

POETRY.

[From the Churchman.]

LINES, By Miss Lucy Hooper. It is related in the memoirs of Mrs. Isabella Graham, that being once absent from the city, her daughter Mrs. B. was surprised at the number of persons unknown to her who inquired after her mother; she asked them if they knew Mrs. Graham, to which they answered, we live in the lanes and suburbs of the city, and she has often visited and relieved us, and it was our custom to come to our doors and bless her as she passed.

Daughter of faith, and was it thine, So rich a dower to gain, As blessings on thy silent way From lips of care and pain? Thus didst thou walk on earth, who now Art with the angel train!

While in thy Saviour's work below, Thy willing footsteps moved, Till want looked up and sorrow smiled, To greet thy form, beloved, Seeking no need of earthly praise Alone by God approved.

From narrow lanes and lonely streets Did grateful offerings rise, As silently 'twas thine to pass In charity's blessed guise; While thrilling hearts called down on thee The treasures of the skies?

Daughter of faith! by care untouch'd In pleasure's stately hall, Full many a younger form was found Whistling, forsaking all Earth's joys, didst walk the silent streets Alive to sorrow's call!

Daughter of faith! no costly pearls, No broder'd robes were thine; The orphan's prayers, the widow's tears Those gems which purely shine Unto the eye of God alone, Were all thy jewels fine!

Blessings upon thy sainted name, Daughter of faith! 'twas meet, That whisper'd voice and lowly lip Should breathe thy praises sweet, And with the incense of the soul, Thy welcome footsteps greet.

Oh, true disciple! earthly robe, 'Tis thine to wear no more, But clad in raiment pure and white Thy Saviour's throne before; Dost thou not meet that Saviour's smile Who bleed'st his suffering poor? Brooklyn, December 12, 1838.

The following beautiful lines are from the pen of Henry Vaughan, an eminent physician in England, who died in 1695: SABBATH DAYS. Types of eternal rest—fair buds of bliss, In heavenly flowers unfolding week by week— The next world's gladness, imaged forth in this— Days of whose worth the christian's heart can speak.

Eternity in time—the steps by which We climb to future ages—lamps that light Man through his darker days, and thought enrich, Yielding redemption for the week's dull flight.

Wakeners of prayer in man, his resting bowers, As on his journey in the narrow way, Where, Eden-like, Jehovah's waking hours Are waited for as in the cool of day.

Days fixed by God for intercourse with dust; To raise our thoughts and purify our powers— Period appointed to renew our trust— A gleam of glory after six days' showers!

Foretastes of heaven on earth—pledges of joy, Surpassing fancy's flights, and fiction's story— The preludes of a peace that cannot cloy, And the bright out-courts of immortal glory!

DISCOVERY OF MUMMIES AT DURANGO, Mexico. A million of Mummies, it is stated, have lately been discovered in the environs of Durango, in Mexico. They are in a sitting posture, but have the same wrappings, bands and ornaments of the Egyptian. Among them was found a pouquard of flint, with a sculptured handle, chaplets, necklaces, &c. of alternately colored beads, fragments of bones polished like ivory, fine worked elastic tissues, [probably our modern India rubber cloth,] mockskins worked like those of our Indians of to-day, bones of vipers, &c. It remains to continue these interesting researches, and America will become another Egypt to antiquarians, and her ruins will go back to the oldest periods of the world, showing doubtless that the ancestors of Montezuma lived on the Nile, and that their luxurious civilization was broken up and overpowered by the hardy hordes of Asiatic Tartars who came down from Behring Straits and the Rocky Mountains. The scenes of Attila and Alaric in Rome and Greece, we rehearsed at an earlier day on the shores of California and plains of Mexico. It is unknown of the mummies above mentioned, what kind of embalment was used, or whether it was nitrous dispositions in the caves where they were found. A fact of importance is stated: that the shells of the necklace are of a marine shell, found at Zacatecas, on the Pacific, where the Columbus of their forefathers probably landed from the Malay, Hindostan or Chinese coasts, or from their island in the Indian ocean.

The porter of a Dublin grocer was brought by his master before a magistrate on a charge of stealing chocolate, which he could not deny. Upon being asked to whom he sold it, the pride of Patrick was greatly wounded. "To whom did I sell it?" says Pat, "why, does he think I took it to sell?" "Then, sir," said the magistrate, "what did you do with it?" "Do with it," says he, "since you must know, we made lay of it."

A PRENTICE wanted at the office of the North Carolinian. feb 23.

