AGRICULTURAL.

Uses of Red Clever. [By C. W. Howard of Kingston, Ga.]

Hay.-Clover should be cut for hay as soon as a portion of the heads begin to turn brown. Earlier than this it is too watery, later it is too woody. Clover hay may be very useful or very worthless for forage, according to the time at which it is cut, and the manner in which it is cured. The great object is to cure it as much as possible in the shade. The hay, when cut at the proper time and cured in this way, will be of a nice green color, with all the leaves and blossoms attached, instead of the black sticks which are often sold to us as clover hay. Rich land will yield two tons, and sometimes three, of clover hay. At $30 per ton this is $60 to $90 per acre. It is as sure a crop as wheat, cotton or corn. Where there is a market for hay, considering the amount of labor it requires, and the condition in which it leaves the land, it is a more profitable crop at present prices of hay, than either of the three crops above mentioned.

gathering the clover heads, when the seed | L. L. P. in Raleigh News. is ripe. This is a box on wheels running near the ground; in front of it are fingers ing acclimated seed.

Winters are, the provision for Winter forage is scant. Clover springs so early, and our live stock are so hungry, that the inducement is very great to put them upon clover before the proper time. But it would be less costly to buy food than to do this. By too early pasturing, the clover is killed out, and it is then said that clover will not succeed at the South. Precautions should be taken in turning horses or cattle into a clover field. If they are hungry at the time, they would over-eat themselves, and the result is an attack of what is called hoven. The animal swells, and often in a short time dies. To prevent this, live stock turned into a clover field should previously be fully fed; they should not have had access to salt within twenty-four hours; they should not the first day remain more than half an hour, and the dew should have been dissipated.

While clover gives a valuable pasturage for all live stock, it is especially valuable for hogs. If they are put upon clover after it is in blossom, with the exception of sucking sows, they will need little or no other food. No one who has not made the trial, can imagine how many hogs an acre of really good cloyer will keep in growing

It should be remembered that clover, as well as all other forage plants and grasses, should be lightly pastured during midsummer. It is absolutely essential that sufficient growth be left upon the ground to protect the roots from the intense heat of the Summer's sun. Our main reliance for pasture at that season should be the crabgrass on our stubble fields.

An Improver of Land.—It cannot be expected that clover will restore, unassisted, an absolutely exhausted soil. Land must be in a condition to bring fair crops of grain before clover can be sowed upon it to advantage. Afterward, in a judicious rotation, it will improve the soil rapidly. It does this in two ways, by the decay of its large taproot, and by its absorbing ammonia rapidly from the atmosphere. The cheapest manure that we can use, after land has been put into proper condition, is clover seed. At the North clover is a biennial; at the South it lasts for several years, exactly how long the writer does not know. After clover has once fairly gone to seed at the South, if a short rotation is adopted, it will not be necessary to sow it again. For instance, in the following rotations: First, cotton or corn; second, oats; third, wheat; greatly reduced prices to close up for Fall Goods. the clover will spring spontaneously among the wheat. The ground should remain two years in clover and the rotation then be repeated. Land thus treated will improve steadily and even rapidly, without further expenditure for manure.

In view of these varied uses, the successful cultivation of red clover is an object of the greatest importance to the people of the South.

Wheat Experiment.

Col. Robert Beverly, one of the most successful farmers in Virginia, reports, through the Southern Planter, the result of wheat experiments the present year as follows:

"I deem it my duty, for the benefit of the agricultural interest in Virginia, to state the result of experiments, and, for the benefit of wheat growers, I state the result of my harvest, the wheat being just threshed. I put in (all with the drill) 270 acres on my home and one adjoining farm. Of that 100 acres was corn land, and the balance, 170 Goods selected especially for retailing, can suit the purchaser. WALTER BREM, Agent. low. I sowed one bushel of wheat to the acre, all Fultz variety; with it I put to the acre 300 pounds raw bone, finely ground, and sixty pounds "Sea Fowl," making 360 pounds raw bone fertilizer, and the result was 7,020 bushels of wheat, or twenty-six bushels to the acre. For the number of acres it is the best result I ever had. This wheat was seeded with the drills between the 25th of September and the 25th of October."

