COUNTY AND STATE.

The Masons of Wallace have dedicated a new hall.

The machinery for the Boise City works is now all on the road.

Clothes cleaned and repaired
Mrs. J. W. REEL.

The Odd Fellows of Pocatello will erect a two-story brick building, 38x50 feet.

Miss MARY LINDSEY went down Boise City Wednesday to learn dressmaking's art, and will be gone a winter.

MAXIE SMITH arrived here last Monday from Squaw creek with twenty-seven head of beef cattle foranner. He drove the band out on Tuesday.

The Keystone says a rumor is in the air to the effect that the sale of a Ketchum smelting plant, so long contemplated, is about to be consummated.

NICELY painted plaques, panels, ink and plush pieces, are always appropriate Christmas and birthday presents. Those wishing painting one should call on Mrs. J. G. Watts. Nov. 3-1f.

A big load of supplies were taken to the Blaine mine Wednesday. This indicates that Mr. Norcross means business—that he intends to keep right ahead, and that his cleanup was satisfactory.

JONAS W. BROWN returned to Boise Wednesday. Mr. Brown made a pleasant call on the WORLD Tuesday. While here he assisted in settling up the estate of Lorenzo Pinney. F. G. Scriber was the administrator.

The Salmon City Recorder says there are said to be about 6,000 mines and prospects in Lemhi county, a large proportion of which produce base ores and will remain practically worthless till a railroad reaches Lemhi valley.

SOME prophets predict that snow will pile up unusually deep this winter, while others openly aver that we will have, basing their prophecies on a very early fall of snow, an open winter, with several cold snaps, a very poor water season next year and but little scads with which to buy whisky to allay the burning thirst of the prodigal old timer. Nate West, the unflinching weather prophet, has not ventured a prediction this winter. Come out, Nathaniel; portray the future state of the weather. By thy prophecies the people will swear, as in the past thou hast never failed to predict like unto the inspired, true prophecies of old.

A WONDERFUL QUARTZ CAMP.

Beaver District Promises to be the Leading Silver Producing Section of Idaho.

This district, between the More Creek divide and Beaver creek, north of the Banner road, the eastern boundary being ten miles southeast of Banner and about twenty miles from this place, is without doubt the richest section of Idaho, as the veins all carry good ore, the chutes are long and continuous as far as the veins have been uncovered, a distance of three or four miles, and in this small area about thirty very promising locations have been made and every one of these claims show good ore on the surface. As the course of the veins is known, they will continue to be uncovered and locations made both ways, but some prospecting will have to be done, as the ledges do not crop in either direction beyond the locations that have been made. A. W. Dunn made the first discovery in June, 1889, and on the 5th of July, that year, located the Horn Silver group. That year a few tons of ore from the Horn Silver claim were crushed in the Banner mill and yielded $400 per ton, silver. This ore was taken from an open cut. The Horn Silver claim has been developed by a tunnel run in 65 feet, and a raise extended to the surface cut—15 feet. A shaft was sunk 30 feet deep from this tunnel. After this a cross-cut tunnel was run in 100 feet, cutting the ledge 20 feet below the shaft, and the two were connected by a raise. On this level a drift was run east 90 feet, and another west 130 feet, both drifts in high grade ore the entire distance. From this level a shaft was sunk 59 feet, making the depth from surface 124 feet. From the bottom of the shaft a drift was run 27 feet east, and another 28 feet west. From the surface down the vein runs 4 feet wide, with pay vein from 16 inches to 3 feet in width. The character of ore is horn and antimonial silver, chlorides and black sulphurets. Quite a pile of ore is now on the dump of the Horn Silver, and the amount of ore now blocked out in the mine, ready for stoping, is figured at 900 tons. There are two belts of silver veins in the district, the Horn Silver group being on the south belt. There are three veins within the lines of the Horn Silver location. Two adjoining claims have been taken east, each taking in the three veins, the first recorded as the Rochester and the second the Henrietta. Another claim, the Protection, adjoins the Horn Silver on the south. These four claims are what are known as the Horn Silver group. All carry the same kind of ore. The development work has been done on the south vein of this system. The other veins have been uncovered along the surface. This group is owned by A. W. Dunn, the discoverer. A tunnel will run next year to cut all four veins of this group. The tunnel will cut the first vein 100 feet in depth and the upper one 300 feet deep, and about 300 feet east of the present works. The Horn Silver Hill is filled with a network of cross-veins and feeders, and is a veritable mineral hill. In the north silver belt are three veins, which show well wherever uncovered. West on the Horn Silver belt are the Silver Queen, and Moscow, south of the Queen, owned by Kempner; adjoining these claims on the west, the Fraction, owned by Kempner and Chas. Curtis; next the San Juan, owned by Dunn, then the Tip Top, owned by Southworth and Kempner. A cross-cut tunnel has been run on the Silver Queen 110 feet, cutting the ledge, which is 4 feet wide, with 2 feet of rich antimonial silver and black sulphurets. Cross-cut tunnels and shafts, about 110 feet in all, have been run on the San Juan, which shows immense croppings. Six feet of quartz on south wall. North wall not reached. Ore same character as Horn Silver. West of the San Juan are the Tip Top and May Flower, owned by Southworth and Kempner. These are developed by open cuts and shafts, but no development to any depth has yet been done. Veins are large and all show well, the ore carrying antimonial silver and sulphurets. On the north silver belt are the Hurdy group—the Poorman, Hurdy Flat, Daisy, Jumbo and Black Demon, owned by Dunn and others. These claims are not developed except by open cuts, and test shafts.

