

WEATHER FORECAST
Fair tonight; fair and warmer tomorrow.

FOR ARE DEAD AND ABOUT 200 INJURED IN RAILROAD WRECK

Philadelphia Local Runs Through Open Switch and Crashes Into Yard Engine at Jersey City

Both Engineers, One Fireman and a Track Walker Are Killed—Every Ambulance, Police Patrol and Fire Wagon Utilized to Convey the Large Army of Wounded to the Hospitals.

(Special from United Press.)
Jersey City, Nov. 6.—Four are dead and upward of 200 injured in the wreck of the Philadelphia local on the Pennsylvania railway which ran through an open switch at Brunswick street junction, crashed into a yard engine and piled up four cars in a heap of tangled wreckage.

Following is the list of dead: John Monroe of Perth Amboy, engineer; John McClure, Newark, N. J., fireman; John Spillie, Trenton, N. J., engineer; Steno Diogio, Jersey City, track walker.

Fireman Daniel Meade, of the light engine, of 37 South Seventeenth street, Newark, jumped with the trains came together and was killed.

The police on investigation found a broken rail on track No. 2 at the scene of the accident and agreed that this was the cause.

Towerman Daniel Harrington who had been arrested charging with throwing the switch and bringing the train and engine together, was at once discharged.

Every ambulance, police patrol and fire wagon available has been utilized to remove the injured, many of whom are seriously hurt. The wreck took place on the elevated structure on which the Pennsylvania enters Jersey City and the fire department was needed to get the injured to the street level from which they were hurried to the hospital.

The train left Philadelphia at 7:58 this morning and was filled with commuters going to their work. Engineer Monroe of the passenger train was running at a fast rate of speed to make up time and neither he nor his fireman had a chance to jump and save themselves.

The engine of the passenger train toppled over, part of it lying across the trestle work in imminent danger of crashing to the street. A passing police fireman hearing the crash, took the alarm and reserves and ambulances were soon at hand. Most of the injured were pinned down. Directly behind the engine, was more than a million dollars in specie which was being transferred to New York by the Adams Express Company. A special guard was hurriedly placed around this car.

Several of the injured are expected to die.

New York, Nov. 6.—The following report was made by the Pennsylvania railroad regarding the Jersey City wreck:

"The accident happened at 8:41 o'clock this morning to Express Train No. 10, Philadelphia due at Jersey City at 8:45. The train at the time of the accident was coming along its regular track No. 2 on the elevated structure. The engine, No. 3175 was coming in light from Waldo avenue to take out the regular 9 o'clock train to Long Branch. As the train and engine were passing each other for some unaccountable reason they fell over on each other, causing the wreck.

"The cars with the exception of the rear one, were derailed, thereby blocking the entire four tracks. Engineer J. Spillie of the Philadelphia train, and Engineer L. Monroe of Train No. 3175 and his fireman and a man supposed to be a track walker were killed. Thirty passengers occupying the smoking car at the time of the accident were badly shaken up. It is believed that the accident would have been more serious but for the steel equipment and the passenger coaches making up the Philadelphia train.

"When the wreck occurred the Jersey City station was crowded with people about to leave for Princeton for the football game. This crowd was thrown into great confusion until the officials assured them they might proceed via the Jersey Central railroad.

"At the hospitals it was reported later that none of those taken there were seriously hurt and that all would be cleared in a few days. The dead have been taken to the morgue and the authorities are investigating the cause. All the cars were of steel with the exception of the engine which was of iron and wood, and while the windows were broken the glass flew outward. Nearly all the injured as soon as their hurts were tended, left the hospitals and resumed their journey without giving their names.

YOUNG MEN HELD FOR ASSAULTING STRATFORD WIDOW

Two Held Mrs. Melady While Three Others Completed Outrageous Crime LIGHT BAIL IS FIXED

Albert Ryczman, a well known ball player, and Arthur Dubold, two young men of this city, were held by Judge Charles H. Peck, in Stratford, this morning, on a charge of criminal assault committed upon the person of Mrs. Catherine Melady, who lives opposite St. Michael's cemetery in Stratford. The authorities are looking for three others who were participants in the assault.

The victim of the assault is a widow with three children. She is 40 years of age. There were five men, two of whom held their victim while two of the others completed the crime, in so brutal a way that she is now in the care of a physician. Her face is terribly marked and her arms and legs are bruised because of the rough handling she received.

