The Pearson evangelical meetings at the Farmers' Warehouse will not interfere at all with the sales of tobacco. Arrangements have been made so that sales will be made at this warehouse very early in the morning, and will not conflict with Mr. Pearson's services at all.

Mr. Thos. Cole who has been representing the Baltimore United Oil Company for some time in this city, leaves to-day for other fields of labor. We wish Mr. C. pleasure and profit wherever he goes. He is succeeded here by Mr. W. C. Arsell of Baltimore, who assumes charge of this station.

Mr. E. H. Talbot, editor of the Railway Age, who was in attendance at the Hot Springs convention and who, among others accepted the hospitalities of our city, left for Chattanooga and other points South, yesterday. Mr. T. is accompanied by his wife, and Miss Mahan. It was a pleasure to meet this gentleman. With a fund of information relative to the country in its entirety, gathered from 30 years with a people who for the past 30 years have invented, formulated, and originated plans in railway management improved machinery and methods that is now the wonder and admiration of the world, he is also possessed of that charm of manner and geniality of disposition, that draw people to him, and make him friends wherever he goes.

Fresh, Fashionable and Fine.
Williamson & Co. having sold a good many of their carpets, have determined to replace the stock, not old, but on hand since winter, and which we have hung up entirely new patterns. They ordered a duplicate bill of all they had on hand—in quality and quantity—and of the several and latest patterns, unlike anything they have had.

In other furniture they keep a full supply of the freshest goods, and of such quality as to satisfy.

STRANGE BUT TRUE.

$39,000 IS THE AMOUNT

THAT YOUNG CHARLES RUDOLPH HAS PAID FOR HIS HEIR TO.

After a Search of Five Years the Young Man is Found in Asheville—An Interesting Story.

By the merest possible accident, Charles Rudolph, of Philadelphia, the heir to thirty-nine thousand dollars was found in Asheville, in front of the Grand Central hotel, last Thursday, by a gentleman who, in carrying out the dying wish of a friend, had spent five years in fruitless search for a wayward young man. The story reads like a romance, but true it is, every word.

Mr. John Krider is the gentleman who has been searching for Rudolph and has spent many sleepless nights and made many efforts to find the young man, and a CITIZEN reporter found him at Mr. J. B. Harrington's, No. 199 Haywood street last evening. After an introduction, Mr. Krider told the reporter that he was a neighbor of the Rudolphs, who lived on Race street, Philadelphia, some thirteen years ago. Rudolph and his sister Lucy, were the only children in the family. Rudolph's mother married the second time, and his step-father was so brutal and cruel that young Rudolph ran away, whether or not he knew. Time passed on, still no news ever came of the young man, or his whereabouts. Finally J. B. Harrington was married, and the result of this marriage was the birth of a son. The old mother had died sometime before this marriage, and shortly after the birth of the child the latter died. The child lived for some time, but finally, it too passed away leaving the sister a widowed mother. It seems that before young Rudolph ran away he was engaged in the huckster business around the city. Well, time rolled on, and still no news came of the runaway. Then his sister met with reverses in financial affairs, and she was plucky and soon regained what she had lost. She dealt in oil stocks and was successful to a degree. Then she took sick and sent for Mr. Krider to come and see her, and upon her dying bed exacted a promise from him that he would find the young man. Mr. Krider searched high and low, and inquired of the baggage-master at the Pennsylvania depot if he had ever checked any baggage for a man answering the description of Rudolph. He said he had checked such baggage to Knoxville, Tenn., and was so positive about it that Mr. Krider started to Knoxville, but stopped over here. The rest is soon told. Young Rudolph had come to Asheville with a couple of friends. Mr. Krider asked railroad agent if he had seen man answering description; agent had seen such a man in company with two others get off Knoxville train; followed him up; saw him front of postoffice; in front of Grand Central met him, identity was disclosed; bond fixed; papers delivered over to Rudolph; he left for Philadelphia; Mr. Krider at Mr. Harrington's; everyone happy; and the curtain falls upon the second act in a life's drama.

GATHERING STATISTICS

Of Marriages and Divorces in the Union.

Mr. Geo. L. Holmes, special agent of the United States Bureau of Labor, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., is in the city, obtaining a list of all the marriages, names, ages, and color that have taken place in Buncombe during the past ten years; also the number of divorces, causes which led to same, and the length of time the parties lived together as man and wife; whether or not children were born to them, and if so age and sex. This information is for the statistical branch of the Department of the Interior, and a special agent is at work in every State and Territory in the Union upon the same mission, that brings Mr. Holmes to North Carolina. These statistics will be printed in book form and distributed throughout the United States in the shape of public documents. We would not like to have the mission to Utah or Illinois, where divorces come cheaper than marriages, and we pity the poor fellows who represent the department in those districts.

Pure Water.
All river or well water is more or less impure and should be filtered. All filtering combinations absorb the impurities and become foul. Metal is not safe to keep water in, or filter it through. A natural stone is the only perfect filter. The Gate City Stone Filter Co. have placed their filters with J. H. Law, 57 & 59 St. Main st., at their prices. Call for catalogue.

