They Want Names.
The Russell Art Publishing Co., of 92 Arch Street, Philadelphia, desire the names and addresses of a few people in every town who are interested in works of art, and to secure them they offer to send free "Gala Guides the Best," a superbly executed water color picture, also 10x15 inch suitable for framing, and sixteen other pictures about same size, in colors, to any one sending them at once the names and address of ten persons (addresses of the pictures) together with six two-cent stamps to cover expense of mailing, etc. The regular price of these pictures is $1.00, but they can all be secured free by any person forwarding the names and stamps promptly. Note—The editor of this paper has already received copies of above pictures and considers them really "Gems of Art."

PLEASANT IDLE MOMENTS.
DANA CLEVELAND is the name of a man in Coldwater, Mich.
The six bright brothers of Adrian, Mo., were struck by lightning the other day. Jove loves a shining mark.
THERE is a suggestion of appropriateness in the first part of the name of the Tuscarawas Dental association of Ohio.
TOMMY FLAGLEY, of Bucyrus, crawled into a twelve-inch pipe and stuck there. Then the pipe and Tommy were dipped in oil until both were thoroughly lubricated, and he slipped out.

SEVERAL of the country hotels economize gas by putting on small gas burners in the rooms. The experienced traveler circumvents this economy in carrying in his satchel a gas-fitter's pinners and an assortment of gas-tips, which give a good light.
ONE year ago the intended marriage of Andrew Birot and Clara Funkhouser, of Beaver Dam, Wis., was postponed on account of the death of the girl's father. A new wedding day was named, but before it came round Clara died. Now Andrew is to marry the mother of his former sweetheart. Her age is fifty-five and he is twenty-two.

PLEASANT SMILES.
"GRACIOUS! See that messenger boy running!" "Yes, he has a message for the umpire at the baseball grounds." "N. Y. Press."
MOTHER (emphatically)—"Johnny, what are you doing out there in the rain?" "Johnny—'Gittin' wet."—Detroit Free Press.
A HORSE race is not wicked in itself. It is what a man says while he is tearing up his pool tickets that is sinful.—Detroit Tribune.
PASSENGER—"Is this a fast engine?" Engineer—"Fast! Well I guess—it smokes, chugs and goes off on a foot."—Elmira Gazette.

DAKOTA—"How do you account for Miss Muchness never having married?" KAJONES—"Easy enough. She's too blamed stingy even to entertain a proposal."—Buffalo Courier.
CITY EDITOR—"Wade through this sermon of De Longtalk's and see what's in it; it's pretty long." Assistant—"That's all right. I can wade through it easy enough; it's not very deep."—Philadelphia Record.

AMERICAN WOMEN.
MISS MINNEHARA, an Indian woman, is a trained nurse in the New York woman's hospital, and this namesake of Longfellow's ("Hiawatha") Dakota heroine is said to be one of the best in the institution.
A DENVER housewife has an Indian princess doing her housework. The young woman is the daughter of a Pawnee chief and her name in English is Rose Howell. She was a student for many years at the Carlisle school.

MISS CAROLINE G. LINGLE and Miss Leonard, two clever Vassar girls who ran a newspaper in a little seacoast town in New Jersey for five years and came out ahead, do the financial and editorial management now of Kate Field's Washington.
MISS CLEVELAND's tastes in jewelry are very simple. Although she owns a number of rings she rarely wears any except her wedding ring. A favorite ornament on dress occasions is a beautiful diamond star, which was one of her wedding gifts.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.
ALEXIS COLUMBUS, a former ship-builder, now ninety-seven years old, who claims to be a lineal descendant of great Christopher, has been discovered in Buffalo, N. Y.
REV. IRA CHASE, Indiana's ex-preacher-governor, was by turns school-teacher, soldier, clergyman, lieutenant-governor, governor and bank organizer under Zimri Dwiggins.
EDWARD E. HALE says that his notion of happiness is that a person who sleeps nine hours out of every twenty-four and lives in the open air two or three hours of every day will be in good health if he does not drink liquor.

The variations which time works in family names was well illustrated at the Scotch family gathering in Chicago. Various members of the clan spell their names McLean, MacLean, McLain, McClean and McLane. The chief's name is spelled Maclean.
BORROWED HUMOR.
ONE who takes lots of interest in his business—the pawnbroker.—Texas Sitings.
GRACE INGLE—"You ask me to marry you. Can you not read your answer in my face?" Ned Naver (cruelly)—"Yes; it is very plain."—Puck.
"WHERE did you get your new waitress, Hawley?" "Down on the Jersey coast." "Really?" "Yes. She is one of the breakers."—Harper's Bazar.

