READY FOR THE MARATHON.

The Olympic Games Will Be Virtually Concluded Tomorrow.

The Race Will Start at the Royal Borough of Windsor and Finish With a Circuit of the Running Track in the Stadium at Shepherd's Bush.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

London, July 28.—The Olympic games will be virtually concluded tomorrow with the Marathon race. So far as the general public is concerned this is the most attractive event of the entire programme and, as might be expected, the interest manifested in the race is of the keenest sort.

The race will start at the royal borough of Windsor and finish with a circuit of the running track in the stadium at Shepherd's Bush. The distance is 26 miles. While the course is generally satisfactory it is not expected that any record-breaking time will be made. It is in good condition and arrangements have been made to keep it clear of traffic, especially near the finish, where enormous crowds are expected to congregate.

About 60 of the long-winded runners are expected to make the start. The large field and the further fact that the entrants represent various countries and have never before met in competition makes it almost absurd to venture a prediction of the result of the great contest. So far as the London press is concerned no two critics seem to agree on the probable winner. Some are of the opinion that Great Britain is certain to capture the coveted trophy, while others with an equal show of wisdom and with seemingly as good argument to support their opinion flatly declare that John Bull has not even a chance to win. America does not seem to be much of a favorite so far as the Marathon is concerned, though the chances of Canada in the long-distance event have received some attention. Among the masses the belief seems to be quite general that the race will go to a runner wearing the colors of some Continental country, probably Greece, though there does not appear to be any better reason than pure sentiment for making Greece the favorite.

CARDINAL GIBBONS' BIRTHDAY.

Only Representative of North America in the Sacred College, Enters Upon his 75th Year Today.

Special to the ARGUS.

Baltimore, Md., July 28.—His eminence James Cardinal Gibbons, the only representative of North America in the Sacred College, enters upon his 75th year today. The Cardinal is now on the Atlantic bound for Europe. He is going to visit the Pope at Rome and later he will be a prominent participant in the convention of the International Eucharistic League in London.

Cardinal Gibbons is not only the primate of the Roman Catholic church in America, but one of the most eminent leaders of the church throughout the entire world. He has spent over half a century in the service of the church. On account of his piety and worth the Cardinal stands very high in Rome, and he is appreciated even the more because of the wisdom he has shown in keeping out of controversies that have caused excitement in the church.

Cardinal Gibbons was born in Baltimore, but at a tender age his parents took him with them to Ireland, where he received his elementary education. In 1868 he was consecrated bishop and vicar of North Carolina and in February, 1878, he was raised to the archbishopric and on June 30, 1886, he received the red hat.

The years of life have told lightly upon Cardinal Gibbons, and to look at him one would not imagine that he had reached his 75th year. Many a man of giant stature, minus the great reserve power of the Cardinal, would have succumbed to the tremendous mental strain which his high office entails. His strong hold upon the love and affections of the people of Baltimore regardless of creed is very well known.

A ROOTER'S COMMENT.

He Lauds the Gentlemanly Conduct of "The Giants," and Predicts That They are Pennant Winners.

The writer has read with a great deal of interest the articles appearing recently in the ARGUS concerning our magnificent Base Ball Team. We heartily agree with them in all that has been said, and do not believe that too much can be said in behalf of these gentlemen. Every one in Goldshoro now realizes fully the great benefit that our city is to derive from these baseball games. It is undoubtedly true that these games will have a greater tendency to draw our people together than anything that has been attempted here during the past decade. We all believe that we have a good town, but the greatest trouble has been, that it seemed almost an impossibility to get our folks together and have them concentrate or thoroughly unite in the accomplishment of any particular undertaking. But it is really beautiful to now see how all our people, ladies, girls, men boys, and even our colored population have united and how thoroughly loyal they are to our magnificent "Ball Team", and how enthusiastic the entire community is about them, these "Giants".

Of course we must give our ladies a great deal of the credit in this matter producing harmony, and for the accomplishment of a matter that will undoubtedly result in more real good to Goldshoro, than few now realize. How really refreshing it is to hear no "kicking" but to hear every man, woman and child singing the praises of these "Giants" and ready to resent anything that might be said in a disparaging way concerning them. Of course there is but one Umstead and one Walsh and we are the one town in this country that have such gentlemen as comprise the entire team.

