W. B. KENDRICK DEAD.

Died in Atlanta Saturday From Pneumonia.
Raleigh News & Observer.

It will be a shock to a large number of friends and acquaintances to learn of the death of Captain W. B. Kendrick.

A telegram received yesterday afternoon from Atlanta told of his death during the afternoon, resulting from pneumonia. His remains will reach here this afternoon over the Seaboard Air Line. No particulars were obtainable last night as to the time of the funeral and it is not known whether this will take place this afternoon on Monday.

Captain Kendrick was well known as a gallant Confederate officer, as an educator of great ability, and for many years as the Southern representative of the University Publishing Company. He has in connection with this work come in contact with the leading educators of the South, and has as large an acquaintance among the teachers of Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia as any one man in the South.

Captain Kendrick was a native of Georgia. He enlisted in the Confederate army from that State and did gallant service, attaining the rank of captain. Before and after the war he was at the head of flourishing schools in Georgia and later he accepted a position with the University Publishing Company, which considered him as one of the most valuable men in its employ. He had visited every county in North Carolina.

Captain Kendrick was sixty-three years old and had spent twenty-six years in North Carolina. His wife, who died here about the middle of December, was a Miss Nesbitt, of Georgia, and to them was born four children, two of whom are living, Gerald, now in Schenectady, N. Y., in the electrical work and Hugh, now visiting an uncle in Greenville, Ala. Both are expected here to-day.

WHITE HOUSE INCIDENT.

Presidential Explanation That Does Not Explain.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The president is very much worried because of the criticism that has resulted from the introduction of social equality at the judicial reception at the White House Thursday. In fact Mr. Roosevelt expressed in emphatic measures his displeasure of these criticisms this morning to newspaper men and he has caused to be sent out by the press associations an official explanation of the incident. The president fails to understand why any one should have taken offense by reason of the presence of negro men and women at the White House reception. As a result the organs of the administration in the north and Republican papers generally are busy endeavoring to offer an explanation that will explain.

The official White House "explanation," which the president directed to be given out this morning, is that invitations have always been issued to negro office holders in Washington to attend state receptions and that the negroes have been treated in all respects in the same manner as white officials of the government. Register Lyons of the treasury is quoted as saying that he has attended these receptions for several years. One of the official versions of the White House explanation goes on to say: "These officials appear to be at a loss to understand why the incident of last Thursday evening should have attracted unusual attention, much less have caused criticism of the president."

President Roosevelt talked with nearly all his callers to-day about this latest phase of the race controversy. He made no apologies for having invited the negroes to the reception, but he did tell several persons that it was strictly in accordance with an old custom that the negro office holders and their families were included in the list of those to whom the formal engraved invitations were to be sent.

The "official explanation" fails to cite a precedent for the attendance of a single negro woman at a state reception. This fact does not seem to have impressed the president, but it did impress the Southern delegation at the White House last Thursday night, nearly all of whom left in a state of indignation. One of the administration organs, which is impressed with the president's explanation, refers to the incident as "a tempest in a teapot."

The Goldsboro Undertaking Co.

There has been a change in interest, but no change in the successful management of this house which is now one of the fixed business houses of Goldsboro. Mr. Herman C. Smith has bought the interest of Mr. K. E. Bizzell. This does not affect Mr. Smith's position as the efficient book-keeper of the National Bank of Goldsboro, but he will answer any night or phone call of the Undertaking Co.

For the past two years Mr. Carl E. Stanley has been the manager and has been one of its officers from the day this house was opened. He is the only licensed embalmer between Raleigh and Newbern and the youngest in the State.

The two young men who now are together have been the most intimate friends for a period that dates from their infancy, and should work achievements that have not yet been wrought in funeral directing in this State or section. These two young Goldsboro boys are now the sole owners of this successful business and have already in contemplation additional paraphernalia, such only as is boasted by the funeral directors of cosmopolitan cities. Both are young and active and will leave nothing undone in the way of the highest professional service being rendered to their patrons.

Night calls and telegraphic orders will have the most prompt attention and kindly consideration. Phones, 81, 149 and 136. Residence, 401 William street south.

The Hon. Reed Smoot is up against the embattled women of the country.

LEGISLATIVE.

The More Important Proceedings of Yesterday's Session of House and Senate.

HOUSE.

Several bills of considerable interest were introduced yesterday.

One was a measure to prevent the intermarriage of first cousins. This amends section 1810 of the Code to make it read: "All marriages between * * * any two persons nearer of kin than second cousins * * * shall be void." Mr. Foy is the author of this bill.

