Spain now wants to know what she went to war for. To turn over her colonial possessions to the United States, of course.

The next event, after tomorrow's election, to attract national attention will be Thanksgiving day. After the past year of prosperity New Mexico can enjoy that occasion to the fullest extent.

Our friends, the enemy, are great at promising everybody in the territory everything he wants before election. Great game, that, but it has been played too often and will not work this time.

The Republican platform of New Mexico is based upon integrity and patriotism and what is good for the territory, hence every good citizen should vote the Republican ticket tomorrow.

Ex-Senator David B. Hill is supporting the Tammany candidates in New York. But even the doughty ex-senator will not save the Tammany state ticket from defeat tomorrow, say those well informed on New York politics.

The voters of Santa Fe who desire good government, an economical administration of county affairs and the maintenance of the good name of the entire county, will vote the straight Republican ticket tomorrow.

President McKinley has left Washington to go to Canton to vote. He will vote the Republican ticket straight tomorrow. Here is a most excellent example for every citizen of Santa Fe county and of the territory of New Mexico to follow.

Lieutenant Hobson's work in raising the Maria Teresa has all been brought to naught by the elements, and the American navy will not possess a souvenir ship after all. However, the lieutenant need not be downhearted, the American people have not forgotten his brave act when he sank the Merrimac in the entrance to the harbor at Santiago.

The Democrats of New York profess to believe that their candidate for governor, Robert Van Wyck, will defeat Colonel Roosevelt tomorrow, but the enthusiasm of the people in general over the state for the ex-commander of the famous Rough Riders rather points in the other direction.

The Spanish members of the peace commission at Paris have proved themselves adepts in the art of procrastination. While combating all propositions made by the United States regarding the Philippine question, they have so managed that no occasion for breaking off negotiations has been given and much time has been gained, which has been of great benefit to the Madrid government in quelling internal dissensions. However, none of the other European powers will interfere in the matter and in the end a treaty of peace will be concluded along the lines of the demands made by this country.

The Verdict Awaited.

The campaign of 1898 has closed and tomorrow the voters of the territory will decide by their votes the development and prosperity of New Mexico for years to come.

The Republicans have gone before the voters on the issues of protection and prosperity to New Mexico and have urged the righteousness of their cause persistently and effectively, and it is almost assured that the result of the election will justify the amount of work done to reclaim the territory from the errors of Democracy and open up an era of investment in the mines, irrigation systems and lands of New Mexico unprecedented in the history of the development of the great southwest. It is the desire of the Republican party to secure statehood for New Mexico and all the many advantages resulting from that change, and with that end in view a hard fight has been made for the Republican candidates for delegate to congress and the legislature, for the reason they believe that with a delegate and a legislature in sympathy with the administration, statehood can be secured.

In county affairs the Republicans have named candidates for the offices who are representative, respected and respectable citizens, who will make good officials, and it is believed by those who have had an opportunity to keep in touch with the sentiments of the voters, that in a majority of the counties the Republican ticket will be elected.

Coming nearer home and touching upon the situation in Santa Fe county, the prospects for Republican success are exceedingly bright. The men whose names appear on the ticket are well and favorably known, their reputations as successful, careful business men are firmly established and that they will give the county a good administration is acknowledged by all. The condition of the county, after two years of Republican control, is better than for many years past. Peace and quiet have reigned and much progress in restoring public affairs to a sound basis has been made. With this record back of them, the Republicans are confident that the actions of the present officials will be endorsed by the voters tomorrow and that the entire Republican ticket will be elected.

In everything that has been done in the campaign by the Republicans the only object in view, the only motive, has been the upbuilding of the territory, the development of its almost boundless resources and the good of the people. Believing that only under the policy of protection can the people of the territory expect to prosper, a strong and concerted effort has been made to secure the election of as many Republican candidates as possible.

The Republicans have done their duty as they see it and now leave the result with the voters, confident that the verdict will be in favor of progress, protection, prosperity and good government.

The Mining Situation.

One of the most encouraging features of the past year in the advancement in growth and wealth of New Mexico is the increased output of ores from the mines in the territory, and a consequent development of mining properties.

Many of the mining districts of the territory are simply huge quarries of low grade ores, easily worked, the metals yield readily to the proper method of treatment, and the introduction of cyanide works into the camps has solved that question in a satisfactory and profitable manner, so far as the refractory ores are concerned, while the free milling ores, as has always been the case, need no special treatment. Thus the mining situation has assumed a very bright aspect and a wonderful impetus has been given the industry.

In the districts of Cochiti, Elizabethtown, south Santa Fe county, Water canon, Hillsboro, Cook's peak, Kelly, around Silver City, White Oaks, in Dona Ana county and other sections of the territory great activity has prevailed for the last nine months and the output has been, in many instances, more than trebled over that of last year. For the reason that much of the ore produced in New Mexico is sent to smelters and mills in the states for treatment, it is impossible to keep an accurate record of the value of the output, but the reports of tonnage coming from the various districts show that New Mexico is fast approaching the front among the gold, silver-lead and copper producing sections of the United States.