Mission Chapel.

A mission school was organized at the old depot under the auspices of the First Baptist Church, of this city, Sunday afternoon. Mr. J. R. Patterson was elected superintendent, and the membership roll showed an attendance of forty-two. Mr. Patterson will be assisted by a corps of competent teachers, and the school will be held every Sunday afternoon in the Logan building.

That Sale To-Day.

Remember that at 11 o'clock sharp this morning those beautiful lots, on Woodfin street, part of the present college property, will be offered for sale at public outcry, the sale to take place on the premises. The Citizen has already mentioned these lots, especially commending them as a valuable security for securing splendidly located houses. The sale will be under the auspices of Messrs. Nichols & Gudgey, real estate agents, with Mr. E. L. Brown, auctioneer.

The First Baptist Church.

The services at this church Sunday were peculiarly impressive. In the morning a very elegant sermon was preached by the pastor Dr. W. A. Nelson, followed by prayer from Rev. R. G. Pearson, the evangelist. In the evening, the sermon was preached by Dr. A. B. Nelson, and the ordinance of baptism conferred upon two candidates. The crowd was so great at the night services, that at least one hundred people were unable to find seats in the building, and consequently had to go away without, listening to divine worship at this church.

Beat His Wife With a Chair.

Albert Simpson is a colored citizen who lives near the First Colored Baptist Church at the foot of Beaumont. Albert is married, and sometimes makes things very unpleasant and unhealthy for his spouse. This was the case on Saturday night, and the mean whiskey that he had swallowed during the evening got in its work about ten o'clock. At that hour he went home and began throwing house furnishing goods around in hasty style. His wife remonstrated against such riotous proceedings, when Albert seized a chair and began to fling his helpmeet in an unmerciful manner. The police were sent for, and the wife-beater was brought to the lockup, where he remained in the cage until yesterday morning at ten o'clock, when he had a trial before Justice Malone. The evidence adduced upon the examination justified the magistrate to fine him ten dollars and costs. Albert could not respond to "call," so he was sent to the county jail for twenty days, or until the money is paid. His wife was bruised up very badly, though no fatal injury was inflicted.

Sale of Stamps.

The sale of internal revenue stamps at the branch office in this city for the month of April, amounted to $2,211.57, an increase of $304.909 over the receipts for March.

April Affection.

Register of Deeds, J. R. Patterson, informs us that for the month of April he issued twenty-three marriage licenses, of this number only six were issued to colored people. This report shows a decrease of three less than the number issued in March. May may get there, however, don't June know.

Don't Forget.

Your opportunity to get a most superb residence lot by failing to attend the sale on corner of Charlotte and Bridge street this evening at 3 o'clock.

At the close of their sale the crowd will adjourn to Libby and Monroed street where other desirable lots will be sold. All this property "gilt-edge." J. J. Hill & Son are auctioneers.

In the Clerk's Office.

The following administrators and guardians made returns in the Superior or Court Clerk's office yesterday:

Jno. Gray Jones, administrator of J. M. B. Bynes; final settlement of administration.

Mrs. S. A. Buckner, guardian; annual report. J. M. Jarrett and James O'Quinn, administrators of Sims O'Quinn; final settlement.

Clerk Reynolds is discharging his full duty in bringing guardians, executors and administrators before his court and requiring their settlement as required by law. He is a faithful and efficient officer, and ably assisted by his deputy, Mr. C. W. Malone.

Parasols.

"ESTHER."

Some Society People who will be in the Cast.

At the presentation of this beautiful cantata at Opera Hall, to-morrow night, for the benefit of the Episcopal church in this city, the following well-known society people of Asheville will take parts in the performance:

King Alasurus—Mr. Thos. A. Jones.

Queen Esther—Miss Krueniger, Hauman—F. A. Hull.

Zeresh—Miss Mary Baxton. Mordecai—Mr. D. F. Summey. Mordecai's sister—Miss Addie Davidson.

Prophetess—Miss Hattie Harrington. Scribe—Mr. H. O. Himes. High Priest—Mr. G. E. Jordan. Harbonah—Mr. C. G. West. Herald—Mr. Geo. Collins. Haggai—Mr. John Nichols. Guards—Messrs. Young and Collier.

Queen's attendants—Misses Fannie Hunt and Carrie Reynolds. Zeresh's attendants—Misses Weddin and Harrington.

The costumes are from Baltimore, Md., and the music under the direction of Prof. J. W. Sault. A chorus of sixty trained voices and a superb rendition of this cantata will insure an evening's enjoyment unsurpassed.

IN THE TOILS.

Henry Williams in Jail at Marion.

When Detective Deaver purchased a ticket for Old Fort, Friday evening, a CITIZEN representative who was standing by, knew that something had gone wrong. Persistent inquiry failed to elicit any information from the Pinion chief, however, and the reporter sought "green fields and pastures new," so to speak, knowing full well that the proverbial cat would be permitted to emigrate from the sack upon the chief's return, if it returned.

