THE SMALL-POX PANIC.

Yellow flags invariably create panic, and the presence of one of these portentous signals over a door on Allen street, near Eighth, last night and this morning, carried dismay to a large portion of our population. This morning the fateful banner fell ingloriously, the ease being one of simple, uncomplicated measles. While the authorities are entitled to all credit for their prompt action in suspected cases, adequate words of condemnation cannot be framed for a physician who will deliberately terrorize a community over a case which at worst was only suspicious, and where twelve hours would certainly tell the story. An epidemic of measles is prevailing at present, and eager haste in diagnosis ought not to preclude the perception of facts as they are, and it is the bounden duty of every physician to check this feeling of unrest which now prevails, by frowning down this EPIDEMIC OF RUMOR.

Considered in the light of fact, there are but two cases of small-pox, and they by no means certain, are safely esconced in the pest house. Let us, then, breathe easy, and await further developments.

WORKING TAILINGS.

The thirteen tables now in operation at Bullionville, Colorado, run through about fifty tons of tailings every twenty-four hours. It takes about four tons of tailings to make one concentration. The concentrations average about 50 per cent lead and sixty ounces of silver. After coming from the tables they are hoisted by a powerful China pump into two large tanks, from which place they are put into a mill invented by St. Pierre of Bullionville for that purpose, and thoroughly mixed with a certain proportion of lime, after which they are spread on the yard, and when dry are ready to be put through the furnace.

The above would seem to be a suggestion to our millmen for the successful treatment of the vast piles of tailings that have accumulated and are accumulating at their works. If these tailings can be concentrated four tons into one and then, by the addition of lime prepared for smelting, it would seem that all the difficulties that have hitherto stood in the way of successful treatment have been conquered. Beside this it will open up a new industry for the employment of labor and the consumption of the small accumulations of heavy carbonates of lead at some of the mines. A new furnace has been invented for such concentrations, which, if all that is claimed for it is true, will make the process of smelting as simple as that of crude ore. A full description of this furnace was given in the last issue of the Mining and Scientific Press, a perusal of which will well repay the time of superintendents.

"THY FAITH HATH MADE THEE WHOLE."

From time to time the world is startled out of its lethargy of unbelief by the phenomenal appearance of an evangel who possesses more than the ordinary psychic force. Such is the case in Louisville, Kentucky, if we can believe the reports from that city concerning the "Mountain Evangelist," as the Rev. George O. Barnes is called. He did missionary work there for seven weeks during which time he converted 2473 and relieved as many more of "the ills that flesh is heir to," by the prayer cure, many of whom have publicly proclaimed their restoration to health. During his five years' missionary work 23,489 confessions of faith have been made to him. This is a better showing than Moody and Sankey can produce for a like period, and then it has been done without aid of any theatrical clapnet whatsoever, and with no grand oratory through the daily press. The history of such a man is an epic of life more lofty and grand than the achievements of the greatest of mortal heroes whose paens have been sung by poets and troubadours from the earliest of recorded time. Scolding should give place to a true, manly veneration in the presence of such a person as the Rev. George O. Barnes.

THE Wood River Miner announces that the bonanza strike of the season, and one which makes the property second to none in that section, has been made on the 300-foot level of the Bonaparte. Gold bearing quartz has been brought forth which, upon assay, yielded $93,333.24 to the ton. This body of ore from which this assay was made ranges from 6 inches to 3 1/2 feet in thickness. The figure is an enormous one, and we give it simply for what it is worth.

THE increase in earnings of the Western Union Telegraph company for the week ending Feb. 11, over that of the corresponding week last year, was $9,752.

THE Comstock mines produced 20,611 tons of ore for the quarter ending December 31. The gross yield was $310,704.67, being an average of $15.07 per ton. During the same quarter there were 9,614 tons of tailings worked, producing $44,802.53; being an average of $4.67 per ton. The total from ore and tailings was $355,597.20. This is $75,402.80 less than the product from the Tombstone mines for the month of December.