Several complaints to the police on Wednesday morning. Nothing was said of the crime, for fear that the young men would be from justice. Yesterday Sheriff Stagg arrested Ryczman and Arthur Dubold, both of whom live on Carroll avenue, in this city. They refused to divulge the names of their accomplices in crime, but said they were the two that held Mrs. Melady. They declare that all were intoxicated and do not know what they were doing. They also attacked the woman's reputation. The Stratford authorities say that Mrs. Melady has borne the best of reputations.

The authorities have a witness who says that he overheard the conversation of the young men. The witness, in front of the Melady home. The witness testified that he saw part of the five in front of the house and breaking the door open. He did not enter, but did not follow. When Ryczman and Dubold were arrested and placed in the Stratford jail they were identified by Mrs. Melady as the two that held her.

NOTED ATTORNEY WHO DEFENDS MME. STEINHEIL

WOMAN LOOMS VICTOR IN HER MURDER TRIAL

First Witness for Prosecution, Her Former Valet, Contradicts Most Important Statement He Made After the Crime. Madame Steinheil Directed Her Counsel in the Examination and at Times Made Telling Points in Questioning the Witness Himself.

(Special from United Press.)
Paris, Nov. 6.—Madame Marguerite Steinheil, the victim of three days on the rack of French inquisitorial justice stamped on the mask of wax-like pallor that falls to hide the beauty that won for her a high place in French political life today faced an ordeal worse than even the baiting, bullying storm of questions, accusations and invective that President of the Court De Valles and Prosecutor General and other members of the court poured at her until she collapsed at the end of her examination yesterday.

Madame Steinheil was called in the trial of Madame Steinheil and as each of these tells his story the point where it conflicts with the other's tale will be taken up by the court. Witnesses and judges are all against her.

Today's session opened with a victory for the woman. The first witness was Remy Couillard, valet of Monsieur Steinheil, who discovered Madame Steinheil gagged and bound above her head by cords which wound her throat. He testified that he saw the killing of her husband and mother. Couillard's testimony today was a telling one. He testified that the story told by him after the crime. Questioned by the court he said today that when he found Madame Steinheil the morning after the murder he saw her hand on the breast of her husband, light ropes thrown over the neck, and a piece of wood loosely tied about the frame at the foot of the bed.

When Couillard concluded this description of the scene, the court asked him to describe the appearance of the woman. He testified that she was bound tightly to the bed with her hands passing under the bed. Her body, he said, was nude to the throat where her night gown had been tightly knotted. Her hands were held above her head by cords which wound them tightly to the frame at the head of the bed. The position described in Couillard's first statement concluded the examination. The woman could have bound herself to the bed.

Aubin confessed Couillard effectively by pointing out this divergence and the court asked him to describe the appearance of the woman. He testified that she was bound tightly to the bed with her hands passing under the bed. Her body, he said, was nude to the throat where her night gown had been tightly knotted. Her hands were held above her head by cords which wound them tightly to the frame at the head of the bed. The position described in Couillard's first statement concluded the examination. The woman could have bound herself to the bed.

PEAU CAN'T TRANSFER LICENSE

Interpretation of New Liquor Law Explained by County Commissioner Mead.

William Peau cannot have his license at the old Amazon cafe transferred to Fritz Hartmann, or to any other person, but he can receive a license in his new place, according to the interpretation of the new law as it is interpreted by the county commissioner.

Commissioner Mead then explained that under the old law a man who was convicted of selling liquor in violation of the law could not receive a certificate of the court permitting him to be again licensed. A second conviction forfeited the license. Under these circumstances the license was frequently transferred, and if a conviction of the new owner occurred it was of course his first conviction.

Under the new law no transfer can take place.

Peau has recently removed the cafe to a new place, the old Amazon, which was one of the oldest high grade cafes and restaurants in the city to Fairfield avenue. It was under the old law the license of the original Amazon in the new place of John Street and to obtain another license for the new Amazon.

STAGG'S SIMPLE LURE MAKES A THIEF CONFESS

Lamp Cleaner McCluskey Makes Clean Breast of His Visits to Cash Drawer in Stratford Railroad Station.

Eugene J. McCluskey, who resides with his mother, on Central avenue, in this city, was this morning arrested by Sheriff C. E. Stagg of Stratford for abstracting $50 from the money drawer of the Stratford depot, Wednesday.

