STATE GUARD ENCAMPMENT

THE N. C. REGIMENTS WILL ENCAMP SEPARATELY.

Adjutant General Royster Will Select Three Locations For Camps—$23,963 Being Available From the United States.

Raleigh Post, June 21.

Each of the three regiments of the North Carolina State Guard will hold separate encampments during July and August. This was among the decisions reached yesterday by Adjutant General B. S. Royster after conference with Col. Francis Macon and Maj. Alfred Williams.

An encampment will be held by the several regiments, an appropriation of $23,963 being available from the United States for the purpose. The camps will be in the districts of the respective regiments. This is done to enable the entire guard to be encamped, for the money available is not sufficient to encamp the entire State guard in either the eastern or western part of the State. Under the provisions of the new national militia law these annual encampments are mandatory, and a failure to hold such an encampment would deprive the guard of the benefits of this act.

Adjutant General Royster states that the encampments will be held during July and August. The first encampment will be in the east in July, and the last in the west in August. The secretary of war notified Governor Aycock that United States army officers will be detailed to give instructions at these encampments. The troops will be in camp five days, and one day is allowed for going and coming; so the total time will be seven days. A private receives 43 1-3 cents a day and 50 cents rations. Careful estimates as to cost have been made for each regiment.

Adjutant General Royster said that three places, Morehead City, Charlotte and Greensboro, had applied for encampments. However, the selections will not of course be confined to these places. General Royster is making a careful study and expects to announce at an early date, probably next week, where the encampments will be held. General Royster states that the regiments will hold their encampments in the order in which they are named below, and the location for the camp will probably be one of the places given after the regiments:

Second Regiment, at Wrightsville, Morehead City or Southport.

Third Regiment, at Durham or Greensboro.

First Regiment, at Charlotte or Hickory.

THE "PISTOL TOATER."

The practice of carrying concealed weapons is not only utterly useless and senseless, but it is one of the most peevish and dangerous. A large majority of the murders can be traced to this habit. The man who is naturally peaceable and law-abiding can see no necessity for making a war arsenal of himself. The "pistol toater" usually gets into trouble on very small provocation and piles up trouble for others, too.

MRS. EDDY MAKES ANSWER.

She Gives a Brief Account of Her Career and Position.

Concord, N. H., June 7, 1903. Recent claims that Ralph Waldo Emerson is the author of Christian Science has called forth the following statement from Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy:

TO WHOM IT CONCERNS

"I was early the pupil of Miss Sarah J. Bodwell, the principal of Sanbornton Academy, of New Hampshire, and finished my course of studies under Prof. Dyer H. Sanborn, author of Sanborn's Grammar. Among my early studies were Comstock's Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Blair's Rhetoric, Whateley's Logic, Watt's 'On the Mind and Moral Science.'

"At sixteen years of age I began writing for leading newspapers, and for many years wrote for the best magazines in the South and North. I have lectured in large and crowded halls in New York City, Chicago, Boston, Portland and at Waterville College, and have been invited to lecture in London and also Edinburgh.

"In 1883 I started the Christian Science Journal, and for several years was the proprietor and sole editor of that Journal. In 1893 Judge S. J. Hanna became editor of the Christian Science Journal, and for ten subsequent years he knew my ability as an editor. In his recent lecture at Chicago, he said, 'Mrs. Eddy is, from every point of view, a woman of sound education and liberal culture.'

"Agassiz, the celebrated naturalist and author, wisely said, 'Every great scientific truth goes through three stages. First, people say it conflicts with the Bible. Next, they say it has been discovered before. Lastly, they say they have always believed it.'

"The first attack upon me was, Mrs. Eddy misinterprets the Scriptures; second, she has stolen the contents of her book 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' from one P. P. Quimby (an obscure, uneducated man,) and he is the founder of Christian Science. Failing in these attempts, the calumniator has resorted to Ralph Waldo Emerson's philosophy as the authority for Christian Science! Lastly, the defamer will declare as honestly (?) 'I have always known it.'

"In Science and Health, edition 271, page 68, paragraph 3, I briefly express myself unmistakably on the subject of 'vulgar metaphysics,' and the manuscripts and letters in my possession which 'vulgar' defamers have circulated stand in evidence. People do not know who is referred to as 'an ignorant woman in New Hampshire.' Many of the nation's best and most distinguished men and women were natives of the Granite State.

"I am the author of the Christian Science text-book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures; and the demand for this book increases, and the book is already in its 27th edition of one thousand copies each. I am rated in the National Magazine (1903) as 'standing the eighth in a list of twenty-two of the foremost living authors.'

"I claim no special merit of any kind. All that I am in reality God has made me. I still wait at the cross to learn definitely more from my great Master, but not of the Greek nor of the Roman schools—simply how to do His deeds."

DOWN AT OLD OCEAN.

THE OCCASION WAS THE
GRAND OPENING BALL
CITY.

The Most Gallant of Sons and the Most Beautiful of Daughters of the Old North State Were Present to Participate in the Intoxicating Pleasures at This Delightful Hotel.

The Atlantic Hotel at Morehead City presented a scene of brilliancy and beauty last night unexcelled in the history of that fashionable summer resort. The occasion was the grand opening ball, which had been looked forward to with pleasure by the society people of the Old North State for several weeks past. The most gallant of her sons and the most beautiful of her daughters were present in large numbers to participate in the intoxicating pleasures. The event might properly be called the official and social opening of the hotel for the gay and prosperous season which lies just ahead.