Chinese Bill in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Consideration of the Chinese immigration bill was taken up in the senate, and Senator Miller proceeded to deliver his speech on the question. He held that the negotiation of the new treaty had committed the government to a restrictive policy, and a great nation could not afford to be inconsistent. He referred to the anti-Chinese declarations of both political parties in the campaign of 1881, and quoted from Garfield's letter of acceptance to the effect that the Chinese movement is more in the nature of importation than immigration and too much like invasion. He argued that the effect of an adverse vote on the bill would be an invitation to coolies to come, and a commission for speculators in human blood and traffickers in human flesh to ply their infamous trade without impediment. He emphatically denied that the advocates of restriction is confined to the vicious element of the population. He cited the vote of the state of California in 1879—883 votes for, 154,638 against unlimited importation.

Recorder's Court.

A. O. WALLACE, JUDGE.
The court met at 10 o'clock and transacted business as below.
Territory vs. John Bland, arrested on the complaint of Joseph Soule and on the charge of drawing a deadly weapon. There being no testimony the complaint was dismissed and the defendant discharged.
Territory vs. Louis Martinez; no testimony; complaint dismissed and the prisoner discharged.
Adjourned.

Big Strike in the Mules.

Messrs. Forbes, Murray and McKay have been prospecting what is known as the Black Ben mine, for some few weeks past, and have met with success beyond their most sanguine expectations. This mine, at a depth of twenty feet, shows a ledge seven feet wide of copper silver glance ore that assays $210 in silver and 40 per cent copper. The mine is on what is known as the Mountain King trail from Tombstone to Bisbee. This trail throws off at what is known as the Horse Ranch, about three or four miles this side of Mule Pass, and crosses the summit some point north of the traveled trail. The strike promises well for that locality.

It embraces some of the choicest works of art in almost every form, including oil paintings, engravings, drawings and photographs. To those who intend purchasing anything in this line a visit to the above establishment is commended.

(Special Dispatches to the EPITAPH)

Order of the Obeishe Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Prior to 10 o'clock this morning admission to the capital was refused to all except members of the two houses of Congress and the employees of the same, but at that hour the doors were thrown open to the holders of tickets to the memorial services, and soon the galleries were filled to their utmost capacity. A large majority of the spectators, out of respect to the occasion, had for the most part discarded bright colors, and black was the prevailing hue. There were no signs of mourning in the hall. A full-length portrait of the late president hung back of the chairs of the presiding officer, being itself undraped.

Members of the houses were early in attendance, all being arrayed in black. In the lobby back of the speaker's desk, the Marine Band was stationed, and at intervals from 10 o'clock until noon, discoursed sweet music. At 11:30 Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock, Howard, Meigs and Admirals Ammon, Rodgers and Rogers entered and were assigned seats to the left of the speaker's desk and a few moments later members of the diplomatic corps, in full regalia, were ushered in, headed by the Hawaiian minister as dean of the corps. Their brilliant costumes only served to throw into stronger relief the dark attire of the members of Congress. The whole body sat immediately behind them. The Supreme court of the District of Columbia, headed by Marshal Perry, were the next arrivals. Dr. Bliss was also in attendance. Mrs. Blaine occupied a front seat in the gallery reserved for friends of the president. At 12 o'clock the house was called to order by Speaker Kiefer and prayer was offered by the chaplain. The speaker then said: "This day has been dedicated by action of the two houses of congress to services in commemoration of James Abram Garfield, late president of the United States. This house is now assembled and ready to perform its part." The resolutions, setting apart to-day for memorial service, were then read by clerk McPherson.