DISCHARGED.

Tong Lung, a Chinaman arrested for stabbing one of his countrymen in Pioneerville, on the 1st of this month, had his examination Wednesday before Judge Jas. J. Mark, W. H. Savidge, an attorney of Pocatello, appearing for the defense. The examination was delayed until satisfied that the Chinaman was not seriously injured. The examination, however, would have been held a few days sooner, but was postponed to await the arrival of Dist. Attorney Chas. M. Hays. Mr. Savidge arrived here Monday evening and informed the Judge that Mr. Hays had told him it was impossible for him to come. Witnesses were then immediately summoned. The evidence was to the effect that the Chinese had a "big day" on Dec. 1st and had congregated in a gambling house at Pioneerville. Tong Lung met Fung Hing on the street and asked Mr. Hing to liquidate a little debt of $1.80, due Tong Lung. Both went into the gambling house, when Fung Hing picked up a stick of stove wood and belted Mr. Lung over the head and face. Mr. Hing then made a spring for a hatchet, when Mr. Lung, who had a penknife in his hand, proceeded to defend himself, and drove the blade three times into the anatomy of Fung Hing. It was clearly a case of self-defense. The prisoner was discharged.

Railroad Market.

Every indication now points to the certainty that early spring will witness the beginning of active work all along the line of the Seattle, Boise & Salt Lake railway.

Chief-Engineer Mix.

Chief-Engineer Mix, who arrived in Payette Friday evening, was met by The Independent man, who, after a bit of pleasant conversation, applied the pump with a good deal of energy, but only succeeded in eliciting the information that Mr. Mix had been telegraphed by the management to come at once, prepared to go out on the line with a surveying corps.

In the Probate Court of the State of Idaho in and for the county of Boise. James Abbott, plaintiff, vs. E. B. Channell, defendant. The people of the State of Idaho send greeting to E. B. Channell, defendant: You are hereby summoned and required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff, in the Probate Court of the State of Idaho, in and for the county of Boise, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; or, if served elsewhere, within forty days.

RECENT reports from State Land Commissioner Fenn and State Superintendent of schools J. E. Harroun show that at the present time the sum realized from the sale of school lands amounts to $325,000 and that the auctions to be held in Bingham and Cassia counties will add $75,000 more, swelling the grand total to $400,000. The sale in Bingham county will commence on the 14th instant, and will no doubt be as spirited as it has been in other counties.—Pocatello Tribune.

Ed STANLEY, of Garden valley, is in town. Ed has a contract for cutting 1,000,000 feet of logs for Ross & Co. He is also foreman of a crew that will cut 4,000,000 feet for the same company. Ed says eight or nine million feet will be cut this winter near Garden valley.

THOS. WRIGHT and John Pfeiffer left the other day for De Lamar. They will return next spring to resume work on the Chickamoon.

A Sum-mare-ry Decision.

The Statesman says that Judge Nugent last Friday decided that a mare by any other name was still a mare; and this is how it was: A man named Ed Grothjan was recently indicted by the county grand jury for the larceny of a "yearling mare colt." He secured the services of two bright young attorneys, Cahalan & Badger, and they proceeded to knock the indictment into a cocked hat. The penal code of Idaho sets forth that the theft of a mare, horse, gelding, cow, bull, calf, steer, hog, sheep, jenny, mule, jack or goat is larceny. The attorneys held that no reference was made to mare colts, hence, even if their client had stolen the animal named in the indictment, the law could not reach him. Judge Nugent did not agree with the attorneys on this particular question; but he sustained other points set forth in the demurrer, and ordered that Grothjan be released on bail, pending the action of the next grand jury.