McCluskey, who is employed as a light cleaner at the Consolidated Railroad Co., at the East End Yard takes a run over to Stratford every noon on one of the freight cars. Money has been missing from the drawer most every day for the past three weeks, but none of the station employees attached the blame to McCluskey. Wednesday McCluskey made his usual call. Stationmaster C. S. Curtis stepped out of the office for less than a minute and McCluskey snatched up an envelope containing $50.

When Sheriff Stagg returned to McCluskey's home in this city and questioned McCluskey, who declared he was not the thief. Sheriff Stagg then made a confession to which McCluskey fell. It was to the effect that one noon he had been seen to abstract 15 cents from the till by a person who was in another room but peering through a knot hole. McCluskey then told everything he knew.

NEW HAVEN CITY WINS TWO APPEALS

Two New Haven county cases have just been decided by the Supreme court. In one case the city of New Haven, which is the plaintiff in the New Haven superior court was awarded $450 damages for injuries to his person and automobile sustained through an alleged defect of the highway at Chapel and Temple streets in Stratford, yesterday.

In this case the Supreme court finds in favor of the city, sustaining Corporation Counsel Rogers' appeal from the superior court on the ground that the plaintiff was barred from recovering damages because his machine at the time of the accident was not properly repaired.

Another appeal made by the city in an action for damages, by Margaret E. Wallace, who claims to have sustained personal injuries by defendant's neglect to light the streets properly, was won. The Supreme court in this case finds that there was no obligation imposed upon the city either by charter or statute to light its streets. In the lower court plaintiff had been awarded a verdict of $500.

LITTLE LILLIE MORAN KEEPS POLICE BUSY

Tells Them Story About Man Who Seized Her and Cut Off Her Hair.

Little Lillie Moran called once more at police headquarters in dire distress. She is but 14 years of age, but has been picked up by the police more times than any other child in the city. Last night Patrolman Taylor found her in an alley on Elm street with a small parcel in her hand which proved to be the girl's own hair, which had been cut off.

The little girl told a weird story of being taken into the alley by a man who cut off her hair. The police did not credit the story. When taken to her home the girl's mother said that the girl had been to a friend's house last night. Before going Lillian told her mother that her school teacher had asked the girls to have their hair cut off. The mother said that the girl's hair had been cut off by the friend when she was visiting. The child is demoralized.

Mattings and matting rugs of straw may be freshened by washing with salt and water and then rubbing dry quickly with a cloth.

COL. ROOSEVELT BAGGING BONGO

Report from Africa Today Says Former President Is After Rare Specimen of Antelope

PARTY IN GOOD HEALTH

(By Staff Correspondent of United Press.)
Nairobi, British East Africa, Nov. 6.—Colonel Roosevelt and all members of his party are in good health. There is no ground whatever for the rumor which reported in the States yesterday that Mr. Roosevelt had been killed in a ravine in search of Bongo, a rare specimen of antelope which no white man has bagged.

While I know for a certainty yesterday that there was no ground for the report of an accident, the fact that the Colonel was absent from the camp made it impossible for me to issue an unqualified denial until today when I got into communication with one of my runners in the party with him.

No Rhinoceros or Buffalo, grinned the black-skinned hero worshipper, "Bwana Tumbo get rhino quicker."

MRS. ROOSEVELT GOING TO AFRICA

Rome, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, admitting that she feels a terrible anxiety for the safety of her husband, today began preparations for her immediate departure for Africa. Mrs. Roosevelt says she has had no word from the Colonel for a fortnight and that the lack of news has caused her grave apprehension.

Mrs. Roosevelt with her daughter Effie, her sister, Mrs. Carow, have been staying at the Hotel Beausite. Since the rumor that Colonel Roosevelt had been killed while hunting across the Europe and America yesterday, the wife of the ex-President has been exerting every means to obtain an authoritative denial but without avail.

John A. Garrett, the American Charge d'Affaires, was unable to deny the rumor or to verify the reported denial from the remote Cuaninghu Plateau in British East Africa.

Naval Attaché Long, a close personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt, has been with Mrs. Roosevelt almost continually since the rumor spread, sending telegram after telegram in an effort to secure definite information.

Mrs. Roosevelt is completing her preparations to leave Rome, but is awaiting an answer to a State Department telegram sent to New York in the hope that America may be in a position to verify or deny the rumor. She keeps to her apartment in the hotel and has refused to see anyone with the exception of Papal Secretary Bressan who called to offer the sympathy of the Pope.

