UNITED DEMOCRACY OF SEVENTH HOLDS BIG CELEBRATION

Seventh District Literary Club Has Enthusiastic Session.

Jubilant Over United Condition of the Democracy of the District, Leaders Predict Bigger Majorities Than Ever Will be Rolled up at Coming Elections

In celebration of the united condition of the democracy of the Seventh district the members of the Seventh District Literary club held a social gathering in the club rooms, last evening, at which the attendance was nearly 200. While designed merely as a recreation, the meeting was of especial significance, for it marked the first meeting of the sort since the entire democracy of the district had carried a factional feeling. The phenomenal majority given to Alderman-elect James Conlin went far to foster the feeling of unity among the Democrats of the district, and from the enthusiasm displayed at the meeting last evening it is apparent that the district is destined to continue to roll up big majorities for the democratic tickets for many an election day.

Prominent among the democrats of the district taking part in the speech making were Alderman-elect Conlin, Alderman Finlan, District Chairman Patrick Morrissey, Former Alderman Peter Carroll and John U. Conroy, and many others who have taken an active part in maintaining the strong hold of democracy in the Seventh district.

Following the speeches the gathering was seated at a feast of pig's knuckles and other refreshments.

John William Henry, formerly porter at Jackson's theatre, has handed in his badge which he wore as a special patrolman. He has also resigned from the service of Mr. Jackson. ### SOCIALISTS STAND FOR SOLIDARITY OF WAGE WORKERS

Robert Hunter Denies Report That They Are Seeking Secession in Labor Movement.

(By Robert Hunter, Millionaire Socialist, Written Exclusively for the United Press.)

Toronto, Nov. 17.—I am glad to have an opportunity to state through the United Press that nothing could be more foolish than the malicious rumors set afloat during the past week by our enemies that the Socialists are seeking to bring about a secession in the organized labor movement. While I am not a delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention and am not here in any official capacity, I am in common with a right thinking Socialist, in full sympathy with the trades union movement and am in a position to speak of the interest felt in the labor movement not only in America but in all parts of the world where socialism has gained a foothold. No socialist, either within or without the American Federation of Labor, desires to weaken the trades union movement through the secession of any unions or removal from the Federation. Such a course, injurious to the whole labor movement, would be most vigorously opposed by all socialists of America.

Whatever differences may have existed in the past, or may now exist, upon questions of theory or tactics, socialists stand as one in the present movement for the advancement of the workers' interests. We stand and must stand for the full and complete solidarity of the workers, both economically and politically.

This brings us to the vital differences between socialists and a large part of those opposed to us and the cause of labor. We believe the vote to be the most effective weapon in the possession of the laboring man. But unless the vote is united, the edge of the weapon is dulled and instead of the powerful blow that could and should be delivered, labor strikes but impotently.

At this critical time especially, I believe, as must all true friends of the working class, both within and without the unions, that organized labor should present a solid, undivided front in support of what are at bottom, the most vital interests of American citizenship.

As to the present status of socialism in the organized labor movement, we are convinced that our cause is stronger than ever before. Some splendid missionary work is being done and we know that the light is gradually breaking, what we do or do not do at the present convention must not be taken as in any way manifesting our real strength as the socialist delegates have no program of action in this convention. Peculiar conditions, which need not be mentioned, make this course advisable.

FEDERATION TO SETTLE DIFFERENCES

Toronto, Nov. 17.—The long awaited report of the law committee, to which was referred the electrical workers' dispute, was made to the American Federation of Labor convention this morning. The report recommended the reaffirmation of the Denver agreement which was to drop all suits that were tying up the funds of the organization and to hold a conference for the consideration of the different facts looking to a settlement.

The committee urged that plans be laid for the settlement of the Denver agreement and recommended that President Compton name one representative, Frank J. McNulty, head of the "regula" electrical workers union, a second, J. J. Reid, a third, who shall be an electrical worker, to have charges of the matter.

The executive council, it is recommended, shall take whatever action it sees fit in case the plan proposed today proves futile. The report of the committee was adopted after a brief discussion.

CITY BRIEFS

George Barnard, a driver, was thrown from his wagon, yesterday afternoon, near Fairfield avenue and Poplar street, by a collision with a trolley car. A long string of cars were blocked between High street and Fairfield avenue, shortly before 7 o'clock, last night. The cause was the derailment of a car on a temporary switch at the foot of High street.

Col. Gilbert L. ### MUCH INTEREST IN LAYMEN'S MISSION

LIBERAL RESPONSE FROM CHURCHES ASKED TO BE REPRESENTED AT HARTFORD CONVENTION.

Returns from various towns in the State show that already much interest attaches to the Laymen's Missionary Movement, the Connecticut meeting of which is to be held in Hartford, Nov. 17th-20th. The plan is of a kind that appeals to wide awake, business-like people. There is no contribution feature about the sessions that are to be held. Simply delegates from churches all over the State, without regard to denomination, are to go to the meetings, beginning with a dinner at Foot Guard Hall the evening of the 17th, at 8 o'clock, and through the three days, at the different meetings, they will hear details of the need and description of the great enterprise already at hand has attended the movement.

TANGLE IN NEW HARTFORD

Petition For Injunction to Prevent Granting Licenses.

Winsted, Nov. 17.—The superior court room was filled with New Hartford and Pine Meadow people yesterday when the New Hartford license case came up before Judge George W. Wheeler on petition of F. B. Jones and others for a permanent injunction restraining the county commissioners from granting licenses in that town, it being alleged that the vote on the license question was illegal, inasmuch as the notice of the town meeting was published four days before the meeting instead of ten as provided by law.

Selectman F.M. Chapin testified that all the selectmen signed the call and that copies were posted on the sign posts September 23 and a copy sent to the New Hartford Tribune the same day. H. Roger Jones, editor of the "Tribune," testified that the notice was published September 28. County Commissioner Case said that it was the intention of the board to act upon the license applications in view of the fact that they had the secretary of state's certificate that the town declared for license.

Attorneys contended that the license was published at the local option, and that the law requiring five days' notice does not apply, due notice being sufficient.
