ALL HALLOW E'EN.—Today is "All Soul's day," to-night "All Hallow E'en," and to-morrow "All Saint's day," a feast of great importance and a general holiday in the Roman Catholic Church.

Today is observed in the old countries and in some parts of this as a night of great sport. Nets are cracked and red apples "bobbed for," fortunes told—and in Scotland and Ireland a dish called "Colcannon" is freely eaten.

WREDEHOLD & GOODMAN's assortment of periodicals, illustrated papers and magazines continue to arrive by every mail.

A Sheriff's trial of the rights of property was to have taken place yesterday in the Justice Court, but was postponed until after the Maxwell trial.

CAPTAIN H. H. DAY is still in Pichoe. He does not intend leaving here at present. We wish him a pleasant time here as long as he enjoys among us.
