PROHIBITION THE ISSUE

The Liquor Question Is Again to the Front in Maine.

Those Who Favor Resubmission Say That in the First Place it is 25 Years Since the People Have Had An Opportunity of Expressing Themselves Upon The Subject.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Portland, Me., June 29.—The liquor question is again to the front in Maine and will be the chief issue in the contest for the Republican nomination for governor, which will be decided at the State convention tomorrow.

The Republican party is divided on the prohibition question. There has been for some years a demand for the resubmission to popular vote of the fifth amendment to the State constitution, by which prohibition of the manufacture or sale of liquor became a part of the organic law of Maine. Those who favor resubmission say that in the first place it is 25 years since the people have had an opportunity of expressing themselves upon the subject, and that in that time conditions have changed and views may also have changed.

Opponents of resubmission declare that it is but a device of the enemies of the law to break down the constitutional barrier that now protects it from constant assaults in the Legislature, and that the recent agitation is merely the first step toward license, inspired by liquor dealers and selfish politicians.

The Democrats are practically a unit in demanding resubmission, while the Republicans are divided, and upon this question, more than on that of tax reform or any other issue, depends the party's choice of a candidate.

There are three aspirants in the field to head the Republican ticket. They are William T. Haines, of Waterville, B. M. Fernald, of West Poland, and Frederick E. Boothby, of Portland, Me. Mr. Haines and Mr. Fernald are both wealthy. Mr. Boothby is the general passenger and ticket agent of the Maine Central Railroad.

Early in his campaign Haines declared himself in favor of resubmission. Fernald has declared himself opposed to resubmission. Boothby, the third candidate, says it is up to the Legislature to make the laws, and that it elected he would merely execute all of the laws to the best of his ability.

Upon one side or the other are arrayed individuals, societies, clubs, churches, educators, newspapers, politicians, and almost every other interest and influence that exists in Maine. The churches and kindred organizations have passed resolutions indorsing Mr. Fernald's position, while many business men throughout the State are believed to favor the candidacy of Mr. Haines.

A CARD.

EDITOR ARGUS:

Referring to the mention of my name for the position of State Senator in the papers and personally, I desire to say that while I appreciate these kind expressions I cannot favorably consider the acceptance of the nomination if tendered me at this time. My friends have been so good and kind to me that it is only a strong sense of duty to my family that strengthens me in this determination.

It is indeed an honor to represent the good old county of Wayne in this capacity, and if circumstances were different I would cheerfully undertake the responsible task.

There are others equally faithful and available who may not have to make as great personal sacrifice.

In the coming campaign, as in all my past record, the best services of which I am capable are at the disposal of the Democratic Executive Committee.

The duty of the hour as I see it, is prudence, loyalty, zeal and faithfulness; and upon a strict adherence to these virtues we can bring to our beloved State the "greatest good to the greatest number."

Respectfully,
J. E. PETERSON.

The Party Managers Expect the Convention to be a Record-Breaker in the Matter of Attendance.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Columbus, O., June 29.—The Prohibition National convention for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States is to assemble in this city two weeks hence and preparations for the event are about completed. The party managers expect the convention to be a record-breaker in the matter of attendance. Interest in the prohibition movement, they declare, was never so keen as at the present time, and as a consequence there will be a full attendance of delegates and visitors at the convention from every State and Territory.

The field of candidates for the Presidential nomination is broadening daily and the prospects are for a lively contest when the convention meets.

Among those mentioned as possible nominees for President are Alfred Manierre, an attorney of New York; Dr. W. B. Peimere, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate, and Fred F. Wheeler, a wealthy real estate dealer of Los Angeles. Dr. J. B. Cranfill, a Baptist minister of Dallas, Texas, who was a candidate for Vice-President in 1892, is also mentioned as a possible choice for the head of the ticket.

Some of the leaders believe that it would be wise to take a candidate from either one of the older parties, selecting a man who has done something for the anti-saloonists, even though he may not have been officially identified with the Prohibition party. In that class is Seaborn Wright, a Democrat, who is regarded as the father of the Prohibition law now in force in Georgia. Another man whose name is mentioned in connection with the nomination is Judge Samuel Artman, of Lebanon, Ind., who gave a decision about a year ago that the granting of a saloon license is illegal.