At 10 a. m. the senate was announced and all rose up as the senators, headed by the officers of that body, entered and took their assigned seats. These were followed by the chief justices and associate justices of the Supreme court, dressed in their robes of office. Again the assembled multitude arose as the President of the United States and his cabinet were announced. They were accompanied by Senator Sherman and Representative McKinney, chairman of the committee on arrangements. The president took a front seat on the right of the presiding officer's chair. At 12:30 Blaine was announced. The ceremonies then opened by a short prayer by Chaplain Power, of the house, after which President Davis presented Blaine who then arose and standing at the clerk's desk immediately in front of the two presiding officers proceeded with impressive manner and clearness of tone to deliver his eulogy from manuscript. The eulogy concluded at 1:50 p. m. As Blaine uttered his last solemn words the spectators broke into a storm of applause which was not hushed for some minutes. The address was listened to with great interest and in solemn silence, unbroken by any sound except a sigh of relief such as arises from a large audience when strong tension is removed from their minds. A benediction was then offered by Dr. Bullock, and the Marine Band played the "Garfield Dead March." The invited guests filed out of the chamber in the same order in which they entered. The House was then called to order, and a concurrent resolution of thanks of Congress to the Hon. Jas. G. Blaine adopted, for the appropriate memorial address delivered by him, and that he be requested to furnish it for publication. On motion of McKinney, as a further mark of respect the House then adjourned.

Strange Chapter of Death.

WINSTON, N. C., Feb. 27.—A singular and terrible affair occurred in Rowan county Saturday. A barn-raising was going on upon the plantation of Maj. Dews, and John Held and Peter Joseph, two of the workmen upon the building, got into a quarrel, and Held threw an ax at Joseph, the keen blade instantly splitting his head in two, scattering his brains and killing him instantly. As Held threw the ax he lost his foothold and fell from the building, breaking his neck. Three men were on the ground at the time, James Cephas, Richard Wiley and Ned Blanford, engaged in raising a heavy log. They became so much excited at the tragedies they had just witnessed that Cephas lost his hold on the log and caused it to fall. As it came down it caught Wiley and crushed his abdomen inflicting injuries from which he died. Of the five men at work on the building only two remained alive.

Declines to Interfere.

WILCOX, A. T., Feb. 27.—The President has refused executive clemency in the case of the three Indian scouts sentenced to be hanged at Fort Grant March 3d. The action of the President seems to meet with unanimous approval. Agent Tiffany passed through to-day en route to San Carlos.

Conkling's Confirmation.

A boy named James Brett entered one of the vaults, where gas had been escaping since Saturday, with a lighted match. He was seriously if not fatally injured.

Trescott to Remain.

PANAMA, Feb. 27.—Trescott seems to have made up his mind to remain in Chili, having rented a house there for six months. LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

The Anti-Chinese Demonstration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—A conference was held this afternoon by the republican and democratic state central committees in relation to a mass anti-Chinese mission, to be held next Saturday. It was unanimously agreed to unite in the movement and make it a monster demonstration. An equal number of democratic and republican speakers for the occasion was agreed upon. From the present preparations the demonstration promises to be one of the largest of the kind ever held in the city.

Desperate Burglars.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 27.—Friday night Stroetbeck, a wealthy farmer living in Pottawatomie county, Iowa, not far from Council Bluffs, was overpowered at his residence by three masked men, who robbed him of about $10, and believing he had more money, attempted to force him to reveal its hiding place. This they failed to do, when one of them shot him, inflicting a fatal wound.

An Infernal Machine.

BELLEN, Feb. 26.—A fire occurred last night in Berlin, at the terminus of the Stettin railroad, caused by the explosion of an infernal machine concealed in a box, which had been insured as containing valuable dress goods. The sender of the box was arrested. The box contained an apparatus which was wound up to explode in twelve hours.

American Enterprise.

MEXICO, Feb. 26.—The Diario, the official government organ, to counteract the sinister reports published by the northern papers regarding Mexican enterprises, expresses confidence in the railway future. It also says that the excursion of the cabinet ministers over the finished section of the National railway produces confidence in American enterprise in Mexico.

The Chester (Pa.) Explosion.

CHESTER, Feb. 27.—Jackson, proprietor of the pyrotechnic works, where the explosion occurred, and Charles Van Horn, his assistant, have been arrested.

