OUR LOCAL OPTIC.

Goldsboro and Vicinity History in Brief.
Epitome of Sayings and Doings, Wise and Otherwise, Run Down and Run in by Ourselves Ubiquitous, Local
"Grand Rounds."

Miss Emma Faison has returned from a visit to her parents in Sampson county.

The Snow Hill folks say they are going to have a railroad this time, "and don't you forget it."

Miss Addie Paris, who has been on a brief visit here, has returned to her home at La Grange.

A number of wells are being bored by our citizens, and in nearly every instance they succeed in getting good water—water that is pure and cold.

Sweet potatoes are getting abundant. There are some very fine yams on the market. They sell at 65 cents per bushels from the carts.

The white men of Wayne county are aroused as never before. The quiet determination on the faces of the throng on the streets Saturday spoke volumes.

It is now stated on good authority that the First Regiment of N. C.
Volunteers, to which the Goldsboro Rifles belong, will be ordered to Cuba about the 1st of October.

The farmers are about done curing tobacco, and they no doubt feel relieved. It is very hard work and requires a great deal of expense. The tobacco is bringing good prices, however, and our country friends are encouraged.

To day a small farmer, who owns a small piece of land and runs one plow, told us that he has sold from his little orchard this season $43.95 worth of fruit.
In addition to what he has sold, he has had fruit in abundance at home.

The summer vacation will soon be over, and the graded school children are already counting the days before the opening. Not all of them are longing for the day. A few of them by hard persuation on the part of parents might possibly be induced to remain out of school the coming season.

The Wayne county Democratic convention has performed its work. Now let every white man in the good old county of Wayne rally to the support of every man on the ticket. The Democratic party stands for good government—white rule. White men are going to govern this country.

Justice D. J. Broadhurst presided at a trial last Friday from Pikeville in which Mr. W. T.
Dortch represented the defendant and Mr. D. M. Hardy the plaintiff. Mr. Ed Ham, the policeman of Pikeville, was bound over to court for striking Mr. John Joyner several times with a "billy" in arresting him.

The theatrical people are beginning to arrange to hold the boards in the towns and cities of the State, but as yet there are no tidings of the circus. In a short time, when the fields grow white with cotton, the show folks will come along with flaming pictures of lions and tigers and elephants and snakes, and the children and a few, yes, a very few grown people will rejoice that the circus is coming.

The people of Goldsboro and surrounding section will learn with pleasure that Messrs. B. H.
& C. B. Hatch, the popular excursion managers, will run their last excursion this season from Goldsboro to Wilmington, Southport and out to sea Wednesday, September 7th. It is an opportunity to visit the above named places that will, perhaps, not be presented again until next summer. These gentlemen have made for themselves an enviable reputation as excursion managers which they will fully sustain on the coming trip.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

HELD IN THE OPERA HOUSE IN THIS CITY.

A Splendid Ticket Nominated.

It Was a Great Democratic Gathering—Absolute Harmony and Thrilling Enthusiasm Prevailed.

The county Democratic Convention met last Saturday in the Messenger Opera House. The convention was called to order by Hon. W. R. Allen, chairman of the county executive committee, and members of the Democratic press were invited to act as secretaries. The temporary organization was made permanent.

The large opera house was full of Democrats from every precinct in the county. The slogan of the convention was the best men for the various offices, and white rule in North Carolina. It was one of the largest Democratic conventions ever held in the county, and a splendid ticket was nominated.
There were a great many candidates for the nominations, and we can say with pride that every man put in nomination was fully capable to fill the position for which he was nominated.

The very best of feeling prevailed, and the convention adjourned with the satisfaction of duty well done. The ticket will be elected by a large majority.
The following nominations were made in the order they appear.

- Sheriff—B. F. Scott.
- Register—G. C. Kornegay.
- Clerk—I. F. Ormond.
- Treasurer—E. B. Hood.
- Surveyor—G. W. Thornton.
- Coroner—Dr. Thos. Hill.
- Senate—F. A. Daniels.
- House—W. R. Allen.
- House—J. M. Wood.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

In recognition of his distinguished service to the people as the only Democratic member of the Board for the past two years, Mr. E. A. Stevens was unanimously, by acclamation, renominated, and the convention then elected as his running mates the two who will sit with him on the Board for the coming two years after December, Messrs. J. B.
Gardner, of Saulston, and Joe. P.
Smith, of Pikeville.

