VIEWS OF KEY WEST, WHERE HURRICANE CAUSED BIG LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

GENERAL VIEW, KEY WEST, FLA.

SPONGE MARKET, KEY WEST

SHIPPING TURTLES

Key West and the islands along the west coast of Florida were cut off from the outer world for many hours following the great hurricane that swept in from the West Indies, destroying many lives and millions of dollars' worth of shipping and other property. Practically every house in Key West proper suffered damage, according to the first reports, and the heaviest loss of life was on the keys along the coast. The damage in Key West and its immediate vicinity was estimated at $3,000,000. The hurricane visited Havana with great fury, driving several vessels ashore and destroying a large amount of property in the city. The Florida East Coast railway also came in for considerable loss. Martial law was at once declared in Key West, and all vagrants along the water front were arrested to prevent looting. The storm left a trail of ruin as it crossed the peninsula.