We are all very proud of them, and there will be many very sad people in the "Best Town in the State" when we have to bid "farewell" to "the best ball team in the State." We sincerely trust, though, that our local association will offer every inducement to each of these gentlemen to return to us again next season. Let every one who possibly can, come out to these games and show by their presence that these "Giants" have our cordial support.

TER-CENTENARY.

Quebec Greets Prince of Wales.

Thousands of Cheering People Lined the Streets and Here and There Were Groups of School Children Who Sang "God Save the King" as the Royal Carriage Sped Past.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Quebec, July 22.—Quebec's reception today to the Prince of Wales was a magnificent success, unmarred by a single untoward incident. The harbor is dotted all over with warships and the battleship New Hampshire of the United States navy fired one of the first guns of the salute announcing the arrival of the battleship Indomitable with the royal party aboard.

The other British warships in port, the Exmouth, Duncan, Albemarle, Russell, Venus and Arrogant, the French warships Leon Gambetta and Admiral Aube and the Citadel chimed in. The Indomitable, followed by the cruiser Minotaur, was made fast to her mooring buoy before the smoke from the saluting guns had entirely disappeared. As each vessel came to anchor she ran up bunting and her men lined her sides. The British vessels in port lined the sides of their ships as the salutes were fired, and so did the men of the battleship New Hampshire and the French warships. At the same time flags were displayed on the British vessels already in port, and on the Citadel and Governor General's quarters. The Minotaur ran up the royal standard on her mainmast, and it was flying on the Indomitable.

As the Indomitable passed the other warships flags were dipped and all the way up the harbor salutations were exchanged with the great fleet of pleasure vessels. The crowd that lined Dufferin Terrace to watch the arrival must have numbered 25,000, while many thousands more were crowded upon other places from which a good view of the harbor could be obtained.

Immediately after the arrival of the ships, his Excellency, the Governor General, and Premier Laurier boarded the Indomitable and arranged several details of the reception with his royal Highness as well as the replies to the addresses to be presented. The distinguished Canadian leaders were introduced to the Earl of Dudley, Governor-General of Australia, to Sir Francis Hopwood, permanent Under-Secretary of the Colonial office, and to the various members of the staff accompanying the Prince of Wales.

Both the warships and the Citadel boomed forth royal salutes this afternoon when the Prince and his suite landed at the King's wharf. The royal

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney poisons in the blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes the unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and seek out all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of his wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 589, Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention the name of this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

visitor was met and welcomed by the Canadian Cabinet Ministers and driven to the Parliament House, escorted by four troops of cavalry, advance and rear guards, and mounted police. Several state carriages containing the royal suite preceded that containing his royal Highness, which was drawn by six horses, with scarlet and white liveried outriders. A brilliant royal and military staff rode before the carriages, which was surrounded by a detachment of the Northwestern mounted police, especially detailed to act as a bodyguard to his royal Highness during his stay in Quebec.

Thousands of cheering people lined the streets and here and there were groups of school children who sang "God Save the King" as the royal carriage sped past. The Prince looked exceedingly well and, as he graciously bowed his acknowledgements to the salutations of the crowd, frequent comment was heard among the people to the effect that his royal Highness appeared much sturdier and more robust than when he visited Quebec some years ago as Duke of Cornwall and York. The Prince wore his naval uniform and the crosses of St. Michael and St. George, the Victorian Order and the Order of St. Patrick.

The Prince of Wales will remain in Quebec one week in attendance on the great Tercentenary celebration now in progress. The principal event will be the formal dedication of the Plains of Abraham as a national battlefield park.

Tonight his royal Highness is to be entertained at a State dinner at the Citadel by Lord and Lady Grey. Other guests will be Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, of the United States, Earl Dudley, Gov.-Gen. of Australia, and Vice-Admiral Jaurguiberry, the official representative of the Republic of France.

Great preparations have been completed for the historic representation tomorrow of the arrival of Champlain and other incidents relating to the founding of Quebec. The Prince of Wales and other notables will review the historic procession from in front of the Champlain monument.

AMERICA RANKS HIGH IN MARATHON RACES.