For permanent chairman of the convention William T. Warkwell, formerly connected with the Standard Oil Company, and W. W. Smith, New Yorker who has become wealthy and more or less famous as a manufacturer of cough drops, are the two men who are most prominently mentioned so far.

A NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED

Mrs. Philip N. Moore, of St. Louis Elected as Chief Executive of the Federation of Women's Club.

Boston, June 30.—Mrs. Philip N. Moore, of St. Louis, was today elected president general of the Federation of Women's Club, to succeed Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, of Denver, the announcement being made by Mrs. W. G. Chivis, of Missouri, chairman of the committee on tellers.

The election of Mrs. Moore is a complete over-throw of the slate proposed yesterday by the committee on nominations, which was headed by the name of Mrs. Alden Ward, of Cambridge, Mass., for President.

Mrs. Ward was not an avowed candidate for the place having been brought prominently forward when the convention was being held in New England, and her supporters, in consequence, feel no bitterness as a result of the election, which was 516 votes for Mrs. Moore to 390 for Mrs. Ward.

CAPT. A. J. BROWN.

A Fine Tribute Which All Will Recognize as Deserved.

Capt. A. J. Brown, who is an aspirant for the nomination for Register of Deeds, is thus cordially spoken of by Dr. W. B. Crawford, in a recent issue of the Record:

"We learn that our good friend Capt. A. J. Brown will allow his name to go before the approaching county convention for the nomination of Register of Deeds. That he is specially qualified for the position, goes without saying, as he once filled the position with credit to the county and satisfaction to all concerned. His qualifications for the office are the first considerations, and closely following is his devotion and loyalty to party principal. Twenty years ago, when it required work combined with effective argument to be successful, Capt. Brown canvassed our township, privately attacking Republican strongholds, and captured nearly one whole neighborhood by his method of warfare. He did not use shot and shell, nor stoop to vile invectives in argument, but by his quiet manners and gentle demeanor, moved around among the people, helping them at whatever work he found them doing; visiting the home of the humblest farmer and wealthy landlord alike. For past service to the party he has been poorly rewarded, having used his surplus funds for the good of the party and charitable purposes among the needy, the latter claiming a goodly sum from his willing hands and generous heart. Besides this, if his being a Veteran demands recognition, see sketch of 38th Regiment Clark's History, 2nd volume. He is the only officer now living in the county who was awarded a gold medal, under an act of the Confederate Congress, for "Distinguished valor and skill," having performed some of the most daring and successful feats of the war, winning the praise and admiration of his superior officers. Aside from his record, which now causes him to wear his cross of honor or his devotion and loyalty to party principles, his qualifications eminently fit him for the office, and being incapacitated for any other, except office work, we think the party which he has long and faithfully served would not be out of the line of duty to honor him with the nomination in appreciation of his untiring efforts, and effective work, in helping redeem the county from Republican ranks, if for nothing else, to say nothing of his Superior qualification, and familiarity with the duties of the office."

SERIOUSLY SICK.

Bishop Potter Not Expected to Live Out the Day.

New York, June 30.—The latest bulletins from the bedside of Bishop Henry Codman Potter, the most prominent Episcopal dignitary in the United States, are to the effect that the venerable ecclesiastic can scarcely live out the day.

He has been sick since Easter, when an attack of acute indigestion kept him from the altar.

Bishop Potter has been suffering greatly from this complaint and heat prostration.

His condition was so critical early this morning that his son Alonzo Potter, of this city, was summoned to his bedside at Cooperstown.

NOTICE OF SALE.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Ambitions and Prospects of Men Strutting and Fretting Their Hour on the Stage.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., June 30.

Owing to the condition of his health, Senator Bailey, of Texas, will be unable to attend the Democratic convention at Denver.

The National Republican League has decided to hold its biennial convention in Cincinnati during the third week of September.

Hon. D. T. Flynn, ex-delegate to Congress from Oklahoma, is to be a candidate for United States Senator against T. P. Gore.