The nomination of Hon. W. R.
Allen by acclamation for the House was a graceful and deserved compliment.

TAX COLLECTORS.

The convention then ratified the following nominees for tax collectors for the several townships.

- Goldsboro—W. A. Denmark.
- Fork—N. H. Sasser.
- Grantham—David Jeringan.
- Indian Springs—W. D. Adams.
- New Hope—W. D. Adams.
- Saulston—J. B. Smith.
- Great Swamp—Gray Aycock.
- Pikeville—Jno. T. Dees.
- Stoney Creek—Shade D. Pate.
- Brogden—Geo. F. Kornegay.
- Nahunta—J. R. Minshew.

The following delegates to the Senatorial convention, of the district were elected by townships:

- Goldsboro—M. L. Lee.
- Fork—N. H. Gurley.
- Grantham—J. A. Stevens.
- Brogden—Jno. K. Smith.
- Indian Springs—W. B. Whitfield.
- New Hope—A. T. Uzzell.
- Saulston—G. C. Backley.
- Nahunta—B. F. Aycock.
- Great Swamp—B. V. Hooks.
- Pikeville—W. B. Fort.
- Stoney Creek—E. Roberts.

MR. J. B. PARK RETURNS.

At this stage of the convention Mr. Joe. B. Parks, of Saulston, who, up 'till a few years ago, when he strayed off with the Populists, was one of the best workers in the Democratic party, came upon the stage, and the minute he faced that convention, and before he uttered a word, he was greeted with the wildest enthusi-

Think of living a year or two after one is dead! dead to all practical intents and purposes—dead, with the epitaph of death inscribed on brow and cheek and lip. Thousands of women live for a year or two after all helplessness and happiness have gone out of their lives. When a woman becomes hopelessly helpless and unhappy she is practically dead. The young woman to whom the future is a dreary waste, the young wife who is a helpless, nervous, and the mother whose babes are a burden instead of a blessing—all these, unless they take the right measures to recover their health, are better dead than living. In the majority of cases these ghosts of women owe their condition to weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Frequently they have been deceived by the incorrect diagnosis of some obscure physician and do not understand the true nature of their trouble. It only costs a two-cent postage stamp for a woman to write to the discoverer of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the greatest of all known medicines for women. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned in maternity and makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It banishes the dispositions of the anxious period and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It cures all disorders and displacements and checks exhausting drains. "Previous to motherhood my wife was very sick," writes Dr. J. C. Connelly, Esq., of St. Cloud, Wis., "and I bought Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, made her well and strong."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and constipation. Use a dose. They never gripe.

asm; for they all knew why he was there—and it was like "old times" to see him in the house of his fathers.

His speech was brief but earnest. He pledged himself anew to the principles of Democracy and said that the ticket nominated by the convention would receive his hearty and active support. He was greeted on all sides by showers of hand shakes, many old gray-headed men, who had been boys with his venerable and revered Democratic father, pressed forward to welcome him back.

The following Resolution was unanimously adopted:
"Resolved, That the Board of County Commissioners be requested to hereafter publish an itemized account of their expenditures every month."

A stronger ticket has never been put in the field in Wayne county. Its personnel is impressive in character and competency and its distribution throughout all sections of the county is admirable. It means a triumph unprecedented for the county Democracy in November.

A STRONG TICKET.

The Democratic convention of the Eighth Senatorial district met in Newbern last week and nominated Messrs. James A. Bryan, of Craven, and Wm. Suggs, of Greene, by acclamation. A stronger ticket could not have been selected.

The ARGUS knows both these gentlemen, and is especially conversant with the ability, calibre and heroic daring of Mr. Bryan, who is a Democrat without peer in the State, whose service to his party and the people of his home has been constant, laborious, uncompromising and unflagging. A ripe scholar, a graceful, ready speaker, a well-poised statesman, a cultured gentleman he would give to the Old North State some of her pristine glory in the halls of legislation.

