IF!—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

Was on deck now and could see those Franklin Stoves at Goebel's which are named after him, he would indeed be surprised, but the low price at which they are sold would cause him to drop his loaf of bread from under his arm and take a stove for this winter, instead of trying to depend on a fire-place.

—BRIEF WIRINGS—

London Has It.

London, Oct. 17.—There are now eight cases of cholera in the Greenwich work-house.

Socialist Editor Arrested.

Berlin, Oct. 17.—The Socialist Democratic editor, Mandau, was arrested this morning for publishing seditious articles.

Praying for the Frost.

Brunswick, Ga., Oct. 17.—Twenty-six new cases of yellow fever and one death were reported to the health authorities yesterday.

Fourteenth Victim.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Donovan died this morning, making the 14th victim of the Michigan Central railroad wreck.

Shelling Rio Again.

London, Oct. 17.—The insurgents fleet at Rio again bombarded the city yesterday, doing great damage. Many people are fleeing from the Brazilian capital.

Mexican Justice.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 17.—H. H. Patrick, a miner at Topolobampo, Mexico, was killed by an 18 year old boy whose motive was robbery. The murderer was convicted and shot.

Cattle Thief Killed.

Independence, Kas., Oct. 17.—Willie Jones, a cattle thief, fired on a pursuing posse this morning, who returned the fire killing Jones.

Falling Bricks.

Colorado Springs, Oct. 17.—Henry Phelps, while working near the new Midland building this morning, was fatally injured by falling bricks from the top story of the structure.

FATAL WRECKS.

The Usual Daily Reports of Loss of Life on the Railroads.

St. Louis, Oct. 17.—

The west-bound Chicago limited express was wrecked last night at Namski, Ill. Forty passengers were injured; none killed. The accident was caused by spreading rails. Two physicians on the train did noble work for the injured.

Pittsburg—

The Pennsylvania limited express was partially wrecked this morning. The engineer, fireman and five passengers were killed. The fog was so dense that the train men could not see the signals and crashed into a standing freight train. The loss is heavy.

Pine Forests Ablaze.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 17.—Fifty miles of timber in Montgomery county are on fire and it is feared several towns will be destroyed. The loss amounts to millions of dollars.

Drunken Chocatawa.

Caddo, I. T., Oct. 17.—Two white men, named Fisher and Burley were fired upon by three drunken Chocatawa last night. Burley was killed instantly. Fisher is seriously wounded. Officers are in pursuit of the miscreants.

Got Another One.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 17.—Will Hanks, president of the suspended Merchant's National bank at Great Falls, has been arrested on the charge of embezzlement. He was subsequently released on $5,000 bail.

Sad Storm Echo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The steamer Wookohen from Cleveland was lost in the recent storm. Thirteen were drowned, three saved. The vessel was bound for Duluth and encountered the tempest while seeking shelter along the front of the north shore of Lake Erie, accompanied by the boat Joseph Paige. The latter weathered the gale and arrived this morning.

FRANCE MOURNS.

The Famous Warrior, McMahon, Dead and Gunned Yesterday.

Paris, Oct. 17.—Marshal McMahon, ex-president of France and leader of the army in the Franco-Prussian war died this morning.

Charles Gounod, the composer, is dying to-day.

Dynamite Fatalities.

Elliston, Ill., Oct. 17.—Some professional well blowers from Dwight, Ill., who were here to dynamite an artesian well which is being bored at this place, prematurely discharged about fifty pounds of the stuff yesterday, killing three of the number, and mortally wounding two citizens of this place, and seriously injuring three others, and damaging a number of houses in the vicinity.

GOES DOWN.

The National Glass Company Reported in a Bad Way.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—This morning's Tribune says the National Glass company, the largest glass manufacturing concern in the country, will fail to-morrow. The direct cause of the collapse is the fight that has been waged against the labor organizations at Pittsburg.

WASHINGTON GRIST.

Silver Compromise in the Shape of First You See It and Then You Don't.

Many Propositions—Another Night Session Failure—Help for the Mine Owner.

Washington, Oct. 17.—President Cleveland's declaration that he will not yet consider any compromise proposition dealing with silver, has served to stiffen somewhat the backbone of Voorhees and his followers. The silver men, however, are still sanguine of ultimate victory.

TO-DAY'S SENATE.

In the senate this morning there was a long wrangle over the objection by Dolph to the approval of the journal record of yesterday's proceedings. Allen and Kyle were present, but their names were not so recorded in the journal. Nearly the whole of to-day's session was occupied discussing this petty point.

COMPROMISE RUMORS.

It is said, despite Mr. Cleveland's refusal to consider any silver compromise involving the further purchase of silver, that the cabinet has practically agreed to a compromise proposition, to be offered by one of the repeal senators. It includes, as did the Harris amendment, provision for the coining of the silver seigniorage in the treasury, amounting to $53,000,000, and thereafter the purchase of 3,000,000 ounces a month until 90,000,000 ounces have been purchased. This will carry the purchase of silver over the expiration of Mr. Cleveland's term, a condition the silver men insist upon, and relieve the treasury during the coining of the seigniorage for 18 months of the further purchase of bullion, besides making the bullion so coined an available treasury asset. To meet the demands of the east, a proposition for the issue of bonds is also considered in the same connection.

MADE A DISCOVERY.

The new bond issue has been eliminated from the considerations for a compromise by one point brought to light by the authorities of the government. Of the $300,000,000 of bonds authorized by the redemption act of 1875 only $90,000,000 have been issued, leaving $210,000,000 to be placed upon the market whenever the treasury needs gold. There is a question whether the secretary of the treasury can now issue these bonds. It will be this unissued stock of bonds, therefore, that will be brought into requisition to increase the gold reserve and remove all doubt of the ability of the United States to preserve the parity between the white and yellow metals.

