VOL. VI.

BISMARCK, D. T., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1878.

NO. 18

Lord Beaconsfield is laid up with the gout, but still his soaring nature is not satisfied.

Rev. G. S. Codrington, a prominent member of the last Dakota Legislature, died at Ann Arbor, Michigan, a few days ago.

The Rebel major general Stockton, a graduate of West Point, now a private in the U. S. army, is doing clerical duty in Washington.

Lieut. Col. W. H. Lewis, of the 19th Infantry, died of wounds received a few days ago in an engagement on Fishback Woman's Fork. One Indian was killed and a large amount of property was captured. Two soldiers were also wounded.

The Yankton Herald says: Our esteemed contemporary, the Press and Dakotian, is giving its undivided attention these days to publishing the names of Republicans of Turner, Lincoln and Minnehaha counties who are not supporting Mr. Tripp for delegate.

Wade Hampton writes the President asking him to assess a proper amount of taxes against the State of South Carolina in lieu of the whisky tax which they are not able to collect. Wade Hampton evidently thinks the President has little respect for the laws of the land as South Carolina has heretofore shown.

Minnesota is excited. St. Paul, through its Chamber of Commerce, has charged Minneapolis with robbing the farmers through lowering the grades of wheat, and Minneapolis has proven that she bought the wheat as graded by St. Paul, and that if there was any robbery St. Paul was responsible for it.

Jealous of the reputation established by the Akhoun of Swat, who never heard of (till he died), the high muck-a-muck of Afghanistan has hopped into business and proposes getting his name before the people. He has lured the whole of Great Britain and India, and from the vast preparations now pending for warring him out, he possibly may become immortalized.

Yankton Press, 25th: "Gov. Howard yesterday located the insane asylum on the school section two and a half miles west of town. The work of moving the buildings and constructing the temporary asylum will be commenced at once. Gov. Howard advances the money from his personal funds."

Brother Mitchell, of the Duluth Tribune, is so liable to lead the good people of Duluth astray that Father Genia yielded to an impulse last week, to inform the members of his flock that there is no St. Mitchell in heaven—not that he had ever heard of. And Bob Smith undoubtedly thinks there never will be.

The Garry Inter-State says that one noticeable feature in connection with the immigration to that section is that so many of the people are evidently persons of culture and refinement. Their appearance, actions and language all indicate that they are from the better classes, who it may be have met reverses, and have come west to retrieve their shattered fortunes.

Physicians are still puzzled over the peculiar action of the yellow fever. At Memphis and New Orleans the number of deaths have decreased, because there are scarcely any people left to die, yet the scourge has lost none of its virulence and returning refugees are stricken down remorselessly. It might be a good scheme to bring these cities up this way, set them out on the prairie and let the wind blow through them a little while.

An occasional correspondent of the Herald at Bismarck, whose letter was printed in the issue of the 14th, was granted more liberties than would have been the case had the editors attended strictly to their business.

An allusion to the personal and social habits of Col. Loussberry, we know, did great injustice to that gentleman, and we owe him an apology for even appearing to give it credence by publishing without explanation.—Dakota Herald.

St. Louis has had a cheerful little sensation. A romantic nurse at the hospital continued to substitute corrosive sublimate for salts, and the result was that Alice Woods yielded the ghost. As if that chapter were not sufficiently sensational, the nurse whooped up a few pathetic letters to her friends, absorbed a dose of carbolic acid and the double inquest is described as a very mournful affair. If this sort of thing could be turned around and an arrangement effected whereby the nurse could get the dose first, it would tend to increase the popularity of hospitals.

Chicago is afflicted with an undeveloped mine of nastiness. Marchioli, a clerk in Matson's jewelry store, and a woman named Mitchell, mistress of a prominent politician, are under bail for retaining $25,000 worth of jewelry from Marchioli's employer. A Dr. Secord and Mrs. Irwin are implicated, but so far the authorities have held the robbery in abeyance, and have devoted themselves to enjoying the exploits of two detectives, who bored holes through the walls of Secord's office and caught the whole outfit in a sort of can-can entertainment, with peculiarly nasty variations. When the purient tastes of the magistrates have been satisfied, perhaps they will get down to business.