TOKIO EXCITED OVER THE RUMOR

Tokio, Nov. 6.—The rumor that ex-President Roosevelt had met with death in the African hunting fields caused a most profound sensation here and the newspapers issued extra editions containing the report. The Japanese, already nervous as the result of the death of Prince Hiro, are wildly excited and hundreds rushed to the

WOMAN LOOMS VICTOR IN HER MURDER TRIAL

First Witness for Prosecution, Her Former Valet, Contradicts Most Important Statement He Made After the Crime. Madame Steinheil Directed Her Counsel in the Examination and at Times Made Telling Points in Questioning the Witness Himself.

(Special from United Press.)
Paris, Nov. 6.—Madame Marguerite Steinheil, the victim of three days on the rack of French inquisitorial justice stamped on the mask of wax-like pallor that falls to hide the beauty that won for her a high place in French political life today faced an ordeal worse than even the baiting, bullying storm of questions, accusations and invective that President of the Court De Valles and Prosecutor General and other members of the court poured at her until she collapsed at the end of her examination yesterday.

Madame Steinheil was called in the trial of Madame Steinheil and as each of these tells his story the point where it conflicts with the other's tale will be taken up by the court. Witnesses and judges are all against her.

Today's session opened with a victory for the woman. The first witness was Remy Couillard, valet of Monsieur Steinheil, who discovered Madame Steinheil gagged and bound above her head by cords which wound her throat. He testified that he saw the killing of her husband and mother. Couillard's testimony today was a telling one. He testified that the story told by him after the crime. Questioned by the court he said today that when he found Madame Steinheil the morning after the murder he saw her hand on the breast of her husband, light ropes thrown over the neck, and a piece of wood loosely tied about the frame at the foot of the bed.

When Couillard concluded this description of the scene, the court asked him to describe the appearance of the woman. He testified that she was bound tightly to the bed with her hands passing under the bed. Her body, he said, was nude to the throat where her night gown had been tightly knotted. Her hands were held above her head by cords which wound them tightly to the frame at the head of the bed. The position described in Couillard's first statement concluded the examination. The woman could have bound herself to the bed.

Aubin confessed Couillard effectively by pointing out this divergence and the court asked him to describe the appearance of the woman. He testified that she was bound tightly to the bed with her hands passing under the bed. Her body, he said, was nude to the throat where her night gown had been tightly knotted. Her hands were held above her head by cords which wound them tightly to the frame at the head of the bed. The position described in Couillard's first statement concluded the examination. The woman could have bound herself to the bed.

PEAU CAN'T TRANSFER LICENSE

Interpretation of New Liquor Law Explained by County Commissioner Mead.

William Peau cannot have his license at the old Amazon cafe transferred to Fritz Hartmann, or to any other person, but he can receive a license in his new place, according to the interpretation of the new law as it is interpreted by the county commissioner.

Commissioner Mead then explained that under the old law a man who was convicted of selling liquor in violation of the law could not receive a certificate of the court permitting him to be again licensed. A second conviction forfeited the license. Under these circumstances the license was frequently transferred, and if a conviction of the new owner occurred it was of course his first conviction.

Under the new law no transfer can take place.

Peau has recently removed the cafe to a new place, the old Amazon, which was one of the oldest high grade cafes and restaurants in the city to Fairfield avenue. It was under the old law the license of the original Amazon in the new place of John Street and to obtain another license for the new Amazon.

STAGG'S SIMPLE LURE MAKES A THIEF CONFESS

Lamp Cleaner McCluskey Makes Clean Breast of His Visits to Cash Drawer in Stratford Railroad Station.

Eugene J. McCluskey, who resides with his mother, on Central avenue, in this city, was this morning arrested by Sheriff C. E. Stagg of Stratford for abstracting $50 from the money drawer of the Stratford depot, Wednesday.

McCluskey, who is employed as a light cleaner at the Consolidated Railroad Co., at the East End Yard takes a run over to Stratford every noon on one of the freight cars. Money has been missing from the drawer most every day for the past three weeks, but none of the station employees attached the blame to McCluskey. Wednesday McCluskey made his usual call. Stationmaster C. S. Curtis stepped out of the office for less than a minute and McCluskey snatched up an envelope containing $50.

