WALTER LETTER.

Chronicling of a Week's Events in That Thriving Neighborhood.

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Tripp spent last Saturday night at Mr. W. H. Neal's.

Mr. and Mrs. Fute Benton, from Princeton, spent last Friday at Mr. Tob. Crocker's.

Mrs. J. H. Caldwell spent Monday at Oak Glen, where she is always given a warm welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Davis, from near Pikeville, spent Saturday night and Sunday visiting relatives near here.

The Sunday School Convention at Ebenezer, last Sunday, was the largest gathering of people that has been seen there in many years. The exercises were entertaining, and those who had the pleasure of attending spent a very pleasant and profitable day. We regret that we were denied the pleasure of being present, so that our report of it could have been more in detail.

Mrs. Will Crawford continues very sick with very little signs of improvement, but we trust soon to see her restored to health.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Becton spent several days last week at the latter's father, Mr. Jack Yelverton, who, we regret to know, is in feeble health.

Fishing the river with handseines will clean out the fish if we do not soon have rains. A great quantity of nice ones were caught last week.

Tobey and a few more of us had been figuring on negotiating with your city for the street sprinkler to run over our crops, but the delightful rain Saturday night has rendered it unnecessary, though it is cool enough for fires and causes cotton to look sick.

Mr. H. D. Wells went up in Johnston last week to Mr. Troy Creech's, to cut the bill of lumber for the cotton oil mill at Pine Level, of which Mr. Creech is a stockholder.

We learn that one of our neighbors has been urged to announce himself as a candidate for sheriff. Well, the more the merrier; but it sometimes happens that it is best for a man who wants office to come before the people to find out how strong he is, and how many true friends he has, and this is one of the best years we have had for such in many. We want to see plenty of candidates, so everybody can choose such as they want.

In fact, we are one of the boys, ourselves, and will announce later, unless bought out.

The township primary was held at Pine Forest last Saturday afternoon, and we learn there was right much interest manifested. We regret not being able to attend.

We borrowed Toby's new trousers to wear to Wilmington last week, but finally gave up our trip on account of unavoidable circumstances. But we could not have used them no way, for when we would try them on, and take up the slack in one place, they fitted too soon in another, and when taken up all over, they were then cut to high water mark, so we have deferred our trip entirely until warmer weather, and crash pants are in evidence, as they adapt themselves to any size, length or other necessity.
