GENERAL NEWS.

Twenty-Nine Members of the Fusion Legislature Join the Maine Republicans.

Governor Pitkin, of Colorado, Appears as a Witness Before the House Indian Committee.

A Lake in Switzerland Frozen over for the Fourth Time in Eighty Years.

Adoption of a Resolution in the Senate for Appointment of a Committee on the Isthmus Canal.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate the Fortification Bill is Reported with Amendments—Public Roads and Highways Become Post Routes.

SENATE.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Mr. Davis, of Illinois, presented a petition from the citizens of Birmingham, against the reduction of duty on sheet zinc.

Mr. Allison, from the appropriation committee, reported with amendments the fortification bill. Ordered printed.

Mr. Johnston submitted a resolution requesting the president for information respecting the collection and disbursement of the Venezuela award. Adopted.

Mr. Gordon submitted a resolution that a committee of nine senators be appointed to take into consideration the subject of the construction of a canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and that all papers, documents and information relating to the said subject be referred to the said committee, and be authorized to confer and act concurrently with any similar committee of the house, and be authorized to employ a clerk. The chair in the absence of objections declared the resolution adopted.

Mr. Davis of West Virginia, called attention to the great number of special committees appointed during the present session, and the expense thus incurred. He asked if one of the regular committee could not consider these subjects.

Mr. Gordon said that if the senator from West Virginia was as conversant with the facts in the case as he (Gordon) was he would probably make no objection to the resolution. That matter is the most important now before the American people and the committee on commerce had found it impossible to give it the attention it demanded.

Mr. Davis entered a motion to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was adopted, and the matter went over and an executive session followed.

HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The bill making all public roads and highways, post routes passed under the previous question. Yeas 134 nays 97.

Mr. Herbert from the committee on judiciary, reported the bill providing that no person shall serve as petit juror in any U. S. court, more than three weeks during any one year. Pending action the morning hour expired and the house went into committee of the whole on the revision of rules.

The Fusionists.

Augusta, Jan. 29.—In the senate seven fusion senators appeared and were cordially received and took their seats. Atwell and Potter, of Penobscot, said that the interests of their constituency required their presence at the board and however much might be said regarding the position of affairs, their duty was plain. In the house 23 fusionists took their seats.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Iowa.
Washington, Jan. 29.—The house committee on judiciary has agreed on the bill providing that the United States circuit court of Iowa sit at the same places as the district court is held, namely: De Moines, Council Bluffs, Dubuque and Keokuk.

The Pacific Railroad.
Washington, Jan. 29.—The house committee on the Pacific railroad today instructed their chairman to report favorably and urge the passage of the McLane's bill to alter and amend the banking fund act, approved May 7th, 1878, after agreeing upon the amendment extending the provisions of the act to all persons and corporations into whose possession the Union and Central Pacific may come by purchase, consolidation or otherwise.

Indian Affairs.
Washington, Jan. 29.—The house committee on Indian affairs today examined Gov. Pitkin of Col., on the Ute question. He stated that the Indians had long been dissatisfied, and chafed under restraints of the enforced influences of civilization exerted at agencies; that Jack and other Indians had appealed to him to have them relieved of the presence of Agent Meeker; that they did not care for farming but preferred to lead a nomadic life. Gov. Pitkin believed the Utes actuated by malicious intent in the recent Ute outbreak, and desired it possible to drive the whites from Colorado.

Bellevue Blown Out.
Boston, Jan. 28.—The board of overseers of Harvard college decided yesterday, after a long discussion, that Rev. Dr. Bellevue, of New York, is ineligible as a member of the board of overseers, not being a resident of Massachusetts, although receiving a majority of the votes cast at the recent election.

The Weather.
Washington, Jan. 29.—The weather indications for the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri rivers are: Slowly falling barometer, winds shifting to the east and south; partly cloudy weather and light snow and stationary or slowly rising temperature.

