NEWS AND NOTES.

The Connecticut Legislature has adjourned.
St. Paul has finally secured the location of the Mainline University.

The negroes, Thomas Jackson and Albert Sanders, were hung on the 11th for murder.
Lewis & Kottler's foundry at Pittsburgh was burned on the 11th. Loss $50,000.

The Secretary of War denies that the headquarters of the Department of Dakota are to be removed from St. Paul to Minneapolis.

Gen. Baker, Commissioner of Penitentiaries, is in Minneapolis. The Republican Convention in that State will be held to-day.

The Orange parade in New York, on the 12th of July, was not disturbed. Seven hundred were in the procession accompanied by 2,000 citizens.

It is Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, now, who is to have the Chief Justiceship tendered him, in case Conkling declines.

Gen. S. M. Bradford, a distinguished soldier in the Mexican war, died at Cranfordville, Miss., last week.

New Orleans has a sect numbering several thousand who worship the Devil by means of horrid orgies. They are principally ignorant blacks.

Miss Linda Gilbert has recovered six cents from the Chicago Evening Post for libel, and yet Linda is not happy.

The New York Times informs Liberal Republicans that there is neither sympathy or forgiveness for them in the Republican party. Unfortunate Liberals. Unhappy Times.

A bank president in Bloomington, Ill., Judge Buskirk, recently shot and killed a bar-keeper named Rose, who had been notified to sell him no more whiskey, and accordingly refused him.

A Kansas editor wants the postal cards printed on British board if that is in use in that country, and justly says the present card is a disgrace to the Government.

Mr. Farrell, widow of Col. Farrell, of the 41st Kentucky, who served with distinction in the late war, succeeds Gen. Grant's father in the Covington post-office.

It is estimated by parties who have canvassed along the Northern Pacific Railroad thoroughly, that the amount of wheat which will be exported from this country the coming season will foot up $50,000, bushels.

Kate Stockard, alias Amy Stone, confesses the Goodrich murder. Kate gathered a cup of blood from the murdered man, which she kept, and every day since she had amused herself by eating some of it.

Of course, trouble is still reported in Spain. The Government troops under Cabrinete were recently badly defeated, and that officer killed. There is an insurrection now in Alby, and Gen. Narvaez has been sent thither.

The Duluth Herald wants a bridge built across the St. Louis at Rice's Point, costing $100,000, because the expenditure of that amount of money would be a power of good. The expenditure seems to be more desirable than the bridge.

Congressman Hancock, of Texas, says that a member of Congress must have ten thousand dollars a year to enable him to live decently in Washington.
To which the Louisville Journal replies: Former Chairman has several times ten thousand, and he doesn't live decently.

The Red River story says: The stables and locuses of Charles Roberts, who lives about one-half mile from Fargo, were struck by lightning and burned during the storm last Thursday evening.
About fifty tons of ice was melted, and the buildings entirely destroyed.

The White River Utes are unfortunate. It was a set of thieves Arapahoes who engaged in the fight at Bawlin, passing themselves off as Utes. The Utes are all good children and stay on their reservations.
Agent Litchfield reports. All of the Arapahoes who went on the war-path are reported as having returned.

The Mennonites were attacked by half-breeds near Manitoba, and were forced to take shelter until British troops came to their assistance. It appears that the savage treatment of the Mennonites and the inhuman treatment of Fletcher and associates, the Manitoba don't want their country settled.

Those who still insist that Dakota is not an agricultural country will not be pleased with the following from the Fargo Express: "We were shown by Mr. Nelson, three miles below Fargo, corn that had been planted only two weeks, which was 15 inches high. Oats sown on the 10th ult., 22 inches tall; and wheat that was planted May 4th, that had a growth of 16 inches."

John P. Dunn, Jas. A. Emmons and Wm. Mercer are the county commissioners instead of Emmons, Mercer and Bailey, as announced last week. It appears that appointments were made on the 9th, but before the commissions were forwarded the petition for the appointment of Messrs. White, Dunn and Fisher was received, and the name of Mr. Dunn substituted for one of those selected. Few, indeed, will doubt fault with the present board of commissioners.

The Gordon-Gordon case at Fort Garry has been the sensation of the season. While people are disposed to enjoy the disclosures of the American party, believing, as they do, that they had no right to venture on British soil to arrest a party under any pretense whatever, the shameful manner in which the prisoners have been treated is denounced on every hand. The Governor of Minnesota has felt called upon to protest officially against the inhuman treatment meted out to them. The prisoners, whatever may have been the crime into which they seem to have wandered, are men of wealth and station, and their personal recognitions would have been perfectly good under any circumstances, but the Whiskey authorities have put them in iron, refused them counsel or communications with their friends, and men who came only to assist them out of a bad scrape; men who would scorn to use any other than honorable means have also been arrested and treated with the greatest indignity. Some of the parties reported to have been arrested escaped, but Hoy, Keegan and Fletcher are still in iron with the others. A special train was dispatched from Minneapolis with friends and counsel, the party arriving at Fort Garry in fifty-six hours from Minneapolis, but on arriving at the seat of war they were not permitted an interview and the counsel not allowed to act. Gordon had retained all the lawyers in the Frontier, and the prisoners were not allowed to meet counsel or examine the witnesses. Gordon is well known in connection with Erie stocks, and was sharp enough to wrinkle Jay Gould out of $500,000. Parties who will had confidence in him went his ball, when he "jumped" the country. It was at the instance of his bondsmen that he was arrested, on the theory that they being his jailor had the right to arrest him whenever found. They did arrest him and were happily across the lines when the captives were captured, and now they, instead of Gordon, are in juristic vils.