MOTHER—"Do you think his love for you is unselfish?" Daughter—"Perfectly. The other night he let me sit so long on his knee that he walked lame for ten minutes."—N. Y. Weekly.
MAUD MILLER—"Didn't you say she was a prominent leader in the dress-reform movement?" Maud Marian—"Well—she keeps a cleaning and dyeing establishment."—Kate Field's Washington.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.
THERE are 1,850 cities and towns in this country which have electric lights.
ON an electric light wire in Reading, Pa., a woodcock alighted. In a few moments the current was turned on, and the bird dropped to the street, dead.
THE price of private telephones in London is to be reduced from one hundred dollars to fifty dollars a year, subject to the condition of a five-year lease.
THE Automatic Telephone & Electrical company of Canada proposes to run a copper metallic trunk line direct from Halifax to Vancouver, a distance of thirty-five hundred miles. Local plants will also be established in towns and cities along the line.

A Plain Duty that Lies Before the Board of Supervisors.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

A matter that should be considered by the board of supervisors is the placing of sign boards at the intersection of all the main desert roads in the country, says the Phoenix Gazette. It is true that every cross road in the country should have a sign board, but upon the desert it is a matter not only of convenience to the traveling public but of life and death.

As an instance of what a single guide post would have accomplished, reference might be made to the death of Rogers and partner on the Harcuvar desert a few months ago. Four men were traveling the cut-off road from Congress to Harqua Hala by way of Cullen's Wells. About fifteen miles from the Wells the roads divided. That to the right hand (though the men did not know it) went to the mines of the Yuma Copper Company, about eight miles distant. The men differed about the route, two of them finally taking the right hand path, while Rogers and his partner pursued the main road. About three miles from the Wells they gave out and seated themselves by the roadside, waiting for the death that only a passing team could avert. Their water supply had been gone for many hours. One man got up and staggered for another mile, but the end was the same, and both men were next day found by a Mexican teamster. Incidentally, had not this man been delayed by a trivial circumstance on the road, he would have camped the night before just where Rogers was found. The two men who took the Copper Camp road managed to reach water, though almost exhausted.

The lesson this incident teaches is apparent. Had Rogers known where that side road led and the respective distances, two deaths would have been avoided. Yet this incident is, unhappily, but one of many. It is the duty of the Supervisors, whatever be the cost, to at once have iron guide posts, plainly lettered with destinations and distances placed at the intersection of every two desert roads in Maricopa county.

An Ice Cave Near Flagstaff.
An ice cave has been discovered in Coconino county about six miles south of Flagstaff. The entrance to the cave is from the side of a cliff. The cave itself is a great depth from the surface. Huge icicles suspend from the roof and beneath them have been formed what may be called ice stalagmites. These have been joined together and form a great ice body. The ice is formed from water which percolates through the roof and is as nearly pure as possible by any process of filtration.
It is said that a commercial use will be made of the ice. The cave has not yet been fully explored. This is an addition made to the Arizona wonders. A gentleman who came down from the Mogollons yesterday had a description of the cave from one of the men who discovered it.—Rep.

The Mexican Boundary.
Col. J. W. Barlow, Chief of the American commission to resurvey monuments on the boundary line between the United States and Mexico, arrived in San Francisco recently, having concluded the work in which he has been engaged two and a half years. The distance surveyed was 700 miles, from El Paso to the Pacific. Colonel Barlow says that originally 52 monuments were erected along the line. The commissioners found that only 38 remained. They rebuilt the others and erected 206 more, making a total of 258. In one place no monuments were found for over 100 miles. In another place a monument was found a mile south of the true line. This mile strip extended for 32 miles. There were some other inaccuracies in the original survey, but they were not important enough to change the monuments. The Mexicans were satisfied with the apparent boundary and let it stand. In some cases Americans who had paid their taxes in the United States found themselves living in Mexico and in others Mexicans found themselves inhabitants of the United States.

"I should like to be excused, your honor," said a man who had been summoned on a jury.
"What for?"
"I owe a man $10 and wish to hunt him up and pay it."
"Do you mean to tell the court that you would hunt up a man to pay a bill instead of waiting for him to hunt you up?"
"Yes, your honor."
"You are excused. I don't want any man on the jury that will lie like that."—Boston Commercial Bulletin.
Two American skippers were trying to "out-gas" each other. At last one said: "On March 9th I met a swarm of locusts so immense that they ate away every stitch of canvas in the ship, and I had hard work to get home."
"Oh! indeed," said the other; "that explains a curious thing which has always puzzled me. On March 10th I, too, met a swarm of locusts and each locust was clad in a little pair of canvas breeches." Dundee Telegraph.

Colorado River Canal.
A late dispatch from Washington, reads: J. C. Beatty, Vice-President of the Colorado River Irrigation Company, has filed in the Interior Department a plat of ditches constituting the right of way for the proposed canal through the Yuma Indian Reservation in approval in accordance with the provisions of the act of February 15, 1893. The plat was referred to the commissioners recently appointed to negotiate with the Yuma Indians for the cession of their surplus lands and these commissioners have recommended its approval.
The Act of August 15, 1894, in which the agreement with the Yuma Indians was ratified, provides that the company shall be required to begin the construction of their canal within three years after the passage of the Act upon the penalty of forfeiture of their rights. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs looks with favor upon the company's scheme and will recommend its approval to the Secretary.

Specimen Cases.
S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.
Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by W. T. Gonder & Co. druggists.