Hayes, an American, Declared the Winner After a Vigorous Protest Against the Italian.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

London, July 24.—The Marathon race started today from the grounds of Windsor castle at 2:38, London time, Durando, an Italian, crossed the line first, his time being 51 minutes, 36 seconds. Hayes, an American, came in second; Hefferin, South Africa, third, while Forsaw and Weldon, both Americans, were fourth and fifth, respectively.

The Italian's victory will be protested by the Americans, who will claim the prize for Hayes, on the ground that Durando fell 200 yards from the finish and was picked up by a crowd of his countrymen, who, pouring out on the course, carried him across the finish line.

Tom Longboat, a Canadian runner and a favorite, made the race for thirteen miles and then dropped out, saying he had hurt his leg.

There was wild excitement when Durando's apparent victory was protested, but the police succeeded in quieting the crowd of frantic Italians. The protest was allowed and Hayes was declared the winner.

SIX YEARS IN JAIL IS BELIEVED TO BE THE OLDEST JAIL PRISONER IN THE WEST.

His Introspective Cogitations Have Led him to Hang in his Cell the Motto, "Smile, Damn You, Smile."

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Kansas City, Mo., July 24.—John M. Speyer today completed six consecutive years of imprisonment in the Jackson county jail and he is believed to be the oldest jail prisoner in the West, if not in the entire country. He has been convicted three times of the murder of his son and twice has been sentenced to death. An appeal each time has served to stay the execution of the verdict and has likewise prevented him from being transferred to the State penitentiary. He is now awaiting a fourth trial in his case and it probably will be well along toward his seventh year in jail before his case is finally disposed of.

Speyer is a changed man since his long imprisonment. He has seen several changes in the jail administration during his term of six years and has witnessed the imprisonment and release of hundreds of prisoners. This has led to a philosophical bent of mind and his introspective cogitations have led him to hang in his cell the motto, "Smile, damn you, smile."

Speyer does not think much of the jail as a place for reforming criminals. On this subject he says: "I will tell you why this jail is always full. It is not, as the preachers come in and tell us, because of men being hungry and having to steal and it is not because of whisky. It is cocaine and morphine and other drugs that keep the jails full. Nine-tenths of the inmates of jails are drug fiends. And a man who is a drug fiend is an incurable criminal. At any time he is without his drug he will steal, murder or commit most any crime to get the price of the stuff."

POLICEMAN ACCUSED OF PARK MURDER.

In the Police Court Examination He Sets Up a Novel Defense.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Brooklyn, July 24.—David E. Shellard, a policeman, accused of murdering pretty Barbara Reig in the boiler room of Irving Square Park, before the magistrate in the Lee avenue police court, today, set up a novel defense, saying the young woman was evidently intoxicated with him and had repeatedly urged him to forsake his wife and children and slope with her.

The policeman declared she shot herself with his revolver, either intentionally or accidentally, because he had told her that night in the park that he was tired of her forcing attentions on him.

"Barbara," said the girl's mother, "loved nobody but the man she expected to marry. She had no troubles and would not have killed herself."

Shellard's defense did not satisfy his superiors at police headquarters. He will be given another grueling examination later in the day to see what he knows about the murder.

FOUND DEAD

A Beautiful Young Woman and Indications Point to Foul Play.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Brooklyn, June 22.—The body of a beautiful young woman handsomely dressed was found murdered today in the boiler room of the Irving Square Park by the police, who have thus far no clue as to the murderer. The body and clothing bore no evidence of a struggle and so far the detective force at the central office admits itself completely baffled in the effort to discover the perpetrator of this crime.

MISS ANNIE CATRON.

CATARRH MADE LIFE A BURDEN TO ME.

MISS ANNIE CATRON, 927 Main St., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"As I have found Peruna a blessing for a severe case of catarrh of the head and throat which I suffered from for a number of years, I am only too pleased to give it my personal endorsement.

"Catarrh, such as I suffered from, made life a burden to me, my breath was offensive, stomach bad, and my head stopped up so that I was usually troubled with a headache, and although I tried many so-called remedies, nothing gave me permanent relief. I was rather discouraged with all medicines when Peruna was suggested to me.

"However, I did buy a bottle, and before that was finished there was a marked change in my condition. Much encouraged I kept on, until I was completely cured in a month's time, and I find that my general health is also excellent."

People who prefer solid medicines should try Peruna tablets. Each tablet represents one average dose of Peruna. Man-a-lin the Ideal Laxative.