When Sheriff Stagg returned to McCluskey's home in this city and questioned McCluskey, who declared he was not the thief. Sheriff Stagg then made a confession to which McCluskey fell. It was to the effect that one noon he had been seen to abstract 15 cents from the till by a person who was in another room but peering through a knot hole. McCluskey then told everything he knew.

NEW HAVEN CITY WINS TWO APPEALS

Two New Haven county cases have just been decided by the Supreme court. In one case the city of New Haven, which is the plaintiff in the New Haven superior court was awarded $450 damages for injuries to his person and automobile sustained through an alleged defect of the highway at Chapel and Temple streets in Stratford, yesterday.

In this case the Supreme court finds in favor of the city, sustaining Corporation Counsel Rogers' appeal from the superior court on the ground that the plaintiff was barred from recovering damages because his machine at the time of the accident was not properly repaired.

Another appeal made by the city in an action for damages, by Margaret E. Wallace, who claims to have sustained personal injuries by defendant's neglect to light the streets properly, was won. The Supreme court in this case finds that there was no obligation imposed upon the city either by charter or statute to light its streets. In the lower court plaintiff had been awarded a verdict of $500.

LITTLE LILLIE MORAN KEEPS POLICE BUSY

Tells Them Story About Man Who Seized Her and Cut Off Her Hair.

Little Lillie Moran called once more at police headquarters in dire distress. She is but 14 years of age, but has been picked up by the police more times than any other child in the city. Last night Patrolman Taylor found her in an alley on Elm street with a small parcel in her hand which proved to be the girl's own hair, which had been cut off.

The little girl told a weird story of being taken into the alley by a man who cut off her hair. The police did not credit the story. When taken to her home the girl's mother said that the girl had been to a friend's house last night. Before going Lillian told her mother that her school teacher had asked the girls to have their hair cut off. The mother said that the girl's hair had been cut off by the friend when she was visiting. The child is demoralized.

Mattings and matting rugs of straw may be freshened by washing with salt and water and then rubbing dry quickly with a cloth.

LEE WILL VETO FIREMEN'S PAY INCREASE ORDINANCE

He So Informs Committee Which Calls Upon Him Representing Civic Bodies

Mayor Lee will veto the ordinance increasing the wages of the firemen. He conveyed this information to a committee of citizens representing three associations. The same committee afterward called upon Mayor-Elect Buckingham, evidently in the belief that in case of a tie vote in the Council, when the ordinance is returned under the veto, that the Mayor will have power to break a tie.

This is not the case. To sustain the veto it will be necessary for the opposition to the ordinance to secure 13 aldermen to vote against it.

The members of the committee were: Edward L. Graves, the Fairfield avenue residence of Robert W. Truett, of the Board of Apportionment, Angus McKenzie of the Public Market, Frank W. Bolande, president of the Business Men's Association; M. E. Brewster Greene, secretary and treasurer of the Manufacturers' Association; A. W. Burritt, the lumber dealer; A. J. Richard of the Bullard Machine Tool Co.; C. D. Davis of the Jewelry firm of Parker & Davis; George M. James of the Singer Mfg. Co.; D. Fairchild, president of the Bridgeport Land & Title Co.; George C. Edwards of the International Silver Co.; Senator Philip A. Holzer, Frank T. Staples, banker; A. J. Baker of the Leominster Co. of America; Henry Setzer, capitalist; and Thomas H. Macdonald, inventor for the American Graphophone Co. of the Board of Apportionment.

The Mayor apparently did not relish the idea of so many citizens rushing in on him and asking to cut bait or fish, for, when a Farmer reported upon him a few minutes after the delegation of distinguished citizens had left, his countenance was wreathed in anger and he swore at his hands and shouted, "I have nothing to say—not a word."

Mayor Lee received an opinion from City Attorney C. E. Buckingham this morning to the effect that the incoming mayor will have the same right to veto the measure as the present mayor.

It is understood that the Mayor-Elect, Mr. Macdonald, is in the city and that the Mayor-Elect, Mr. Macdonald, is in the city and that the Mayor-Elect, Mr. Macdonald, is in the city.

PEAU CAN'T TRANSFER LICENSE

Interpretation of New Liquor Law Explained by County Commissioner Mead.

William Peau cannot have his license at the old Amazon cafe transferred to Fritz Hartmann, or to any other person, but he can receive a license in his new place, according to the interpretation of the new law as it is interpreted by the county commissioner.

