SOCIAL AND MUSICAL

One of the prettiest house weddings of the season was solemnized at the home of Mrs. J. B. Shepherd, 324 Norman street, at high noon today, when her daughter, Miss Vera Belle, was united in marriage to Mr. William F. Watson of New Milford. Rev. C. E. Barto, pastor of the Washington Park M. E. church officiated, and the ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the bridal couple. The house was handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and bright June roses, while the bay window, where the ceremony was performed, was banked high with gay spring blossoms making a veritable flower garden. The bride, who was charmingly attired in an Empire gown of white mousseline and carrying a bouquet of white roses, entered the parlor on the arm of her brother, Mr. Harry B. Shepherd, who gave her in marriage. There were no bridesmaids or best man, but dainty little Miss Blawie Chew, in the capacity of flower girl, acted well her part. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, and the catering was done by Mrs. J. B. Shepherd. The wedding presents, which are numerous and costly include cut glass, silverware, china and bric-a-brac. The happy couple left on an afternoon motor trip to South, and on their return will reside in New Milford.

Mr. John Cullinan, of Cullinan and Sullivan, with his two daughters, Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of the High School faculty and Miss Nellie Cullinan, will leave for the city the last of the month for an extended vacation trip. They plan to spend one week in Yellowstone Park, after which they will journey westward to the Pacific coast, where Mr. Cullinan has a sister and many other relatives residing in San Francisco. The city of San Francisco, they will visit the principal points of interest along the coast and interior, including the Seattle Exposition, not returning home until the latter part of August.

Mr. J. Seacher and family of Bethel, Me., are guests in town for the Seacher-Watson wedding.

Mrs. W. W. Watson and daughter of New Milford are in town.

Probate clerk W. V. Devitt, is at his desk once more in the probate office, very much improved in health.

Mr. E. A. Lambert, the well known architect is in Philadelphia to-day in attendance at the graduating exercises of the Jefferson Medical University, where his son, Dr. H. Bertram Lambert will receive his degree. Dr. Lambert is a native of this city and a graduate of the local high school. He had a preliminary course of two years at Yale Medical College after which he attended the University of Philadelphia taking the course with high honor and distinction. He will return to his home in this city at once about July 1, become a resident with the staff at the Bridgeport hospital, having successfully passed the State examinations last March.

CUP PASSED AS IN SAXON DAYS OF OLD AT BEARDSLEY FEAST

Recently Elected President General of National Society, S. A. R., Honored by Banquet and Gift.

Toasts are Greeted With Response by Prominent Members of State and National Bodies—Society Has 12,000 Members.

In Anglo-Saxon days of old the loving cup was present at every feast. It was a common cup, and it was passed up and down the board until every man's thirst had been satisfied. This ancient custom was observed, last night, at the banquet given in honor of Morris B. Beardsley, who has been recently, elected president-general of the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, when the big silver loving cup, given to him by the governors and officers of the state branch was filled with champagne and passed from guest to guest until it came to the table of the state branch. Every time the cup was filled two quarts of champagne were used. It is a large cup, and a handsome one, which stood on a four-foot high on its pedestal, and was suitably inscribed by the donors. The gift was unexpected.

Rev. E. Langstone Wells, rector of St. Luke's church, and president of General Silliman Chapter presided. Many men prominent in the state and national councils of Sons of the American Revolution were present, including Henry C. Sherwood, of this city, treasurer of the Connecticut State Society, Fox Stiles, of Stratford, State's attorney Cornelius Pugsley of New York, former president-general of the National society and president of the Empire State society; Judge Edward C. Battis, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts society, Gen. Edwin S. Greely, of New Haven, former president-general of the National Society, A. J. Sloper, of New Britain; J. W. Brooks, of Torrington, speaker pro tem of the Connecticut State Society and acting lieutenant governor; L. B. Curtis, of this city, president of the Connecticut State society and Rev. John DePeu, of this city; Gen. E. B. Bunker, of New Britain; Belknap Hartford; E. J. Doolittle, Meriden; I. Coolidge, Hartford; C. H. Wickham, Hartford; W. J. Atwater, New Haven; F. A. Corbin, New Britain; Wilson Lee, New Haven; M. Hemingway, Waterbury.

Judge Beardsley during his remarks referred to the society of Daughters of the American Revolution which has 75,000 members. He said that he hoped to increase to 25,000 and sometime, in respect of membership, stand upon a par with the Daughters. Toasts were referred to by Hon. Stiles, Edward Lewis B. Curtis, president of the State society, by Cornelius Pugsley, New York, former president general of the National Society, by Judge Edward C. Battis of Boston, by George W. Jackson, chairman of the committee on arrangements, and by Henry C. Sherwood, treasurer of the state society. The evening closed with a few words by Rev. John DePeu of this city.