The Methodist conference created the Red River district with Rev. J. B. Starkey, P. E., and provided for the charges as follows: Fargo, to be supplied; Moorhead and Glyndon, C. S. H. Dunn; Detroit, J. W. Corrie; Wadena and Brainerd, supply, K. Knight; Duluth, C. F. Bradley; Alexandria, to be supplied; Fergus Falls, C. B. Brecont; Morris and Hancock, J. P. O. Key; Hermon, supply, L. Hodgson; Casselton, R. E. Metcalf; Jamestown and Valley City, to be supplied; Bismarck, G. W. Barnett; Grand Forks and Caladonia, to be supplied; Pembina, to be supplied; Crookston, to be supplied; Sank Centre, Wm. Spoon; Grove Lake, A. C. Perkins; Oakes, to be supplied.

The Inter State, published in Duell county, says: "We are a new corner, and are not yet very well posted as regards the politics of the Territory, consequently we have not said much nor taken so active a part as we shall in future campaigns. There is one thing, however, now being discussed by the press of the Territory, which is indeed gratifying to us, and is that both parties seem to be uniting in favoring the project for the admission of the Territory as one of the States of the Union. The project for the division of the Territory seems to be abandoned, and in this we must say its projectors and advocates are exhibiting good sense. If we wish to ensure the greatest good to the greatest number, we should concentrate all endeavor in securing the end desired by the major part of our people, and the admission of the prosperous, growing Territory of Dakota into the sisterhood of the States of the Union.

VEGETINE.
Purifies the Blood & Gives Strength
Dr. Geo. H. Fairchild, Bismarck, D. T., March 14 1878.
Dear Sir—Your "Vegetine" has been doing wonders for me. I have been having the Dakota since I contracted in the swampy of the South, nothing giving me relief until I began the use of your "Vegetine." It gave me immediate relief, toning up my system, purifying my blood, giving strength to where all other medicines weakened me, and filled my system with poison; and I am satisfied that it fills that live in the acute distress of the South and West would take "Vegetine" two or three times a week, they would not be troubled with the "Dakota" and its malignant "fever" that prevail at certain times of the year, save death.
Respectfully yours,
GEO. H. FAIRCHILD.

VEGETINE.
Has Entirely Cured Me of Vertigo.
Dr. Geo. H. Fairchild, Bismarck, D. T., March 14 1878.
Dear Sir—I have used several bottles of "Vegetine" and have been entirely cured of my Vertigo. I have also used it for Kidney Complaint. It is the best medicine I have ever used. I would recommend it as a good blood purifier.
Respectfully yours,
J. H. HUNTER.

VEGETINE.
I Believe It to be a Good Medicine.
Dr. Geo. H. Fairchild, Bismarck, D. T., March 14 1878.
Dear Sir—I wish to inform you what your "Vegetine" has done for me. I have been afflicted with Vertigo, and after using three bottles of the "Vegetine" was entirely cured. I also found my general health much improved. I believe it to be a good medicine.
Respectfully yours,
FRED HARVESTER.

bring before the people in vivid characters the horrors of the war.

The Tribune, and still urges, Republicans to stand by their colors. The Republican party is bound to live. The Liberal wane passed away and the best elements engaged in that movement, having accomplished their purpose—forced the Republican party into an effort to reform itself—returned to their allegiance. The Granger excitement flourished for a time, but died leaving the Republican party stronger in the States where it took deep root. Just now labor reform and greenbacks are demanded by the masses in some parts of the States, but the grand old Republican party will survive these excitements and will enter on a new career of usefulness.

The Republican party is the true reform party; the party of progress; the party of freedom. It is the party that believes in internal improvements; believes in using public moneys to promote the public good; believes in improving our rivers; in extending our railroads; in building, at public expense if necessary, competing lines, it believes in the homestead and tree culture laws, which it loved to the country; in honest money; in extending our public surveys; in giving the people employment and in aiding them when in distress.

Kick away Mr. Press and Dakotian, but the day will come when the Tribune's liberal Republicanism will shine in comparison with the dull lustre to be seen on the arms of the after the war heroes.

Our spirit is broad enough to take in the whole Territory. The Press and Dakotian has never been able to see any good outside the corporate limits of the city of Yankton, and it rarely ever has a good word for any one or any interest outside of Yankton. And its desperate efforts to paddle alone the Republican canoe is amusing or disgusting, according to the mood of the looker on.