WAR AMONG POSSIBILITIES.

Special Telegram to Bismarck Tribune.
MINNEAPOLIS, July 16.—Hon. Wm. Lockren returned from Pembina this morning. He confirms the report of blackmailing at Fort Garry where the examination of Fletcher, Hoy, Keegan and others is proceeding slowly. No American lawyers are allowed.
The only lawyer not employed by Gordon is a young man named McKenzie, who is a partner of Attorney General Clarke. He received one thousand dollars retainer and demanded two thousand more this week, when the parties determined to submit no longer to such blackmailing. Hon. Eugene Wilson was appointed vice-consul and was defending the prisoners.
The result is doubtful. Fletcher will probably be released on bail and the others will be committed without doubt. Clarke assumes the role of dictator and rules the court and local government. The outrageous treatment of the prisoners caused Taylor to resist and retreated to consulate. Gov. Ashen entered protest also against the barbarous treatment of the prisoners to which Gov. Morris responds that the treatment is ordinary and humane. It is ascertained that the parties were arrested on American soil and a demand from Washington for their release is hourly expected. War even is among the possibilities growing out of this case.

The Goodrich Mystery Explained.

The Terrible Story of Love, Shame and Murder.

Special Telegram to the Bismarck Tribune.
New York, July 16.—The mystery of the death of Charles Goodrich, March 21st, is at last solved. He turned a cold shoulder to Kate Stockard alias Minnie Waltham, his mistress, who now confesses to having shot him. She remained in the house two days and faced the hints and things like as if suicide had been committed. She has been in Brooklyn ever since the body of Goodrich was found. The murder grew out of jealousy. She was turned over to the police and confessed everything. It is believed she lacked a pocket full of congealed blood and had been eating it ever since the terrible story of love and death was first published. The detectives say that Kate is the murderer and that Kate confesses to screen him.

THE CAVALRY POST.

Two Hundred Men and Seven Hundred Car Loads of Supplies Required for the Work.

Gen. Geo. B. Dandy, who has charge of the construction of the new cavalry post at Lincoln, arrived last week.
This evening about seventy carpenters arrived from St. Paul and Minneapolis, and next week about 80 more will come.
About fifty car loads of lumber is already here. It will take about 700 car loads of lumber and other supplies to complete the work. There will be buildings, including officers quarters, three to each Co., barracks, stable, etc., for six companies of cavalry quarters for the post commander and staff, and in addition two large warehouses.
From 150 to 200 men will be employed in the construction until about Oct. 1st.
The importance of the work to Bismarck can scarcely be estimated as it involves the immediate expenditure of two hundred thousand dollars not to speak of other advantages which will come from it. The lumber for the buildings was purchased at the N. P. Junction at $8.45 per thousand.

MINNESOTA.

Washburn Defeated—Davis for Governor.

Special Telegram to the Bismarck Tribune.
St. Paul, July 16.—The Republican convention met to-day at 12 m. There was a very full representation. It soon became evident that though Washburn was the strongest man he was likely to be defeated through trades. The Austin and Armstrong men were particularly bitter on him. On the first ballot Washburn led them all but on the fifth C. K. Davis, of St. Paul, was nominated by 155 to 153 for Washburn.

BURLEIGH COUNTY.

Hackett, Constables.

The meeting adjourned until Thursday, July 17th.

Bismarck, July 16, 1873.

PERSONAL.
C. W. Mead, General Manager; James Smith, Jr., Attorney, and J. B. Ford, Auditor N. P. R. R., came in on a special train this afternoon.

Ezra Millard, a prominent banker of Omaha, and C. S. Brace, a New York newspaper man, are in the city.

Gen. Dandy, of the Q. M. Department arrived last week, and is now engaged in building the cavalry post at Lincoln.

Col. Tom. Hunt, of Fort Seward, spent Sunday at Bismarck.

Wm. Mercer, seven years a resident of Burleigh county, one of the newly appointed County Commissioners, is in town. Mr. Mercer now resides at Painted Woods, 20 miles above Bismarck, where he is engaged in handling wood. He has a very fine garden at Painted Woods, and can satisfy any one who may be in doubt that garden stuff at least will do well in this country.

Maj. Wm. Smith, Paymaster U. S. A., and Assistant Major Seward, returned from Fort Buford yesterday, and went down to Rice, where they will also make the boys in blue glad with greenbacks.