LOCAL SPLINTERS.

OUR public schools have closed for a vacation of two weeks.

THERE are only two cases of small-pox, and it is not certain but that these are measles.

THE Tombstone Literary and Debating Society have an interesting programme for to-night.

JOHN A. FAUL, Esq., the mining expert, left by coach for Contention this afternoon on his way to San Francisco.

THE funeral of Patrick Byrne took place this afternoon from the city undertaker's. The deceased died yesterday from pneumonia.

A PARTY composed of Mr. Woodward, F. Thorncliffe and others, left this morning for Sonora to look after some mining property in the state.

THE yellow flag is out on Allen street, between Seventh and Eighth. Other than this there are but two cases of small-pox and they are both in the pest house.

MAYOR CARR and Dr. McSwegan made a tour of inspection through every ward in the city yesterday in search of small-pox cases and found none other than these heretofore reported.

THE machinery for the Santa Maria mines, Sonora, of which Pierre Humbert, Jr., is superintendent, passed the line yesterday afternoon. There were six large wagons transporting it to its destination.

THE grocery store of Messrs. Chandler and Forsythe has been lately moved to No. 328 Fremont street, just opposite the EPITAPH office. Housekeepers will find this a convenient place to purchase their family supplies.

ALL members of the Debating and Literary Club are requested to attend the regular meeting of the same this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Judge Lucas. A new and excellent programme has been prepared.

THE Huachuca Water office over Hudson's drug store. When these rooms above the store are completed—as they will be in a week or so—the company will have some of the finest located offices in town.

A RICH strike is reported in the Iowa company's mine near Pick-em-up Station. At 180 feet they have struck a ledge from six to eight feet wide and the ore is said to be very rich. This is good news, and will be particularly so to claim owners in that section of the district.

OUR new city government will have to look well to their expenditures or their reform movement will be yelped the "boomerang." A gentleman of prominence and a heavy tax-payer told an EPITAPH reporter yesterday, that he had figured up the cost according to the new programme, and thus far the expenses would be $2,700 more than last year. Can this be so?

WE were shown an old Roman coin yesterday, presented by William Herring, Esq., to Mr. F. S. Earle, of this city. It is of copper, a trifle less in diameter than an old copper cent and about the same thickness. Oxidation has so eroded its surface that the inscription is not plain, however the profile of the emperor during whose reign it was coined is very distinct.

OFFICER Joseph Poynton, of the police force, was arrested some time ago for false imprisonment in the case of one Glyn. The case was heard before Justice Felter this morning and the defendant held in the sum of $500 to appear before the next grand jury. Immediately thereafter a writ of habeas corpus was brought before Commissioner Drum and Mr. Poynton was honorably discharged.

THERE was no meeting of the council last night, as the city and county authorities arranged the matters for which a meeting had been called—building an addition to the pest house. The addition is being put up to-day and will accommodate from eight to ten patients. In case of a necessity the city is thus prepared to meet the circumstances.

PROGRAMME of exercises of the Tombstone Literary and Debating club, Tuesday evening, February 28: 1. Biographical sketch of his life, by Dr. McSwegan. 2. The consideration of him as a poet, by Mrs. Mehan. 3. As a novelist, Mrs. Reppy. 4. The style of his writings and an analysis of "The Lady of the Lake," by Mr. Sherman. 5. Reading an extract from any of his works, by Mrs. Stanton.

MR. JOHN C. DAVIES, well known in Tombstone, was seen upon the streets yesterday and to-day for the first time in two months. He is living in the Chiricahua, Pinery canyon, the seat of Major Downing's former lumbering operations. He says the mill is not running owing to the bad condition of the roads. He reports that as a delightful place of residence in every respect. An abundance of pure mountain water, and an atmosphere laden with the odor of the pine give health to constitutions enfeebled by long confinement within the environment of cities.