Col. Beverly believes thoroughly in the value of the pea as a fertilizer, and says that with a pea or clover fallow and 300 pounds of raw bone, the yield of wheat can be brought up as high as thirty-five bushels

New Fields for Fnterprise.

There is not an equal area of territory on the inhabitable globe that possesses such a splendid combination of natural advantages as that known on the map as North Carolina. Numerous, varied, and important as are those which have been evolved in the past, yet there are developments awaiting the aggressive and progressive enterprise of the future, that will demonstrate more clearly her vast capabilities. New crops and new enterprises will be tried and will succeed. Silk culture, being admirably adapted to our climate and soil and to a large class of our population, whose employment (if at all employed) adds nothing comparatively to the general wealth of the State, must sooner or later engage the attention of our people. Jute, one of the most important crops of the world, it is now ascertained can be grown as well in our Eastern counties as in India. The native home of the grape, North Carolina should become the Burgundy of America. With seasons, soil, and climate that brings almost every variety of fruits and vegetables to their greatest perfection, we should have in our midst canning establishments that would send Seed .- The use of clover is extending so their goods to all parts of the world; vari- call in person on rapidly at the South, that it is quite time ous branches of manufacturing, especially that we raise our own seed. The crop of 1875-'76, at the same rate, was worth about $22,500,000.

To Pickle Green Tomatoes.—Slice one peck of green tomatoes, pickle them with salt and let them drain. Take one gallon of vinegar; six tablespoons of whole cloves; four of allspice; one of salt; one of mace, and one of cavenne pepper. Boil the vinegar and spices ten minutes. Put in the tomatoes and boil all together fifteen minutes longer. When cold, put in jars and cover tight. There is no nicer pickle.

The roller gin is spoken of as saving one per cent more lint than the saw gin, and in being superior in not tearing the staple. The Columbia Register says if the whole advantage of roller ginning amounts to $1.20 per bale of 500 pounds, it means not less than $6,000,000 a year to the cotton States, which had better be saved than wasted.

How Watches are Made.

It will be apparent to any one, who will examine SOLID GOLD WATCH, that aside from the necessary thickness for engraving and polishing, a large proportion of the precious metal used, is needed only to stiffen and hold the engraved portions in place, and supply the necessary solodity and strength. The surplus gold is actually needless so far as utility and beauty are concerned. In JAMES Boss' PATENT GOLD WATCH CASES, this waste of precious metal is overcome, and the same solodity and strength produced at from one-third to one-half of the usual cost of solid cases. This process is of the most simple nature, as follows: a plate of nickle composition metal, specially adapted to the purpose, has two plates of solid gold soldered one on each side. The three are then passed between polished steel rollers, and the result is a strip of heavy plated composition, from which the cases, backs, centres, bezels, &c., are cut and shaped by suitables dies and formers. The gold in these cases is sufficiently thick to admit of all kinds of chasing, engraving and enamelling; the engraved cases have been carried until worn perfectly smooth by time and use without removing the gold.

This is the only Case made with two plates of Solid Gold and Warranted by Special Certificate. For sale by all Jewelers. Ask for Illustrated Catalogue, and to see warrant.

Referring to the above notice of change, I feel confident that it will be advantageous to purchasers of Machinery of all kinds, as it places me in position to meet any and all competition. With my facilities on the spot, I can manufacture all parts of the Erie Engines which will not bear freight charges-such as Grate Bars, Stacks, Spark Arresters, &c., and handle the Erie City Engines and Boilers with little extra expense, thus enabling me to offer Machinery at better figures to the purchaser than ever before.

Be sure to give me a call, or write for Circulars, before purchasing elsewhere.