Commissioner Mead then explained that under the old law a man who was convicted of selling liquor in violation of the law could not receive a certificate of the court permitting him to be again licensed. A second conviction forfeited the license. Under these circumstances the license was frequently transferred, and if a conviction of the new owner occurred it was of course his first conviction.

Under the new law no transfer can take place.

Peau has recently removed the cafe to a new place, the old Amazon, which was one of the oldest high grade cafes and restaurants in the city to Fairfield avenue. It was under the old law the license of the original Amazon in the new place of John Street and to obtain another license for the new Amazon.

STAGG'S SIMPLE LURE MAKES A THIEF CONFESS

Lamp Cleaner McCluskey Makes Clean Breast of His Visits to Cash Drawer in Stratford Railroad Station.

Eugene J. McCluskey, who resides with his mother, on Central avenue, in this city, was this morning arrested by Sheriff C. E. Stagg of Stratford for abstracting $50 from the money drawer of the Stratford depot, Wednesday.

McCluskey, who is employed as a light cleaner at the Consolidated Railroad Co., at the East End Yard takes a run over to Stratford every noon on one of the freight cars. Money has been missing from the drawer most every day for the past three weeks, but none of the station employees attached the blame to McCluskey. Wednesday McCluskey made his usual call. Stationmaster C. S. Curtis stepped out of the office for less than a minute and McCluskey snatched up an envelope containing $50.

When Sheriff Stagg returned to McCluskey's home in this city and questioned McCluskey, who declared he was not the thief. Sheriff Stagg then made a confession to which McCluskey fell. It was to the effect that one noon he had been seen to abstract 15 cents from the till by a person who was in another room but peering through a knot hole. McCluskey then told everything he knew.

NEW HAVEN CITY WINS TWO APPEALS

Two New Haven county cases have just been decided by the Supreme court. In one case the city of New Haven, which is the plaintiff in the New Haven superior court was awarded $450 damages for injuries to his person and automobile sustained through an alleged defect of the highway at Chapel and Temple streets in Stratford, yesterday.

In this case the Supreme court finds in favor of the city, sustaining Corporation Counsel Rogers' appeal from the superior court on the ground that the plaintiff was barred from recovering damages because his machine at the time of the accident was not properly repaired.

Another appeal made by the city in an action for damages, by Margaret E. Wallace, who claims to have sustained personal injuries by defendant's neglect to light the streets properly, was won. The Supreme court in this case finds that there was no obligation imposed upon the city either by charter or statute to light its streets. In the lower court plaintiff had been awarded a verdict of $500.

LITTLE LILLIE MORAN KEEPS POLICE BUSY

Tells Them Story About Man Who Seized Her and Cut Off Her Hair.

Little Lillie Moran called once more at police headquarters in dire distress. She is but 14 years of age, but has been picked up by the police more times than any other child in the city. Last night Patrolman Taylor found her in an alley on Elm street with a small parcel in her hand which proved to be the girl's own hair, which had been cut off.

The little girl told a weird story of being taken into the alley by a man who cut off her hair. The police did not credit the story. When taken to her home the girl's mother said that the girl had been to a friend's house last night. Before going Lillian told her mother that her school teacher had asked the girls to have their hair cut off. The mother said that the girl's hair had been cut off by the friend when she was visiting. The child is demoralized.

Mattings and matting rugs of straw may be freshened by washing with salt and water and then rubbing dry quickly with a cloth.