CURES for small-pox are becoming plentiful now-a-days. We publish one in another column that is vaunted for as infallible. Dr. M. H. Garland, of 8 1/2 Montgomery Place, Boston, says he knows from his professional practice, that this internal remedy will accomplish all that is claimed for it, and Mr. Grant, a resident of Tombstone, has tried it and found it to be a specific. The Boston Herald, in its issue of Jan. 16th, gave publicity to this recipe, but, so far as we are informed without any editorial endorsement. We give it for what it is worth.

JUDGE MARSH, of Denver, who is making a brief stay in Tombstone, tells the following bright little anecdote. A certain political speaker in Ohio, where the Judge formerly resided, was defending his "hero" against the charge of dissimulation—seeming to do one thing and effecting another—or, as the speaker said, "looking one way and running another." "This," the speaker said, "was impossible. His hero's face had ever been in the right direction and it was impossible to 'look one way and run the other.'" Having appealed to his hearers if such was not the fact he proceeded with his speech. The next morning some extracts of his speech appeared in print, and the irrepressible editor quoting his assertion that a man could not "look one way and run the other," said that he would admit that such a feat would be very difficult, in fact quite impossible, but he had known men to "walk" one way and "run" the other.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

J. S. McCOR, Esq., and his estimable wife are expected to return from San Francisco in a few days.

MR. BEN TITUS has taken bonds for some very valuable property in the Gold camp. He expects to negotiate a sale of the same soon.

MR. A. M. WOMBLE departed for Basochuco and Arizpe, Sonora, by private conveyance this morning. He will be absent about ten days.

PROF. J. G. LEMON discovered a new gentian on the summit of the Chiricahua mountains last summer. It is known as gentiana microcalyx.

L. C. HUGHES, Esq., editor of the Star, returned to his home in Tucson this afternoon. He went, as he expresses it, to attend to that "guano island" referred to by the Nugget. We shall look for a spicy report in to-morrow's Star.

Gentlemen calling for mail at the post-office are requested to take notice that the alphabet is divided at the general delivery. All names beginning with any letter from A to L are delivered from the window on the left, and all names from M to Z from the window on the right. By observing this change the public will be served without any delay, even when there is a throng at the delivery.

DEEDS—MINES.
THE Homestake Mining company of Deadwood paid $300,000 dividends last year and added to its surplus fund $173,392.04. Its total surplus fund on Dec. 31st, was $297,984.93. This is one of the mines in which George Hearst is a large stockholder.

THE Northern Belle mine, of Nevada, shows a large falling off in the output for January. Its output according to our exchanges, was $98,471. If it is true, as charged in the complaint of the Nevada company, that Northern Belle has taken out from its ground 10,000 tons of ore, the showing for this old favorite is decidedly bad.

THE Virginia Chronicle is running an interesting serial romance, founded on fact, entitled "Living, Yet Buried." It has been standing in its columns for about the same length of time of the Comstock assessment notices, twenty years, more or less, and it has not yet past the first chapter. If the end is ever reached there is no doubt but it will prove exceedingly thrilling.

A Cure for Small-Pox.

A Paris physician says: "I herewith append a receipt which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox, though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered the cow-pox in England, the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head, but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this receipt as a panacea for small-pox it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the receipt as I have used it, and cured my children of scarlet fever; here it is as I have used it to cure the small-pox; when learned physicians said the patient must die, it cured! Sulphate of zinc, one grain; foxglove (digitalis), one grain; half a teaspoonful of weak mix with two tablespoonfuls of water. When thoroughly mixed, add four ounces of water. Take a spoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age. If countries would compel their physicians to use this, there would be no need of pest-houses. If you value advice and experience, use this for that terrible disease."

A Trip to Tucson.

J. D. Reymert, editor of the Pinal Drill, has been to Tucson, over which event he gushes like a school-boy. Evidently he is not accustomed to such metropolitan sights as the ancient pueblo affords. Hear him:

Well, we did it; we went to Tucson. We saw the culmets of Arizona rustlers; the active, rushing, brushing, crushing men of feverish thought and compact brain; surging, thither, whither, who
