Lusitania having brought in $12,000,000, a few days ago and other ships over $3,000,000, there is still a vast quantity of gold which is to come to this country and such safe methods of conveyance as by the steamship which holds the world's record for size and speed, are most desirable. None of the gold is entrusted to the smaller ships.

Excited no Comment. The arrival of the Lusitania the other day caused much interest, but when the $12,000,000 in gold she carried was unloaded, no interest at all was excited.

The principal reason for this lack of enthusiasm at the arrival of the metal which meant the solution of the financial problem was the fact that only a half dozen people knew when the gold was unloaded. An ordinary gray driven by a secret service man dressed as a drayman, pulled up at the docks and the cases of gold were rolled out. Five or six other apparent laborers aided in handling the shipment, and when it was loaded then jumped into the wagon and rode to the subtreasury. They were all employees of the secret service, which, however, did not arise.

RICH RANCHER MAY BE HELD CAPTIVE BY THUGS

John Gunnison Mysteriously Missing From Farm Near Los Angeles--Probably Still Alive.

HOME SEARCHED BY THIEVES FOR CASH

He Was Known as "The Miser" and Was Supposed to Have Coin Hidden Beneath His House in Small Tunnel.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—Fearful that John Gunnison, a wealthy rancher living at Figueroa and Manchester streets, has been murdered or is held a captive while search is made for money which is thought to have been buried by the rancher, the police are making every effort to locate the man or his body. Yesterday afternoon four detectives were dispatched to the home of Gunnison, who had been missing since early on the morning of November 1.

Clues secured by detectives late yesterday afternoon show that persons have entered the home of the aged rancher and apparently have been searching for hoarded treasure. Close scrutiny shows that entrance was effected by a pass key through the front door, and every effort made to conceal the search which was made under the building.

Probably Held for Ransom. After questioning neighbors and acquaintances of the missing man, the police say Gunnison has either been spirited away and is held captive while a search is being made for his money, or that he has been murdered.

S. G. Wettern, a rancher who lives near the Gunnison place, is positive that the man last met with four years ago. Wettern yesterday afternoon gave the police information regarding the life of Gunnison, and it is admitted that several clues were secured from the missing man's neighbor.

"Gunnison," said Wettern yesterday, "has been a most peculiar character and what is locally known as 'the miser.' He owned a great number of fancy bred horses, and was considered in affluent circumstances."

Had Hidden Treasure. "Although I am not positive of it, I am morally sure that the man hid his money in secret recesses, and that even now he has a vast fortune hidden near his home. He was generally considered for a number of years—in fact for the past ten years—that the man has been hoarding his wealth in a secret tunnel leading from the floor in the kitchen to his home to the cellar in the place. "Last Saturday morning I noticed that Gunnison was missing and I made an investigation about the place. He had been generally expected to be gone from his home, and had made no arrangement for the care of his stock. "Someone After Treasure. "I did not think that anything was mysterious about the disappearance until Wednesday. Then I noticed that the blinds on the window had been pulled down. I searched around the house thoroughly, but was unable to find any trace of where Gunnison had been. Today the police claim that an attempt has been made to locate the buried money underneath the floor of the building. "I have known Gunnison for ten years and never before, during that time, had he been away from his home for more than two days. He never went to Los Angeles without asking me to keep a lookout for his stock and to watch his small house. "The fact that he was so careful to ask me to watch his shack led me to believe that he really did have a quantity of money buried. Gunnison was peculiar, mystifying in everything that he did, and was known in this section as one who hoarded his treasure and counted the money over in the sun half of the morning. Many times I have seen a dim light burning in his home, but I never really suspected that he was counting his money."

JOHN R. WALSH TRIAL BEGAN TODAY IN CHICAGO

Former Millionaire Promoter Will at Last Face Criminal Court Jury.

