IN OAKWOOD CEMETERY.

The Remains of Col. L. L. Polk Laid to Rest.

The remains of Col. L. L. Polk, on a special car tendered by the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, arrived in this city from Washington Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, accompanied by Mrs. Polk, his son-in-law Denmark and Senators Peffer, of Kansas, and Irby, of South Carolina; Congressmen S. B. Alexander, and W. A. B. Branch, of North Carolina; W. A. McKegan, O. M. Kem, and J. G. Otis, of Kansas; C. S. Moses, of Georgia; E. T. Stackhouse, of South Carolina; also Dr. C. W. Macune, editor National Economist, J. H. Turner, Secretary National Alliance; J. F. Tillman, W. A. Baker, W. F. Gwynne, J. A. Albrighton, Hugh Smith and Dr. W. C. Murphy, Mrs. Jerry Simpson, Mrs. J. G. Otis, Mrs. W. A. Baker, Mrs. Ben Terrell, Mrs. J. A. Albrighton, Mrs. N. A. Dunning and Miss B. A. Dwyer.

The funeral party was met at Greensboro by Mr. Worth, of the Alliance Business Agency, and other friends of the deceased, and at the depot in Raleigh by hundreds of ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, all anxious to pay respect to a Raleigh citizen—prominent in Church and State. The funeral procession was formed with Dr. A. J. Dalby, W. J. Peelle, G. L. Allen, Col. J. M. Heck, N. B. Broughton, J. E. Ray, C. E. King, Dr. G. W. Sanderlin, W. T. Barnes and S. O. Wilson, local pall-bearers, and was one of the largest ever seen in Raleigh. The remains were carried immediately to the First Baptist church, where Dr. Carter, the pastor, preached the funeral sermon. Col. Polk was a member of this church, as are most of his immediate relatives, and was at one time President of the North Carolina Baptist convention. The interment took place at Oakwood cemetery in the family burying ground, and the Washington party left on the 6:15 train, returning to that city.

At the church the casket was opened and the remains viewed by hundreds of acquaintances and friends. He was a man of able build and handsome personal appearance and was natural in death. A suitable shaft will be raised over his grave and the initial steps were taken yesterday.

At a meeting of a number of friends of the late Col. L. L. Polk, held in Raleigh, June 13th, it was determined to call a public meeting to be held in Metropolitan Hall Raleigh, June 23d, at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Polk Memorial Association, looking to the erection of a suitable monument to his memory. To this end, the undersigned, a committee appointed by said meeting, cordially invite the co-operation of those interested in this State and throughout the country, Marion Butler, E. McK. Goodwin, N. B. Broughton, A. J. Dalby, S. O. Wilson, W. J. Peelle, J. J. Thomas, committee.—Raleigh Chronicle.

A BIT OF RECIPROCITY.

Some speculative genius has been calculating as to which thinks the most of each other, Blaine or Harrison?

As a basis of the problem, he has been figuring on the recent letters of the two distinguished gentlemen, trying honestly to ferret out some estimate from their late laconic correspondence.

The letter of resignation addressed by Mr. Blaine to President Harrison contained eighty words, including date, heading, address and signature. Mr. Harrison's reply contained only sixty-seven words, all told, making a difference of thirteen words between the two communications.

But after all, even a chirographist could not tell the quantum of affection that then existed between the President and his Premier. There may be significance in the curtness of the letters, but it does not follow as a matter of course, that Harrison hates Blaine more than Blaine—or Tom Platt, for parenthetically—hates Harrison.

It is brief and pithy enough to be reproduced in full:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, June 4, '92, 12.45 p. m.
To the President:—

I respectfully beg leave to submit my resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States, to which I was appointed by you on the 5th of March, 1889. The condition of public business in the Department of State justifies me in requesting that my resignation may be accepted immediately. I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

JAMES G. BLAINE.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, June 4, 1892.