Col. Peck, of Durfee & Peck, come down on the Durfee. This firm is engaged very extensively in the Indian trade, and ship annually large quantities of buffalo robes from the upper country. The Espiranza brought down ten thousand robes for this firm.

Petrified Boot-heel.
When Gen. Sibley was on the Missouri; with his expedition, it is said, he wore a boot having a heel of a peculiar pattern and while here was so unfortunate as to loose one of them.
Not long since a petrified boot-heel was picked up which is recognized by one of the Generals old soldiers as the heel that Sibley lost. There are said to be petrified forests in Northern Dakota. Gen.
Rosser tells of a petrified grove, on the line of the N. P. west of the river.
There are perhaps a dozen stabs standing, now solid stone. Near Bismarck there is a petrified log two feet and a half long and eighteen inches in diameter and in its immediate vicinity many smaller pieces.

Irrigating.
It must have been a sarcastic chap who said it never rained in Dakota; that the land was unfit for agricultural purposes because there was no way to irrigate it. Had he been forced to lay out of doors during the past two weeks he would have been irrigated to his hearts content and would have been obliged to give some other reason than a lack of rain to prove the country unproductive. Indeed Carleton's figures showing a slight deposit of moisture in this, his snowless region, have been knocked higher than a kite by the frequent storms of 1873. There has been an abundance of rain this spring, too much indeed, and old settlers say there is always an abundance, except an occasional dry year, and these occur elsewhere.

Mennonites.
Webster gives the following definition of the word Mennonite: "One of a small denomination of Christians so called from Simon Menno, their founder in Germany. They believe that the New Testament is the only rule of faith; that the terms Person and Trinity ought not to be applied to Father Son and Holy Spirit; that there is no original sin; that infants should not be baptized; and that Christians ought not to take oath, hold office, or use physical force."

A large number of these people are likely to settle in Dakota. Two weeks ago they were for the second time exploring the country along the Sheyenne with a better prospect than before of settling. They had just returned from Manitoba, and indicate their preference for Dakota.

River News.
The E. H. Durfee left Fort Buford Sunday at 2 p. m., and arrived here at 7 a. m. Tuesday. She came down without loading, but had a few passengers.
She loaded with 250 tons of freight, Indian goods, for the Teton Sioux at Fort Peck and left for up river this morning.

The Miner arrived yesterday afternoon from Yankton, which point she left on the 2d inst. She left 75 tons of goods at Sheyenne and brought 185 tons to Lincoln. Included in her Lincoln cargo was 1,900 sacks of corn, two pieces of artillery and 122 boxes of ammunition. She loaded with goods for the Grand River Agency.

The Ida Stockard has been transferred to the Coulson Line by the N.
P. R. R., and is now engaged in transferring good from Bismarck to Lincoln.

Northern Pacific Hotels.
Persons traveling on the line of the Northern Pacific for the first time are surprised to meet with so good hotels.
At Brainerd the Headquarters Hotel is a building costing $60,000, kept in the best style—accommodating about 125 guests. All complement its management. The Headquarters Hotel at Fargo is in the same style kept by J. B.
Chapin, well and favorably known as a successful and accommodating landlord.
This, as well as the Headquarters Hotel at Brainerd, was built by the N. P. R. R. and leased to the managers. At Duluth the Clark House accommodates 125 guests, furnishing pleasant and airy rooms with kind attention, while the table is spread with all the luxuries of the season. The Bayview House is also well kept and enjoys a good patronage.
Capt. C. P. Sloggy also keeps a good hotel at Moorhead. Wilson's is a first-class house at Detroit. The dining-place at James River is also good, and Bismarck already has three or four good hotels, at either of which good meals and fair rooms may be had. Board at Bismarck ranges from $2.00 to $2.50 per day for transients, and $6.00 per week for regular day-boarders.

Probytenian Church.
Rev. D. C. Lyon was here again Sunday and Monday. The election of trustees had four weeks ago was informal; a new election was accordingly had Monday evening, due notice having been given, with the following result:
For a term of one year, J. B. Ford, W.
S. Brown and C. A. Lounsberry.
For a term of two years, J. W. Fisher, W. H. White and W. B. Shaw.
For a term of three years, J. O.
Adams, C. F. Hobert and J. R. Jackson.
The trustees also had a meeting, electing J. W. Fisher, President; W.
H. White, Secretary, and W. B. Shaw, Treasurer.

It was determined to adopt a plan drawn for a church at Rice Point by Duluth parties, and the building committee was instructed to cause specifications to be drawn with a view to advertising for bids; the work of building to be let to the lowest responsible bidder.
The lumber is now on the road and will be here in a few days.

The church will be a neat building 24x44, costing about $2,000. It will be situated back of the present occupied streets near the two graves. Those who have subscribed should be ready to pay their subscriptions promptly.
It is a matter of regret that two or three have seen fit to repudiate their subscriptions. A pledge of that nature should be as binding as one's note, and it is morally. The church when erected will be a source of pride to all citizens no matter whether they sympathize with religion.
