LOOKIGN TO DISBARRING OF ANY UNWORTHY MEMBERS.

Judge McRae Speaks on the Triumph of Equity—The Law as to Deceased Wife's Property.

Asheville, N. C., July 10.—The State Bar Association this morning was called to order by President Busbee. An address was delivered by Judge James McRae, Dean of the State University Law School on "The Triumph of Equity." Judge McRae entertained his audience for more than an hour in this interesting and humorous manner. His remarks elicited much cheering. A history of the early government of the world was entered into, commencing with the old Roman laws. The speaker showed that the old common law was substantially strong enough to meet all requirements, but on account of the weakness in execution stimulant had been brought to bear upon it in form of equity.

Reports of committees were next taken up. The committee on legal legislation and law reform reported a resolution as follows: "Resolved, That it is the opinion of this association that the law of this State pertaining to estate of tenant by courtesy be amended so that the interest of a husband in real property of a deceased wife may be a fixed estate irrespective of the question as to whether there be issue of marriage bond alive."

Thirty out thirty-five States whose statutes have been examined have changed this law as here suggested. Attention was called to the need for a condition of the statutes. It was recommended by the committee that the resolution be passed. The committee on legislation and law reform will earnestly endeavor to secure a codification of the statute laws by next general assembly. Secretary B'ggs' report showed that since last meeting of the association sixty new members had been elected, making a total enrollment of 339 with honorary membership of 21.

A special committee on local associations was appointed and also a committee to draft a bill in accordance with President Busbee's recommendation in his annual report petitioning the general assembly to enact a law creating some authority with power to disbar any member of the bar in North Carolina, who is proven to be unworthy to hold license from the State.

The treasurer's report showed a balance an hand of $500. It was decided that a three days' session be held. This evening at 9 o'clock there was an address by Hon. George Rountree, of Wilmington, on the Supreme Court of the United States.

CAN REST HIS CASE.

Raleigh Post. Senator Simmons' reply to Senator Pritchard, promised yesterday, is given this morning. We think our Senator may well and safely rest his case at the present with the positive denial from Senator Pritchard which the former statement called forth; and the implication at least that no attempt to carry the amendment into court, this year certainly, will be made. We think Senator Simmons' discovery, resulting in Senator Pritchard's reply, has clarified the atmosphere considerably so far as any attempt to revive or force the revival of the race issue is concerned, and we can well leave this branch of the subject for weightier matters now pressing upon public and which are grievous enough of themselves; with the parting assurance that the white people will not be caught napping if any shenanigan is attempted by way of interference with the amendment during this campaign.

A Sustaining Diet.

These are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained; and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic,—say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.

Gentlemen, can secure table board with Mrs. W. K. Stanley at her residence, 208 Ash street, West.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

North Carolina Visitors—The St. Louis Exposition.

Washington, July 9.—Dr. Charles Baskerville, of the university, was in Washington last night returning from Pittsburg, where he attended the annual meeting of the American association for the advancement of science. North Carolina was well represented at this meeting of scientists, the visitors from the State being Dr. F. P. Venable, J. A. Holmes, J. W. Gore, A. S. Wheeler, C. E. Brewer and Prof. Lynne.

Dr. Baskerville was honored with election as president of the chemical section. His selection is a high compliment to the State, for he is probably the youngest president ever chosen. Professor Holmes was selected acting vice president of the geological section.

Mr. Chas. M. Reeves, secretary of the committee on legislation for the St. Louis exposition, who has been in Washington several days, expects to visit North Carolina at an early date and awaken the people of the State to the importance of having creditable representation at the Louisiana purchase exposition. "North Carolina had a splendid exhibit at Charleston," Mr. Reeves remarked, "and I hope to see the State even better represented at St. Louis."

An appropriation will be asked from the Legislature for the purpose of making an exhibit.

Mr. H. C. Pratt, who has held a position in the office of Vice President Gannon, of the Southern, for several years, left today for Raleigh, where he has accepted a position in the office of Vice President Andrews.

VOLCANO STILL ERUPTS.

The Inhabitants of Fort de France Alarmed Again at Mont Pelee's Actions.

Fort de France, July 10.—Dr. Sanderson, Dr. Fleet and an American government stenographer arrived here this morning from St. Pierre. The sloop on which they traveled was covered with ashes and stones the size of walnuts. They were off St. Pierre when the eruption occurred, the mountain omitting clouds of smoke that resembled gigantic cauliflower. Later on an immense black cloud swept over the ruins of St. Pierre. This was followed by an incandescent avalanche which swept down the mountainside and expended its force seaward. The phenomenon was accompanied by vivid electric discharges, while all around ashes and stones were raining.

When the cloud swooped seaward in the direction of the sloop the crew of the vessel cried aloud in fright and the captain prayed for divine assistance. Drs. Anderson and Fleet and the photographer turned to and helped the crew in sailing the sloop along the coast. When morning broke it was seen that everything ashore was again under a pall of ashes, while steam was shooting upward from the mouths of the rivers. The side of the mountain was covered with ashes, boulders and other volcanic material.

PARACHUTE JUMPERS.