Local Politics.

There is a disposition, indulged by many, to join in a coalition movement for the election of county and city officers this fall. The proposition seems to involve the re-election of most of our city and county officers, both parties having nearly an equal representation.

The proposition involves support of W. B. Watson for county treasurer, John H. Richards for register, B. F. Slaughter for coroner, Robert Macnider for commissioner, Geo. Peoples for mayor, and the city council about as it now stands.

Geo. Peoples proposes to resign as county commissioner, and J. G. Molloy has been named in his stead.

P. R. Smith declines to be a candidate for re-election as Judge of Probate, and the name of E. N. Corey has been suggested instead.

Mr. Slaughter declines to be a candidate for superintendent of schools, and Wm. Thompson, an old teacher and one of our ablest men in the county, is suggested instead. Mr. Geo. H. Fairchild, one of the trust and best of men, and one who is in every respect qualified, is also named for the position.

John Bowen is urged for assessor, and D. W. Maratta, Assessor Gray, D. O. Preston and John Carland are named for legislative positions. Clark is mentioned for city treasurer in place of Dan Ellis, who is understood to decline to be a candidate for re-election. Storey will be generally supported for district attorney, and the contest, in case of the adoption of such a ticket, will be wholly between Tripp and Bennett.

Alex. McKenzie, of course, will be re-elected sheriff. He is one of the very best officers in that capacity in the Territory, and it would be impossible to beat him on any ticket on which he might run. Indeed the entire ticket suggested is a good one and can not well be improved.

Independent Candidate.

H. A. Vitt announces himself elsewhere as an independent candidate for register of deeds, and solicits the suffrages of the people. Mr. Vitt is a very worthy citizen and is in every respect qualified for the place.

The editor of the Elk Point Courier appeals to those who lay in southern prisons and to those who fought and bled for their country's cause, not to forget the past, but to stand by their colors and to vote for Bennett in the present campaign. The plea to vote for Bennett for party reasons—or because he is able and honest, is very well, but those of us who did lay in rebel prisons; those of us who did bleed for our country's cause, really desire to forget. For we do not wish to recall the suffering endured during a year spent in rebel prisons, nor do we wish to recall the suffering of a night of storm spent among the dead and wounded on a southern battlefield. We have no occasion to go into politics to be reminded of the pains resulting from shattered limbs, nor do we believe those who have seen and felt the horrors of war wish to have them brought up and again in every political campaign. We have no words of denunciation only for those Democrats who remained at home and rejoiced when our flag trailed in the dust. Among our associates in the army were men brave and true, who voted the Democratic ticket. They are entitled to their share of credit and it is a shame that the politics of to-day can not be fought on the issues of the day. If there are no issues but the bloody shirt of the past, better frankly own it and conduct the campaign on personal grounds.

The editor of the Vermillion Republican, on being read out of the party, remarks to the editor of the Press and Dakotian: "We feel flattered in having the Republican placed in such good company as the Bismarck Tribune by your esteemed contemporary, the Press and Dakotian."

The Deadwood coach on the Cheyenne route was robbed of $30,000 last week, and one of the passengers killed. Stage robberies do not occur on the Bismarck route. The Bismarck company's employees mounted police armed with magazine guns to scour the country in advance of its stages.

J. B. Hall, editor of the Fargo Republican has been appointed Receiver of the U. S. Land Office at Fargo, vice Pugh, whose term has expired.

For we do not wish to recall the suffering endured during a year spent in rebel prisons, nor do we wish to recall the suffering of a night of storm spent among the dead and wounded on a southern battlefield. We have no occasion to go into politics to be reminded of the pains resulting from shattered limbs, nor do we believe those who have seen and felt the horrors of war wish to have them brought up and again in every political campaign. We have no words of denunciation only for those Democrats who remained at home and rejoiced when our flag trailed in the dust. Among our associates in the army were men brave and true, who voted the Democratic ticket. They are entitled to their share of credit and it is a shame that the politics of to-day can not be fought on the issues of the day. If there are no issues but the bloody shirt of the past, better frankly own it and conduct the campaign on personal grounds.