IMPORTED FLATTERER; (Winner of the Grand Duke Michael Stakes, at New Market, England, first October Meeting of 1834.)—Having undertaken the management of this splendid English Race Horse, he will make the ensuing Season under my direction, at my Stable in the Town of Fayetteville, and will be let to mares at $50 the Season, $75 to insure, and fifty cents to the Groom. The Season commences on the 1st of March and end 1st July. Extensive and excellent pasturage provided for mares, and separate lots for such as may have young foals, and mares well fed with grain for thirty cents per day. Every care will be taken to guard against accidents, but no responsibility will be assumed for any that may occur, nor for escapes. The Season money will be due and payable when the mares are taken away. PEDIGREE.

FLATTERER was got by Muley, (son of Orville and the famous mare Eleanor), his dam, Clare, (bred by Lord Egremont in 1824) was got by Marmion, grand dam Harpalee by Gohanna, great grand dam Amazon by Driver—Fractious by Mercury—Woodpecker mare—Everlasting by Eclipse—Hyena by Snap—Miss Belsea by Regulus—Honeywood's Arabian—Byerly Turk mare, dam of the two True Blues.

The sire of Flatterer, was the best bred son of Orville, who was a winner of the St. Leger, and a most capital Stallion, having covered at as high as 52l. Orville is not only the most fashionable, but is also considered the best stock in England. Orville is the sire of Emilus, covering at 50 sovereigns, and, through him, imp. Priam, covering in this country at $150—of Plenip, covering at 25 sovs. (all three winners of the Derby)—Oxygen, winner of the Oaks—imp. Sarpeden—imp. Merman—imp. Trachy, &c. Muley is also Muley Moloch—imp. Lanthorn—imp. Margrave, &c. Muley is out of Eleanor, the best bred mare of her day, who won both the Derby and the Oaks, and who is the only nag that has accomplished that great feat. Eleanor (by Whiskey, that famous getter of the stout sort, out of that splendid brood mare Young Giantess by Diomed), is the grand dam of imp. Lutzborough, and is full sister to Julia, dam of imp. Priam—and half sister to Walton filly, dam of Langar, all distinguished runners.

Flatterer, was out of Harpalee by Gohanna, the best four mile horse of his day, and as a Stallion equal to any of his age. Harpalee, g. d. of Flatterer, was bred by the Earl of Egremont, [who has bred a greater number of game horses than any other turf-man in England during the last forty years,] and was got by Gohanna, her dam by Herod, she was the dam of Precipitate, out of Maiden by Matchem, from Mr. Pratt's old Squire mare, Mercury, sire of Gohanna, was got by the invincible Eclipse, out of Mr. O'Kelly's old Tartar mare, g. d. Amazon, by Driver. This mare, herself, was the only instance where two colts from the same mare have won that great race. The whole pedigree of Harpalee presents a long list of splendid racers. From this same maternal line was descended the famous English Stallion Tramp, whose dam was got by Gohanna, and almost full sister to Harpalee. Harpalee's old Medley traces to the same source; Chateau Margaux and Cetus, both imported, and among the best of the same blood as the g. d. Harpalee, with much of the same power, large bone, the exception of one cross, has precisely the same pedigree. Mr. Pratt's old Squire mare; Sir C. Bannery's Young Giantess, and Mr. O'Kelly's old Tartar mare, to whom Flatterer is closely allied by blood, with the Duke of Grafton's Prunella, are regarded by the best sportsmen and breeders as the best mares in England.

FLATTERER, like his sire Muley, who was said to be the largest boned thorough-bred in the Kingdom, and to be equal to 20 stone, (28 lbs) is a most powerful, large boned, large hands high, of immense power, large bone, great substance, good action, long stride, sound constitution, and excellent temper. His colour is a fine brown, without white. It will be seen that his pedigree runs back to the famous old English Eclipse, in an extremely short, and as rich a line as could be desired.

The extraordinary performances of the three year old filly Vastly, by Flatterer's half brother Levathan, of Tennessee, at the Raleigh and other courses in this State last Fall, and of many others of that horse's get, at the South and West, recommend his Stock to the favorable attention of breeders. Flatterer has proved a very sure horse. SAMUEL MIMS. March 2, 1839. 1-t

NEW GOODS.—A general assortment of fancy and staple goods, 10 pieces of Muslin de Laine 3 pieces Satin Vanbuliers, (a new article) Merino Demaskine French and English Merinos Circassian, Pannes, and Edgings Worked Collars, Bond Nett, &c. etc. ONE THOUSAND SHOES, (assorted) Cutlery and Hardware, (general assortment.) Pittsburgh Academy. THE Trustees of this Institution having procured the services of a very competent and experienced Teacher, Mr. J. M. Lovejoy, beg leave to recommend it to the notice of parents and guardians. Mr. Lovejoy has had charge of this school for the last eight months, with about thirty boys under his tuition; and the Trustees and parents express universal gratification at the skillful and successful management of that gentleman as a teacher. Boys are prepared for College at cheap rates, under the most approved discipline and strict attention to their morals, and general department.

