SATURDAY, MAY 28.

Spain is objecting to everything this country does these days. It is, indeed, hard to suit Spain.

Cervera's fleet may have plenty of coal to burn. But why it should burn it in Santiago de Cuba harbor, that is another question.

Captain Clark, of the Oregon, is also a native of Vermont. It seems that the Green Mountain men make good sailors, as well as soldiers.

Spain's naval sinking fund is attaining very good proportions. By the time this cruel war is over, its navy will be either entirely sunk or captured.

John Wanamaker is of the opinion that a good Christian may be a politician, but if he is, he is also very likely to get licked by a politician, like Senator Quay.

The latest news from Admiral Cervera's fleet is that it was still safely anchored in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba and was not doing this country very much damage.

Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico, proposes to observe Memorial day and Dewey day during the coming week. Santa Fe is patriotic and quite often does the right thing at the right time.

The administration is getting around to it in good shape. An army of 50,000 troops is to be sent to the Philippine islands. This looks like business, if it is a decided stretch of the Monroe doctrine.

Applications for commissions are being received in very respectable numbers by Governor Otero. There never is much trouble about the enlisted men, but when it comes to naming officers, that's where the trouble and worry do begin.

Not much has been heard of lately from Captain General Blanco. He is evidently correcting his list of American seaports and cities taken and destroyed by the Spanish navy during the present war. But when you do hear from him again, look for a whopper.

The house of representatives has passed a bill providing for the election of United States senators by a direct election by the people in order to get better men into that body. What the United States senate thinks about the proposition has not yet been disclosed.

The Spanish government is still proclaiming that Admiral Sampson's fleet did no damage during the recent bombardment of the city of San Juan de Porto Rico. But it is not noted that the Spanish ministry is anxious for a return of the compliment.

The Nicaragua canal should be constructed and that by the United States of America; the completion of this canal would shorten the distance between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of this country by water 8,000 miles. The canal is necessary. It is needed in the business of this country. It should and will be constructed. This is mere manifest destiny.

Lieutenant Colonel James Allen, of the signal corps, who is stationed as press censor at Key West, was on duty in this city for several years during the latter 70s. He is remarkably well fitted for the delicate duty he has been assigned, being a man of great firmness of character, but also the possessor of a very even temperament. In addition to this he is one of the most accomplished and best posted officers of the army.

This journal makes no pretensions to being a great yellow fake paper and having a circulation of 100,000 or so, but when it comes to the political, business, stock, mining, social, official, military and other news of interest to the people of New Mexico and of everything happening in the territory, it cannot be beaten and is not beaten by any other paper in New Mexico. There is always room at the top, gentlemen.

The 1st regiment U. S. volunteer cavalry, containing five troops of New Mexico volunteers, left San Antonio this morning for Tampa, Fla. That means that the regiment will be one of the first landed in Cuba or Porto Rico as its commanding officer, Colonel Wood, has assurances from the War department that the regiment shall be one of the first for active service. The regiment will acquit itself nobly and gallantly. Hurrah for Uncle Sam. 'Rah for the stars and stripes. 'Rah for the 1st regiment U. S. volunteer cavalry.

Only a Suggestion.

WHITE OAKS NEWS

The Old Abe Mine Progressing Finely—Lincoln County Patriotism—A Magnificent Climate.

Personal Notes and Items.
Special Correspondence of the New Mexican.
White Oaks, N. M., May 24.—W. M. Lane's special passenger stages have been kept running almost daily, between White Oaks and San Antonio station, on the A., T. & S. F. R. R. for the past two weeks, mostly to accommodate people going and returning from Socorro where they are attending the United States District court. An unusually large number of Lincoln county people are interested in the present term of judicial functions.

Work on the Old Abe mine is still progressing finely, and the management is adding more men to their working force as the development goes on. The shaft has lately been sunk to the 900 foot level and they are now putting in a station at that depth preparatory to running out drift and continuing the sinking. Although but a comparatively short time since they reached their old body by way of the new shaft there is now over $100,000 worth of the precious metals in sight, and as it appears to be continuous so far as the development has extended, the owners have a right to feel somewhat elated at their future prospects; and they may, for here is a mine perfectly dry at a depth of nearly 1,000 feet and a continuous ore body which has kept a 20-stamp mill running steadily for months on development work alone, and has more than paid its running expenses while the work has been going on. Where is there a mine in this or any other country that can make a better showing?

A gentleman from Albuquerque and another from Roswell are making arrangements to bring their families to White Oaks for the heated summer months. A more delightful climatic condition could not be found than we have here during the summer and autumn months. We venture to predict that this region will be a great summer resort for tourists before many years.

The last of these fine apples grown on the Coe ranch were sold from Tallac's grocery store a few days ago, proving their superior keeping qualities which is another big score to their merit. No locality can excel this in producing fruit of a superior quality in every respect. Strawberries, cherries and other small fruits are also grown with equally good results. The present crop is fine and will soon be put on the market.

The Bonito folks are preparing to usher in the fishing season with a grand fish-fry the first week in June. A number of White Oaks people are invited to be present.

The Grand Army post is preparing to observe Memorial day appropriately. Rev. Lowther, pastor of the M. E. congregation, will deliver a memorial sermon on Sunday, May 29. Fifteen old soldiers are buried in White Oaks cemetery and no Memorial day passes with out seeing their graves adorned with wreaths, flags and bouquets of flowers.

Hon. W. C. McDonald has gone east on business for the Carrizosa Cattle company and his wife and little daughter are stopping with friends in White Oaks during his absence. The ranges in this county give fine promise of abundant returns for the season.

