

The New Winter Overcoats

Here's a range of styles greater than we have ever shown; more varied; richer in colors than overcoats have sported for two generations; more swaggers of cut than ever. Yet we have not neglected the Oxfords and black coats in Chesterfield models; plenty of them here for quiet dressers; styles that never go out of style.

Fancy gray, tan and olive coats with the new convertible collar, semi-military button-to-the-chin when it blows or snows, and regular lapels when you want them. Perfectly simple and simply perfect, $10 to $35.

Black and Oxford Chesterfields, in new meltons, kerseys and chevots, $10 to $30.

We are offering all-wool Russian Overcoats for boys up to 12, wool lined, venetian yoke and velvet collar, for $5, we return every cent of six-fifty.

We're showing a fine lot of new caps for men in hand-some new Tweeds at $1.00.

BOY KILLED BY DR. KLINE'S AUTO

Greenwich, Oct. 29.—"I'm going to touch that automobile, anyway," said Joseph Cotrone of East Portchester, a boy of 10 years, yesterday, darting from a group of boys waiting on the Boston post road to the garage to save the boy from being struck, but the child, misjudging his distance, fell and went under the front wheels.

Norwalk Man Sues Son for $10,000

South Norwalk, Oct. 29.—Patrick Hanlon, an old resident of Norwalk, has sued his son, John B. Hanlon of Orange, Conn., for $10,000 in real estate, which the father alleges was secured from him fraudulently. He states that his son came to him a few weeks ago and asked for a loan of $10,000 for the purchase of property in Norwalk, on the ground that another son would squander it if the father did not make the loan.

HEINE LODGE, O. D. H. S.

The splendid double male quartet of Heine Lodge, O. D. H. S., will be the main attraction tonight at the grand six nights' bazaar being held at Germania hall by their lodge in conjunction with Olga Lodge, of the same order. Attendance was good, showing that interest is still keen in it.

You Would Enjoy a Week-end Trip In The Berkshire Hills.

Country life in the Berkshires puts vim and vigor into a man. You are 1,000 feet or more above the sea. You breathe a dry, bracing atmosphere that makes the blood dance like wine in your veins.

Plenty of good places to stay. The accommodations that are offered you at Berkshire Hills farmhouses and boarding cottages are ever so much better than the average, and you are charged surprisingly little for such excellent fare. If you want more luxurious accommodations there are magnificent hotels at Pittsfield, Lenox, Great Barrington, Lee, Stockbridge and Sheffield that offer you every convenience that can possibly minister to your pleasure and comfort.

Send for illustrated book, "In the Berkshire Hills." It's free. Write A. B. SMITH, G. P. A., Room 195, New Haven, Conn.

CRY OF FRAUD HAS STARTED IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 29.—With the careful canvass of their districts, leaders and campaign managers to-day began the preparation of the "official forecast" which they will issue to-night, and "prove" to the uninitiated just who will be elected next Tuesday. That is the managers for Bannard and Hearst will do so, but Charles F. Murphy will refuse and Murphy has a good reason. While he believes privately and insists publicly that Gannor will be elected, he is not sure about the remainder of the city ticket. This is due to the leaders in their reports declaring that the "single" voters this year will be the largest in the city's history. Every effort to line up this vote has been useless and Tammany hopes for the best but is preparing for the worst.

Miners Entombed In Wrecked Shaft

(Special from United Press.)
Darren Wales, Oct. 29.—Twenty-two miners are entombed in the wrecked shaft of the Brynmawr iron company's mine here following an explosion that occurred when forty-eight of the mining crew were just entering the shaft. Eighteen succeeded in fighting their way out before the entrance was closed by a sliding mass of debris and a rescue party saved eight more by penetrating the Brynmawr mine through a tunnel from another mine two and one-half miles away.

CITY BRIEFS

Christopher La Croix of the firm of La Croix & Sons, a prominent liquor dealer is said to have received word that his family will be the beneficiary of one-fifth of a $300,000 estate of the late Mrs. Mary Egan, who holds vast tracts of forest lands in Germany. Mr. La Croix does not place much faith in the chances of the heirs coming in to study and receive, and does not care to discuss it until he gets more information from Germany. Other prospective heirs reside in South Norwalk and Foughkeepsie, N. Y.

A permanent organization of Bridgeport Branch, U. S. Volunteer Life Saving corps was perfected last night at a meeting held in Dublin hall in Main street. The chairman was Louis Egan. Regular meetings will be held every Thursday night. The purpose of the organization is to study and teach methods of saving lives and resuscitation of people who have been overcome in the water.