There have been many improvements made to the hotel since the close of the last season, but none so noticeable as the addition of an electric light plant, which lights the building from top to bottom.

At 7:30 o'clock yesterday evening, while the vast throng were waiting in the spacious hallways and congregated in groups around the great ball room, a committee of ladies prominent in social circles were stationed at the different switchboards in the building and on the piers to press the buttons and turn a powerful flood of light over the whole scene. Vigorous applause met the sudden burst of light. On the piers the lights are arranged in arches and extend out near the boat house, which has been added. In the ball room was where the lights were seen to the best advantage. Some of the globes for the incandescent lights are painted red and blue, which gives the lights the National colors and makes the scene entrancing.

Patrons who have been going to the Atlantic Hotel for years will be agreeably surprised at the improvements this summer.

On arriving at the hotel the guests are met by a polite and competent corps of clerks who have no delay in assigning each one to a comfortable room and the usual worry and wait over matters of this kind is a thing unknown this season. In every branch of the gigantic business can be seen the executive ability of Mr. Earle Turner, the clever and popular manager of the hotel, who seems to give each guest, as well as the minute details of the business, his personal attention. He is affable, courteous and congenial and has the happy faculty of making one feel at home and comfortable in his presence.

The centre of attraction last night was the opening ball and when the delightful strains from the orchestra floated through the building the spacious floor of the ball room was soon crowded with a gay throng who were tripping lightly to and fro in rhythm with the delightful music.

The german was led by Mr. Mark Stevenson of Newbern with Miss Annie Dowell of Alabama. The following danced the german: Miss Gertrude Moseby, Cincinnati, O., with Mr. E. B. Yelverton, Goldsboro; Miss Emma Heminway, Jack-

Y., with Mr. Earle W. Webb, New York; Miss Jessamine Higgs, Raleigh, with Mr. J. S. Crawford, Goldsboro; Miss Elizabeth Burrus, with Mr. Albert Patterson, Newbern.

The chaperones were as follows: Mrs. Adicks, Raleigh; Mrs. Bidding, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Kennedy, Falling Creek; Mrs. Heminway, Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Dunn, Newbern; Mrs. E. B. Borden, Goldsboro.

JUDGE ALLEN COMPLIMENTED.

The Greensboro Record has the following handsome comment on our distinguished townsman Judge Allen, which will be read with pleasure by his many friends here:

"Judge Allen, holding the present term of our Superior court, is entitled to the thanks and the support of the community in an effort he is making. He has induced the county commissioners in a number of the counties to place in the box from which jurors are drawn the names of merchants, manufacturers and business men generally, heretofore omitted from the box for the reason that if they are drawn they come before the court and beg off. Judge Allen has been impressing upon the people of the counties the importance of all classes of men serving upon the juries, showing them that it is to their interests and that it is their duty to do so, and he is meeting with success. Men who have business to attend to, when drawn on the jury, have been in the habit of asking to be excused, but Judge Allen shows them how important it is that they make a sacrifice and in every instance they have yielded gracefully. It is a grave matter, for keeping up the former practice it will only be a few years when the better class of men will be unknown on juries, for it is a job most men do not like and it has come to that pass where they have been learning how to escape it, but being appealed to as Judge Allen appeals to them, they are viewing it in a different light. We all owe a duty to our country and no matter how irksome it may be we should be willing to make some sacrifice, especially when it is clear that in the long run it is to our interests as well. Judge Allen is to be commended for his timely action."

Washington, June 17.—James T. Metcalf, Superintendent of the Money Order System of the Postoffice Department, has been removed.

FROM COTTON TO SILK.

The Allendale cotton mills in North Providence, Rhode Island, have been sold, the purchasers will at once proceed to change them into silk mills. These mills had been making fine cotton goods, and the plant includes a pure and sufficient water power, and there seems to have been no reason why it could not have made cotton goods at a profit. It did not, or could not, and so it is to be turned into a silk mill.

The Boston Herald discusses the tendency of the Southern mills to spin and weave the finer counts. The Herald is inclined to think the Southern mills will successfully make the finer grades of cotton goods, chiefly because the operatives that the South can call upon are men and women of old-time American stock, "who should possess, after they have been shaken from the old ruts of custom, a great deal of native ability."

The Herald goes on to discuss the general rivalry between the northern and southern mills. It presents the case very fairly, as follows: "The advantages which the South has thus far enjoyed are long hours of work, relative low rates of pay, and almost entire freedom from legal restraints upon the employment of women and children. Added to this is a general absence of the interference of trade unions South. Under such circumstances, it is not strange that in a number of the fields of competition the profits to the southern cotton manufacturers are much larger than those which their northern competitors can hope to secure. How long these special conditions will continue to exist in the South is a question upon which there may be easily two opinions; but while they are maintained the northern cotton manufacturer may find it a by no means easy task to hold his own against this class of domestic competition."

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS.

One of the severest indictments brought against American cities is their unsightly appearance. There has been a criminal neglect here of the ordinary rules of beauty. The older cities, so far as improving their attractiveness goes, are beyond redemption. The shortsightedness of the city makers left no room for embellishment or adornment. Fortunately there has been an awakening to the desirability of greater municipal improvement, and the younger cities are profiting thereby.

Whether a city can have well-paved streets, beautiful trees skirting the sidewalks, a patch of green here and there, a frequent park, is often largely dependent upon the foresight of city builders, but the cleanliness or a city, a most valuable adjunct not only of health, but of attractiveness, is a question of the hour. A city may be made clean and kept clean only by the co-operation of the municipal authorities and the citizens.
