CRIME.

A PASSENGER TRAIN ROBBED.

Cheyenne, September 19.—The east-bound passenger train, which passed here at 3 o'clock p. m. to-day, was stopped and robbed by 13 masked men, at Big Springs, Nebraska, one hundred and sixty miles east of here to-night. The robbers first took possession of the station at Big Springs, destroying the telegraph instruments, and compelled the agent to hang out the red light. When the train stopped the robbers took possession, putting the train men and passengers under guard. The express car was broken into and the safe robbed of about seventy-five thousand dollars. The passengers were also robbed of what amount, is not yet ascertained. To delay the train, they reaching the next station, and the alarm being given, the fire in the locomotive was wet down, a freight train overtaking the express. Its engine was sent to Ogallala from where report of the robbery was made. The robbers are believed to have gone north. The railroad company offer a reward of five thousand dollars for the arrest of the thieves.

THE LATEST ARRIVAL.

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—Capt. Dollard, of the schooner W. F. March, just arrived from the Arctic ocean, reports that the crew of an American vessel, name not ascertained, had recently killed thirteen natives near Cape Prince of Wales. The trouble is understood to have arisen in the course of trade with the natives. The latter are greatly excited, and are disposed to be hostile since occurrence.

QUIETLY SLEEPING.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 19.—Senator Morton has rallied from the low nervous condition of last night, and now is quietly sleeping.

PRESIDENT HAYES AND PARTY.

Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 19.—The presidential party left Louisville at 8:30 o'clock this morning, on a special train, the Standford guards of Louisville, accompanying the party as an escort to the president, and presenting a fine soldierly appearance. Owing to the early hour the party started, there were few people at the depot to see the party off, but at the stations along the road crowds had assembled to see the president. The train made no stop till Elizabethtown was reached, where a large crowd had assembled, and were firing a salute as the train arrived. The president, from the rear of the train, made a short address and then introduced Secretary Evarts, but before the latter commenced his speech the train started.

Arrived at Bowling Green, an immense crowd welcomed the president with cheers, and rounds of artillery. The president said: "We are very glad indeed to exchange greetings with you. We believe you are here to greet us, not because you belong to the same party with us, not because you approve of every measure, but because as we hope, you agree with us in two or three leading ideas. We believe and we hope, you believe that the union is perpetual. [Applause.] We believe, and we hope, you believe the constitution as it is, for all parties and it is to be obeyed. [Applause.] We believe, as we hope you believe that the duty of the general government is to regard alike and equally all sections of our country; applause. We hope you believe that it is the duty of all to regard alike and equally all races and classes of all the states." The president then introduced Secretary Evarts who said the cabinet concurred in the general purpose to make all the people love one another better than they have before. Wade Hampton said he pledged the south to maintain the president, while he sustained the constitution of the United States. A committee from Nashville boarded the train at this place.

At Franklin, Ky., another large crowd had assembled and the president made a brief speech. He was followed by Governor Hampton, Evarts and Key. The same thing was repeated at Gallatin. Nashville was reached at noon, amid booming of the cannon and deafening cheers of the people.

WAR ITEMS.

A correspondent at Shipka, reports that on the 17th, after seven hours of bloody fighting, in which the Turks showed an extraordinary gallantry, they at five o'clock in the evening took Fort St. Nicholas, the highest point of the Russian works, capturing five guns, but later the Russians, owing to large reinforcements received and by the enormous difficulty of the position, the Turks were obliged to abandon it.

London, Sept. 19.—The correspondent before Pleyna says that on the 16th, the siege proceeds by sap and trench. The Turks must soon be shut in entirely. The spirit of all ranks of the Russian army's admirably. The supplies are plentiful. The weather is splendid.

PRESIDENT MACMAHON'S MANIFESTO.

Paris, Sept. 19.—President MacMahon's manifesto to the French people is published. He says for the last four years he has maintained peace, and the personal confidence with which he is honored by foreign sovereigns, enables him to render France's relations with all powers more cordial. He points out how France prospered and says that the chamber of deputies throwing off the leadership of moderate men at length forgot the share of authority belonging to him, and which he could not allow to be diminished without involving the honor of his name before the people of France and before history. In the exercise of his right he dissolved the chamber. His government will designate among the candidates, those who are authorized to make use of his name. The elections favorable to his policy will facilitate the regular conduct of the existing government.

Hostile elections would aggravate a conflict between the public powers, as well as impede the course of business and maintain agitation, and France in the midst of these fresh complications would become for Europe an object of distrust. As for himself, his duty would increase with the danger. He could not obey the mandates of demagogues. He could neither become the instrument of radicalism, nor abandon the parts which the constitution has placed him. He shall remain to defend the conservative labors with the support of the senate, and shall energetically protect the public servants, who, at the disappointment have not allowed themselves to be intimidated by vain threats. He awaits with full confidence the manifestation of the people's sentiments. With God's help they will secure to France stability, order and peace. He asks the people to listen to a soldier, who is guided by nothing but the love of his country.