(UNCLASSIFIED.)
TO RENT—New apartment. All improvements, reliable. 116 E. Main St. 1482 E. Main St. H 6 s * p
COME ONE—Come all to-night at the Ball Room of Unity Social Club at Germania Hall.
TO RENT—5 rooms, all improvements, with garden, $12.00. 117 E. Washington St. H 6 s * p
TO RENT—Large front rooms, one suitable for light housekeeping. Respectable couple. 149 Golden Hill. a * p
WANTED—Girls to know that you can have your suits and cloaks made to order reasonable at 32 P. O. Arcade. H 6 s * p
SEE DR. MANSFIELD, 201 Meigs Bldg., if troubled with corns or bunions. He can cure the trouble. Afternoons and Sundays. a * p
AGENTS WANTED to introduce high grade household specialty into every home. Quick sales. Big profits. Barney, Box 38, Providence, R. I. a * p
WANTED—A two family house in good residential section in exchange for a nine room brick dwelling on Fairfield Ave. Address P. O. Box 335. No agents. a * p
WANTED—Lady to travel in Connecticut. Good pay and tailor-made suit free in 90 days; experience unnecessary. Reliable. Write for particulars. J. E. McBrady Co., Chicago. a * p
FOR SALE—9 room house, hot and cold water, double shades to all the windows; also stove. All ready to move into. Will sell at a bargain. Just address "House", Evening Farmer. H 3 u * o
WANTED—A good all round machinist and tool maker. A man experienced on gas engine preferred. Apply to Supl. C. W. Gibbs, Columbia Nut and Bolt Co., West End. H 6 s * o
TO RENT—House with eight rooms, all improvements, including steam heat, a large lawn and barn. Two minutes walk from depot. Address P. O. Box 910, City. a * p
FOR SALE—An elegant driving or saddle horse with light rubber tire buggy, and combination rubber tire surrey. To be sold cheap. Party going out of town. Address P. O. Box 910, City. a * p
TO RENT—5 room cottage with large garden plot. No. 60 Goodwin street, also five rooms, 1491 Park avenue, first floor. Apply to J. F. Noble, 233 Stratford Ave., cor. South St. H 6 s * o
WANTED—A housekeeper. Must be middle-aged woman who desires a comfortable home and reasonable salary from widower, and is willing to care for three boys and a grown girl, none of whom are very good. An excellent position for a reliable woman. Address S. E. care Farmer Office. a * p
WANTED—Painters at once. Apply Samuel Dawe, 1071 East Main St. H 5 b * o
WANTED—Ladies tailor and apprentice girl. Doherty-Ebree, Main St., over Mohican Store. H 5 s * o
BEAUTIFUL new upright piano $160.00. Angelus cabinet and piano, almost new $175.00. Dial & Lee Mfg. Co., 84 Cannon St. H 6 s * o
FOR SALE CHEAP—White Steamer in good condition. Ready to go anywhere. Address L. Farmer. H 4 s * o 4 1
BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE, all prices, at Beard's corner, 5 cent fare. Also lots near Walnut Beach, fine bargains. C. O. Matthews, Beard's corner. H 5 b * p o
LOST—Last Thursday afternoon on Prospect St., Wadsworth's hand bag with money and gold beads. Reward. Return 824 Park Ave. H 5 s * p o
FOR SALE—Good two family houses, East End and East Side. D. R. Whitney, 1025 Main St. H 4 s * o
FOR SALE—Nine room residence, large lot and good barn. West End. D. R. Whitney, 1025 Main St. H 4 s * o
FOR SALE—A small piece of property on Barham avenue near East Main street, suitable for business purposes. D. R. Whitney, 1025 Main St. H 4 s * o
TO RENT—Cottage No. 85 White St., five room flat East Ave., $14. Five room flat 349 Wilnot Ave., $14. Five room flat 1482 East Main St., $16. D. R. Whitney, 1025 Main St. H 4 c * o
WANTED—A neat young girl for light general housework. Call 1173 Park Ave. Rear. H 3 s * p
BRIDGEPORT Housecleaning Bureau. Ashes, rubbish removed. 483 Newfield avenue. Telephone 1218-5. Ralph L. Miller, Prop. G 2 t o
FOR SALE—Beautiful Hardman upright piano. Massive oak case. Perfect condition, almost new. A real bargain. The M. Stelmert & Sons Co., 315 Main St. H 2 r * o
WANTED—15 or 20 bricklayers; also few carpenters, at once. Union Job Apply New Round House, Brewster, N. Y. H 2 d * o
FOR SALE—Handsome upright piano, excellent case, in fine condition. Stelmert's guarantee. $125. Cash 1400. Easy payments if desired. The M. Stelmert & Sons Co. H 2 r * o
ELEGANT TOURING CAR to rent by the hour or day. H. Ford, 146 Fairfield Ave. G 23 * t * f
ELEGANT TOURING CAR to rent by the hour or day. H. Ford, 146 Fairfield Ave. G 23 * t * f
TYPEWRITING—Mimeographing. Notary Public. Sears, 168 Meigs Bldg. P 17 t o
TO RENT—Desk room with roll top desk. 416 Warner Building.
TICKLE THAT LAZY LIVER with Casca Laxina Tablets for constipation.