Obituary.
Chicago, Jan. 29.—S. S. Hayes, former comptroller of the city, and for many years a leading business man, died last night, aged 59.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

A scene of Great Excitement—Brokers Have Their Coats Torn, and were in Danger of Having their Bones Broken.

New York, Jan. 29.—The stock exchange in the early hours was the scene of great excitement, and the subject of it was that the Central Pacific stock was yesterday, by a public notice given by the committee of the syndicate, which bought 50,000 shares of the Central Pacific, with a privilege of 50,000 more, that the same would be publicly sold in the ordinary way at the opening of the stock exchange this morning. The Evening Post says: The syndicate employed five brokers, giving each an order to sell 10,000 shares on the scale of fractions from 80 up to 85. Soon as the hammer of the presiding officer dropped at an o'clock, and business was formally opened, there was such a rush in the Central Pacific crowd as might have led the spectator to believe some one in the crowd was throwing about five carat diamonds by the handful. Brokers had their coats torn and were in danger of having their bones broken. In fact the tumult was extraordinary, even for the stock exchange. When the excitement subsided, the first sale was at 81. There was then a rapid advance to 87. Inside of the first 15 minutes, this was followed by a decline to 84, and at 10:20 with the price of 85, the five brokers had executed their order, and the 50,000 shares had been disposed of.

Ames, G. M. Dodge and F. H. Bond. The following officers were then elected: President, Jay Gould; vice-presidents, F. H. Bond and B. P. McCready.

HAYT'S MISMANAGEMENT.

Unfulfilled Promises—The Cause of the Cheyenne Outbreak.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The commissioner of Indian affairs find himself placed upon the defensive in another direction. There are now three committees investigating him—one from the board of Indian commissioners, then the house committee on Indian affairs, and, lastly, the committee which was appointed a year ago to investigate the Cheyenne outbreak of 1878. This committee, of which Senator Kirkwood is chairman went out last summer to the Indian territory and made a very thorough examination of the Indians and others at the agency. They found that the outbreak, which will be well remembered, was caused by mismanagement, neglect, and ill treatment of the small band of Cheyennes which was sent from the Red Cloud agency to Indian territory the previous year. The causes specified were:

1. These Northern Cheyennes were told before their removal to the Indian territory that the country to which they were going was full of game, and when they got there they found no game at all.

2. They were placed at the same agency with other Indians who, being their hereditary enemies, and largely in the majority, made it very unpleasant for them, and gave them many causes for dissatisfaction.

3. Soon after their arrival an epidemic of the measles broke out, and about twelve per cent of the entire population died. They were not provided with medicine, and there was only one doctor for several thousand Indians.

4. They were poorly supplied with food, and at times had no food at all. The army officers and others testified that the amount of food usually issued for a week was not sufficient for two days' rations.

5. Their annuity goods, as specified in detail in the treaty with the Indians, were never issued. The agent testified that he could not issue them because they were not sent him by the government. Under the bargain by which the Indians consented to go to the Indian territory, they were to be furnished with cattle, but the cattle were never furnished. The agent testified that he was never supplied with cattle for this purpose. The lack of medicines, the agent testified, was on account of the failure of the Indian bureau to provide them, although he had sent his requisition to Washington. The doctor had failed to visit the Indians when the epidemic was raging because he had no medicines to give them; and, said the agent, "for a long time we were entirely out of medicine." The agent testified that he wrote and telegraphed for medicines, but no response was made by Commissioner Hayt.

6. The commissioner promised that ten wagons, harnesses, and horses should be given to the Indians. The agent testified that he never heard of their being furnished.

7. The agent testified that the rations always fell from three to five months short. There are only a few of many facts ascertained by the committee in their visit to Indian territory last summer. The committee called Commissioner Hayt before them, submitted a copy of the evidence to him, and asked him to make such a statement as he desired. The commissioner requested time and was given until Monday to prepare his defense.

The proprietors of the Fargo Republican have risen from the ashes of the fire and are out with their newly, reliable weekly as usual.