From Mount Vernon, Ill., comes an account of the death of a parachute jumper. It is an oft-repeated story. There is something heroic in the risk incurred by Santos Dumont in his aeronautic experiments, endeavoring, as he is, to benefit humanity by making possible the navigation of the air. In the case of the parachute jumper, however, there is not a single element to distinguish it from foolhardiness. For a few dollars he risks his life. His performance adds nothing to the welfare of humanity. The entertainment the spectacle affords is not worth the witnessing. Parachute jumpers, since they persist in taking risks which almost inevitably result in fatal accidents, should be protected against their own folly. Out of mere pity for those who are simple enough to follow parachute jumping as an avocation the public should refuse to patronize that class of exhibition. There are some persons who need protection against themselves and of such is the man who courts death by jumping out of a balloon.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to my nomination by the Democratic Convention of Wayne county. S. J. ROBERTS.

NO SHOW SUNDAY.

St. Louis Exposition Managers Agree to the Government Terms.

Washington, July 9.—The controller of the treasury today rendered a decision holding that under the law of Congress the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company cannot receive any part of the federal appropriation for the exposition until a contract shall have been signed by the directors of the company binding themselves to close the fair Sundays. Secretary Shaw had already informed the exposition company that such a contract would have to be entered into, and this telegram was received at the treasury today from David R. Francis, president of the company:

"Sunday closing resolutions as forwarded by treasury department adopted by board of directors of exposition today. Thirty-eight directors, all who were present, signed the agreement. Additional signatures will be obtained as rapidly as possible."

This means that the majority of the nine-three members of the board will sign the agreement and resolution submitted to comply with the law making the Sunday closing of the exposition a condition upon which the government appropriation will be paid.

STUCK TO HIS POST.

Terrific Ride of Forty Miles With Both Flues of the Engine Blown Out.

Trenton, N. J., July 10.—Frank Krewson, engineer of the New York and Philadelphia express on the Pennsylvania Railroad, tells a thrilling story at the McKinley Hospital tonight of a midnight ride of forty miles with both flues of his engine blown out.

He tottered from his engine at Elizabeth on Sunday night and fell unconscious. He did not regain full consciousness until tonight.

When the first flue blew out near Trenton the division train dispatcher told him to try and bring his train through to Jersey City. Near Elizabeth the second flue blew out, causing a tremendous back draft almost enough to burst open the door of the firebox. Krewson compelled the fireman to leave his post. There were 200 pounds of steam registered and Krewson, bracing his feet against the doors of the firebox, kept his hand on the throttle until the amount of steam had been reduced to forty pounds.

When Elizabeth was reached Krewson staggered from his cab, his feet a mass of burns, and fell in a faint. Oxygen continuously administered to the devoted engineer saved his life. The use of soft coal is said to have been responsible for the accident.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Raleigh Post. Our community was painfully shocked last evening upon receipt of a telegram announcing that Mr. Chas. G. Latta was seriously injured in a street railway accident in New York city yesterday afternoon, and the general anxiety and sorrow was manifested by the earnest and frequent enquiries for the latest bulletins concerning the catastrophe. Mr. Latta left here a few days ago on a business trip, and the news of the accident came as a most painful shock to the entire community. No citizen of Raleigh is held in higher esteem. He has spent the greater part of his life here, and as an active member of the business community, has gone in and out among his fellow citizens daily, growing in the love of his immediate associates and the confidence of all. The dispatches are not encouraging as to the result; we can only pray that Providence may spare him and ward off the terrible affliction which is threatened.

BURNED BY LIGHTNING.

F. and H. Fries Lose Two Hundred Bales of Cotton.

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 10.—Lightning this evening set fire to and burned 200 bales of cotton belonging to F. and H. Fries. The house in which the cotton was stored was also destroyed. One of the men in his efforts to extinguish the flames was badly injured, a bale of cotton falling on him.

WANTED FOR MURDER

Former Resident of Marion Wanted in Oklahoma For Killing His Wife.

Norfolk, Va., July 10.—Charles Frederick Osborne, whose wife, a native of Marion, N. C., was found dead beside him with a bullet wound in her temple several weeks ago and who was tried and acquitted of the charge of murdering her, is much wanted by the police of this city tonight. As was predicted several days ago that Osborne would be rearrested, this was made certain tonight when advices were received from Oklahoma that he was wanted there for killing another wife. No smoother criminal that Osborne has ever faced a judge in a tribunal of justice, if all said about him is true. He is accused of having murdered two men and from present indications it is believed he has murdered two women. The police tonight are on the lookout for him, but up to 1:20 o'clock this morning he has not been found. At his Beruda street boarding house it was said that he had not been in since early this evening.

Nearby cities have been telegraphed to and the police believe they will have their man before many hours.

Prisoners Try to Escape.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 9. James Blade, Leck Allen and James Murray, prisoners in the Buchanan county jail, this afternoon wrecked the rear wall of the jail building by a powerful charge of dynamite. Allen, Blade and Murray then made a fierce fight for liberty, but the guards beat them back with Winchester. Seventy-five prisoners are confined in the jail, but those who tried to follow Blade and his companions were clubbed into submission. Blade and Allen are under sentence for highway robbery and Murray is a government prisoner. They are now chained to the floors of their cells.