Police Had Burglar But Let Him Escape

Waterbury, Oct. 29.—The retail store of the Apothecaries Hall company was the scene of a daring and successful burglary early yesterday morning. A sum of money and several boxes of good cigars and a quantity of perfume were taken.

Duelist Bernstein Catches Bad Cold

Paris, Oct. 29.—The rigors of the "Cold Duelist" which allow a combatant on the field of honor to shelter his bravery beneath an umbrella, are responsible for a serious cold which to-day afflicts Henri Bernstein, the dramatist. Bernstein's duel with L. Chevasu, critic, caught them in a drizzling rain on a muddy field and both of the duellists were given a severe wetting. Bernstein faced his opponent's first shot and refused to fire in return. The duel resumed from Chevasu's criticism of Bernstein's play, "La Griffe."

NORTHFORD HUNTER MEETS HUGO BLACK BEAR

Hans Goodrich of Montowese had a very thrilling experience recently by being confronted by a huge black bear while hunting in the Northford woods. It has been reported that a bear has been roaming around that vicinity for some time, but the people thought little of the matter.

IN THE THEATRES

JACKSON'S

"UNCLE DAVE HOLCOMB"
Those who attend the performances of Uncle Dave Holcomb at Jackson's today and tomorrow will laugh with the Holcomb family in their joys and cry with them in their sorrows. In the play the heart interest is strong and the laughs and tears alternately follow each other. They will see Maria Holcomb, Dave's faithful wife, Grace his sweet innocent daughter, Seth the noble but low born lover and Fred Munroe, the smooth tongued villain. Then there is Dave's son Charlie, who has been away to college, Hiram, the drunken brother, who is saved and made a clean cut man, Hank the imp of the village and Ethel the actress for whom Charlie leaves home, Phoebe the hairdressed girl, who does much to relieve the tediousness of some of the situations.

"TEN NIGHTS IN BARROOM"

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" will be the attraction at Jackson's next Monday matinee and Tuesday evening. The story told in "Ten Nights" will leave an imprint on the memory of the young and old for the reason it appeals to every grade of intelligence and tender cord in human nature. The dramatic interest, the laughter, the tears and the moral it teaches are among the best of the world. A company of artists, especially selected, and a magnificent production is guaranteed. Some high class vaudeville is introduced between the acts.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

For nearly a quarter of a century Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" has been seen in the various cities throughout the country and the desire to witness it does not seem to show any abatement. It may be called a problem play, the problem being how to account for the really phenomenal success which has been enjoyed through all the theatrical seasons that have intervened since Mr. Thompson first presented it to the public at the Boston Theatre in the spring of 1886. In speaking of the success of his play, recently Mr. Thompson said he had never doubted what the ultimate result would be if only he could succeed in convincing the theatre-going public that he was presenting on the realistic stage real live people and not the venerable pictures which our fathers knew in the days of John Owen's "Shingle" with his "bar" of "apple sass." And when people began to realize after a while that way back in boyhood days they had known characters like Uncle Sam, Seth Perkins, Aunt Matilda and the rest they were not slow to come to the conclusion that at last the real thing had been discovered. The success of the New England farm to the stage "The Old Homestead" became a success from the start and the season is so successful in this its twentieth fourth season is due to a great extent to the fact that the same attention is paid to details at the beginning of the season as was given to the first season. It is paid to details at the beginning of the season as was given to the first season. It is paid to details at the beginning of the season as was given to the first season.

DE LARA'S ARREST

Washington, Oct. 29.—The arrest and detention in London of L. G. Quiterrez De Lara, Mexican author, lawyer and Socialist, has aroused a storm of protest throughout the country. The bureau of immigration here which issued the warrant for De Lara's arrest, is daily receiving telegrams from the prisoner's friends urging his release. The bureau is awaiting advice from Los Angeles. The result of De Lara's hearing before immigration commissioners there will be communicated to the department immediately.

ARRESTED FOR MENTION OF PROF. FERRER'S NAME

Barcelona, Oct. 29.—(Via Cerebera.)—As a result of the government's efforts to sweep the memory of Francisco Ferrer from the minds of the people, the jails to-day are crowded with persons arrested for the bare mention of the dead revolutionist's name. The authorities are admittedly sure that the people will make a martyr of one late leader and Ferrer promises to become a more serious menace to Spain dead than alive.

Your Boy

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a strong tonic, entirely free from alcohol.