Mr. Suggs is one of the most respected men of his county, of will pay one sixteenth, or more, of a cent per pound less for cotton packed in irregular dimensions. One sixteenth would make a difference of 30 cents on a bale.

We urgently advise every ginner to use the standard size press, 24 x 54 inches. We also advise all farmers who have to pay toll to their neighbor for ginning their cotton to urge them to change their presses to the standard size, if not already of the proper dimensions, as the cost of changing them would be a small trifle.

Very respectfully,
BEST & THOMPSON.

"TELL THEM"

What Craven County Is Enduring, and if There is a White Man Who Can Read It and Not Vote to Abolish It Let Him be Forever Marked.

A prominent citizen of News-bern said to me: "Won't you please tell the people of North Carolina the condition of public affairs in Craven county."

"What shall I tell them," I asked this gentleman, and now I am going to tell him draw the outlines of the horrible picture, "Tell them," said he, "that we have twenty-seven ignorant, incompetent and in most instances unprincipled negro magistrates in Craven county."

"Tell them," he continued,
"that we have not a single white deputy sheriff in Craven county, and that we have a sheriff now in office, a candidate for re-election, who boldly and publicly asserts that no white man need apply."

"Tell them that the next representative in the Legislature from Craven county will be a negro man who has been twice tried, convicted and sentenced to terms in the penitentiary before Republican judges."

"Tell them that the next treasurer of Craven county will be a negro bar-room keeper."

"Tell them that the white women of Craven county cannot teach the white children in the public schools until a negro school committee man has had his say in the matter."

"Tell them that a white girl—and God has given them to us as sweet, as pure and as beautiful as ever stood in the twinkle of a star—cannot, even for sweet sentiment sake, obtain a license to marry and have it signed or delivered by one of her race."

"Tell them that white men in Craven county have to work the public roads under negro road overseers."

"Tell them that white men and white women in Craven county are summoned before negro magistrates by negro constables and deputies and frequently prosecuted by negro lawyers."

"Tell them that the city attorney, for the city of Newbern, is a negro."

"Tell them that five of the guardians of the homes and liberties of the people of Newbern are incompetent, ignorant and in most cases insolent and corrupt negroes."

"And tell them for humanity's sake and for the sake of peace, that the white people of Eastern North Carolina cannot, and will not always tolerate these conditions—that endurance will cease to be a virtue, and a reign of terror take the place of a reign of ruin."

"Tell the white men of North Carolina to come to our relief with their ballots, and head of this horrible tendency to completely negroise one of the best sections of the grand old State,"— F. B. Arrendell in Raleigh News & Observer.

Of Interest to Cotton Farmers.

Goldsboro, Aug. 24th, '98.

To whom it may concern:

Most of the public ginners in our section have had their attention called to a standard press for baling cotton. Messrs. Alex Sprunt & Son have written to nearly all the ginners in the State setting forth the advantage of having the cotton presses of a uniform size, 24 inches wide by 54 inches long. Messrs. Sprunt & Son have advised us that they are going to base limits on the standard bale and will pay one sixteenth, or more, of a cent per pound less for cotton packed in irregular dimensions.
One sixteenth would make a difference of 30 cents on a bale.

We urgently advise every gin-
ner to use the standard size press,
their presses to the standard size,
them would be a small trifle.

SATURDAY SERMON.

For Sunday Penance and Every Day Guidance.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.—Psalms, xlii, 1.

The man who looks on the bright side of life even when standing under the shadow of a bitter experience is called an optimist.

The man who always sees the cloud, but never its silver lining, who predicts that there will be lightning, floods, and plagues tomorrow, in spite of the sunshine which floods the earth to-day, is called a pessimist.

Of all people in the world the most irreligious is he who looks at the evils of life so persistently that he cannot recognize any good in it, and of all hurtful habits which characterize mankind the most injurious is the habit of keeping one's eyes open to catch a glimpse of the disagreeable and keeping them shut whenever a moment of good cheer is approaching. Such a habit is demoralizing and spiritually weakening. It seems to be continually assuring us that God's providence has fallen into a sound sleep from which there is no waking.

