WILBUR WRIGHT CIRCLES STATUE OF LIBERTY

First Aviator to Pilot Air Machine Around Mammoth Figure at Bedloe Island, Making Complete Circuit

Flight Consumed But Seven Minutes, Aeroplane Moving at Terrific Speed in Gentle Breeze that Prevailed—Immigrants at Ellis Island Alarmed at Strange Sight

(Special from United Press.)

New York, Sept. 29.—Wilbur Wright circled the Statue of Liberty in his aeroplane to-day starting from Governor's Island he sailed through the air around Ellis Island where his maneuvers threw many immigrants there almost into hysterics, thence over Bedloe Island where he made a complete circle of the statue after which he sailed back to Governor's Island, landing exactly on the same spot as he started from. The flight consumed but seven minutes, the aeroplane moving at terrific speed in the gentle breeze that prevailed.

When he landed Wright declared that he considered he had made a good flight. "I don't think I was lower than 75 feet or higher than 100," he declared, "and I circled the statue at a distance of 75 yards, although I could have gone closer. The machine worked perfectly and I went forty miles an hour going out while coming back with the wind behind me I figure I got up to 48 miles an hour."

In landing one of the thin supports of the plane broke and Wright declared it would only take a couple of hours to repair it.

Wright has won the distinction of being the first aviator to pilot an air machine around the mammoth figure of Liberty when he arrived here he stated that this would be one of his first objects.

He made his initial flight about the bay to-day, however, without attempting the feat and it is believed he had decided to reserve the performance until it could be made part of a regular program. The fact that he had been in the air, however, attracted an enormous fleet of excursion craft to the upper bay while the Jersey and Manhattan shores were crowded by the curiosity seekers.

Under the escort of this vast audience the quiet Ohlan decided to try his second flight of the day and at 10:18 he arose swiftly into the air from the launch. He was in the air for a few minutes, but he turned his machine toward the Statue Island shore down in the bay, and he was seen to fly in that direction however, as he described a giant half-circle and sent his craft over toward Ellis Island the inspection and landing place of the millions of immigrants who have landed on American shores.

There were a great many foreigners on the island and the sight of the strange machine in the air caused alarm to some until the interpreter told them what was going on. Wright kept on over toward Bedloe Island and at 10:23 he made a complete circle of Miss Liberty, starting at once from the testing ground where he landed on the exact spot from which he had started at 10:25. The aviator was given an enthusiastic reception on his return by the boats in the harbor but he himself remained undisturbed.

Conditions for flying were ideal at Governor's Island to-day. A lazy breeze swept across the waters of the upper bay without force enough to straighten out the national colors as they streamed from the flagpole in front of the Commandant's cottage.

Both Curtiss and Wright were early on hand, and going to their sheds within which their winged machines were stored, they declared that there was no reason for delay but that the first flights would be attempted. They stated, however, that the extraordinary feat would be tried to-day but that the time would be devoted to setting their machines properly tuned up so that their regular program set forth for to-morrow and the remainder of the week, including flights up the Hudson river as far as Grant's Tomb or farther on.

Curtiss was the first one up but his flight was of short duration and he did not go over the water. He swung round to the right and landed on the proving ground and, finding that his machine was running all right, came back to the shed. It was explained that he would not try to go out across the water until the pontoons which had been attached to his craft could be changed for others that had been made for the purpose. It was necessary to alight in the water.

Wright ran his machine out of the shed soon after 8 o'clock and it was soon in shape for a flight. He gave the word at 8:45:30 and almost before the spectators realized it the aeroplane was in the air. The Ohio man made a complete circle of the testing ground and then started at a height ranging from 35 to 50 feet. Finding that his machine was running smoothly he swung it eastward across the island and out over the mouth of the East River. The big aeroplane was plunging its way through the air at a very fast rate of speed and it was seen to turn northward the Battery wall which was lined with spectators.

PRINCIPALS IN $10,000 PRIZE AIRSHIP RACE FROM NEW YORK TO ALBANY, 150 MILES

Three aeromats entered for the $10,000 prize offered to the first man to make the journey from New York to Albany in an airship. The idea was to state in an airship what Robert Fulton accomplished with his first steamboat more than a hundred years ago. All of the three ships entered for the contest were airships lighter than air machines that used by Captain Thomas S. Baldwin is a silk and rubber bag ninety-six feet long, holding 200 cubic feet of gas and capable of lifting 1,300 pounds. Captain Baldwin was born in Missouri fifty-six years ago and took up aeronautics when he was a boy. He is the inventor of the parachute. The airship operated by John Roeder of Germany is similar to Baldwin's, but is driven by a motor. It was built by his partner, George L. Tomlinson of Syracuse. He won a world's championship at ballooning in St. Louis in 1905 by making a continuous trip last-

BATES KILLED IN AUTO RACE AT RIVERHEAD

Accident Occurs at Opening of Suffolk Course, "Safest in the Country"

Dead Man Mechanician for Herbert Lytle, Who Was Also Seriously Injured.

