WASHINGTON

BLAINE'S SICKNESS.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Mr. Blaine while entering church yesterday, suddenly fainted, and was unconscious for nearly five hours after. The physicians state that the attack was caused by nervous prostration, brought on by overwork, excessive heat, and the continued mental strain of the last few weeks. Blaine had walked about three-quarters of a mile in the park, and on reaching the church became suddenly dizzy, and came near falling. He exclaimed, "O the pain!" Gen. Hamilton procured a carriage in which he was taken home, and laid on the floor, and remained unconscious. He breathed irregularly during the entire afternoon. Secretary Sawyer called during the afternoon, and many other prominent gentlemen, including many democrats. About 10 o'clock consciousness returned, and he began to breathe better, and his pulse became regular. One of his physicians says the attack was merely one of sunstroke, to which he was more liable on account of his recent illness, and the continuation of the pain for weeks. There are no symptoms of epilepsy.

Washington, June 12.—The following bulletin has been posted up in front of Blaine's residence by his physicians:

Mr. Blaine has improved decidedly all night, and slept well, but as rest is necessary to-day, I have assumed it expedient to place a barrier at the entrance. He is now sleeping. [At 10.10 a. m.]

[Signed] G. W. Pope.

Ropes are placed across the street, leading to Blaine's residence, to prevent him being disturbed by passing vehicles, and men are stationed at the door, who deny admittance to all.

1.30 P. M.

We can only repeat that all expectations are being rapidly realized.—Mr. Blaine has just taken nourishment and sleeps more than is allowed him. Dr. Cox says the entire group of symptoms indicate an early and complete recovery.

3 P. M.

Blaine's favorable symptoms continue to improve.

Congressman Hale telegraphed to Blaine from Cincinnati that there was great relief at his favorable condition, and that his cause improved every day, and that the coming in better than expected.

THE LATEST ABOUT BLAINE.

At eleven thirty-eight Doctors Verde and Barnes telegraphed Hale that Blaine had arisen from his bed and sat in a chair. For several minutes he conversed with his friends and is getting strength rapidly and surely.

Washington, June 12, 1.30 a. m.—At this hour Mr. Blaine is quietly sleeping. His breathing is perfectly natural, and there is no change from the very encouraging signs manifested during the afternoon and night.

Kerr's Condition.

Speaker Kerr was very feeble all day yesterday, but last night a little easier. Friends are very anxious about him.

CONVENTION.

Dr. Pope, Kerr's physician states that Kerr had a good night and feels decidedly better to-day and unless a relapse occurs will completely recover and be in his usual health.

TRIAL OF BABCOCK.

Trial of Babcock on safe burglary question is set for September 19th.

COLORED CATHOLICS.

St. Augustine's church, built by and for colored Catholics, was dedicated yesterday by Archbishop Bagley.

REGULATING UTAH.

A substitute for the Utah bills regulating franchise, &c. was reported by Wigginton to-day in the house. It reverts the election franchise to males 21 years old and upwards, who are neither polygamists nor bigamists, and are otherwise qualified to vote.

ALL IS LOVELY.

Bristow, being asked to-day to state his relations with Blaine and the result of their interview Saturday night, declined to do so, but said he had never been otherwise than friendly with Blaine. Gov. Dennison was present Saturday night and he preferred that any statement of what occurred should come from him. Dennison being called upon, made a written statement in effect that last Thursday, while traveling to New York he met an acquaintance who mentioned as a fact that he knew Mr. Blaine felt very unkindly towards Bristow, because he believed Bristow was responsible for the charges against him which are now attracting public attention. He mentioned one peculiarly offensive and Dennison said it was even inspired by Bristow.

On Saturday night, June 10, Bristow called on Dennison at his residence, and requested a meeting, and requested him, Dennison, to go with him, Bristow, to Blaine's house. They went together, had a friendly talk with Blaine, explained the reason of their visit, denied the stories afloat and received from Mr. Blaine emphatic and positive assurance that he never heard Bristow's name connected with the origin or publication of the story and that neither he nor any relation ever charged that it came from Bristow. Blaine affirmed that the gentleman who imparted the information was not an intimate acquaintance. In fact he knew him very slightly. As Bristow and Dennison were about to leave Blaine urged in a kindly manner that they remain, which they did and a very friendly conversation ensued and in this respect the interview closed without any political significance.

The President Makes.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—The Morton men starting with assumption that Blaine will not recover in time to receive in the convention the vote he otherwise would, are in much better spirits to-day than yesterday, claiming that danger of the defeat of their candidate has lessened and that what danger he has to fear comes from a new source, not as yesterday, from Conkling, but from Hayes. They say the efforts made by Conkling were to secure southern votes, that being supposed to be the most valuable quarter, have failed, and that the delegates from that section colored and white, remain as faithful to those whom they were pledged to support. The chief reliance of Morton is on associates which is believed will come to him from Blaine men in the northwest and northeast should be found that the latter could not be nominated. It is claimed that one-third of Iowa, a portion of Wisconsin and Michigan, a fraction of Illinois and a pretty full vote from Maine will go to Morton when Blaine draws out. The number to be thus obtained from Illinois is not as large as has been claimed by some. Col. Ingersoll and about five others will probably make up all that can be obtained from that source rather to the disappointment of the Indiana delegation. The delegation from Indiana is expected to be determined to stick to Morton to the bitter end and have no 2d choice.