Among those present were: George W. Jackson, O. H. Brothwell, Charles B. Buckingham, Frederick Doolittle, Rev. John DePeu, Henry C. Sherwood, F. L. Armstrong, George W. Jackson, Dow R. Beebe, A. Blackman, W. H. Burr, Charles E. Coe, William Hart, A. H. Huntington, Edward Ives, E. P. Noyon, A. P. Nettleton, W. J. Perry, George H. Peck, C. H. Peet, Henry J. Seeley, Col. T. B. Warren, A. S. CHARGES AGAINST PATENT MEDICINES. Most of the charges against patent medicines as a class have no foundation in fact and are manifestly unfair and unjust.

There are a large number of standard remedies like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound used in thousands of homes which are sold for a few cents, and which would not afford to consult a physician, and they have answered the purpose equally as well.

BANK SHORTAGE GROWS BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS

New Haven, June 9.—Estimates of the alleged shortage of Bookkeeper Frederick H. Brigham of the Merchants' National Bank who was arrested Monday night following the discovery of a discrepancy in his accounts, grew by leaps and bounds today when it became known that the United States Marshall who has been here working on the case seized the safety deposit box which Brigham maintained in the New Haven Trust Company. In it were found securities said to be valued at $70,000, all purchased since the first of February. Among these securities are shares of the Rawhide Coalition Mines Company, American Gold Placer Company, Cumberland Ely Mining Company, Garrux Consolidated Mines, Uncle Sam Consolidated Mines and securities of a half dozen other mining enterprises.

As the first warrant sworn against Brigham alleged a shortage of but $15,000, the subsequent course of the bank officials indicates that further discrepancies are constantly being discovered. This belief was further substantiated today when civil suit was begun by the bank against Brigham for damages in the sum of $100,000. In the suit a shortage of $100,000 is alleged as the grounds for action. When the marshal broke open the safety vault $1,200 was found in cash with the securities. This was also taken charge of by Marshall Parmelee.

Brigham is still in jail in default of $10,000 bond. He absolutely refuses to discuss the case and has repeatedly rebuffed those connected with the bank who attempted to elicit any information. His attorney simply says: "Only the bank's side has been heard in this case. Wait until Tuesday. The preliminary hearing will develop some interesting things."

Fear of Assassination Changes Czar's Plans

(Special from United Press.)

St. Petersburg, (via Espykunnen), June 9.—There is the best authority today for the statement that the Czar has abandoned his plan to include Italy in the itinerary of his forthcoming European tour through fear of assassination. Russian secret service agents who were sent to Italy two weeks ago to prepare the way for the Czar have reported that Italian revolutionists have combined with Russian insurgents in a plot to assassinate the Czar and regardless of all precautions the trip cannot be taken without the gravest dangers.

The feeling against Nicholas is very bitter now, his agents tell him, on account of the recent reactionary triumph in Russia and the revelations of frightful prison cruelties resulting from the Duma's debates.

SUGAR TRUST PAYS TEN MILLIONS TO END SUIT

New York, June 9.—Two million dollars in cash, the return of $7,000,000 par value of securities held as collateral, and the cancellation of a loan of $1,250,000 more was the price which the American Sugar Refining Company agreed last night to pay in settlement of the suit brought against it by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company under the Sherman Anti-Trust act. The suit was brought to recover $300,000, being the triple damages allowed by the statute, on the charge that the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company had conspired to wreck the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, the medium of a well-known loan deal. The case has been on trial before Judge Holt, in the United States District Court, for two weeks, but was stopped suddenly yesterday, when the lawyers got together for a final settlement in negotiations which it was learned had been on for some time.

This settlement of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company's suit comes immediately on top of the payment by the Sugar Trust to the United States Government of $2,000,000 in cash as the amount out of which the United States had been cheated through the use of fraudulent scales on the sugar-refining plant in Brooklyn. Hence there has been a double interest in the suit, both because the damages demanded were among the largest ever asked in litigation in the Federal courts here and because the methods by which the Sugar Trust undertook to put its Philadelphia rival out of commission were among the most those which were employed on its Brooklyn plant to cheat the Government out of millions of customs duties.

There is moreover an element of personal tragedy behind the Pennsylvania company's suit, for the closing down of the new plant which Adolph Segal had built for it to compete with the Sugar Trust, and consequent depreciation of its securities, was one of the contributing causes in the downfall of the Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia, whose President, Frank Hipple, committed suicide when exposure came. The suit just settled was instituted through the Real Estate Trust Company as holder of large amounts of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company's securities, although it was brought in the name of the corporation.