Riverhead, L. I., Sept. 29.—The opening of the new Suffolk County Automobile course which had been widely advertised as the "safest in the country" was today marred by an accident which cost the life of Joe Bates, the mechanic for Herbert Lytle, and in which Lytle himself was so badly hurt that the doctors are doubtful.

Their big Apperson car was smashed to pieces and the wreckage caught fire. Lytle was thrown 50 feet ahead of the machine, but Bates was caught under the car and his skull and both legs fractured. Help was quickly at hand and the two men were carried to a nearby farmhouse and doctors summoned. The big Apperson car is a total wreck.

Bates died within an hour after the accident in the home of Benjamin C. Kirkup to which he had been carried. Lytle is in a very serious condition at the same home, though the doctors who are working over him say he has a chance for recovery.

So soon as the news of the accident reached the grandstand Mrs. D. W. Loft, owner of the Mercedes car, the biggest in the race, stopped her machine and announced that she was through with the race. She had bought the car from W. K. Vanderbilt especially for contests.

While the feature of the race was the so-called Long Island Derby for stock cars, a lively program had been arranged which took into consideration all classes of cars ranging from those which cost $4,000 and over, down to those which cost less than $1,250. In Class 4 in which were machines costing between $1,250 and $2,000 Louis Chevrolet, driving a Buick, hung up an hour for the distance winning the event easily. He covered the distance of about 113 3/4 miles in about 97 minutes 38 3/10 seconds.

Robert Burman in a Buick was second, and H. J. Droge in a Chalmers-Detroit third. The car costing from $551 to $1,250, was won by Arthur See in his Maxwell, he covering the 91 miles in 101 minutes 22 seconds. Thomas Costello in a Maxwell was second, and Jack Finch in a Buick third.

Meilla, Sept. 29.—Practically without opposition, the Spanish forces occupied Mount Gurgu to-day. This had been the Moore's greatest stronghold and its capture the objective point of the present Spanish advance. The Moors evacuated their position in Gurgu during yesterday and last night and only few shots were fired in capturing the mountain. About 15,000 Moors from Alhucemas are said to be en route to join the Rifas.

PLEADS GUILTY TO ONE COUNT

Brigham, Former Bank Bookkeeper, Gets 5 Years in Federal Prison

HE MADE FALSE ENTRIES

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, Sept. 29.—Pleading guilty to the 2nd count of indictment which charged him with making false entries in the books of the bank, Frederick H. Brigham, the former bookkeeper of the Merchants' National Bank, was to-day sentenced to 5 years in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., by Judge Platt in the United States District Court.

The first count, alleging misappropriation of the bank's funds amounting to $92,000, was nolle prossed on the fact that Brigham had restored $37,000 of this amount, $40,000, however, being represented in mining stocks of questionable value.

Brigham was in court with his wife and took his sentence calmly. He will leave late this afternoon in charge of a Federal officer for Atlanta, where good behavior will shorten his sentence to three years and nine months.

Brigham's arrest in the early part of June caused a sensation as he had been a trusted employee of the bank for eighteen years. While an examination of his books showed that his pecuniary life was short, the period, they amounted to $92,000. His method was to sign checks, cash them outside and when they came back from the clearing house, he would deposit a mislaid check for $23 led to his discovery.

Vote on Early Closing Indications that Hartford Voters Have Only Advisory Powers.

Hartford, Sept. 29.—Considerable discussion has been raised as to the effect of a vote by the electors of Hartford on the hour at which saloons shall be closed. Apparently the effect of the action of the court of Common Council Monday night was to ask for an expression of opinion by the voters at the city meeting next April.

Without reference to the hour fixed, the new statute would indicate that a vote would not be binding on the authorities, though it is not likely that a council, elected wholly or in part at the same meeting, would act contrary to the wishes of a majority of the electors.

POLICE GET MAN WHO WORKS GAME NEW TO THEM

Edward A. Burchell Had Cards Showing Debtors of Singer Company

Arrested While Attempting Collection from Company's Customer.

Edward A. Burchell, aged about 38, of good appearance and intelligent, who has been collecting money misrepresenting himself as an agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was arrested this morning on Summer street by Policemen Finnegan and John R. Sherwood, who were obtaining money under false pretences. He had $25 on him when arrested and several index cards which he had obtained from the files of the company at the office. He refused to give his name, but he had several personal cards in his pockets bearing the name given.

John R. Sherwood, manager of the local Singer office, said that Burchell was wanted in several other cities for similar offenses.

It was Mr. Sherwood who concocted the scheme whereby Burchell was caught. When Mr. Sherwood learned that the index cards were missing he got the names of the missing ones and notified the persons concerned to notify the office at once upon the arrival of a collector. This morning Mrs. John W. Wadsworth, a woman who had been a customer of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, telephoned that a collector had been to see her. Mr. Sherwood, with Detective Fox, hired an automobile and started on the trail. It was thought that Burchell had gone to Fairfield where lived a woman whose card was missing from the file. Mr. Sherwood went to this place but the man had not been there.