A bill by Mr. Fuller, of Durham, makes it unlawful for any person to sell liquor to an idiot or lunatic, as well as a minor. It is amendatory of section 1077 of the Code, which prohibits liquor dealers to sell to persons under 21 years of age. Mr. Fuller's bill would prohibit anyone, dealer or not, to sell to minors, idiots and lunatics.

Another bill to divide the school fund between the races according to taxes, was introduced. This one was by Mr. Stubbs, of Martin.

SENATE.

There was little of interest going on in the Senate yesterday. There was the grind, grind of bills introduced, messages from the House, petitions, second and third readings.

Senator Webb put in a bill that was sent on to the Judiciary Committee. It is to break up the "talkie, talkie, too much talkie" of the lawyers in court. Mr. Webb proposes that the judge of each court shall be the lawyers' tongues and allow only a given time for argument.

The schedule he presents is this: Time unlimited in capital cases; in misdemeanors not less than one hour to each side; in all other cases not less than three hours to a side. What the Judiciary Committee—all lawyers—will say to this bill is a story for another day.

The Fuller bill for the building of union depots by two or more railroads, came over from the House. It was read by its caption, "House Bill 58, Senate Bill 230. To amend chapter 165, Public Laws of 1899." Very few, if any, noticed that this was the Fuller bill. It was referred to the Committee on Railroads, but was not considered or discussed by that committee yesterday afternoon. It will probably be taken up in committee to-day, and then the next day will come the debate in the Senate.

If the mother would use Anway's Croup Syrup their babies would wear a smile in place of coughing their little lungs out. It is pitiful to see the children cough so much when they could be cured by a 25 cent bottle of this medicine. Pleasant to take. Get it at Goldsboro Drug Co.

Letter to Workman & Workman, Goldsboro, N. C.

Dear sirs: You take interest in your work and you want every stroke of the brush to do all that it can.

Devoe Lead and Zinc makes every stroke of the brush count. Mixed paint wastes fifteen to eighty per cent. of every stroke—depends upon the amount of adulteration in the mixed paint.

That's what we mean by "fewer gallons." We can't dwell on every reason for using Devoe Lead and Zinc. There are too many.

E. R. Bowman, Girard, Pa., writes:

Mr. Burt Young bought one gallon of Devoe Lead and Zinc in halves to paint rooms on which he had always used one gallon of mixed paint; one-half gallon of Devoe did the work and he returned the other half gallon.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

REFORMATORY BILL.

Committee Unanimous in Reporting It Favorably.

Raleigh News & Observer.

The Reformatory bill will be reported favorably in the House to-day.

That was decided on by the Joint Committee on Propositions and Grievances yesterday afternoon.

The ladies won the day. Their arguments were unanswerable, and their addresses were applauded and complimented.

The bill that will be reported is the one introduced in the House by Mr. Parker, of Wayne. It was drawn by a committee of the State organization of the King's Daughters, and provides that the institution shall be known as "The North Carolina Industrial School," and that the Board of Directors shall consist of seven women, besides the Governor, Commissioner of Agriculture and Attorney General. The first board is to be nominated by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. All vacancies thereafter shall be filled by the Board of Directors themselves.

White children between six and sixteen years of age are to be cared for who would otherwise become criminals. This would include children who were begging or selling anything as a mere cover for begging, any who have been abandoned by their parents or who have abandoned their parents, any who do not attend the public schools and idle their time in the streets, any who are orphans without guardianship, any who are destitute or who have been repeatedly arrested and brought before the police.

Any judge of the Superior court shall have power to commit such children to the school, and the court may commute the sentence of any child of these ages who shall have been convicted of any crime punishable by imprisonment to commitment to the school.

The effect of commitment shall be that the child is under the control of the school until the age of 21.

The expenses of this school are to be paid by the counties from which the inmates shall come, the County Commissioners paying $100 per year for each child committed from their county.

Five thousand dollars is appropriated for the purpose of erecting buildings, the Board of Directors to select a site for the location of the school.

APPALLING WRECK.

At Least a Hundred Killed and Injured In Railway Wreck—Many Are Burned.

New York, Jan. 27.—One of the most appalling railroad wrecks that has occurred in the vicinity of New York for many years, the estimated loss of life ranging from twelve to thirty persons took place to-night at Graceland, on the Central Railway, near Westfield, when the Royal Blue Line express ploughed at top speed into the rear of a local train.

Immediately after the crash, three shattered cars of the local train took fire, rendering impossible the rescue of many of the wounded, who were pinned fast in the wreck. Many bodies are believed to have been consumed.

New York, Jan. 28.—1:40 a. m.—It is known that there are twenty-four dead in the railroad wreck at Graceland, N. J. Sixteen charred bodies have now been taken out. Eight dead were either recovered before the fire or died after being taken out of the wreck.