Owing to Blaine's attack Sunday, aggressive warfare on the part of his friends was not very active to-day, and much of their time was spent in reading the dispatches who had become alarmed at the loss of some Washington dispatches. Apparently unfavorable dispatches were met by others received from his friends, and it cannot be safely said that as yet any votes have been lost to him by reason of his illness. Should his condition remain unimproved for 24 hours more there are said to be several who would support him only on an informal, and possibly on the first formal ballot. This evening Senator Logan claims that Blaine will have 300 votes on the first formal ballot and on the 2d will secure enough of the wavering to put him through. Logan denies the statement that he is at heart for Conkling, asserting that the choice of the convention must be between Representative Blaine and Conkling. That he strongly favors the former. Bristow men are making claims that on 2d formal ballot their candidate will have 200 votes. They say that Instead of 2 votes formally allowed Bristow in Ill., he will have sixty-four, that after a ballot or two nearly all of Missouri will unite on him. They admit that as yet their force is chiefly made up of scatters of a few delegates from each state, but they claim that these will stand firm.

Many of them seem to have no faith in Bristow's nomination, saying after Blaine is disposed of, Morton and Conkling will unite to slay Bristow, if by no other way, by giving the nomination to Hayes. There was a meeting of Bristow men to-day, at which Wilson was present. They counted 160 votes which they claim are certain for Bristow, on the first ballot.

Ohio men are very enthusiastic over Hayes. They held two meetings this p. m., at which reports were made by prominent members who have been in conference with other delegations going to show that there is a general feeling of confidence in the ultimate nomination of Hayes as a compromise candidate.

Prominent Massachusetts delegates it is said have assured Ohio delegates that all they desired was that Ohio should stand firm on the ballots and Massachusetts would come to the support of Hodges. Conkling men have done nothing to-day except to meet. They have been conferring together and have kindly seen that idle delegates from the south have had pleasant rides in the suburbs of the city without any expense.

CONGRESSIONAL

The Senate Adjourns Over to Thursday.

Clymer's Committee Finds No Evidence Against the Character of Speaker Kerr.

Danford and Hurlbut Assail the Whole Investigation Business.

The House Unanimously Adopts the Committee's Report.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A motion to adjourn over Cincinnati convention, on account of the absence of many senators, was, after a long discussion, rejected. Yeas 16, nays 23.

After a discussion of minor bills, no quorum was found present, and as soon as one was found the senate adjourned to Thursday next.

A joint resolution to modify the treaty with China so as to restrict immigration was passed.

The appropriation committee reported the army appropriation bill, some ten millions less than estimates, and with a section reducing the force of the army and pay of officers.

Mr. Loed introduced a joint resolution recommending a constitutional amendment that U. S. officials, such as assessors, postmasters, marshals and collectors, except collectors of custom duties, shall be elected for a term of four years. Referred.

Mr. Hammond introduced a bill providing for the gradual resumption of specie payment, and for the repeal of so much of the resumption act as fixes the date for resumption at January, 1879.

Mr. Clymer, from the committee on expenditures in the war department, made a report in the case of the charge against Speaker Kerr, saying that the committee found there was not a shadow of truth in the charges. He denounced the testimony of Harney, that Mr. Kerr had abused his privilege of appointment, and that the committee fully exonerate him from all corrupt purpose, and found nothing in the evidence to detract from his well established character for integrity and purity. This conclusion of the committee was unanimous.

Mr. Danford, a republican member, heartily endorsed the report in simple justice.

Mr. Harney said that as far as Kerr's reputation was concerned, Harney himself had not a particle of the charge. He announced the practice of the committee in good men at the convention. The testimony of Harney was but the natural outgrowth of these investigations. The committee of the house has been fair and impartial in its proceedings, and dragging public life and private correspondence of citizens into publicity, publishing even the bank accounts of officials without charges and without specifications.

Mr. Hurlbut said the reputation of our own public men is among the best in the world, and that the men who would unjustly and untruthfully detract from the reputation of a public man was not only stabbing at his life and character, but doing a most fatal mischief to the success of the nation.

Mr. Garfield suggested that a vote on the report should be taken by the members rising. The suggestion was adopted, and all the members, 210 in number rose in affirmation.

Mr. Garfield then asked that it be entered on record that the vote was unanimous.

The speaker then directed the clerk to let it be recorded on the records as the unanimous vote of the house.

Lowenworth suggested as highly proper that the house should furnish to Kerr a certified copy of the proceedings on this occasion. He made a motion to that effect, which was agreed to, and the clerk instructed accordingly.

Adjourned.