The location is perfectly healthy, and board can be obtained at 10 dollars per month in respectable families. Terms of tuition for students in the classics, per session, commencing the 14th January, 1839, 18 dollars; for all other students, 15 dollars. By order of the board. M. Q. WADDELL, Secretary. mar 2-1t

The North Carolina Justice. We regret exceedingly that the appearance of this work has necessarily been so long delayed; and we again assure the public that every exertion has been used to complete it by the time it was expected. The plan of the work, since it was first advertised, has been so improved as to cost many times the quantity of labor than it was to be procured, which could not be brought on till the late rains had swelled the waters. We have no hesitation in assuring our patrons and the public, that the printing and binding will be completed at Raleigh, and the Book ready for delivery, just as soon as practicable.

Viewing the English language as the noble heritage and common birthright of all who speak the tongue of Milton and Shakespeare, it will be the uniform object of its conductors to present only the finest productions in the various branches of literature that can be procured, and diffuse the benefit of correct models of taste and worthy execution.

In this department the exclusiveness of party, which is inseparable from the political department of such a work will have no place. Here we all stand on a neutral ground of equality and reciprocity, where those universal principles of taste to which we are all alike subject will alone be recognised as the common law. Our political principles cannot be compromised, but our common literature it will be our common pride to cherish and extend, with a liberality of feeling unbiassed by partial or minor views.

As the United States Magazine is founded on the broadest basis which the means and influence of the Democratic party in the United States can present, it is intended to render it, in every respect, a thorough NATIONAL WORK, not merely designed for ephemeral interest and attraction, but to continue of permanent historical value. With this view a considerable portion of each number will be appropriated to the following subjects, in addition to the general features referred to above: A general summary of Political and Domestic Intelligence, digested in the order of the State comprising all the authentic important facts of the preceding month. General Literary Intelligence, Domestic and Foreign. General Scientific Intelligence, including Agricultural Improvements, a notice of all new Patents, &c. A condensed account of all new works of Internal Improvement throughout the Union, preceded by a general view of all now in operation or in progress. Military and Naval News, Promotions, Changes, Movements, &c. Foreign Intelligence. Biographical obituary notices of distinguished persons.

After the close of each session of Congress, or extra or an enlarged number will be published, containing a general review and history of its proceedings, a condensed abstract of important official documents, and the Acts of the session. Advantage will also be taken of the means concentrated in this establishment from all quarters of the Union, to collect and digest such extensive statistical observations on all the most important interests of the country as cannot fail to prove of very great value.

PROSPECTUS Of "The North-Carolinian." The subscriber, having this day purchased of the proprietors, the press and types of the "North Carolina Journal," begs leave to announce to the public, that he intends, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, to commence the weekly publication of a paper at this place, under the above title.

Fully sensible of the importance of newspaper publications to the community at large, and of the corresponding responsibilities of editors, the editor of the "North Carolinian" only here promises its readers, his industrious efforts and persevering application, to make the paper a useful channel of correct intelligence, upon all subjects of public interest, falling within the range of his limited experience, observation and research.

The columns of the North Carolinian will be freely devoted to the hearty, but temperate and candid support of the measures of the present administration of the general government, on the ground that the editor believes the principles upon which they are founded, to be the same which have always governed the great body of the Democratic Republicans of the country, as contradistinguished from the Federal or National Republicans, who mainly constitute and give character to the opposition party, or self-styled Whigs.

It shall be an object of paramount consideration in publishing this paper, to draw public attention to, and concentrate public opinion more zealously upon, the peculiar interests of North Carolina as an independent State; by often presenting to the reader's observation the State's most prominent claims to distinction and rank among her sister States; by anxiously co-operating with every effort that shall be made for the full development of her vast and yet unemployed resources; and by every other means, endeavoring to excite and keep alive a manly spirit of State pride, (too prone to be extinguished or kept cold by party bickerings about federal politics.)

As almost every man in the State is to a greater or less extent a farmer, the editor will seek diligently to make his paper profitable to the agriculturist by frequent and copious extracts from approved books and periodicals, upon the subject of farming. The periodical press has been of late, so much enlarged in its circulation, and so much improved in the department of news and taste, that the editor would feel he did injustice to the consequently enlightened state of public opinion, feeling and intelligence, if he did not here promise earnestly to lend the aid of his humble capacity, in the general diffusion of literary subjects, through the channel of his paper.

Should the partiality and kindness of the subscriber's friends enlarge the subscriptions so as to justify it, he will discontinue his practice as an attorney in the courts, and devote his time exclusively to his duties as an editor. H. L. HOLMES. February 1, 1839.

TERMS.—The price of publication will be, Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum, if paid in advance; Three Dollars if paid at the end of six months; or Three Dollars and Fifty Cents at the expiration of the year. "The North-Carolinian" PRINTING OFFICE.