The editor of the Vermillion Republican, on being read out of the party, remarks to the editor of the Press and Dakotian: "We feel flattered in having the Republican placed in such good company as the Bismarck Tribune by your esteemed contemporary, the Press and Dakotian."

The Deadwood coach on the Cheyenne route was robbed of $30,000 last week, and one of the passengers killed. Stage robberies do not occur on the Bismarck route. The Bismarck company's employees mounted police armed with magazine guns to scour the country in advance of its stages.

J. B. Hall, editor of the Fargo Republican has been appointed Receiver of the U. S. Land Office at Fargo, vice Pugh, whose term has expired.

bring before the people in vivid characters the horrors of the war.

The Tribune, and still urges, Republicans to stand by their colors. The Republican party is bound to live. The Liberal wane passed away and the best elements engaged in that movement, having accomplished their purpose—forced the Republican party into an effort to reform itself—returned to their allegiance. The Granger excitement flourished for a time, but died leaving the Republican party stronger in the States where it took deep root. Just now labor reform and greenbacks are demanded by the masses in some parts of the States, but the grand old Republican party will survive these excitements and will enter on a new career of usefulness.

The Republican party is the true reform party; the party of progress; the party of freedom. It is the party that believes in internal improvements; believes in using public moneys to promote the public good; believes in improving our rivers; in extending our railroads; in building, at public expense if necessary, competing lines, it believes in the homestead and tree culture laws, which it loved to the country; in honest money; in extending our public surveys; in giving the people employment and in aiding them when in distress.

Kick away Mr. Press and Dakotian, but the day will come when the Tribune's liberal Republicanism will shine in comparison with the dull lustre to be seen on the arms of the after the war heroes.

Our spirit is broad enough to take in the whole Territory. The Press and Dakotian has never been able to see any good outside the corporate limits of the city of Yankton, and it rarely ever has a good word for any one or any interest outside of Yankton. And its desperate efforts to paddle alone the Republican canoe is amusing or disgusting, according to the mood of the looker on.

Local Politics.

There is a disposition, indulged by many, to join in a coalition movement for the election of county and city officers this fall. The proposition seems to involve the re-election of most of our city and county officers, both parties having nearly an equal representation.

The proposition involves support of W. B. Watson for county treasurer, John H. Richards for register, B. F. Slaughter for coroner, Robert Macnider for commissioner, Geo. Peoples for mayor, and the city council about as it now stands.

Geo. Peoples proposes to resign as county commissioner, and J. G. Molloy has been named in his stead.

P. R. Smith declines to be a candidate for re-election as Judge of Probate, and the name of E. N. Corey has been suggested instead.

Mr. Slaughter declines to be a candidate for superintendent of schools, and Wm. Thompson, an old teacher and one of our ablest men in the county, is suggested instead. Mr. Geo. H. Fairchild, one of the trust and best of men, and one who is in every respect qualified, is also named for the position.

John Bowen is urged for assessor, and D. W. Maratta, Assessor Gray, D. O. Preston and John Carland are named for legislative positions. Clark is mentioned for city treasurer in place of Dan Ellis, who is understood to decline to be a candidate for re-election. Storey will be generally supported for district attorney, and the contest, in case of the adoption of such a ticket, will be wholly between Tripp and Bennett.

Alex. McKenzie, of course, will be re-elected sheriff. He is one of the very best officers in that capacity in the Territory, and it would be impossible to beat him on any ticket on which he might run. Indeed the entire ticket suggested is a good one and can not well be improved.

Independent Candidate.

H. A. Vitt announces himself elsewhere as an independent candidate for register of deeds, and solicits the suffrages of the people. Mr. Vitt is a very worthy citizen and is in every respect qualified for the place.

The editor of the Elk Point Courier appeals to those who lay in southern prisons and to those who fought and bled for their country's cause, not to forget the past, but to stand by their colors and to vote for Bennett in the present campaign. The plea to vote for Bennett for party reasons—or because he is able and honest, is very well, but those of us who did lay in rebel prisons; those of us who did bleed for our country's cause, really desire to forget. For we do not wish to recall the suffering endured during a year spent in rebel prisons, nor do we wish to recall the suffering of a night of storm spent among the dead and wounded on a southern battlefield.
