GENERAL NEWS.

Governor Pitkin Favors the Removal of the Utes to Utah.

The Czar of the Russias Preparing to Celebrate His Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

GOVERNOR PITKIN.

He Completes his Testimony and Favors the Removal of the Utes to Eastern Utah.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Gov. Pitkin, of Colorado, to-day completed his testimony before the house committee on Indian affairs. It related to fires set, and depredations committed by Indians in southwest Colorado, and to injurious effects on mining settlements along the border of the reservation, occasioned by the changed relations between the whites and Indians since the recent outbreak. He was also examined as to the character of the late Agent Meeker. He favored giving land in eastern Utah to the Indians, throwing open the Colorado reservation to settlement by the whites, and giving the Indians everything realized from the sale of the lands of their reservation, unless some satisfactory sum could be agreed upon to be paid them by the government for the relinquishment of their right to the reservation. Maj. J. B. Thompson, timber agent of the government, gave an account of the fires started by the Utes in northwestern Colorado last May and June.

Liverpool, Jan. 31.—A popular excitement exists over the election to fill the vacancy in the house of commons, caused by the death of John Torr. The liberals expect victory through the help of the house rulers, of the temperance vote and of Lord Derby. The conservatives are equally confident, and the contest is very keen. There is a similar contest in Southwark, where the deceased John Locke, where the liberals have the majority.

He Tells the Whole Story—The Defendant's Counsel Accused of Having Sold Documents for the Successful Prosecution of the Suit.

New York, Jan. 31.—The suit of the Manufacturers and Merchants bank against Louis Levenson to recover $34,000, the amount alleged to have been stolen from the bank by means of a conspiracy between the defendant and the bookkeeper, J. R. Harris, resulted in a verdict for the bank for the full amount, claimed with interest. Harris lost his share in the money stolen, playing policy and buying lottery tickets. The faithless bookkeeper took the stand and told the whole story of the robbery. A striking incident of the trial was the charge made by the defence, that the plaintiffs had bought for $150 from the former counsel of the defendant, documents deemed necessary to the successful prosecution of the suit. The judge expressed a natural indignation of such disgraceful action, and stated that if the accusation should prove true, he would take steps to have the treacherous lawyer disbarred.
