Chicago Lawyer Chosen for Responsible Position—Urges Provision for Care of Aged Preachers.

Denver, May 22.—"Get out in automobiles; in cars; on the curb-stones, anywhere; only be sure you win men to the church," was the advice given the general assembly of the Presbyterian church today by John H. Converse, of Philadelphia, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and the leading figure in the assembly.

"There was a time when we of the Presbyterian church considered it beneath our dignity to preach the gospel except from the most luxurious churches," continued Mr. Converse, "but that time has passed. It is now time to go to the sinner and not ask the sinner to come to you."

This doctrine Mr. Converse offered in connection with the presentation of the report of the committee on evangelistic work, of which he is the chairman.

ODD FELLOW BUILDING WILL BE HANDSOME STRUCTURE

Plans Are Nearing Completion and Contracts Will be Let in Near Future.

SUFFICIENT ROOM FOR ALL PURPOSES

The Building Will be One of the Most Prepossessing of the New Structures in This City.

The plans for the new Odd Fellows' building to be erected on South Second street are nearing completion in the office of the architect, E. B. Cristy. The plans give promise of one of the most beautiful and substantial public buildings of the city. The structure will be 100 feet in depth and will occupy a frontage on Second street of sixty-two feet.

The material to be used in construction will be pressed brick, and stone work of granite and concrete. The ornamentation of the front of the building will be carried out in the stone construction, and the forward portion of the roof will be finished in tile work. The main entrance will be a large double doorway in the center of the front wall, on each side of which the plate glass front of two handsome store-rooms will be constructed. It is the intention of the lodge members to rent these store-rooms for mercantile purposes.

Lodge rooms and equipment will occupy the entire second floor. Adjoining a reception hall at the head of the stairway, will be a spacious banquet hall with window facing on the street. A kitchen with complete equipment will be installed. Opposite will be a reading room, comfortably arranged, with a fire place occupying one end of the room.

In addition, a billiard room is to be provided. The lodge room proper will occupy a space forty by sixty feet, and will have splendid appointments. Committee rooms and compartments for the storage of properties will open from it.

The committee in charge is taking great interest in the development of the work and will place the contracts for construction as early as possible. They expect to have the building completed by October 1, and be prepared to royally entertain the members of the grand lodge which convenes here during the month.

The building committee consists of James M. Doolittle, chairman; Amor W. Douglas, Dr. C. A. Eller, James H. Collier, Dr. W. G. Hope, H. E. Rogers and N. E. Stevens. The building will occupy a space comprising a quarter of a block.

BUSSER CAN ALSO FURNISH WIVES

Superintendent of Santa Fe Reading Room Service Makes No Promises Though.

S. E. Busser, efficient and painstaking superintendent of Santa Fe Reading rooms, has branched out. Heretofore Mr. Busser has confined his labors to providing talent for certain employes of the Santa Fe, but in a circular announcing the coming of a ladies' quartet, he tells what he has accomplished along other lines, and incidentally pays a compliment to Santa Fe people. He says:

"I have been asked by officials of other roads in the east: 'Do you mean that you can send five ladies all alone over your system stopping at remote points to give concerts?' My answer was: 'Every Santa Fe employe is a gentleman and has good clothes and knows how to wear them when ladies are around, and they have a picnic when the concert singers come, and the desert seems a flower garden.' One young man wrote me: 'Say Mr. Busser, do you know I married the fiddler of that company and I am the happiest man on earth.' So that Mr. Harvey does not furnish all the lovely wives in the west. This isn't a bid for courtship and the ladies need not build altars, but it speaks volumes for the employes and the kind of people we send. This company will hold up the standard. Don't miss the Quivemas."