It is as much a duty to put the hard experiences of life away and to keep in mind its possible enjoyments as it is to be pure hearted or charitable. Never dwell on your misfortunes though they be many, for it will embitter the soul and render it unfit for the work of the future. Brush aside unpleasant memories, so far as lies in your power, and even try to forget them. There is no use in living over again and again the scenes through which you have passed, whether they refer to the evil you have done to others, the evil others have done to you, or unavoidable sufferings which you have borne. God has said that so far as He is related to your mistakes they shall be "buried in the depths of the sea," and if He can forget them for getfulness is one of the virtues which ought to be practised on our part. It is not what you have been in days gone by, nor what you have done which is most important but what you are to be and do in the future.

We can find much that is beautiful in nature and in life if we will but look for it. The which lead a thoughtful mind along a narrow upward path world is to the thoughtful mind a never ending panorama, with its stars, its ocean, its hills and valleys, its crops and its clouds, its flowers and fruits. It is an awe-inspiring mystery, a realm of wonders that must needs rouse the dull soul to worship. The change of a seed into a sapling; the transmutation of a blossom into an apple or cherry; the chemistry by which from the rugged soil color and perfume are extracted—these are miracles of God Himself.

And a human life is full of beauty and mystery, too. The tears you shed and the reasons for shedding them; the laughter that fills the air and the causes which produce it; the slow development of the child into a man; the gradual sunrise of ideas into his soul until the whole is being flooded; the love that draws him to his mate; the home which he two will make when they have found each other; the sorrow that breaks the heart when the old parents or the young child is taken away; the grave, which is as much a part of the home as the rocking chair or the cradle—who can fail to worship the unseen but allseeing God as he contemplates these things?

And add to this the thought, the certainty that there is no death, only departure and temporary separation; that unknown and unmeasured influences are about each one of us; that what we call Heaven is just on the further side of the church yard. You may call that optimism, but it would be better to call it the truth, for truth it is. It brings the cheerfulness of resignation; it stirs the deeper ambitions of the spirit; it takes the various experiences of life, just as the composer takes the various notes of music, and sets them in such relation to each other that a symphony is the result.

JUDGE ADAMS' SPEECH.

He Denounces the White Supremacy Arguments.

Columbus News.

The August term of the supreme court convened in the court house here Monday morning at 11 o'clock, His Honor, Judge Spencer B. Adams, arriving on the morning train from the south.
Solicitor Seawell was present representing the state. Mr. Seawell is the nominee of the populist and republican parties for judge of this district.

His honor's charge to the jury, we will do him the justice to say, was the best (being the only) political speech we ever heard delivered from the bench. We have been reporting court proceedings here for about six years and in that time a number of judges have been here whose political affiliations differed from ours, but we have had no occasion to refer to any of them in uncomplimentary terms. We regret the necessity for doing so now. But when a man clothed with the judicial emine takes advantage of a position on the bench to abuse and to vilify as good people as there are in the state and to mix his partisan rancor with his instructions of the law, we think it our duty as a faithful chronicler of events, to publish the fact.

The first point of his political speech was to pay his respects to folks who "were going up and down the country abusing people about the way they cast their ballots." This came under the head of "intimidating voters," and was evidently intended for the democratic speakers who are now canvassing the state, as neither of the other political parties have begun their canvass yet.

His second political point was in the nature of a defense of the last Legislature, saying that if it had done nothing else but pass the law in regard to embezclement by public officers, administrators, executors, etc., which he was then discussing, it would have been worth all it cost to the state.

He reached the climax, however, when he came to discuss fornication and adultery. He said that "nine times out of ten if you will chase down the fellows who are going about trying to stir up race prejudice you will find them sleeping with a negro woman." When we consider that numbers of as good people as there are in the state are "going about stirring up race prejudice," as he would doubtless call it, his statement becomes a most sweeping vilification, and one which cannot be properly characterized in temperate language. And he said this with a kind of a "remember the Maine" expression on his countenance which seemed to indicate his regret that there was not a law by which democratic speakers and papers could be stopped from telling the people of the foothold which negro supremacy had obtained under the present administration.

