A STRAIGHT DENIAL.

Judge Morrison Says That the Columbus State Journal Interview Was Manufactured by That Paper.

Hon. A. L. Morrison, internal revenue collector for this district, returned last night over the Santa Fe road from his eastern trip. A New Mexican reporter called on the judge this morning relative to the "interview" in the State Journal, of Columbus, O., purporting to come from him, and which has created such a sensation in local circles, as it is reflected on the native population of this territory.

Judge Morrison declared that the "interview" was sheer fabrication from beginning to end. He never was visited by a reporter from the Journal, never was asked for any interview, oral or written, and did not know that such an article had been written until the next day, when his attention was called to the matter by Mr. Bond, of the Columbus dispatch. The Columbus State Journal has always been bitter against New Mexico, and the article was no doubt written to back up the policy of that paper. Judge Morrison explained the situation to the editor of the Dispatch, but did not go near the Journal office, as he did not believe any attention would be paid there to his protestations.

The election in Ohio passed off much more quietly than one would have expected. The politicians had no money and an unusually small amount was spent on the election. The judge was informed that New Mexico had gone Democratic, and did not know the truth until he had reached Raton on the road home. Judge Morrison called on the president while in Washington to pay his respects to the nation's executive. He found the sentiment, pro and con, through the country relative to the acquisition of the Philippines, with the preponderance in favor of annexation. He has been absent six weeks.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

This morning opened so beautiful that it seemed like a morning in spring. U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair tonight and Saturday.

Jacob Stein expects to open a store on the south side within the next few weeks. He will handle groceries and general merchandise.

Less policemen and fixing the sidewalks instead would be a very good and beneficial policy to be pursued by Mayor Hudson and by the city council.

Better step up to the collector's office and pay your delinquent taxes. Collector Muller is preparing the delinquent tax list. You will save expense and trouble by paying your taxes.

The Gulf road, now the Colorado Southern, has already a branch into Vasquez, in Colfax county, on the western slope of the range, so that extension westward or southward is not a very great task.

George Anton, the well known Coyote merchant, shipped a car load of merchandise yesterday over the narrow gauge to his store at Coyote, Rio Arriba county. Business is good these Republican days in his section.

Yesterday, the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 44 degrees, at 3:30 p. m.; minimum, 22, at 4:00 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 33 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 51 per cent.

Agent Lutz, of the Santa Fe, has received a letter from General Passenger Agent W. J. Black, requesting him to carefully send the general passenger office clippings from newspapers referring to the Santa Fe. Every agent along the line has been sent a similar letter.

The council chamber in the new capitol building is ready for plastering. There is a delay on the portico owing to the difficulty in getting stone of sufficient dimensions for pillars in this part of the country. The local formation was very much broken in the upheaval so that getting a large stone is a problem. However, the work is being pushed ahead as fast as possible.

The Louise Brehaney Ballard and Operatic company, of six persons, will be in Santa Fe on Friday, December 2. The company comes under the auspices of the W. B. T., a certain guaranty having been made by the ladies, who do not expect to make any money out of the venture. The object of securing the company is to provide the people of Santa Fe with a first-class entertainment.

James Harris says his conversion in prison was due as far as earthly agents were concerned to the Christian Endeavor society there, to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood, of this city and the Faith Missionary society of Shenandoah, Ia. Of the latter organization Mr. Harris speaks with especial praise for the interest they take in the regeneration of prisoners.

It is reported that only 20 applications for discharge from the territorial regiment have been made since its organization, and that General Wilson recently declared that it was the finest regiment in the service. Of the 1,220 men, 1,107 are reporting daily for duty, and the sick list averages only five men to a company. This command promises to be to the infantry arm of the volunteer service what Roosevelt's command was to the cavalry arm.

The good people down the Rio Grande valley are anxiously awaiting the decision of the United States supreme court in the Elephant Butte dam case.

According to a letter from Captain Strover, the territorial regiment will be stationed at Matanzas, Cuba.

The missionary board of the M. E. church has appropriated $5,250 for the work in New Mexico.

