The Greenville Banner is a level-headed journal. It says Hunt county produced $1,000,000 worth of cotton this season, and still there is talk of hard times. The Banner furnishes the following explanation:
The trouble is that the said dearly beloved million is not lingering in this section to any great extent. It makes its annual trip down here to move the cotton crop; but before it has been here long enough for the people to form its acquaintance, it starts back north and east to pay for bacon, flour, farm machinery, boots and shoes, canned goods, and many other things that might be produced here as well as anywhere else. We even send off for onions, cabbages, potatoes, beans, peas and other vegetables that can be raised here to great perfection. This ought not to be so. While cotton is our most profitable staple crop, and probably always will be, it should not monopolize all our attention. Better mix other things with it a little.

Railroad News.
Mr. B. F. House, civil engineer, who surveyed the route from Comfort to Llano, for the proposed extension of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad, left here on the 31st of January, accompanied by Mr. Knight Stith, to look over a different route than the one surveyed last summer, to see if an easier and cheaper one could be found. They were eminently successful. The grade on the entire line from Llano to Fredericksburg, will not exceed one and a half per cent, while the expense will be materially reduced. This route is by way of East creek, near where it empties into the Sandy, thence down the Sandy through what is known as "The Gaps," or deep canyons through Cedar mountain, and out into the level country near the mouth of Cole creek. The only drawback to this route is, that the Sandy will have to be crossed three times, but as trestle work will answer every purpose, it is not serious. If Mr. House is not greatly mistaken, sufficient money has been subscribed to do the grading, and in a short time contracts for the work will be let, and the long agony be over.—Llano Iron News.

Kind Words.
Many persons speak to children habitually in a rough way, without realizing that they would not use the same tone in addressing any others over whom they had authority. A lady who was on a visit to a family, was in the nursery when a little girl was preparing for bed.
Addressing her in a lively, cheerful tone, she said, "Now let me see how quickly you will hop out of your dress into your night gown, or something like that."
The child turned to her usual caretakers and said, "Why don't you speak that way instead of 'Come now, get your clothes off.'"
They are not seldom provoked into ill humor, and then punished. Kind words do not cost much, yet they accomplish much.
1. They help one's own good nature and good-will. Soft words soften our own soul. Angry words are fuel to the flame of wrath, and make it blaze the more fiercely.
2. Kind words make other people good-natured. Cold words freeze people, and hot words scorch them, and sarcastic words irritate them, and bitter words make them bitter, and wrathful words make them wrathful.

The Secret of Success.
"What is the secret of your success, judge?" inquired a young law student of Judge H., one of the most successful lawyers in the northwest.
"Well," said the judge, with a retrospective air, "I don't know as there is any secret about it. In my younger days I had a rough row to hoe, but I hoed it well. There was lots of work to do in those days, but the wages were small. When I was a stripling from sixteen to eighteen, I used to hire out to neighboring farmers during the haying and harvesting season, and when they came to know me, I could always get higher wages than older and stronger men, because I always made it my hobby or my harvest, working as if the field or crop was my own. Whether my employer was present or absent, it made no difference to me. And that has been my single rule of work through life; at the blacksmith forge, in the harvest field, or as a hired attorney at the bar, I worked with might, mind and strength in any cause in which I was engaged. Now, that's the whole of it—and is no secret."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

As originally designed the New York state capitol building at Albany, was to cost $4,000,000. The sum of $18,000,000 has thus far been expended on it, and it remains uncompleted.

Citation by Publication.
THE STATE OF TEXAS, to the Sheriff or any Constable of San Saba County, GREETING:
You are hereby commanded to summon the heirs of Carl Deutch, by making publication of this Citation once in each week, for eight successive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, in the San Saba News newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District court of San Saba county, to be held at the Court House thereof in the Town of San Saba, Texas, on the Fourth Monday of April, 1889, the same being the twenty-second day of April, 1889; then and there to answer to the complaint filed in your court on the sixth day of February, A. D. 1889, in suit numbered on the Docket of said court No. 526, wherein John M. Tippin is Plaintiff and Carl Deutch is Defendant, said Plaintiff's claim being as follows:—
1st.—That the names and residence of said Carl Deutch are unknown.
2nd.—That Plaintiff is the owner of a certain parcel of land, forty acres, more or less, being in San Saba county, 23 or 24 miles from the town of San Saba, and being a part of survey 104, originally granted to the said heirs of Ludwig Borchers.
3rd.—That Plaintiff holds said land in fee simple, and that he and those under whom he holds claim the same under a certain deed, peaceable, adverse, continuous and uninterrupted possession, for a period of more than twenty years before the commencement of this suit.
4th.—That the vendor under whom Plaintiff claims, purchased said land from said heirs, but that the title in said conveyance was lost or misplaced before recording, and that Plaintiff cannot now produce same, thereby casting a cloud on the title and in damage to the said heirs of five hundred dollars.
Wherefore, he prays lawful service on said Carl Deutch, at its next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Witness, A. DUGGAN, Clerk of the District court of San Saba county.
Given Under my Hand, and the Seal of said court, at office in San Saba, this 12th day of February, A. D. 1889.
A. DUGGAN,
Clerk, District Court, S. S. Co.