Another pleasing feature in the situation is that but a comparatively small portion of the mineral bearing parts of the territory has been exploited and there is room and opportunity for hundreds of miners in addition to those already at work and prospecting. While the increase in the activity in the mines the past year has been wonderful, the coming year will witness a still greater output from the mining districts, and New Mexico will not be long in becoming the greatest producer of mineral wealth in the United States. The climate, transportation and easy access to supplies are all in favor of the miner and the solving of the question of treatment has made the handling of low grade ores profitable. The mining situation is very encouraging and the near future will see the fondest hope of the prospectors who have held on to claims for years, against many discouragements, realized.

To the Voters of Santa Fe County.

Since January 1, 1897, the affairs of this county have been managed by Republican officials, and certainly there is no reasonable grounds for complaint over the manner in which the public business has been conducted.

Law and order have prevailed in all parts of the county. The political beliefs of all have been respected and personal liberties protected. There has been no persecution of any one because he was a Democrat or Republican, as was the case under a Democratic sheriff and a Democratic administration for many years here.

The finances of the county have been managed in a careful and honest manner. There have been no scandals connected with a single official having the handling of the public funds, and today the affairs of the county are in better shape than they have been for many years past.

The assessment and collection of taxes have been carried on in a just and equitable way. Values, and not favoritism, have guided the collector and assessor in the discharge of their duties, and the effect of that method of managing those offices is evident on all sides in the better payment of taxes and in paying the obligations of the county.

The laws governing the control of county affairs have been rigidly and impartially enforced; criminals have been justly dealt with, and the good name of the county has held first place in the actions of the present officials.

In fact, so changed has been every condition in the county for the better, under the Republican officials, that there is no comparison, except such as is made between night and day. The candidates on the Republican ticket, which will be voted tomorrow, are men who will continue in the footsteps of their predecessors. Under their management Santa Fe county will continue to improve in finances, in safety to life and property, and to advance in material wealth and prosperity.

Is there any valid reason for making a change, for voting for a Democratic candidate?

The people of this county will remember that under a Democratic county administration and a Democratic sheriff the county was misgoverned, the public funds were either squandered or stolen or given to favorites and hangers-on and law and order were simply names, whereas disorder, lawlessness and turbulence prevailed. If the voters of this county would continue a decent, law abiding, economical, honest and law enforcing county government, they will vote the Republican ticket tomorrow in its entirety. The situation is plain and well known to all who desire to know anything about it.

BOTANICAL EXPEDITION.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Patron of an Exploring Party to Porto Rico.

Under the auspices of the New York botanical garden directorate an expedition will shortly be dispatched to Porto Rico to study the flora of the newly acquired United States territory and to send back specimens of its plants, flowers and fruits. Dr. N. Z. Britton is the instigator of the movement, and Cornelius Vanderbilt has volunteered to bear the expense of the scientific investigation. The plan of the expedition is Dr. Britton's own. In his own words, "there is nothing too good for New York," and the specimens that will be obtained in Porto Rico will be of great value. There is very little known of the flora of the island, he says. There is hardly a specimen in any of the botanical museums of America and there are few, if any, in Europe. Believing that the work of filling this lack could not be begun too quickly, Dr. Britton wrote to Mr. Vanderbilt and received his favorable reply.

The details of the expedition are not yet fully arranged. A. A. Heller, an experienced collector and a man regarded as thoroughly capable of doing the work, will be engaged. Mr. Heller has recently returned from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, where he made a thorough study of the flora of two of them, and the botanical garden now has a set of the specimens he collected. Upon reaching the island pack mules will be obtained and means provided for taking the party and the collecting outfit into the interior. The outfit will consist largely of drying paper for the dry specimens, and formaline for those that are to be preserved in a natural state. Formaline is a satisfactory material for this purpose, as it can be taken dry and prepared as it is needed. Six months' work, Dr. Britton believes, will enable the party to do its task thoroughly. He expects possibly some things entirely new may be discovered.

IMPRESSIVE EVENT OF 1900.

Boston Artillery Company to Enter into the London Artillery Company.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston began its preparations the other evening for the visit of the Honorable Artillery Company of London to the United States in 1900. A committee of arrangements consisting of 80 members was chosen, with Sidney M. Hedges as chairman. The committee includes the present commander of the company, J. P. Payson Bradley; Colonel Henry A. Thomas, postmaster. In general it is made up of the solid business men of the city. Colonel Hedges made a report in which he said: "This visit will undoubtedly be one of the most impressive and interesting events of the opening year of the new century. It will have a far-reaching and possibly worldwide result. It will do more to revive the ancient glories of this old organization than anything it has yet done or attempted to do. It will require generous pledges and hearty cooperation and a solid front and a pull together that we may send our English brethren home with the best ideas of our company, our city and our country."

The committee of arrangements will meet for organization in a short time, and definite plans will then be made. At present it is only known that the London company will send about 200 men and that they will arrive some time in July. The Prince of Wales is the colonel of the company and the Earl of Denbigh and Desmond is the lieutenant colonel commanding. The Prince of Wales and Secretary John D. Long are the only honorary members of the Boston company. There was only one other honorary member, the late Chester A. Arthur.—New York Sun.

A Danish School Regulation.
Pupils in the public schools of Copenhagen are required to take three baths a week in the public school building, and while they are bathing their clothes are sterilized in a steam oven. The Danes object to the regulation on the ground that it makes the children discontented with their home surroundings.—New York Tribune.