THE subscriber having purchased the Journal establishment, and made considerable additions to it, is prepared to execute in a neat and expeditious manner, BOOK, PAMPHLET AND JOB PRINTING. He will keep on hand, a general assortment of B L A N K S, of the most approved forms, for Clerks of Courts, Sheriffs, Constables, &c. &c. His prices are regulated by those adopted at the Editorial Convention, held at Raleigh. Hand Bills on medium, royal or super royal quarto, for 30 copies, $2 50, for 50 copies $3, and $1 for every additional 100 copies. Horse Bills—for a small one, 50 copies, $3 00. Larger ones in proportion to the size and number printed. Large Cards, a single pack, $3, and $1 25 for every additional pack. Small Cards, a single pack $2, and $1 for every additional pack.

Kept constantly on hand for sale at 75 cents per copy, and printed to special order, a single quire $2, for every additional quire under five, $1; exceeding five quires, 75 cents per quire. H. L. HOLMES.

OF THE UNITED STATES MAGAZINE AND DEMOCRATIC REVIEW, published at Washington, District of Columbia, and delivered simultaneously in the principle cities of the United States. This work is devoted to the principles of the Democratic party, and is long been apparent to many of the reflecting members of the democratic party of the United States, that a periodical for the advocacy and diffusion of their political principles, similar to those in such active and influential operation in England, is a desideratum, when it was very important to supply—a periodical which should unite with the attractions of a sound and vigorous literature, a political character capable of giving efficient support to the doctrines and measures of that party, now so generally and by a large majority of the people—Discussing the great questions of policy before the country, expounding and advocating the Democratic doctrine thro' the most able pen that that party can furnish, in articles of greater length, more condensed force, more elaborate research, and more elevated tone than is possible for the newspaper press, a Magazine of this character becomes an instrument of inappreciable value for the enlightening and formation of public opinion, and for the support of the principles which it advocates. By these means, by this explanation and denunciation of the measures of the great Democratic party, and by always furnishing to the public a clear and powerful commentary upon those complex questions of policy and party which so frequently distract the country, and upon which, imperceptibly understood as they often are by friends, and misunderstood and distorted as they never fail to be by political opponents, it is of the utmost importance that the public should be fully and rightly informed, it is hoped that the periodical in question may be made to exert a beneficial, rational, and lasting influence on the public mind.

Other considerations, which cannot be too highly appreciated, will render the establishment and success of the proposed Magazine of very great importance. In the mighty struggle of antagonist principles which is now going on in society, the democratic Party of the United States stands committed to the World as the depository and exponent of those cardinal doctrines of political faith with which the cause of the People in every age and country is identified. Chiefly from the want of a convenient means of concentrating the intellectual energies of its disciples, this party has hitherto been almost wholly unrepresented in the republic of letters, while the view and policy of its opposing creeds are daily advocated by the ablest and most commanding efforts of genius and learning.

In the United States Magazine the attempt will be made to remove this representation to the commencement of such an undertaking. The Democratic body of the Union, being a conflict which tested to the uttermost its stability and its principles, have succeeded in retaining possession of the executive administration of the country. In the consequent comparative repose from political strife, the period is auspicious for organizing and calling to its aid a new and powerful ally of this character, interfering with none and co-operating with all.

Co-ordinate with this main design of The United States Magazine, no care nor cost will be spared to render it, in a literary point of view, honorable to the country, and fit to cope in vigor of rivalry with its European competitors.

Each of these works is complete in itself, but it is desirable for there should be any ambiguity in the synopsis of the above works will be sent for $5, twelve copies for $10, and a proportionate number of copies for a larger sum. Payments may be transmitted by mail, post paid, at our risk. The notes of any incorporated bank in the United States, current in the section of country where a subscriber resides, will be received. But when subscribers can procure the notes of banks in the Northern and Middle States, they will please send them to insure all the numbers, the subscription should be here by the 11th of December next. The Democratic papers with which we exchange, will please give this prospectus a less insertion.

No attention will be paid to any order, unless the money accompany it, or unless some responsible person, known to us to be so, shall agree to pay for it before the session expires. BLAIR & RIVES. Washington City, Oct. 24, 1838.

CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE, AND APPENDIX.—These works have been published monthly, than any other paper published in the United States; certainly more than there are for any other paper published in the District. This large and increasing subscription is conclusive evidence of their usefulness. They are invaluable to all who feel an interest in the proceedings of Congress. No other publication gives them so full, nor so cheap. It is, indeed, the cheapest publication in the United States—perhaps in the world. Our position at the seat of Government enables us to print them at so low a rate. We are compelled to publish the proceedings of Congress in detail for our daily paper. This done, it requires comparatively but a small additional expense to change them to the forms of the Congressional Globe and Appendix. If it were not for these circumstances, we could not publish them for four times the sum charged.