HELP FOR THE MINERS.

The house has passed Congressman Bell's bill relieving owners of mining claims from the annual assessment work. It will pass the senate whenever it can be taken up there.

THE CHINESE MUZZLE.

The McCrea bill which passed the house yesterday together with the Geary amendment provides that the time for the registration of Chinese in the U. S. is extended six months. It also amends the Geary act so as to require "one credible witness other than Chinese" to certify that the applicant for a certificate was a resident of the United States on the 5th day of May 1894, instead of "one credible white witness." It also provides that the word "prose" or "laborers," wherever used in this act or in the act to which this is an amendment, shall be construed to mean both skilled and unskilled manual laborers, including Chinese employed in mining, fishing, huckstering, peddling, laundrymen, or other wise preserving shell or other fish for home consumption or exportation.

HOW THEY VIEW IT.

Senator Cookrell is now taking the lead in an effort to compromise on silver. The president remains firm against it and is determined to have all the resources exhausted before accepting compromise. Senator Voorhees asked for another night session last evening and secured it, but business was blocked for two hours for lack of a quorum. Adjournment was taken at 10 o'clock without anything being accomplished.

Senator Manderson says that if Mr. Cleveland would not accept a compromise, he would find that he would get nothing. Senator Sherman was asked last night what he thought was the prospect for the repeal bill. He replied that it all depended upon the Democratic side of the chamber. "We," said he, "repealer Republicans, are quiescent; we are waiting for the Democrats to reach a conclusion, but it seems very hard for them to agree. They do not seem to realize that they are in the majority and that the responsibility for legislation rests with them."

WESTERN SECURITIES.

English Capitalists Jump at a Big Batch of Cherokee Strip Bonds.

Fort Gibson, I. T., Oct. 17.—Cherokee strip bonds to the amount of $600,000 were to-day sold to an English syndicate at par. The contract was signed here this morning.

OFFICIAL GOSSIP.

A Round-up of News Pertaining Strictly to Matters Official in New Mexico.

According to the provisions of section 3 of the act creating Union county, the first set of county officials must be elected on the first Tuesday in December, 1893, being the 5th of that month. They will qualify for their duties on January 1, 1894. In pursuance of these provisions, on last Saturday, J. S. Holland convened the democratic county committee at Clayton. There were present J. S. Holland, chairman, A. C. Meira, secretary, and Candido Garcia, James H. Davis, Paz Valverde and U. E. Smith, proxy for Samuel Collins. It was agreed to allow W. A. Thompson, Preciliano Garcia and Faustino Garcia to represent precincts whose committee men were absent. November 7 was decided on as the date of the convention, Clayton the place and each precinct will be permitted to send one delegate for every 20 votes cast for Joseph at the last election.

Ex-President Harrison's appointees on the New Mexico bench continue to win encomiums at the hands of the press and people. Down at Albuquerque Justice W. D. Lee has dispatched business so judiciously as to prompt the Albuquerque Democrat to come out in a highly eulogistic article commending him, and the Clayton Democrat, speaking of the recent Colfax term, rises to remark: "The judge's charge to the jury was an able and impressive one. Judge Seeds is one of the youngest men in New Mexico on the supreme bench, and he is gaining an enviable reputation."

"New Mexico was not represented at the Los Angeles irrigation convention. None of the delegates appointed by the governor attended," says the Albuquerque Democrat. This is incorrect. Oak Ridge and J. Hinson, whom the governor named as a delegate very ably represented New Mexico, and ex-Governor Sheldon, of this territory, was also a prominent figure in the convention. Mr. Mortimer A. Downing, of the New Mexican force, was named as executive committee man for New Mexico.

The U. S. civil service examination of applicants for the public service in New Mexico will open at Albuquerque on Thursday. Miss Anderson, of Carlisle, Ohio, now visiting in Santa Fe and Miss Elizabeth Pense, of the U. S. Indian school, will be present to take the examination.

The postoffice department is advertising for bids to carry the mails on the Star routes in New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Idaho, from July 1, 1894, to June 30, 1898. Proposals will be received until 4 p. m., December 1. Decisions will be announced on or before February 1, 1894.

Hon. Felix Martinez may make it convenient while in Chicago to meet Chief Justice Smith and discuss the fourth judicial clerkship. Other aspirants for the place are by no means satisfied that Mr. Martinez has the pull for the place.

A telegram to the solicitor general announces the death of Estanislao Pino, county clerk of Socorro and a well known citizen. He died at Socorro yesterday. The county board has authority to name his successor and may name his widow.

Before Judge Seeds as committing magistrate the case of Robert Friday, charged with the murder of Zenon Baca, at Cerrillos, will be heard to-morrow.

"During my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhoea," says A. E. Belding, of Halsey, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow." For sale by A. C. Ireland, Jr.

A La Don Juan.

"My wife, Georgia Wilton, having left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, all persons are hereby notified not to trust her on my account as I will pay no debts of her contraction."

"San Marcial, N. M., Oct. 13."

The above notice tells a tale of dishonor. Ben Wilton has suspected his wife for some time. Friday morning at 3 o'clock he came to his home in San Marcial, knocked at the front door and not being admitted went around to the back door, only to meet Francis Nelson coming out in undress uniform. The case has some of the features of Don Juan's first amour.

The woman is 28 and her lover, Nelson, only 17 years old. Wilton debated whether or not he would kill the couple while they knelt on the floor in no more drapery than the Greek slave, and pleaded for mercy. As he put his revolver to the woman's breast his mood changed and he let them live. They confessed to criminal relations covering four months.

This is not the first scandal in which young Nelson has figured, and he possibly may not find all men so humane as Ben Wilton.