Santa Fe employees are reported buying up these securities of the road as a profitable investment. Range fires have been doing considerable damage in the southeastern part of the territory.

The territorial cattle sanitary board will meet at Las Vegas on Monday, November 28.

KIT CARSON'S COMMISSION.

Document That Made Him Second Lieutenant in 1847 Discovered in Las Vegas and Now in This City.

A valuable historical document was discovered a few days ago at Las Vegas in the commission of Christopher Carson as 2d lieutenant, by President Polk, dated June 9, 1847. It was found by Traveling Engineer John A. Ross, of the Santa Fe road, in an old desk among some papers that had belonged to the G. A. R., but how it got there and how long it has been hid from public view no one seems to know. Mr. Ross has sent the document to Governor Otero, who will present it to the local historical library, where it will be hereafter treasured up as a precious relic.

The commission is printed on sheepskin parchment, 15 1/2 x 17 1/2 inches, and reads as follows: "The president of the United States of America" (in semi-circular form, with the American eagle and "E. pluribus unum" immediately beneath). "To all who shall see these presents, greeting: Know ye that resposing special trust and confidence in the patriotism, valor, fidelity and abilities of Christopher Carson, I do appoint him second lieutenant in the regiment of mounted riflemen in the service of the United States, to rank as such from the ninth day of June, eighteen hundred and forty-seven. He is therefore carefully and diligently to discharge the duty of second lieutenant by doing and performing all manner of things thereunto belonging, and I do strictly charge and require all officers and soldiers under his command to be obedient to his orders as second lieutenant. And he is to observe and follow such orders and directions, from time to time, as he shall receive from me or the future president of the United States of America or the general or other superior officers set over him according to the rules and discipline of war. This commission to continue in force during the pleasure of the president of the United States for the time being. Given under my hand at the city of Washington, this ninth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and forty-seven, and in the seventy-first year of the independence of the United States.

"By the president: "JAMES K. POLK, "W. L. MARCY, "Secretary of War."

Below is an elaborate War department design of banners, cannon, drums and various military weapons and insignia. In one corner of this indorsement is written: "Recorded volume 12, page 559, adjutant general's office, June 9, 1847, R. Jones, adjutant general." The document also bears the usual war office seal.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not Be Alarmed, But Look for the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real, organic heart disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest, caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, makes it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals, of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

NARROW GAUGE TO GO.

Indications from Denver That Ere Long Only the More Mountainous Sections Will Retain It.

As outlined a short time ago in the New Mexican, the Denver & Rio Grande railway people are perfecting their plans for doing away with their narrow gauge system to a marked extent, the narrow gauge being restricted to the third division of the road. This means the removal of the line to Durango, and as railroad men believe to Santa Fe as well. The third rail on a road costs considerable money, although it may not appear so to the lay observer. According to the scheme set forth in Denver, standard gauge cars will be run over the narrow gauge tracks west of Salida by placing cranes at the junction for shifting car bodies from standard to narrow gauge tracks and vice versa. Such cranes are in use at several other points in the United States, but they are very costly.

The Denver & Rio Grande road has been under an enterprising and progressive management ever since President Jeffery took control. Mr. Jeffery was vice president of the Illinois Central with headquarters in Chicago before going to Denver, and was thoroughly conversant with the manifold ramifications of that great, complex system of railway. So he came to Denver with a most valuable railroad experience, greatly aided by a special knowledge gained as a commissioner to Europe for the World's fair. In fact Mr. Jeffery was one of the pioneers and pillars of the greatest fair the world has ever seen, and to his careful counsel and advice the success of the fair was largely due.

Under Mr. Jeffery's management the D. & R. G. has made money where other roads have lost, and before Mr. Ripley was chosen president of the Santa Fe, Mr. Jeffery, it was well understood, could have been President Maxwell's successor. The D. & R. G. is a money making proposition, it is run on western principles, to accommodate Colorado, New Mexico and Utah traffic, and improvements have been and will be the order of the day with this enterprising corporation.