On Wednesday of this week, a special train bearing the principal officials of the G. C. & S. F., and representatives of six thousand stock holders of twenty shares each, went up the road to Ballinger. A year ago the survey was made from that point to Albuquerque, New Mexico. The ostensible purpose of this trip is the extension of the road on to New Mexico. This will be an air line—straight as the bird flies from that point to Lampasas. The travel on this line will be immense; passengers will want close and short connection for Austin and San Antonio. Lampasas holds the key and will open the gate.—Lampasas Leader.

Lame is a good disinfectant. It is especially valuable to place in cellars where vegetables have been stored, especially such as have been put in wet, or show signs of decay. The past Fall has been so wet that more than usual attention must be given to cellars, to prevent moisture. By absorbing superfluous moisture, the lime prevents the rising of foul odors that dampness with warmth is sure to generate. Most vegetables in cellars are better if covered with earth and the lime sprinkled over the top of the heap.—American Cultivator.

The Galveston jute bagging factory, the only one in the state, has begun operations. The factory proposes to manufacture every yard of bagging that will be necessary to bale the entire cotton crop of the state.
Every farm needs a shop where work in wood, leather, iron and other materials, could be done on rainy days. The old-fashioned farmer, who made shoes for his boys, plow-stocks and hoe-handles for them to work with, plow-gear and scores of other articles, and who could repair anything on the place from a wagon or a wind-mill to a gate-latch or mouse-trap, seems to have disappeared from the land. But he was great in his day and generation. Such a variety of work develops mechanical skill and is splendid training for the boys, and the old shop should be revived. To the old-fashioned man—God bless his memory—the rainy day had no terrors. It was a time when he could follow his fancies in making such articles as would be useful or ornamental, undisturbed by the pressure of outside duties. Many a comfort might be secured to the home, many a dollar saved, and many a rainy day made one of peace and usefulness, by restoring to the farm the old-fashioned shop and its belongings.—Greenville (Tenn.) Banner.

Is the Tariff a Tax?
During the discussion of the tariff bill in the senate Monday, Senator Vance, of North Carolina, recited the following parody:
Our army had a little lamb,
And her hair was so white as snow,
And her heart was so true as steel,
And she was so fat as a pig,
But a passer-by across the sea
Had one small lamb also,
Whose wool was less than half that sum
She'd willingly let go.
Another girl who had no sheep
No stockings—wool nor flax—
But money just enough to buy
A pair without the tax.
When Mary saw the girl's design
She straight began to swear,
She'd make her buy both wool and tax
Or let her leg go bare.
So she cried out, "Protect reform!
Let paper sheep wool free!"
If it will keep both her legs warm
"What will encourage me?"
So it was done, and people said
"Where'er she that poor girl went,
One leg was warmed with wool and one
With fifty-six per cent."
Now, praise to Mary and her lamb,
Who did this scheme invent,
To clothe one-half a girl in wool,
And one-half in per cent.

TO SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:
Gentlemen—About two years ago I had a breaking out on my leg, which gave me almost intolerable pain from its itching and burning. I used the simple remedies at hand, but the disease continued to spread, covering over a third of my limb. The physicians called it eczema. The first doctor done me no good, and I tried the second, third and fourth, with the same result. One of them said I would never be well. I have used everything I knew that was recommended for blood diseases. No one who saw my swelled and inflamed leg, which looked as if the blood would burst out of it, ever thought there was anything but torture for me. I candidly confess that I owe my present health to Swift's Specific, which in my estimation, is invaluable as a blood purifier.
Gratefully yours,

Colorado City is stirred up over the discovery of salt water. A quantity of brine was pumped out of a well, and when evaporated was found to yield over two pounds of very pure salt to the gallon, which will pay liberally for working. The brine was struck at a depth of six hundred feet, and rises to within ninety feet of the surface.
