Temperature at 6 a. m. today 27 degrees. Generally fair tonight and Wednesday with warmer weather in north portion tonight.

Better Than Ever—The opening of the third season at the opera house last night was one of the events of Easter Monday. A good sized audience was in attendance and they praised the clean house and the clean show. Six different pictures were shown and every one a feature. Beginning with "Troubles of a King," then "A Boxing Match," followed by "College Chums," and "The Ghosts Cave," one of "Pathe Colored Films" and at last the two great features "Parisian Flower Girl," and "The Hazers." The song is "Button, Button, Whose Got the Button." As only licensed films are shown, it means that nothing but the best will ever be presented. All new films of the Motion Picture Patents Company are censored and nothing objectionable to any one will be allowed to be sent out by film exchanges, but what is good and clean.

Wind Splitters for Santa Fe.—One of the new gasoline passenger cars which the Santa Fe is placing on its branch roads passed Lamy Friday. They are known as "wind splitters," on account of their cigar shape and are already in extensive use on the Union Pacific and other roads. One of the first divisions to have one for passenger traffic is to be the Rio Grande division from Albuquerque to El Paso. Later a car is to be placed in service between Santa Fe and Lamy, although it is still a question whether they are serviceable for heavy grades and light rails like those of the Lamy branch. A car carries 75 passengers comfortably and can carry a hundred when crowded.

New Boarders for the Pen—This morning Sheriff Hixenbaugh brought in the following convicts from Colfax county: Walter Irving, alias Claude Martin, sentenced to three years for burglary; Robert Horton, 18 months for assault with intent to murder; R. J. Walker, one year and one day for larceny; Cruz Alarid, one year and nine days for assault with intent to maim and disfigure. The sheriff also brought to the penitentiary for safe keeping J. B. Humphries and W. R. Dobyns. J. B. Humphries, better known as "Nigger Arkansas," is charged with being one of the star performers in the robbery of $35,000 from the Wells-Fargo express strong box at French station several months ago. Under his recent indictment by the grand jury here Humphries was unable to give the $15,000 bond required and it was decided to place him in safe keeping pending trial. Reece Dobyns, first broke into public notice some months ago when charged with putting emery into the bearings of a Santa Fe locomotive. Dobyns was afterwards adjudged insane, it being believed that his sufferings while in jail in Mexico whither he fled from a charge here, caused him to lose his reason. He was brought back to Raton for trial, but taken to the insane asylum at Las Vegas instead. Here he became such a raving maniac that it was not considered safe to keep him in the asylum and he was put in Raton jail whence he now comes to the territorial penitentiary, the only place which it is thought will safely hold him.

will be two more assigned to it. When the men arrive from Fort Wood active work in free balloon, captive balloon and dirigible work will begin.

"By the time these are actively under way the date set for the delivery of the Wright and Herring aeroplanes will be on hand. The trials at Fort Meyer of the aeroplanes will undoubtedly renew the enthusiasm for the new art in warfare which existed last summer."

FEDERAL JURY DISCHARGED

Judge Frank W. Parker Sends Entire Panel Home On Account of Ugly Rumors of Bribery.

Las Cruces, N. M., April 13.—A sensation was created here yesterday when Judge Frank W. Parker, sitting in the Federal District Court, discharged the entire panel of 24 jurors and ordered a new panel drawn for Wednesday.

In discharging the jury the judge declared that, while he did not make any specific charges, the rumor had persistently gained ground that efforts had been made to tamper with the jury in the interest of persons under indictment on charge of smuggling or conspiracy to smuggle Chinamen, and, as the cases were of great importance to the government, he thought best to draw a new jury.

This sensation follows immediately the sensation of Saturday when it became known that E. M. Fink, Mar Chew, W. B. Greene and others had been indicted on charges of smuggling Chinese. Mar Chew, Greene and Fink were indicted along with Santa Fe Conductor H. D. Maynard and porter Lon Miller, who were arrested some time ago. All are El Pasoans. The case of Conductor Maynard in connection with the alleged smuggling conspiracy was postponed until Wednesday next.

Before the territorial grand jury, two men pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with intent to murder. They are Felipe Ronquillo and Santiago Velasquez, and the crime of which they acknowledge guilt was committed near Rincon a few weeks ago.

Both are section hands on the Santa Fe Railroad, and their victim was Apolinar Fraustro, another section hand. They got him partially drunk and then cut his throat from ear to ear. Thinking he would die very quickly, they buried him in the sand. He had previously disposed of his pay so they got very little money from the victim. Fraustro was able to crawl to a nearby house and give the alarm and the two men were arrested by the Rincon authorities. Fraustro has almost recovered from the wound in his neck. The date when Judge Parker will sentence these men has not been set. Ed Betzell, before the territorial grand jury on Saturday, pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary. He was recently arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jose Lucero after getting in a back window and robbing the Tip Top saloon of about $30.
