

The cotton crop of the United States promised before the present drought, to reach eight million bales. Even now it will be the largest ever made. And though there may be a reduction in price from excess in quantity, it will still be profitable, because the cost of production has been less than before owing to the wisdom of planters in raising to large extent the supplies for which they have heretofore made themselves dependent on the Northwest. Cotton and tobacco planters can be the wealthiest agriculturists in the world if they would devote a portion of their land and labor to the cultivation of food and forage crops. Doing this they would keep control of their money, and controlling their money they could control the market. Now they keep themselves shackled with debt, they can only release themselves at a sacrifice. They hold themselves slavishly at the mercy of the buyers, and speculators reap all the profits.

PERFECTION
IS WHAT WE ALL AIM AT!

And to say that we have attained to that is an untruth; but to say that by hard work and honest dealings we have established a business in Asheville that is a source of great satisfaction to us and to our customers, is to state "plain facts to a candid public."

In all known places in this world there are people who think that by sending their orders away from home they can get better and cheaper goods. For the benefit of such persons, we will make the following broad assertion, viz.:

That we can duplicate any bill in our line, bought by parties outside the trade, when freights and drayage are counted in, and in most cases that have come under our observation we have been able to save the purchaser from 5 to 10 per cent.

Then there are other parties who will order from New York a barrel of Sugar and box of Tea, and when out go to their grocer and buy 5 to 10 lbs. sugar and 1-4 lb. tea, and because they do not get them at same prices as they paid in New York, they do another order and pay more than they would have to pay at home. Turks Island salt won't save such people.

We are glad to state that there are but few such people of Asheville, and that the great majority were quick to see that it was to their interest to buy at home. Not only the people of Asheville, but of all Western, North Carolina, are availing themselves of the advantages offered by us in the way of