John P. Grace, of Charleston, is the latest candidate to enter the race for United States Senator from South Carolina.

Governor Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, has accepted an invitation to second the nomination of W. J. Bryan at the Denver convention.

There will be near half again as many delegates in the coming Prohibition National convention in Chicago. The convention will open July 15.

The Republicans are contesting for the United States Senatorship in Illinois. They are Albert J. Hopkins, the incumbent, ex-Senator William E. Macon, and Representative George Edmund Foss of the Tenth district.

Charles G. Dawes, who may be treasurer of the Republican National Committee, is head of the Central Trust Company of Illinois and is well known in the financial circles throughout the country, having been comptroller of the currency in 1897-1902.

Illinois delegates to the Democratic National convention at Denver will be accompanied on the trip by 200 members of the Cook County Democracy Marching Club and a band of 50 musicians.

General William Warner, chosen chairman of the committee to notify William H. Taft of his nomination for the presidency, is United States Senator from Missouri and a former National commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

John W. Kern, whom the Indiana Democrats are supporting for the Vice Presidency, and who is delegate-at-large to the Denver convention, says that he believes the present practice of the courts in regard to the issuance of injunctions should not be disturbed.

Pressure from all sides is being brought to bear on John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers, to make him announce himself a candidate for governor of Illinois. The offer of a position at a salary of $6,000 a year from the National Civic Federation is said to be the cause for Mr. Mitchell's hesitation to enter the political arena.

The candidacy of Francis E. McGovern, the aggressive district attorney of Milwaukee county, for United States Senator from Wisconsin, is said to be gaining force. In his platform Mr. McGovern comes out strongly for representative government and against government control by organized wealth acting in the interests of the few. He favors a tariff commission and the reduction of the tariff rates.

DEATH BLOW TO BUCKET SHOPS.

Tomorrow the Anti-Bucket Shop Law Passed by the Last Session of The Legislature Comes Into Effect.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Hartford, Conn., June 30.—Proprietors of the hundred or more bucket shops throughout Connecticut are today engaged in winding up their affairs preparatory to quitting business. Tomorrow the anti-bucket shop law passed by the last session of the Legislature comes into effect, and henceforth it will be unlawful for such establishments to operate in this State. Severe penalties are provided for violations of the law, including a heavy fine and a jail sentence of from sixty days to one year for a second offence.

The Connecticut law is modelled after the Indiana law, and defines a bucket shop so comprehensively that there seems no loophole in it. It provides that any broker must on demand furnish a customer with a written statement of the name of the person from whom a purchase or to whom a sale was made, together with the time, place and price at which the transaction took place. Refusal or failure to do this is prima facie evidence that he is not doing a legitimate brokerage business, but is running a bucket shop.

San Antonio, Tex., June 30.—United States troops are today enroute for the Mexican border, where they will patrol the American side of Rio Grande to prevent the crossing of any of the fugitives being sought in connection with the attack on Las Vacas in Chihuahua, Mexico. Already some of the revolutionists have escaped across the border into Texas and the Mexican government has prepared an official request that these men be treated as international prisoners. Brigadier General A. L. Meyer is in command of the detachment moving towards the border. Effect of the patrol will be to preserve neutrality between Mexico and United States. Practically all the available troops in Texas are on their way.

DEEP CRACKS FROM ECZEMA

Could Lay Slate-Pencil in One—Hands in Dreadful State—Disease Defied Remedies and Prescriptions—Suffered Seven Years.

FOUND A PERMANENT CURE IN CUTICURA

"I had eczema on my hands for about seven years and during that time I had used several so-called remedies, together with physicians' and druggists' prescriptions. The disease was so bad on my hands that I could lay a slate-pencil in one of the cracks and a rule placed across the hand would not touch the pencil. I used Skin Lotion, Remedy and others externally but I did not use any internal remedy, and while some gave partial relief, none relieved as much as did the first box of Cuticura Ointment. I made a purchase of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my hands were perfectly cured after two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of soap were used. I now keep them on hand for sunburn, etc., and use Cuticura Soap for shaving. I could write a great deal more in reference to my cure but do not want to take more of your time. William H.