Meanwhile Burchell had gone to the home of Mrs. Charles Stapanolis of 11 Summer street. Mrs. Stapanolis was wise and asked him to wait while she got some change. She telephoned to the office and Joseph A. Minto, a salesman for the company, notified the police and drove to the house at once. Burchell was arrested and handcuffed. When Detective Fox and Mr. Sherwood returned they found another hunter had bagged their game.

How the index cards were taken from the file is a mystery, but it is thought they were taken by him during the day time when he might have dropped in casually and while the attention of the saleslady was distracted taken the cards.

COUNTERFEITER GETS ONE YEAR

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, Sept. 29.—Philip Florio, who with five companions was arrested last spring following a raid made by secret service men on an alleged counterfeit den in Wilton, Conn., entered a plea of guilty to the charge of counterfeiting in the United States District Court here to-day and was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary. The case of Joseph Figli, the alleged financial backer of the gang and Rocco Finialo are the only ones to be disposed of. They have both been continued until the December term at which time Figli, it is believed, will plead guilty.

HEALTH BOARD ORDERS BY-PRODUCTS COMPANY TO RE-OPEN ITS PLANT

Resolution Instructs Concern to Clean Up, But Does Not Demand Abatement of Offensive Odors

East Side People Fear Repetition of the Program Which Has Been Several Times Repeated

The Board of Health at a special meeting called last night not only decided to permit the Bridgeport By-Products Company to continue to reduce the garbage, but unanimously adopted a resolution ordering it to do so. The resolution, which was offered by Commissioner George T. Kelly, recognizes the fact that the By-Products company is under contract with the city to dispose of garbage and orders the company to dispose of such garbage within 24 hours after its arrival at the reduction plant. The resolution also orders that the plant shall be thoroughly cleaned at least once every 24 hours.

An explanation of the action of the board, Commissioner Kelly said that the company through its attorney, Arthur Marsh, had made a demand upon the city for the city's garbage to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The demand was accompanied by a statement that the company is in a position to take care of the garbage in a sanitary manner and will do so. In order to escape any legal entanglements which might follow a refusal of the demand, owing to the contract which the company has with the city, the board decided to give the company an opportunity to do what it claims it can do.

The health board alleges that its order is based upon a desire to give the company another chance in order to avoid legal complications. Freshly when the plant was closed two years ago, the attitude of the board is that if the order is not obeyed and the garbage is not reduced in a sanitary way, that a suit for a mandatory injunction will be brought against the company. If the board's order is obeyed, it will be made on the bond.

As to whether the company can comply with the provisions of the resolution, Commissioner Kelly said that he did not know. Mr. Kelly said that while he did not know, he felt that the company could do so. The plant would never be able to reduce 50 tons of garbage per day.

Mr. Livingstone said this morning that the company had disposed of the garbage in a sanitary manner previous to a break down at the plant about 6 weeks ago, and that the company could do so. The 200 tons of garbage which had accumulated since the break down six weeks ago has been disposed of and the plant has been thoroughly cleaned.

That the plant has been cleaned is known positively by Commissioner Kelly, who said that he had seen the plant. When it was suggested to Mr. Kelly that the Board of Health did not appear to be very anxious to get rid of the nuisance which the garbage plant undoubtedly is, to the residents of the East Side, Commissioner Kelly became very indignant and declared that the board would not produce a single person who is sick as a result of the offensive odors arising from the plant.

It is a rather significant fact that the health board has not yet said one word in regard to this nuisance which has been complained of by so many citizens. At the Board of Health in the City Hall recently Dr. McEllan did not say anything either pro or con.

It was Mr. Sherwood who concocted the scheme whereby Burchell was caught. When Mr. Sherwood learned that the index cards were missing he got the names of the missing ones and notified the persons concerned to notify the office at once upon the arrival of a collector. This morning Mrs. John W. Wadsworth, a woman who had been a customer of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, telephoned that a collector had been to see her. Mr. Sherwood, with Detective Fox, hired an automobile and started on the trail. It was thought that Burchell had gone to Fairfield where lived a woman whose card was missing from the file. Mr. Sherwood went to this place but the man had not been there.

Meanwhile Burchell had gone to the home of Mrs. Charles Stapanolis of 11 Summer street. Mrs. Stapanolis was wise and asked him to wait while she got some change. She telephoned to the office and Joseph A. Minto, a salesman for the company, notified the police and drove to the house at once. Burchell was arrested and handcuffed. When Detective Fox and Mr. Sherwood returned they found another hunter had bagged their game.

How the index cards were taken from the file is a mystery, but it is thought they were taken by him during the day time when he might have dropped in casually and while the attention of the saleslady was distracted taken the cards.