The numerous flags floating in the breeze and the display of decorations in national colors seen in White Oaks, denotes that patriotism is very much alive in this burgh. One of the most conspicuous flags has been that floating over our public school building. I say, as seen, because it to the breeze again have with its bonny fold and made it necessary to take it off duty for repairs. Three years ago the pupils of the public school raised a fund which purchased the flag and every day of school since, except during violent winds, the glorious emblem of our country has waved above them. This, however, has necessitated faithful devotion on the part of someone and it has been found in the person of the colored janitor. Every morning the flag was run up and every evening it was taken from its standard and furled by the loyal hands that would so promptly fling it to the breeze again upon the morrow. Such devoted care upon the part of the janitor was a wonder to many. When questioned regarding it he replied, "I helped fight to save that starry flag. It means very much to me." The teachers, Miss Austin and Miss Gilmore, at once bought material to mend the flag and with their own fair hands are restoring it to its former loyal-inspiring condition.

The rise in the price of paper used in newspaper offices, and which is attributed to the inability to obtain the necessary brimstone from Spain for its manufacture, gives rise to the query, why can not we furnish our own brimstone? There is an immense sulphur bed right here in the vicinity of White Oaks. This may cause one more to be added to the list of incalculable resources in this locality, and may lead to its development.

The White Oaks Dramatic club will give another performance next Friday evening, May 27. Mrs. Adair, of Denver, is painting some stage scenery for that special occasion.
A gentleman from Denver was here a short time ago looking over the field with a view to establishing a Republican newspaper in White Oaks. At present there is not a Republican paper published in Lincoln county, nor has there been for the past five years. But one attempt has ever been made in this line and that was in the fall of 1882. Jas. A. Tomlinson and Leo H. Rudisille started the Leader, with the latter as editor. Afterward Major Caffrey took charge and continued its publication until his death about five years ago, when the paper was gently laid away without hope of a future resurrection. Since that time the Republican party of Lincoln county has existed, and at times seemed to thrive without a single organ in its body politic. But one would naturally infer the party gets very lonesome under these anomalous conditions.
Although the Republicans can manage to get along without a paper the Democratic party is in sore need of such an organ. It needs its X-ray vision to show up its Democratic crookedness. * * * * *

EFFECT OF WAR ON MARKET

Uncle Sam's Custom Will Have the Effect of Advancing Prices—New Avenues of Trade Opened—Cattle and Sheep Are Good Property.

That the government is a good customer will soon be realized by stockmen throughout the country. A body of 100,000 men in the field will eat five times as much meat as the same number of men at home, for the soldier always has his appetite with him. The government is now spending $10,000,000 per day for meat in addition to its usual amount and this will be doubled within a month, or as soon as the second lot of volunteers are mustered in. Cuba is destitute of mutton and beef, and the island inhabitants, as well as the U. S. army, there will be supplied from this country. The Philippines will receive their supplies from the same source. Soon the prices of cattle and sheep will go kiting and the stockmen who are now complaining because they assumed obligations, expecting to meet them from the sale of their cattle, and ranchers who advanced money to cattle and sheep raisers anticipating quick payment, will receive the benefits of unexampled prosperity. Uncle Sam is a good customer, prompt and sure to pay, and the increased number of mouths which he has to feed will soon find customers he must provision, will make the butcher bills something tremendous this year. And the beneficial results will reach every sheep and cattle raiser in the Union.

Regardless of wool prices, sheep are good stock, and although sheep are now worth more than sheep and wool both were under free trade conditions, this is an excellent time to hold on to such stock, for the prices are certain to advance shortly.

Although there are no buyers at present in the market, and wool is considered dead property, eastern manufacturers assert that their supply will soon be exhausted, and that the home producer will then receive the benefit of a ready market at advanced prices.

As to cattle, there is a great shortage now. Canada and Mexico both show a shortage as well as does the United States. The ranches that import and to some extent this country now has a firmly established export trade, and no competition except from South American countries, which are competitive only when prices are high. Better financial conditions also have a salutary effect on stock values. Top prices will not be reached for the next year and possibly in two years.

Territorial Stock Notes.
The 1898 calf crop will be a big one. Flockmasters report a good wool clip. The cattle business is booming around Fort Sumner.

Wool shearing is about half completed in Eddy county.

Every man that can handle sheep shears is employed now.

Shuford & East received a large bunch of cattle at Clayton last week.

Mr. Grover, of Lake Valley, Sierra county, has 700 goats in one herd.

Louis V. Oleaso has 12,000 head of sheep on the range east of Raton.

Recent rains in several sections of the territory have made sheep men smile.

H. H. Ballard inspected cattle for the Hansford company at Roswell last week.

Charles Springer reports his Cimarron ranch in fine shape and cattle looking good.

The Penasco Cattle company received 17 cars of cattle at Eddy one day last week.

Don Luis Garcia, of Clayton, has gone out to his sheep ranch to look after the business.

James N. Upton delivered 400 head of cattle to Beeler & Jones at Deming last week.

Robert Hannigan has received 435 head of stock for his ranch 16 miles east of Deming.

The horses purchased by R. F. Barnett of the American Pastoral company have arrived at Roswell.

Sheep men are about through shearing and are getting ready to dip their flocks as a scab preventive.

Mr. Crum is driving 1,000 head of cattle from southern New Mexico to a range near Denver.

Mr. Green, of Cimarron, has sworn out warrants for the arrest of Chas. Jones, Asa Jones, Gabe Bailey and Wm. Burton for cattle stealing.