While all this was transpiring in Asheville, a considerable quantity of deviltry was transpiring at Old Fort, and Henry Williams, (col.), with a half-dozen aliases, was the engineer in charge of the work.

It seems that Williams, who is known in police circles in this city as "Nighthawk," had stolen two valises, two overcoats, and other wearing apparel belonging to Conductor H. C. Frott and his flagman, on the west bound freight train caboose of the W. N. C. Road. Williams skipped out, and was exceedingly scarce and hard to find. Hence Deaver bought the ticket.

Hence he went on the train, Friday evening, and hence he returned Sunday evening looking like a Mexican "greaser," with a satchel on his shoulder, and a smile on his face that resembled a coil of rope in a ship-handler's store. We asked him the cause of this "unseemly mirth upon this sacred day," and he stated that "Nighthawk" had been corralled, and was now enjoying undisturbed repose in McDowell county jail. He stated that he had captured "Nighthawk" two miles south of Asheville, and that he had the man in the millinery of Conductor Frott. Williams was cutting quite a swell, and had no idea that the detective sleuth-hound of Asheville was on his trail. But he was, and when the officer took him before the Marion magistrate, the confederate promptly and unreservedly committed him to jail in default of a five hundred dollar bond, to await trial at the next term of McDowell Superior Court.

Williams is reported to be in police parlance a "tough," and has given the officers of the law no little trouble.

Up With the Times.

In this fast age he who does not keep pace with the improvements going on every day, to use a common expression "gets left." Not so with the Furniture House of W. B. Williamson & Co., Mr. Doe the manager—like the sailor who keeps his sails trimmed to catch every puff of wind to drive him onward in his course, keeps himself fully posted, and on the look out for any thing new or desirable in his special line.

One of the largest manufacturing houses just thrown upon the market a novelty in household goods in the highly finished and most beautiful Walnut Suits, some of which this Asheville Furniture House has on sale. New in design, complete in workmanship, they may truly be pronounced unique. The veneering used on these suits is sawed from the root of the French walnut, nothing equal to the queer and intricate curls in the wood, each piece a study in itself.

The Bureau of Librarians, is of unusual width (5 feet) contains every drawer and 500 volumes. The mirror of the heaviest and clearest French plate glass, 3 inches thick, almost defies damage. The circular in shape and 3 feet across. This glass and the circular veneering on the end piece of each Brestead, cost the manufacturer as much as ordinary suits are worth. The marble used on these suits is of the first quality Tennessee, taking polish almost equal to a mirror.

Another novelty this house has on sale is the "Wire Screen" doors, in sizes to suit all doors, and can be attached to the inside without interfering with the opening. The doors screens, made by a curious but simple contrivance, easily adjustable. The light can readily and easily be handled by any one who can raise a window and will sit snugly over window. One may now enjoy the summer breezes without the annoyance of flies, mosquitoes or other insects.

Want of space forbids specifying further, but a visit to this house will both please and astonish.

Williamson & Co. have the sole agency for those beautiful Hat Racks, with circular plate glass mirrors. Nothing like them on this market. No one else can get them. Made by the same company who make the latest thing in Bed Room Suits—to which they correspond. diff.

Ready for Deposits.

The Western Carolina Savings Bank was formally organized and opened for business on yesterday.

At ten o'clock in the morning, the stockholders had their meeting in the room of the bank designated as the president's office. There were present: Mr. Lewis Maddux, on his own behalf, and also as representative of Mr. Frank P. Perkins and Mr. Edward H. Coleman, of New York, who are stockholders; Capt. J. E. Ray, M. J. Fezzetta, M. M. Lord, and Messrs. J. E. Reed, Geo. S. Powell and M. J. Bearden.

The stock was all subscribed, and the following organization effected, viz:

President—Lewis Maddux. Vice-President—C. M. McCloy. Cashier—L. P. McCloy.

Messrs. M. J. Fezzetta, J. E. Reed, J. E. Ray, M. J. Bearden, Ed. H. Coleman, Geo. S. Powell and R. B. Johnston, together with the president and vice-president were made the board of directors.

A committee on bonds of officers was appointed to report to-morrow at ten o'clock a. m. The bank was formally opened and Mr. Duff Merrick was the first depositor in the bank on the general deposit account.

Rev. Mr. Harding.

At the meeting of the ministers association yesterday morning, Rev. Mr. Harding offered his resignation as Secretary and the following paper was adopted:

The ministers' association of Asheville, representing the evangelical churches of this city, desires to place upon record the unfeigned regret with which it accepted the resignation of its Secretary, Rev. John E. Harding, of Trinity P. E. Church, consequent upon his approaching departure for another field of ministerial labor.

Mr. Harding is one of the original members of the association, and his efforts has contributed greatly to its success; his ministry in the city has been marked by zeal, discretion and catholicity of spirit and in his departure he carries with him the esteem of his brethren of this association as a faithful minister of Christ.

It is ordered that this be made of record, that a copy be sent to Mr. Harding and one to the vestry of St. James P. E. Church, Marion City, Mo., and that copies be offered for publication to the Asheville Citizen, and the Asheville Star.

W. S. P. BRYAN, Secretary.