WAS INDICTED ON 160 SEPARATE COUNTS

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The trial of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, on a charge of misappropriating the funds of that institution, commenced today in the United States district court before Judge A. B. Anderson. The indictments under which the trial is being held contain 160 counts. The offense charged is punishable by a term of five to ten years in prison. It is generally believed that the trial will last at least one month. The chief issue is whether Walsh used the funds of the bank to aid his own enterprises. It is also charged that Walsh borrowed from his own bank more than the legal amount of 10 per cent of the capital stock, but the trial will not touch the latter question.

Walsh Nearly 35

Walsh has aged considerably since his arrest and he is hardly in a physical condition to stand the strain of a long trial. On several former occasions he has secured continuances for the reason that he was too ill to appear but this time Judge Anderson refused to longer permit the case to be delayed.

Walsh's attorneys declare that they are in a position to clearly prove his innocence of any criminal intent in connection with the bank deals. The prominence of the defendant, who was at one time one of the foremost promoters in the United States, is causing great interest in the trial.

FLOODS AND QUAKE ARE PREDICTED BY ITALIAN

Sunsports Cause Him to Announce Probable Convulsions of Nature.

HAS REPUTATION AS HIGH CLASS SCIENTIST

Rome, Italy, Nov. 12.—Signor Alfano, director of the Florence observatory station, announces that sun spots, which he calculates are twelve times the size of the earth and which will reach the solar meridian about the middle of November, are likely to lead to violent magnetic disturbances, resulting in storms, floods, most severe that he has ever noted. The warning attracts attention for the reason that former predictions by Alfano have been realized. Alfano is one of the leading scientists of Europe and his observations have been credited in that country for years. He predicted disturbances at several times when notable earthquakes and other such casualties occurred.

Will Be Violent

Signor Alfano says that the present period of eruptions, storms, floods and earthquakes will be the most severe that he has ever noted and will probably continue for some days until the spots disappear. Just what the spots portend he could not say further than that violent natural eruptions are certain.

$20,000 STOLEN FROM MINING COMPANY PAYMASTER

Money Mysteriously Missing From Buggy Seat in Which He Rode to the Camp.

AUTHORITIES UNABLE TO PLACE BLAME

Robbery Evidently Occurred Just Before Start For The Mine When Occupants Were Momentarily Out of Vehicle in Trinidad.

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 12.—Twenty thousand dollars, constituting the complete payroll of the American Smelting and Refining company of this county, was mysteriously stolen last night while the paymaster was driving from the city to the coal camp to pay off the miners.

According to Abraham Thompson, the paymaster, who was accompanied by Jim Williams, a guard, the money was in two canvas sacks under the seat of the buggy. They encountered no one en route to the camp, but when they reached Cokedale, the money was missing. The authorities are searching for the missing money and say that they do not suspect Thompson and Williams of complicity in its theft.

Both Are Prominent. Both Thompson and Williams have been residents of Trinidad for years, and the former has been a trusted employee of the smelting company for a long time. Their high standing in the city and vicinity practically assures them immunity, though they have offered to submit to arrest and examination and begged for surveillance of officers in order that they may be able to locate the money as soon as possible.

Numbers of Notes Known. The numbers of some of the bank notes which were in the sacks are known to the officials of the bank which issued the money, special care having been taken during this assignment owing to the currency stringency.

With the number of a few of the notes to which detectives may be able to locate the men who got the money. The route from the camp to this city has been gone over carefully and nothing has been found that would indicate that the buggy in which the paymaster and guard rode stopped or passed anyone, and it was an impossibility for the money to have slipped out unnoticed.

Robbed Before They Started. After securing the money and placing it in the sacks, the two men drove to their homes where they secured overcoats and immediately started for the coal camp. They do not recollect a moment at which both were out of the buggy at the same time, but admit that there may have been a minute or so when they secured their overcoats, and probably, according to local officials, that the robbers got the cash during that moment, having apparently shadowed the men until opportunity to commit the robbery offered.