To the Secretary of State:—

Your letter of this date tendering your resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States has been received. The terms in which you state your desires are such as to leave me no choice but to accede to your wishes at once. Your resignation is therefore accepted. Very respectfully yours,
BENJAMIN HARRISON.
HON. JAMES G. BLAINE.

The Great Floods.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—The river this morning reached the highest point known here for the past forty-five years, and in consequence New Orleans is to-day, literally speaking, an island. Cravasse, above, crevasses below, the raging river in front, and the rapidly rising lake Pontchartrain in the rear, has hemmed the city in and traffic on three roads has been suspended. Last night at midnight the gauge read 18 feet above high water mark. People who knew well what this rise meant hoped that by morning there would be a decline, but when day break came and the gauge was scanned old timers were staggered when they read 18 2/10. At six o'clock the first break was reported. It happened at Belmont place, about twenty miles above the city, on the Mississippi Valley road, 75 feet of the levee gave way at one clip and the water within an hour's time had dug a channel twelve feet deep. The Valley tracks were quickly under two feet of water and all traffic was stopped. Following closely the reports from Belmont, came the news of three breaks eleven miles below the city, all within one mile of each other. The first break occurred at Stoneys, near where a crevasse occurred a month ago, but now closed. It started at a fifty foot rate, but widened so rapidly that by noon it was one hundred feet wide and ten feet deep and still breaking. The second break was at Villere plantation, a half mile away. Fifty feet was its width. Two hours afterwards the levee gave way. The third break is at the Merrick place, a mile below Villere, it is only twenty feet wide and hopes are entertained of closing it. The three crevasses have tied up the Southern railroad which runs from the city to the gulf. Hardly had the engineers recovered from this disastrous news when a telephone message was received from Waggaman thirteen miles up on the other side of the river stating that the entire levee at that point several hundred yards in length had toppled into the rushing waters. The Texas & Pacific trains are just behind the levee, and the swish of the water washed the tracks up for a considerable distance. The Texas & Pacific people have shut down on traffic. The last break to occur was at the Surry prospect plantation, on the Valley road, a few miles below Belmont. It is twenty-five feet deep and five feet wide, and will assist in widening the Belmont break and also worry the Valley officials. All these crevasses, following so closely on each other, has occasioned considerable alarm through the city. The levees that protect New Orleans are good and strong so far, but the greatest anxiety is being felt on account of the June rise that is on the way down.

A Note Of Warning.

TO THE PUBLIC.

AS A MATTER OF JUSTICE TO ourselves and to the reputation of Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Double Chloride of Gold Remedies for the cure of the Liquor, Opium, Morphine and Tobacco Diseases, and Neurasthenia, we warn the public that these remedies are used by a institution or sanitarium in the United States, except those established by our company under the uniform name of "THE KEELEY INSTITUTE." All others claiming to use our remedies are frauds and impostors.

We have now sixty Keeley Institutes established in various parts of the United States, where the Keeley Treatment is administered, and the Keeley remedies sold. We, however, caution all to examine well and know that they are dealing with GENUINE REPRESENTATIVES, authorized by us, before taking treatment or purchasing remedies.

The fraudulent establishments use the name of "Bi-Chloride of Gold" or similar titles. The newspapers do not discriminate sufficiently to know that they are imitators, and so put down all accidents occurring at such establishments as being brought about by the Keeley Treatment. This is a matter of much concern to us, and hence this warning.

Respectfully Yours,

The Leslie E. Keeley Co.

Atlanta, Ga., June 21,

My six-year-old son has had a terrible sloughing scrofula ulcer of the neck for three years, attended with blindness; loss of hair, great emaciation, and general prostration.

Physicians and various blood remedies were resorted to without benefit. The New Atlanta Medical College treated him for three months, but his condition grew worse.

I was urged to try the efficacy of B. B. B., and to the astonishment of myself, friends and neighbors, one single bottle effected an entire cure.

Ulcers of the neck entirely healed; eyesight restored, and the hair commenced growing on his head. I live at 243 Jones street, Atlanta, and my boy is there to be seen.