And this was not all. Proceeding to the question of rape, he argued to the jury that it was a lesser offense than seduction, because the only difference was, he said, that one was committed by force and the other by fraud. It required some courage for the former. He illustrated his position by saying he had rather his purse was stolen by a highwayman than by deception. We may not be surprised that assaults upon white women by brutes—the lowest crime in the eyes of the law as well as of human depravity—to descend—are so alarmingly on the increase when a judge on the bench attempts to minimize its heinousness and argues to a grand jury that it is less a crime than one for which the most extreme penalty is a term in the penitentiary.

We are informed that Judge Adams never practiced law, and that he was clerk of the court of

"I Plows a Bull Myself."

Raleigh News and Observer.

On one occasion the Democrats nominated for Congress an honorable and able man who in early life had known nothing but poverty. He overcame his early disadvantages and became one of the leading men in the State.
When he was first nominated for Congress, an opponent, or an opponent's fool friend said: "That man isn't fit to go to Congress.
He plowed a bull."

The sneer was widely circulated, and on election day, an old time, mossy back Republican with his numerous sons went up to the polls to vote. He had never been known to scratch a Republican ticket, and the Republican managers gathered around him to help him select his ballots. Much to their surprise he walked up to the most influential Democrat on the grounds and said: "They say that ourn's candidate flung it up that you'n's candidate plowed a bull." The Democrat said that he heard such a report. "Give me a ticket for me and all the boys for you'n's candidate. I plows a bull myself."

After Governor Jarvis and Mr.
Bellamy had spoken at Howellsville some weeks ago, two farmers, who had voted the Populist ticket, made short speeches, renouncing the Populist party and declaring they would stand by the party of "the White Man and the White Metal." This statement was published in all the papers as one of many indications showing that thoughtful farmers who had joined the Populist party to secure reform were refusing to put on Republican uniforms, acting as tools of the office holders to perpetuate negro government.

Replying to these statements one S. A. Edmunds, who draws a salary of about $3,000 a year as clerk of the court of Robeson county, wrote a communication to the Caucasian, and in an attempt to show that Mr. Wilson, one of the converts, amounted to nothing, wrote with a sneer: "He plows an ox and makes a little corn and cotton."
Four years ago Edmunds appeared successfully to such men as Mr. Wilson for their votes, posing as a friend of the toiling farmer, and promised to bring about reforms and reduce salaries. Now, in his prosperity and pride over his fat fees, he stands and gazes contemptuously at the humble farmer who in the heat of the day "PLOWS AN OX AND MAKES A LITTLE CORN AND COT-TON" that he may pay the taxes —doubled by reason of the gold standard's reduction of the price of his "little corn and cotton"— that go to support Edmunds and the other taxpayers. On election day Edmunds and the other Republican-leaguers who are trying to sell out the Populist party to the gold standard and negro rule party to keep their offices, will hear hundreds of humble farmers say, "I plows an ox myself" as they put their ballots in the boxes for men who do not preach silver and then fuse with gold bugs.

For broken surfaces, sores, itsect bites, skin diseases and especially piles, there is one reliable remedy, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. When you call for DeWitt's, don't accept counterfeits or frauds. You will not be disappointed with DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

A woman changes her mind so often that it keeps her busy speaking it.
Truth wears well. People have learned that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are reliable little pills for regulating the bowels, curing constipation and sick headache. They don't gripe.

Be sure you're right, then go ahead, regardless of the road others take.

Railroad Engineer

Testifies to Benefits Received From Dr. Miles' Remedies.

THERE is no more responsible position on earth than that of a railroad engineer. On his steady nerves, clear brain, bright eye and perfect self command, depend the safety of the train and the lives of its passengers. Dr. Miles' Nervine and other remedies are especially adapted to keeping the nerves steady, the brain clear and the mental faculties unimpaired.
